Mob Threatens Gypsy Dan

According to Officer Mike Kravich, who patrols the district, the fight which incited the near lynching party began when Shelton wandered in to listen to Gypsy Dan lecture. Dave Shanan, 66, of 520 Wall street, another member of the audience, was soon engaged in a fierce argument with Shelton, Officer Mrakich said.

FIGHT

Flailing the Negro with his cane, according to the officer, Shahan was soon joined by a mysterious "someone"—purportedly Gypsy Dan, although he steadfastly denied any fistic connection with the affair. Shelton, Mrakich said, was soon deposited unconscious in the alley next to Gypsy Dan's establishment.

Some passer-by saw Shelton and started the rumor that Gypsy Dan "has beat up a man," and soon a crowd formed; then a mob of some 1000 persons, according to the officer.

Gypsy Dan apparently had enemies in the crwd, for some members of the mob cried "lynch him," and the crowd surged forward.

Mrakich tore out to phone for police. Gypsy Dan slammed shut his doors and barricaded them. The six police cars and 20 officers soon arrived at the scene and went into action against the mob that was by that time hanging against Gypsy Dan's closed doors and yelling "get a rope."

Replete with tear gas bombs, the 20 strong arms of the law dispersed the mob.

Opening his doors at last, Gypsy Dan explained that the crowd had been incited to possible murder by Communist agitators who were opposed to him because "I stand for true Americanism."

Shelton and Shahan were taken to the Georgia Street Receiving hospital and treated for minor injuries.

The mob dispersed and most of the officers withdrew, leaving only two men to stand in front of Gypsy Dan's establishment "just in case."

OLHA Begins Member Drive

the Outdoor Life and Health Association have been designated as captains of the drive and each captain will have several members working with her as lieutenants.

Captains and lieutenants are as follows: Unit No. 1: Mrs. Louaida Hunigan, captain, lieutenants, Mrs. Aria Walker, Mrs. Clara Boyd, Mrs. Carolyn Rivers, Mrs. Olive Dean and Gustave Smith. Unit No. 2: Mrs. Frieda Taft, captain, lieutenants, Mrs. Schuler Eggleston, Mrs. Bennie Meadows. Fidelity Unit: Mrs. Florence Carter, captain, lieutenants, Mrs. Ida Harris, Madam Eula Smith, Mrs. Bessie Barron. Assistance League: Mrs. Seth Lee, captain, lieutenants, Mrs. Corona Baumann, Mrs. Lola Beavers, Mrs. Dolly Banks, Mrs. Sarah Griffin, Miss Clothilde Curry. Hygia Unit: Mrs. Luella True. Central Avenue Gardens: Mrs. Carrie Thompson. Mrs. Alice Cunningham is secretary to Mrs. Fannie Williams.

These workers with the assistance of a number of others are planning to make practically a house to house canvass of the city in the districts where Negroes live. Since the Tubercular Rest Home which the Outdoor Life and Health Association has built at Duarte is purely a race enterprise, it is hoped that every Negro in Los Angeles will take a membership in the Association or make some contribution during the drive.

The committee has set its goal for $2.000 and if successful, the Association will be enabled to open the doors of the Rest Home which is of a vital need to the Negroes of Los Angeles.

MARIAN ANDERSON

arian Anderson to Sing in ng Beach in Lincoln Fete

South Martin street in delphia, not far from the Baptist church in which nging voice of Marian An-, world-celebrated Negro lto, was first heard, there a little frame dwelling. rly rented, now owned by lustrious singer, it shelters Anderson and Marian's two . It spells "home" to the ationally renowned artist, t is there she goes when-she returns to the United ly Mrs. Anderson's phone and she speaks with her daughter who, no matter in what part of the country she happens to be, seems to hover over the gentle little woman with love and devotion. This little old ex-school teacher who took in washing to help support her little family, carrying on alone when her husband died, shows many evidences of the toil and privation of those trying years when Marian's future hung in the balance. Today the lines in her face have melted into a serene expression of what always was her faith in the inevitability of her daughter's success.

Whenever Marian sings within negotiable distance, Mrs. Anderson is always in the audience listening to the rapturously glorious voice. At times she remains in a kind of pious reverie at the end of a song while the applause thunders over her white head up to the modest, dignified artist bowing on the platform.

Once a wildy enthusiastic dowager sat through a whole concert beside her and observed what she thought was a shockingly undemonstrative old lady. At the end of the recital the effusive dowager could stand it no longer and turned on Mrs. Anderson, saying fiercely, "Good heavens, woman, why are you sitting there like a bump on a log? Don't you recognize an artist when you hear one?"

The distinguished artist, now on her fifth coast-to-coast tour of the United States, will be heard here when the Long Beach Civic Concert series presents Miss Anderson in the Municipal Auditorium on Lincoln's Birthday, February 12, 1940.

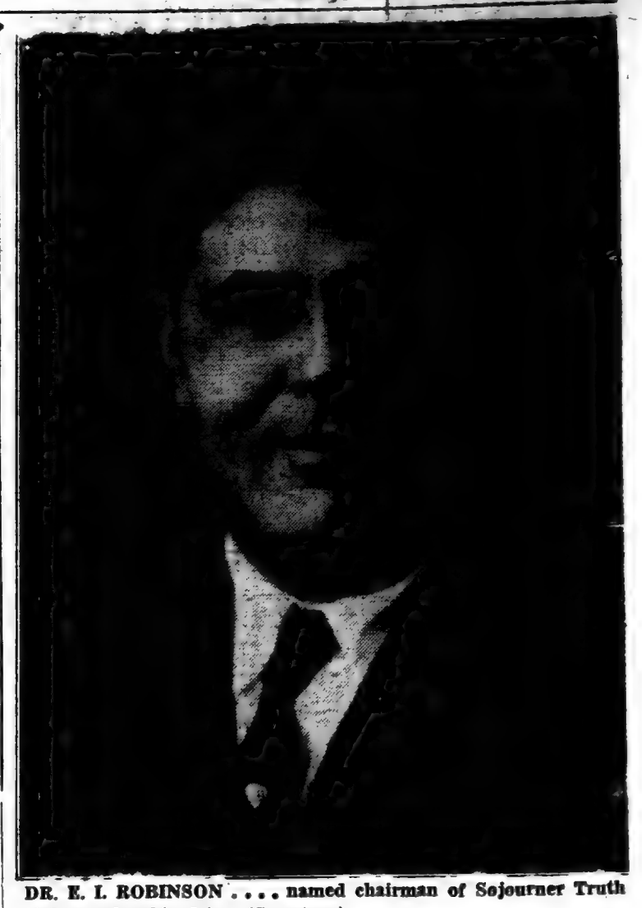
$75,000 Winner Was Husband of Albertine Pickens

CHICAGO, Feb. 1. — Funeral services were held here last week for Royal E. Spurlark, Sr., 60-year old Pullman porter and 1938 winner of $75,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes, Spurlark died at Provident hospital after an illness of less than a month.

Bereaved little more than a month after her marriage is Albertine Pickens, beautiful former stage star. Miss Pickens and Spurlark were married on Dec. 8. With Miss Pickens at her husband's bedside was his son by a former marriage, Royal E. Spurlark, Jr., a law student at Loyola university; and Mrs. Cecelia Johnson Spurlark, mother of the boy and Spurlark's first wife.

Spurlark had hardly changed his mode of living after winning the large sum of money and catapulting to fame. He continued his "run" to California on the Chicago Northwestern railroad for which he had worked 29 years. He planned to retire next year.



Following his marriage to Miss Pickens, he had taken up residence on South Parkway after living with one family for 19 years. Active fraternally, he was a 33rd degree Mason and Right Worshipful Grand Lecturer of the Prince Hall Masons.

Returning from California complaining of a stomach ache, Spurlark was removed to the hospital Dec. 22. Death followed an operation for gall stones.

Miss Pickens was previously the widow of Capt. W. W. Glenn, Los Angeles' first Negro fire captain.

Plan Third All-Negro Town

To Build Town Near Philadelphia; Named "Mizpah"

BROOKLYN, (N.Y.), Feb. 1—In the making in New Jersey is another all-Negro town, to be patterned after the already existing communities of Mound Bayou, Miss. and Boley Okla. The name of the third projected Negro town is Mizpah, N. J., founded by Rev. Thomas S. Harten, pastor of the Holy Trinity Baptist church of this city.

Mizpah is located 40 miles out of Philadelphia and 20 miles from Atlantic City. The land is dry and level, the soil fertile and will produce anything that New Jersey soil will grow.

According to Rev. Harten, a wealthy man has promised to build a factory to give employment to the town's future citizens. One N. Rathblott and his sons have agreed to give sufficient money to build a school and to make annual contributions of from seventy five to a hundred thousand dollars for education.

Although Negroes will build the city, Rev. Harten claims, no one will be barred.

The National Baptist convention, Inc., through its president, Dr. L. K. Williams of Chicago, has purchased 15 acres of farm land and several building lots to erect a National Baptist Rest home, according to the town's founder. J. Finley Wilson, Grand Exalted Ruler of Elks, reportedly has bought land for a National Elks' home.

Prominent among the Negro colony's representatives was Mrs. Ardelia Anglin, club woman. Fashionably gowned all, the group also included: Mrs. Fay Allen, Board of Education member, Mmes. Faustina Johnson, Daisy Scott, Etta Green, A. C. Garrott, A. C. Bilbrew, Minnie Boring, Bessie Bruington Burke, E. E. Lightner, C. D. Frederick, Carrie Hopkins, and EAGLE editor, Mrs. C. A. Bass. Mrs. Bass posed for photographs with Mrs. Norris.

Addressing the assembled women, Mrs. Norris reminisced on the founding of the organization with 20 women. Today the membership numbers 2,000,000, she pointed out. A plea for peace and a reminder to the women to continue working for peace was also included in her remarks.

Unable to be present because of illness was Mrs. Anna Belle Towns, supervisor of the Southeast district of the American War Mothers. Women who are interested in the movement may contact her at 1035 Juniper street, or by phoning LAfayette 2692.

SENATE COMMITTEE TOLD MOB BILL NEED

by c. a. b.

DEAR BROTHER Jim Kinloch:

You no doubt will be surprised to get a letter from me by way of "The Sidewalk", but here it is.

You remember this summer when I visited with you in the great City of New York, you questioned my position in a certain rather sensational political campaign staged in Los Angeles about a year ago?

Well, whether written or not, every controversial story that is published has a sequel. So, also, every political campaign that develops into a word battle, with one group accusing the other of irregularities in political affairs, there is a backfire.

I know I should not tell tales out of school, but since you did not understand why I stood my ground in the face of some real political persecution, I must tell you what has happened.

Last Thursday evening a group of citizens held what appears to have been a Righteous Indignation Meeting. I was not present at the meeting, so I must tell you that my information as regards what the big "shots" had to say is dependent upon what I consider reliable information. Present at the confab were certain sharpshooters who produced the vice ammunition that blasted the former mayor out of office by way of a recall election.

At this Thursday evening meeting Mr. R. G. Lamar sr. apologized to the body for his unrelenting support of the present mayor. He stated, it is alleged, that Mr. Bowron made many campaign promises to his Negro supporters. Among these, Mr. Lamar held, was that, come election, the mayor would recognize colored citizens through certain appointments. In order to facilitate proper selection of notables to be so honored, Mr. Lamar drew up a list of five outstanding citizens, according to his statement, which was handed over to the new city head.

"This list," continued Mr. Lamar, "which I recommended was headed by the Hon. Frederick M. Roberts, but to date I have not heard from it."

And now, it seems that we are about to hear again the rattling of dry bones in the political death valley. So keep your ear close to the grass roots, and it may be that you shall have the answers to some of the questions you asked me last year.

Sincerely,
C. A. B.

THERE IS fighting blood in this grand old man, John Lewis, father of John Henry Lewis, the ex-lightheavyweight champion of the world.

Perhaps nothing much would ever have been known of father Lewis, who was one of the defenders of American democracy in the Spanish-American War and a taxpayer of Oakland, had he not decided to accompany his 19-year old son, Paul, to San Francisco to register him with the California Athletic Commission as a finished product, ready for action in the fight arena.

Upon his arrival in the chief city of California, the veteran soldier and fight trainer of four sons repaired to the hotel in which the Athletic Commission is housed.

Imagine the surprise of Mr. Lewis when he was stopped at the entrance and informed that the only way he and his son would be permitted to reach the commission offices would be on the freight elevvator.

WITNESSES STATE MANY LYNCHINGS STAY UNDER COVER; NEED U. S. HELP

NAACP Secretary Warns That American Form of Government Endangered By Mobs

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8.—White and colored witnesses testifying in support of a Federal anti-lynching bill told a Senate sub-committee of the judiciary committee at a hearing opening here Tuesday that only a federal anti-lynching law would curb mob violence efectively.

Nine witnesses were scheduled to testify for the bill. They included W. J. Durham, an attorney of Sherman, Tex., who witnessed a lynching May 9, 1930, in which the courthouse of Sherman was burned down by a mob; Dean William H. Hastie of the Howard university law school, former United States district Judge in the Virgin Islands; R. R. Grovey, Houston, Tex.; the Rev. Gresham Marmion, rector of St. Albans P. E. church, Washington, who tried to stop the double lynching of two Negro boys in Columbus, Tex., in 1935; Dr. George F. Porter, president of Wiley junior college, Dallas, Tex.; Dr. Arthur Raper, research secretary of the Commission on Interracial Cooperation, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. Ralph Bunche, professor of political science, Howard university; Arthur B. Spingarn, president of the NAACP and Walter White, secretary of the NAACP.

Turning to the statements made in the Senate during the filibuster of 1938 that the states could and would take care of lynchings, Mr. White pointed out that eleven well-authenticated lynchings had taken place since that time and not even an arrest had been made in 10 of them, with convictions in none.

ENDANGERED DEMOCRACY

The NAACP secretary warned that the American form of government was endangered when mobs are not restrained.

"If I were a Communist, a Nazi, or a Fascist," he declared, "and wanted to destroy or weaken American Democracy, I would work unceasingly to prevent passage of anti-lynching legislation."

Dean Hastie dealt with the constitutional aspects of the legislation. Mr. Spingarn testified to the effect which lynching has on the good name of America in the rest of the world and quoted several Italian and German newspapers.

Witness Bolts for Door With Judge Right Behind Him!

Presiding Superior Judge W. Turney Fox flung judicial dignity to the winds when he dashed from his bench in juvenile court Tuesday in hot pursuit of a 15-year old escaping witness.

Evan Lewis, Negro lad, was thus prevented from fleeing the court as he was questioned concerning assertedly improper conditions in the home of his grandparents.

Sitting quietly on the witness stand, the lad remained silent during extensive questioning. Finally, he bolted straight for the door. Judge Fox, judicial dignity and all, bolted straight after him.

It is under consideration whether the boy should be made a ward of the court. He is being held pending investigation.

Riverside rancher O. L. HARRIS . . his prize hog attracts attention.

Riverside Man's Hog Produces 2 Litters in Month; First Five, and Then Nine

Success story of a sow was revealed this week, as O. L. Harris, chief of Riverside Garbage and Rubbish Disposal department, reported the Dionne doings of a black Berkshire-Duroc cross-bred hog on his ranch that produced two litters within one month

Several veterinarians have heralded the event as something comparable in sow civilization to Canada's human quintuplets. The unnamed pig-pen heroine produced a litter of five Dec. 29. Well and good, thought Mr. Harris. Along came Jan. 23, and our sow brought into the world nine more of her specie. Out of them all there was but one unfortunate fatality.

Harris, a resident of Riverside for 23 years, operates a hog raising ranch five miles outside the town. It is a tremendous establishment of some 74-acres.

Garbage from Riverside has helped to fatten the hundreds of "walking pork chops" on the ranch.

However, Harris revealed that he soon intends transforming the establishment into an up-to date dude ranch. He pointed out that the site is ideal, constant gentle breezes taking the sting out of hot weather. Another advantage of the proposed dude ranch will be its close proximity to Los Angeles. Average driving time is estimated at 1½ hours. Harris promised that his dude ranch would be the "latest thing."

Rezoning Ordinance Backfires

Citizens Block Effort to Open Electrical Shop

Allen Jordan O'Rourke is a disillusioned man this week.

Last summer, the young electrician joined Central Avenue Gardes neighbors in a petition for rezoning that South Los Angeles area. This week the rezoning ordinance treacherously swung about and walloped his ambition of establishing an electrical supply shop for a technical knockout.

However, a rematch seems inevitable as friends of O'Rourke set up a wail that might have echoed easily off the Hollywood Hills. Dissention in the Gardens has reached fever pitch as charges and counter charges were hurled.

It is contended that O'Rourke's application for a permit to operate an electrical supply shop at 92nd and Hooper would have been successfully culminated if five unnamed Gardenites had not appeared to protest it. The controversial quintet, Negroes, assertedly held that granting O'Rourke permission to operate would violate last summer's new zone regulations.

Immediate neighbors of the young electrician assured him, according to statements, that there was no objection to the presence of the electric shop. O'Rourke canvassed the district, extending his investigations to Pace street, directly in back of him. There were no objections.

Belligerent citizens charged that the five Negroes who appeared to obstruct O'Rourke's permit did not "even live in the neighborhood."

For months, O'Rourke has held forth as an electrician at large from his garage. In an interview, he stated that he and his young wife had been saving "God knows how long" to install "a really modern shop."

It is anticipated that new appeals will be made to authorities.

Big Audience Will Greet Browning

According to all indications, a capacity audience will greet the appearance of Ivan Harold Browning, celebrated American and European tenor, tonight (Thursday) in his recital at People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma, for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund of the church.

Speaking of Mr. Browning's successful appearance in London and Paris, and his broadcast work, the London Era said:

"The meteoric rise of Ivan Browning in the lyrical world is due largely by inborn gifts of a veritable genius, but also by strong, hard practice and lastly, because he takes good care of himself and never lets success turn his head."

RARE OPPORTUNITY

The London News gave this opinion of the gifted artist: "The singer never makes a wrong move, nor loses a needed position, nor yet tricks or embarasses his audiencees by his noble, subtle and truly elevating lyrical selections."

Los Angeles will have the rare opportunity not only of hearing a distinguished singer, but also of assisting with a most worthy cause—helping our deserving young men and women who are in financial difficulty to complete their education.

The concert is sponsored by the Independent Guild of which Mrs. Clayton D. Russell is president. Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew will assist Mr. Browning with popular readings.

Racial Discrimination Won't Be Tolerated -- McDonough

Racial discrimination will not be permitted or tolerated in any department of County government.

Asserting himself as unalterably opposed to racial discrimination of county employes, Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough made this frank declaration last week.

According to a report submitted to Supervisor McDonough by Mrs. Betty Hill, executive secretary of the Women's Political Study club, a nurse was called for temporary relief duty at the Olive View Sanatorium, and was told that Negro nurses were not acceptable at Olive View Sanatorium.

Aroused, McDonough immediately sent a written order to the superintendent at Olive View stating:

"You are hereby advised that under no circumstances will this practice be tolerated where an individual qualified by Civil Service examination is discriminated against because of race, color or creed, and denied employment on these grounds, in public institutions operated by the County of Los Angeles which they support and maintain by the payment of their taxes."

WPA Survey Reveals Large Number of Negroes on Rolls

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (ANP)—A survey revealed last week that the proportion of colored persons on WPA has risen from 13.3 per cent of the entire enrollment in November, 1937, to 19.8 per cent at the present time.

The report disclosed that in November, 1937, when 128,000 persons had WPA jobs, 17,000 were colored. February 1940, figures showed 21,400 Negroes out of a total number of 108,000 on the federal projects.

Officials gave the current personnel quota for February at 115,000. Of this number, 2,318 jobs are yet to be filled, many of them remaining open because the type of workers needed by the WPA cannot be found on relief.

Gallup Poll Shows Negro Approves FDR, New Deal

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (ANP)—Negroes are still on the Democratic side of the fence and 82 out of 100 colored voters approve of Roosevelt, according to a survey made by the American Institute of Public Opinion and revealed Saturday by Dr. George Gallup, director.

In releasing the figures, the institute pointed out it was still a long way from election day and said the survey showed there was a trend back to the Republican party representing 10 per cent over 1936.

To gather this data, institute representatives approached Negro voters in all of the states where their political sympathies are important and asked a carefully selected cross-section: "Which party would you like to see win the presidential election in November?" and "In general, do you approve or disapprove today of Roosevelt as president?"

Said the institute statement:

"The survey shows that the average Negro voter is still anxious to see the Democrats win in 1940, but if the presidential election were held today the Republican candidate might gather a larger share of the Negro vote than did Gov. Landon in 1936.

"As the following figures show, the average Negro voter is more likely to be a Democrat and a Roosevelt supporter than the ordinary voter throughout the country. Figures for 'all voters' are from the latest institute surveys.

Negro voters—66% favor Democrats; 34% favor Republicans.

All voters—54% favor Democrats; 46% favor republicans.

Negro voters—82% approve of Roosevelt; 18% disaprove of Roosevelt.

All voters—63% approve of Roosevelt; 37% disaprove of Roosevelt.

Bishop, Wife Stranded in South Africa; Appeal for Aid

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 8—Stranded in South Africa, Bishop R. R. Wright of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, has appealed to President Rooseevlt, asking help in getting passage for his party back to America on an American ship.

In a cablegram to the Chief Executive, Bishop Wright said:

"I want to get to America for the Bishops' Council Feb. 15. American ships refuse me. Consul here powerless . . ."

Stranded with the bishop is his wife, son, Richard R. Wright, III. Dr. and Mrs. A. J. White of Wilberforce university.

Bishop Wright said he and his son hold return tickets over the Union Castle and Cunard Lines from Capetown to New York, but by instructions of the U. S. government. American citizens are not permitted to use these tickets on belligerent ships.

Applications to the U. S.-South Africa line and the Java-New York line were refused because of color.

'Texas Red' Slain on Plantation

Deputy's Slayer Found Suffering from Exposure

PORT GIBSON, Miss., Feb. 8. (ANP) — After evading for 34 days a posse and detachments of state militia seeking him in connection with the slaying of Deputy Hilton Hall, 21, of Franklin county, "Texas Red" was shot to death Saturday afternoon near Hermanville on Rep. Tom. R. Trim's plantation.

State troopers in early stages of the hunt, biggest in the history of this section of the state, had accompanied the posse to avert threatened lynch action. He was fatally wounded Saturday by rifle bullets fired by "Coots" Massa, son of ex-City Marshal Philip Massa of Hazelhurst, according to Deputy W. C. Davis, posse leader.

Shot four or five times through the body, he died 30 minutes after being fired on. He succumbed surrounded by his hunters, completely exhausted, and unable to speak.

"Red" was thinly clad for the extreme weather experienced in this section recently and was suffering from exposure. His feet were wrapped in sacks alone, and the skin was peeled off his soles. He carried two guns.

TRAILED BY HOUNDS

The posse, which during the hunt of a month and three days had him cornered several times only to lose him, trailed him with bloodhounds. Saturday when he was again cornered, he would fire at the searching party each time he was approached, meanwhile managing to stay in the thick of the woods. Finally he passed a clear section and Massa fired, the shot taking effect in his side. The white man kept firing and the fugitive fell, mortally wounded. He was about six feet tall, weighed about 200. He showed signs of wounds received when the hunt first started.

Officers said other Negroes were mainly responsible for cornering the suspect. They tipped off police and posse members several times as to where Red had recently been sighted, and Friday night, the manhunters were again placed on the trail by a Negro who told them "Texas Red" had been to his home in search of food.

In answer to a request from Sheriff Bagwell, Gov. Johnson sent militia to the locality to protect the suspect from mob violence should he offer to surrender, but when they arrived, he was dead.

The second fugitive, "Oklahoma Kid," also sought along with Red, has not been apprehended.

Republicans to Make Most of Widespread WPA Discrimination

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (ANP) —Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen in their "Merry-Go-Round" column declare that GOP proposes to point out the deficiencies of relief as it deals with Negroes in a confidential report compiled by agents for the party.

"The report proceeds to blast the New Deal relief organizations as unsound, and discriminatory 'between racial groups.' The report alleges that while the New Deal claims to have helped the Negro, actually, the Negro has been the object of widespread discrimination," the columnists wrote.

Express Concern Over Well-Being of Negro Relief Clients

Expressing deep concern over the welfare of thousands of California Negroes dependent on relief in view of the chaos current in the State Relief Administration, the L. A. Council National Negro Congress this week addressed communications to Governor Culbert L. Olscon and Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins.

The Congress pointed out that abolition of the Los Angeles SRA office "not only places relief control in this county in the hands of appointees of the Merriam administration who are notoriously unsympathetic to minority groups," but removes the only Negro SRA administative executive in the state, Mrs. Juanita Ellsworth Miller.

SUGGEST TRANSFER

Seeking to establish some guarantee that Negroes will have representation in formulating basic policies of the SRA under the conditions established by the abolition of the County office, the Congress is insisting to the Governor that Mrs. Miller be transferred to the state office and assigned to a position similar in weight to that she occupied in the county office.

Also the Congress is cooperating with liberal and labor groups throughout the city who are fighting for the rescinding of the order abolishing the Los Angeles office of the SRA, and the abrogation of the liberal and humane policies which had recently been inaugurated under the direction of the County Administrator, Sam Houston Allen.

MAYOR BOWRON PROCLAIMS FEB. 11-17 AS 'NEGRO HISTORY WEEK'

Contributions to American Civilization and World Progress Will Be Set Forth

Today is far removed from A. D. 312 when Constantine, the mulatto emperor of Rome, planted the banners of the Cross on the site of Constantine which he founded; when St. Ciprian, a Negro bishop of Alexandria, chided the scribes and pharisses of Antioch and Athens because of theih selfish hypocracy. The 1638 years between then and now have much changed the historic status of the Negro throughout the world and in the United States in particular.

Locally, in commemoration of Negro achievement and progress, Mayor Fletcher Bowron, at the suggestion of the Negro History Study club, has proclaimed the week of Feb. 11 to 17 inclusive, as Negro History Week, during which period the contribution of the Negro to American civilization and to world progress will be set forth.

Climaxing the many local celebrations will be the program of the Negro History Study club of Los Angeles on Thursday evening at 8 p. m. in the Jefferson High school auditorium. Principal speakers will be Rev. E. W. Moore, D. D. of Pasadena; Dr. Broadus Mitchell, instructor at Occidental College and Crispus Wright, local attorney. Professor William A. Easter, Supervisor, State Department of Education and West Coast Representative of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, will act as master of ceremonies. Music will be furnished by the Carlyle Scott chorus.

January 29, 1940

PROCLAMATION

To the People of Los Angeles,

Greetings:

WHEREAS, the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History has, since its organization in 1915, accomplished much for the Negro people of our country in particular and of the world in general through the collection of sociological and historical data concerning the Negro, the publication of materials bearing on Negro life and history, the promotion of the study of the Negro through clubs and schools, and the development of greater harmony between the races by the interpretation of the one to the other; and

WHEREAS, it is appropriate and well from time to time to invite the special attention of all of our people to the splendid achievements of those of our fellow citizens and fellowmen who are members of the Negro race.

NOW, THEREFORE, as Mayor of the City of Los Angeles, I do hereby proclaim and set aside the period from Feb. 11-18, 1940 inclusive, as National Negro History Week in and for the City, to the end that the people of our City and of our vicinity might gain greater knowledge, a better appreciation and a finer understanding of Negro accomplishments in, and contributions to our American culture and civilization, and for the purpose of encouraging the Negro himself to even higher endeavor by a review of his significant record under the auspices of the Negro History Study club of Los Angeles, similar groups and agencies.

(Signed)
FLETCHER BOWRON,
Mayor

Says Finland Will Never Give Up

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—"Finland will never surrender," Theodore Charles Stone, noted singer, recently returned here after a harrowing 28-day sea voyage from Finland, told reporters this week.

"Even Finnish women are prepared to help defend the things they value more than life."

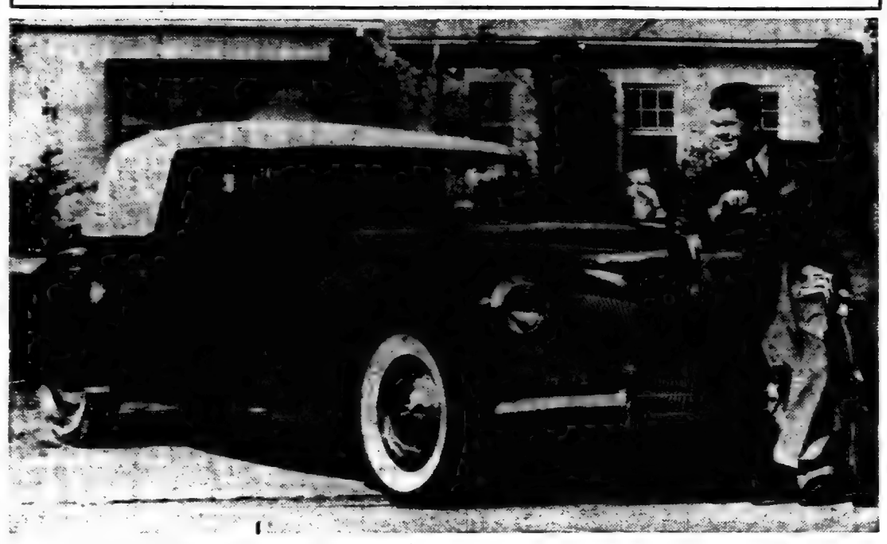
Stone told a hair-raising story of sailing seas filled with mines.

"Our boat hugged the coast. Other boats taking the same routes were blown up by the mines. We would listen on the radio to reports of ships being sunk as they passed the same point we had successfully gotten through.

"Before I left Helsinki, I had seen bombs kill 41 people across the street from where I lived.

Stone sang throughout Finland and interviewed the great composer Jean Sibelius, whom he said admires Marian Anderson greatly. The Finns are "crazy" about Miss Andersno, he declared.

Better Business Bureau Advocates Improved Transportation Facilities



At the luncheon meeting of the Southeast Better Business Bureau last Friday, a proposal was presented by W. A. Easter to obtain an extension of the U car line south from Slauson avenue and the installation of a bus system to extend further south into the Central Ave. Garden and Blodgett Tract districts.

James M. Jones, use president, was authorized to appoint a committee to work out the details and contact the L. A. Railway concerning the proposal. It was pointed out that there are many persons in the Southeast district who would come to the district more often but find it inconvenient to use the red car line which takes them down Long Beach avenue.

The next meeting is planned for Friday noon, Feb. 15, at the Swing Hi cafe. All persons interested in the proposed U car line extension are invited to be present.

Woman Makes Charges

Alleged irregularities at Newton Street Police Station were apparently substantiated this week as reports of false arrest of a beauty operator. Miss Gene Campbell, 35, on prostitution charges were brought to the EAGLE.

Miss Campbell was accosted by four officers (white) Thursday night about midnight at 40th and Central avenue. She was assertedly forced into a police car.

The woman was taken to Newton Street police station, where she was held until 2 A. M., when she was removed to Lincoln Hts. jail. Released Friday morning on $50.00 bail, she is to be tried Feb. 23.

Statements made for Miss Campbell hold that she was returning home from the late evening performance at the Bill Robinson theater. Officers, she contends, were brutal in their treatment and molested her without cause. It was stated that the woman told officers she was going home, but one of them assertedly interrupted her, saying: "We know what you're doing out here."

According to reports, officers were rough in forcing her into the police car. Developments in the case are being watched closely.

Four Bandits Held for Trial

Arrested on 14 counts of robbery, with kidnapping, added thereto, four young men will come to trial on the charges Feb. 13.

Dec. 29 last, Detectives Slager and Tetrich, Central Division Robbery Detail, arrested Kenny Goodman, 28; Fred Shaw, Jr., 25; Thomas Williams, 26; and Borkey Miles, 28, all living at 1232 E. 20th street.

The quartet is alleged to have held up stores in the Southwest portion of the city, terrorizing merchants and taking sums of money and other valuables at the point of guns. Furniture stores apparently were the objects of the four bandits.

They reported up a furniture store at 4750 S. Broadway, Nate Spiegelman, proprietor, losing $30.00. Two nights later they are said to have entered the store of Sam Lombardo, 5210 S. Broadway. And the same evening, S. Hubler, proprietor of a furniture store at 3854 Western avenue, fell a victim.

Officers, raiding the house occupied by the suspects, recovered valuables amounting to $500, they claim. Police allege more than 60 holdups have been committed by the quartet.

At preliminary hearing last Friday, Judge Joseph Chambers ordered the four men held to answer. Bail was fixed at $10,000 on each of the 14 counts. Atty. Curtis C. Taylor represents defendants Goodman and Williams. Atty. Lloyd C. Griffith is counsel for Shaw, while Miles is being represented by a white lawyer.

A 1938 Buick, believed to have been used by the men as a getaway car, was confiscated by the police.

ENLARGED PORES

The stretching of the pores by the hardening of oil forming blackheads, eventually results in the enlarging of these openings and of course textured skin. To prevent enlarged pores, keep the skin stimulated and avoid, if possible, the forming of blackheads. Astringents and stimulating packs are advisable in correcting such skins.

To prevent blackheads, try to keep your general health good and your circulation active and see that your skin is cleansed thoroughly and well stimulated. Wash hands and face with soap and water. Steam the face to relax the pores. Bathe blackheads with alcohol. Press out each blackhead with sterilized comedo extractor. After the blackheads are removed, bathe the skin with alcohol and leave it entirely alone.

Valentine's Day Dainties

By BETTY BARCLAY

Valentine's Day arrives while parties of all kinds are in full swing. It does not call for the creaking dinner tables of Thanksgiving and Christmas but it does demand unusual and delicious dishes that will delight guests. Here are a few ideas for this year:

Celebration Salad

2½ cups cold diced chicken, marinated ½ hour in
5 tablespoons Lemon French dressing

Combine with:

1½ cups diced celery
1 cup seedless grape halves
¾ cup mayonnaise

Serve in lettuce cups or cream puff shells. Garnish with lemon quarters. Veal may be substituted for chicken. Serves 6.

Limas with Sausage

1 cup cooked, dried Limas
½ pound sausage
1 medium sized onion
1 cup tomatoes
½ teaspoon chili
½ teaspoon salt

Fry onion and sausage until well done. Add other ingredients and simmer for 30 minutes.

Apricot Prests

1 package chocolate rennet powder
1 pint milk (not canned or soft curd)
1 cuf apricot puree (cooked apricots which have been put through a strainer)
Cookies or wafers

Make rennet-custard according to directions on package. When filling dessert glasses fill within ¼ inch from top. When ready to serve, spread the apricot puree lightly over the top of each rennet-custard. Garnish with crushed cookies or wafers.

Magic Valentine Cup Cakes

1 cup ground shelled peanuts
½ cup sweetened condensed milk
1 egg, separated
1 teaspoon baking powder

Shell peanuts, remove brown skins, and put through a food chopper. To ground peanuts add sweetened condensed milk, egg yolk and baking powder. Blend thoroughly. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whits. Drop by spoonfuls into small-sized buttered cup cake tins. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 12 small cup cakes.

Mesil Ice Box Cake

1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup syrup, drained from gems, heated
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 egg whites
½ cup whipping cream
Sliced sponge cake or 2 dozen lady fingers
1½ cups canned Hawaiian pineapple gems
Maraschino cherries

Soak gelatin in water 5 minutes. Dissolve in hot pineapple syrup, add sugar and salt, and stir until dissolved. Add lemon rind and juice. Chill until jelly starts to thicken, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and whipped cream. Line sides of an oblong mold with sponge cake or lady fingers. Fill mold with alternate layers of pineapple mixture and sponge cake or lady fingers. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve garnished with the pineapple gems, cherries, and additional whipped cream slightly sweetened, tinted a pale green and put on the cake with a pastry tube. Yield: 8 servings.

Sweet Dreams Coffeeish

Here's a refreshing party beverage, made with chocolate and decaffeinated coffee, so everybody can enjoy extra cups without counting sheep later on. Add 4 tablespoons ground decaffeinated coffee, 3 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut in pieces, 6 cloves, 4-inch piece of stick cinnamon and dash of salt to 4 cups milk, and heat in double boiler until chocolate is melted. Strain immediately. Combine 1 tablespoon of flour and ¾ cup sugar. Add liquid and cook 15 minutes, or until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, cool slightly and pour over 1 egg, well beaten. Chill. Serve ice cold with whipped cream if desired. Makes 1 quart coffolate.

GAY MODERNETTES LOOK BACK OVER YEAR'S WORK

The past year has truly been a gay and merry year for the Gay Modernettes. Although strictly a social club, they seem unable to refrain from making a charitable gesture now and then. This Christmas, they contributed to the Outdoor Life and Health Sanitarium and are now looking forward to aiding some other worthy project.

After the round of Holiday parties, they have settled down to business and added three new members: Mildred Baskin, Elizabeth Gooch and Arthonia Taylor. New officers were installed Jan. 30, 1940, by Mrs. Billie Harper (La Monde's popular president) at the home of Mrs. Vera Thompson, after which a lovely and appetizing buffet supper was served.

New officers are as follows: president, Laurine Gosey; vice president, Alberta Hayden; secretary, La Vern Williams; fin. secretary, Louise Ateman; treasurer, Mae Trammel, business manager, Sarah Cass; critic, Ethel Russel; reporter, Betty McDaniels.

Mrs. Gosey who is a beautician, connected with the Rainbow Beauty Salon is also the Superintendent of Unity Truth School, chaplain of the Harmony Circle and a member of the Los Angeles Musicians' Association. A busy young woman as you can see, but she pledges to do her utmost to uphold the standard of the club set by the past president, Mrs. Thelma Cooper, who deserves much credit for the success of the Modernettes. Address all correspondence to La Verne Williams, 765 E. 47th street.

Users Land Safety of Modern Home Convenience

An intuitive regard for safety in the home.

Intangible as it might seem, this has been demonstrated during the past year, more than ever before, as an important factor influencing the adoption of electric water heaters in Los Angeles households, according to records of the Bureau of Power and Light.

More than three times as many of these modern home conveniences were installed in 1939 as in the preceding year.

"The 'safe as light' feature of this type of water heater, now widely identified as 'matchless in more ways than one', is appreciated all the more when it is considered how hazards in the home are minimized by its use," is the comment of a building contractor in a letter to the municipally-owned electric system.

Numerous other communications received by the Power Bureau, notably those from homes in which there are small children and household pets, express a sense of relief that there is nothing about an electric water heater that can harm them.

Zion Churches to Pay Tribute to Hon. J. C. Price

Last Monday night AME Zion churches of the Los Angeles area celebrated the birthday of the founder and first president of Livingstone college, Joseph Charles Price. At the First AME Zion church, Pico at Paloma street, the occasion was the annual Livingstone College drive.

Graduates of the college, Mesdames Annie J. Lankford, Alice J. Jones, and a former student, spoke briefly of the student life of the college. Dr. H. Philbert Lankford spoke from the subject, "Livingstone College, Then and Now". The address of the evening was delivered by Bishop William Cornelius Brown, A. M., D. D., on "Christian Education". Mrs. Hendricks of the Seventh Day Adventist church; Robert Anderson and the senior choir of the First AME Zion church, entertained the audience with music in solo and chorus.

Mrs. Margaret Hood-Banks, an honor graduate whose father, Bishop James Walker Hood was the first chairman of the Board of Trustees, was mistress of ceremonies. Livingstone is an AME Zion church.

Dr. James B. Holmes held the second quarterly conference meeting Friday evening and Sunday respectively. The reports showed marked improvements in finance and increase in membership.

Negro Achievement Day to Be Held Sunday at Wesley

Anita Edmonds Opens Church

Miss Anita L. Edmonds, young minister and evangelist, had a grand opening of an institutional church work Tuesday night at her home.

This has been a brain child in the young evangelist's mind for years, and she expects to have one of the largest institutional churches in the world, which will employ hundreds of colored men and women some day.

Miss Edmonds has traveled extensively and has been preaching since the age of 15 years.

The grand opening was a great success, with hundreds of people which the house was unable to seat. The evangelist preaches the four works of grace: conviction, conversion, sanctification and the baptism of the Holy Ghost.

Meetings will be held at 1219 E. 55th street each Tuesday evening, 7:30 to 9:30; each Sunday afternoon, 4 to 6. All are welcomed.

Sunday is Interracial and Negro Achievement Day at Wesley Methodist church. Preacher at the morning hour will be Dr. Anderson, eminent Bible scholar, theologian and professor of religion at Chapman college. The choir will render music by Negro composers.

At the evening worship, the Women's Progressive club will sponsor an interesting program, presenting as special features, two eminent speakers, one white and one Negro, who will speak from the subjects: "I I Were a Negro," and "If I Were a White Man." Baxter Scruggs will represent the Negro race.

Other highlights of the program will be presentation of Miss Ruby Elzy and Dr. Henry A. McPherson in solos by Negro composers, a reading by Mrs. Marjorie McPherson, Professor M. Easter, speaking on achievements of outstanding Negroes.

Humanity always becomes a conqueror. —Sheridan.

DR. L. K. WILLIAMS SAYS U. S. SHOULD BREAK WITH RUSSIA

Federal Council of Churches and NBC Official Says Russia Has Broken Pledges

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (ANP)—"Should the United States break off diplomatic relations with Russia?" is one of the most debated subjects in local circles.

Seeking some general opinion on the subject, the United States News, a weekly published by David Lawrence, has made the inquiry of a number of congressmen, religious leaders and others.

Replying to the question, Dr. L. K. Williams, vice chairman of the executive committee, Federal Council of Churches, and president of the National Baptist convention, says:

"The diplomatic and friendly relations existing between the United States and Russia should be severed because Russia has broken the distinct pledges it made, upon which said relations were based.

"It is reasonably believed also that Russia, since making the pledges, has changed its former genus and structure to one of force and violence as is evidenced in its cruel, unwarranted activities in Finland.

"For such spirit and practices, America refuses to fellowship Nazi Germany and should, therefore, give communistic Russia the same justly provoked 'stern deal.'"

Hampton Plans to Dismiss 10 Teachers

HAMPTON, (Va.), Feb. 8.—Aimed at economizing, dismissal of 10 to 12 teachers is being planned for the end of this term in June, Hampton Institute officials announced this week.

At the same time, the addition of three trustees to the Institute Board were announced. Named were P. Bernard Young, Sr., publisher of the Norfolk Journal and Guide; Virginus Dabney, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch; and Thomas C. Cabot, Boston manufacturer and welfare worker.

Addition of Young brings the colored trustees to three. The others are Dr. R. R. Moten, retired president of Tuskegee Institute, and Dr. Morgan E. Norris of Kilmarmoch.

Tuskegee Grad on Alabama Federal Jury

JASPER, (Ala.), Feb. 8.—The state of Alabama recently broke tradition by appointing a Negro for the first time known to many, to serve on its federal jury.

Paris B. Swoopes, a product of Tuskegee and a business man in Muscle Shoals, Alabama, was summoned recently to serve as petite juror in the Northern Alabama court room session of the federal jury which convened in Jasper, Alabama, last week and lasted for several days. Swoopes and a white man, both of Colbert County were representatives of their county during the session of the federal jury.

Raise $2,000 for Marian Anderson Mural

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8.—The campaign to raise $2,000 for the Marian Anderson mural has passed the $1,000 mark, Edward Bruce, chairman of the committee and chief of the section of fine arts of the Federal Works Agency, announced this week. The fund is to be used for the execution and installation in the new Interior Department building of a mural depicting Miss Anderson's Easter Day concert here last Spring.

Hundreds of small contributions have been made and Statewide organizations to further the campaign have been set up in North Carolina, South Carolina, and Mississippi. Contributions may be sent to the Committee's treasurer, Jesse H. Mitchell, Industrial Savings Bank, Eleventh and U Streets, N. W. Washington, D. C.

Says Interracial Confabs Baloney

DURHAM, (N. C.), Feb. 8.—Interracial conferences are so much baloney, according to Zora Neale Hurston, noted author and director of dramatics at North Carolina college for Negroes.

Addressing a group at the University of North Carolina here last week, Mrs. Hurston said, "Nothing ever happens at them except the colored persons use the powder puff on the whites and the whites on the colored persons."

Lack of Funds Hit Bids for USHA Loans

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8—More than one billion dollars in unfilled requests for USHA loans to finance slum clearance and low rent public housing projects are reposing in the files of the United States Housing Authority because of lack of funds.

The requests are from 180 communities in 32 states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, which are ready to inaugurate or expand slum clearance programs by building safe and sanitary low rent dwellings for their low income families.

The total of the loans asked by these communities is $1,006,000,000, which represents 90% of the estimated total development cost of the proposed projects. This total of unfilled USHA loan requests, Nathan Straus, USHA Administrator pointed out today, exceeds by more than $200,000,000 the $800,000,000 additional loan fund for the USHA program which would be authorized by a bill pending in Congress. Three California communities have asked a total of $16,500,000.

Propose Statue to Late James Weldon Johnson

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—A proposal is being considered by a committee of which Theodore Roosevelt is chairman to erect a statue to the late James Weldon Johnson, famed writer, in the city of New York, it is reported in the February issue of Opportunity magazine by Carl Van Vechten, noted critic.

The monument, Van Vechten wrote, will not be of James Weldon Johnson, but to his "Black and Unknown Bards", the creators of the spirituals. The monument is to be created by Richmond Barthe, Negro sculptor, and erected on the island in the center of 7th avenue.

'Black Ritual' Presented in N.Y.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1. (C)—The Center Theatre here in Radio City has been host to large audiences due to its colorful ballet presentations. One night last week it presented the premiere performance of the Negro unit of 13 women in "Black Ritual." It went over so big that a command performance was tendered for the press at which a number of leading colored newspapermen and women were present.

The "Black Ritual" is a new choreographic treatment by Agnes deMille of Darius Milhaud's 27-year old score subtitled "Obeah." The dance leans heavily on rapidly sweeping movements of authentic African dances.

Celebrated 'Green Pastures' Star and Wife Call It A Day

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (C)—Seven years ago he was a star in Marc Connelley's "Green Pastures." That is, he was one of the bright stars in the Pulitzer Prize play that ran for a number of years on the Gay White Way and then toured the U. S. and Canada for almost the length of its B'way run. In the last six years Ivan ("The Prophet") Sharp has been identified with a profitable business on West 125 Street the shopping center of New York's Harlem. He and his wife, the former Bettie Esther Parham founded the Esther Miracle waterproof products which had come from their own formula and had reached a successful standing in the beauty culture industry. But, the Ivan Sharps have come to the parting of their devotional and business-like contract. Their romance is on the rocks, and that's news.

To the Sharps actually went the distinction of being the first Negro merchants to establish contact and a business on West 125th Street. At one time they both successfully operated four concessions in department stores on the main thoroughfare. Beauty and popularity contests were staged in conjunction with promotion of their business. The Miracle wave products waved long and loud in the eyes of the buying public. Now, a number of friends have indicated the business will be re-organized. Whether Mrs. or Mr. Sharp will continue independently is unknown. Sharp claims, "My marital riff in no way will interfere with the business. It shall continue along the same lines and I am sure that my customers willingly will cooperate with me. They have said as much."

May Arbitrate Robeson's Suit

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The Actors' Equity is expected to arbitrate Paul Robeson's suit filed this week for $5,600 in salary due him from the ill-fated "John Henry", which closed three weeks ago after five performances.

Robeson asks $1,500 for each of the two weeks he played "John Henry" out of town, plus additional amounts for a lay-off at Christmas.

'Chi' Picket Lines Fight 'GWTW'

Prominent Leaders Say Pic Constitutes Lynch Incitement

CHICAGO, Feb. 1. (CNA)—Prominent Chicago civic, church and labor leaders led a drive this week against the showing of the film "Gone With the Wind" in this city. They warned that the film constituted a lynch incitement such as "led to the disgraceful riots of 1919 in Chicago," and laid plans to picket the Woods and Oriental Theatres, where the film opened on Jan. 25.

An appeal was also made to the Chicago Board of Censors to ban the film, on the basis of the hate incitement which 'Gone With the Wind" carries.

Eighteen leaders in church, labor, business and professional circles signed a statement denouncing the film and calling upon all "lovers of freedom and democracy, all who truly stand for the unity of the American people, to join us in the protest against the presentation of this film in our city."

"Negro people in America were never docile slaves," the statement continued. "The history of the Revolutionary War in 1776, and of the war of 1812 is filled with the heroic deeds performed by Negro slaves. These enslaved men and women were fighting not only for the liberation of this country from British tyranny, not only for the extension of the immortal democratic principles of Jefferson, Thomas Paine and others, but they were fighting as well to end the infamous institution of human slavery, and to secure their own freedom."

The statement was signed by: Earl B. Dickerson, Alderman of the 2nd Ward (South Side) Chicago; Henry Johnson, Assistant National Director, Packinghouse Workers Organizing Committee; Ulysses S. Key, attorney; Dean H. M. Smith, Chicago Baptist Institute; Mrs. Irene M. Gaines, leading club woman. Solon Bell, Chairman Joint Council Dining Car Waiters; Horace R. Cayton, Fellow of the Julius Rosenwald Fund; Ishmael P. Flory, of the Executive Committee of Labor's Non-Partisan League; Oscar C. Brown, attorney; Dr. L. B. Morrison, William Harrison, hotel proprietor; Edward Cary, Chairman of Advisory Committee to Alderman Earl B. Dickerson; Metz T. B. Lochard, Chicago Defender; Frazier T. Lane, Chicago Urban League; A. Lincoln Wisler, Chicago Urban League; and Dr. Wilberforce Williams.

'Fats' Waller Threatened in Detroit

DETROIT, Feb 1—The life of William (Fats) Waller, noted pianist and leader of his own orchestra, was threatened during his theatre engagement here last week.

Waller left Detroit Sunday night with his orchestra for an engagement in Milwaukee. While here he was guarded by two detective-sergeants from the Special Investigation squad.

The threat was made in a telephone call to the Colonial theatre on the opening night of Waller's one week engagament there. The voice demanded a large sum of money from Waller and warned that he would be killed if police were notified. The orchestra leader said he did not recognize the voice.

Waller disclosed the fact that he was threatened once before in Philadelphia. His would-be assailant was arrested and sentenced.

Writes Letter to Forestall Picketing

Fredi Washington Pens Views to Washington Body

WASHINGTON, (D. C.), Feb. 8.—A letter from Fredi Washington, secretary of the Negro Actors' Guild forestalled action of the Washington Civil Rights committee to picket the National theatre here during the performanct of "Mamba's Daughter's", in which Miss Washington has a prominent role. "Mamba's Daughters" played here last week, starring Ethel Waters. Miss Washington is also a deputy of the Actors' Equity Association.

The Washington Civil Rights theatre addressed a letter to Miss Waters, informing her of their intent to picket the theatre because Negroes are refustd admittance. In her reply, Miss Washington, to whom Miss Waters had directed the letter, wrote.

"The entire lompany agrees wholeheartedly that the segregation which exists in the nation's capital is a condition of which we are ashamed and feel should be fought until improved.

"Our management sought to have the ban at the National Theatre lifted during our engagement, first, because they know it is an injustice to our people and, secondly, because they want the business and because Southern towns, such as St. Louis and Cincinnati, agreed to admit our people.

"Though we are justifiably indignant, you must realize that we are bound by contractual commitments, and to refuse to play the date would automatically cancel the remainder of our tour, which means 12 weeks of work.

"In view of the above fact, to picket colored shows alone would seem to defeat a forceful argument."

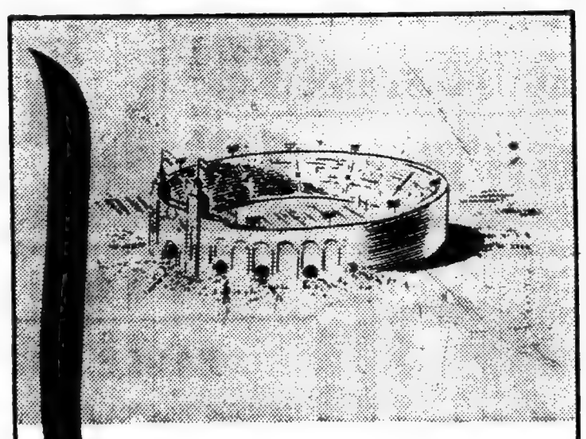
COACH DRIVER 22 was surprised

MOTOR COACH Operator A. N. Dalbey probably thought that nobody noticed his act of courtesy. But here's part of a letter we received and forwarded to him:



"... she was an old lady and on crutches. When we came to the intersection where she wished to change, the bus driver stopped, got off the bus, lifted her off as gently as if she had been his own mother, helped her across and showed her where to make connections with the street car she wished to take. He was Driver No. 22 ..."

(signed) D.W.

Operator No. 22, A. N. Dalbey, did a fine piece of work. We suppose that he has done that sort of thing before and will do it again. He did it in a spirit of helpfulness which is general among Los Angeles Railway employees.

Company rules don't cover such situations. It was strictly up to Operator Dalbey and we're proud of the way he handled it.

GAB STUFF

By J. Cullen Fentress

One day last week we were made proud of the fact we first saw daylight under "Old Glory".

Producers Pictures Corporation in its foreword to the motion picture "Goose Step" states clearly and to the point that it is attempting to portray, without prejudice or bias toward any individual or nation, a true story of the struggles of a minority for freedom —freedom of speech, thought and action.

"Goose Step" does that and, does it well. From the first scenes of goose-stepping storm troopers to the closing lines uttered by Elsa to her husband, Hans, after the latter had reached safety in Switzerland: "You are free now to tell the world that this is not the heart of the German people".

As the foregoing suggests, "Goose Step" is a film which indicts Hitler and his Nazi government.

Last week, we went to the Regina theatre on Wilshire Blvd., and attended a press preview of the picture, its first title being "Hitler—Beast of Berlin", said title having been banned by the Will Hays office. The picture was banned in Chicago.

Swastikas, Gestapo (secret police) methods, brutality toward the Church and non-Aryans, concentration camps, and "the underground movement" —all come in for vivid reproduction on the screen in "Goose Step", which was directed by Sherman Scott.

Roland "Drew" and Steffi Duna give outstanding portrayals as Hans and Elsa, the story's leading characters. Mr. Drew attended the press preview, the audience, made up of clergymen in the main, roundly applauding him for his work.

"Goose Step" is the story of a group of Germans, banded together to free the people of Hitler's yoke in what is called "the underground movement". Hans, one of the leaders of the movement, is spotted by Gestapo agents. Tortured by the Gestapo and storm troopers in an effort to gain information as to who are his accomplices, Hans is sent to a concentration camp, when he refuses to tell.

There, with others of his friends, he is beaten further although the commandant of the camp is a former superior officer, having decorated Hans in the World War. Karl (Alan Ladd), also of Hans' movement, is shot and killed by guards when he attempts to escape.

Storm troopers interrupt prayer services in camp quarters on one occasion, tearing off the garments of the priest who was leading his fellow prisoners in worship. Said the trooper: "You needn't worry about God here; Hitler takes good care of us".

Corruptness and graft among Nazi officials is revealed. Lawyers, with "good Nazi connections", accept money with which to free prisoners in concentration camps. Part of the money, in turn, goes to Gestapo heads for being lenient with "enemies of the government". And, although, release of prisoners has been approved, the camp commandant is at liberty to refuse to give a prisoner his "freedom".

About to become a mother, Elsa is sent across the border into Switzerland, so the baby "won't be born a Nazi". After all efforts have failed to secure his release, Hans plots to escape from the concentration camp. And one day, his friends, disguised as farmers, pass by a spot where the prisoners are working, and Hans, aided and abetted by a sympathetic guard, makes good his escape and joins his wife and child in Switzerland.

It is then that Elsa tells Hans who is torn between devotion to his people and to his wife, he is free now to tell the world that conditions as they are in Germany are not the will of the German people.

"Goose Step" is from the original screenplay by Sheppard Traube. Jack Greenhalgh, A. S. C., is director of photography, and Fred Preble, art director. Other credits go to Frederick Giermann, technical director; Harry Ross, makeup; Waldron Johnson, costumes; Dave Chudnow, musical director; and Robert Crandall and Holbrook Todd, film editors.

Offering the American people an insight into conditions in Germany, with late developments in the European situation tied neatly in, "Goose Step" should go a long way towards showing the futility of wars and their causes—hatred, injustices and oppression. And, although it closely resembles another film made by a major studio, it brings to the screen reported incidents in newspapers, serving somewhat to make clear conditions under Hitler.

Youth Analyzes Meaning of Buying Back the Negro Vote

LEAVENWORTH, Kansas — Africa is still the land of opportunity for every man."

If these things are done, Mr. Stokes concluded, the opening phrase of the Declaration of Independence, "When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another", will never again apply with aptitude to the Negro and the Republican Party.

young Negro, Charles M. Stokes, vice-chairman of the Young Republican National Federation of Kansas, romposet of militant young Republicans without regard to race, creed, or color, this week blasted away at the recent remark of Congressman Arthur W. Mitchell that "the Republican Party is attempting to buy back the Negro vote."

Mr. Stokes is of "the younger generation" upon whose shoulders are soon to fall the burden of keeping alive the principles of the party. He has shown unusual ability and has the unbounded confidence and respect of his fellows. He is thoughtful and analytic in dissecting the Congressman's outburst.

Ironically, Mr. Stokes points out that "'unless it (the Negro vote) has some value the charge of buying it back loses its efficiency as an intended indictment, —for no one wishes to buy (and especially back) that which is worthless".

Although there are 12,000,000 Colored people in the United States, the normal percentage being of voting age, a large proportion of these he says, are of no value to either Party "for the reason that the Democratic Party to which Mr. Mitchell belongs (or rather with which he is identified), in the South, still believes that taxation without representation is not reprehensible and so refuses them the right to vote." He added: "Having arrived at the premise that the Negro has 'got something', what about the advisability of 'buying back' such vote? The implications present in the phrase of Congressman Mitchell, inferring that the votes of the Negro at some time or other were bought from the Republican Party, are, I think, true. Otherwise, how can the Republican Party 'buy back' that which it never possessed?

"It is my opinion that the Grand Old Party should and will plead guilty to trying to 'reenlist' the Negro in its ranks. Evidence is seen on every hand of the successes with which they are meeting, and with the 1938 and 1939 elections not the least of these barometers. The popular notion that nobody shoots Santa Claus has been lost in the painful but true realization that Santa Claus always removes his presence and presents shortly after Christmas and refuses to return until the next Christmas, which is always the next election."

Colored voters, Mr. Stokes explains, now know that something is amiss when the Democratic Party professes to be a fairy godmother in one portion of the country while in another section it is found to be the wicked witch who would boil them in a scalding pot of oil. Colored voters now know the only way in which they can keep their families and loved ones in anything like a respectable security, which even faintly promises stability, is by earning an honest living by honest toil.

"While the Negro", he writes, "is not willing to go back to the 'horse and buggy' days, as the general concept of those days is generally described, he is ready and willing to return to 'horse sense' in the matter of gaining a livelihood. He knows that the Republican Party has never betrayed the people by keeping them out of war until an election is over and then immediately pulling them into a foreign conflict. He knows despite the continued, and at times the successful, effort of some groups to ridicule them into forgetting the magnanimity that was Abraham Lincoln, that in all recorded history, no Democrat has arisen to do half as much for them, while many of them are always ready to do twice as much against them.

"Buy back the Negro vote? Yes, yes, thrice yes. Buy them back with a new meaning given the Fourtteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. Buy them back with a literal interpretation of the Fifteenth Amendment. Buy them back by giving to them a realization that they too are a vital, integral part of We, the People. Finally, buy them back by letting them know that although the statement 'that all men are born free and equal' is a misnomer, America is still the land of opportunity for every man."

Prominent Writer Delivers Address Over Gold Hour

As guest speaker on the Gold Hour over radio station KGFJ, Fred C. Williams, well known writer and editor, at the invitation of Mrs. Bilbrew who is celebrating her first anniversary on that program, delivered the following addrss:

I AM AN ALL-AMERICAN

Symposium by Fred C. Williams

I landed in America in 1619 at Jamestown, Va., an old English colony. My companion, a group of Dutch traders, sold me to a tobacco planter. I have been in this country ever since, growing as it grew, developing as it developed and I am woven into the web and woof so thoroughly that it would be impossible to separate me from its make without destroying its present form of government.

I have borne the burden of my fellowmen patiently for I plowed the fields, planted the crops, and gathered the harvest, although I sang "Go Down Moses, tell old Pharaoh to let my people go." I listened to the Lord and waited and when the colonies revolted, mine was the first blood to be spilled there on Boston Commons when Crispus Attucks went down. A martyr to liberty. I was with Washington at Valley Forge but was sent back to my master at the end of the war. I planted cotton, hauled it to the gin and baled it and used it as the breast works when I was called to defend the port of New Orleans against the English fleet under Farragut. It was still shackled but God was in the plan that was to work out when the North and South came to grips over slavery. I was at work as Sojourner Truth, Harriet Tubman, Frederick Douglas, constantly whisptring into the ear of Abe Lincoln, who abolished slavery by proclamation and I went forward 200,000 strong to break the rebellion and save the union.

I sought education, strengthened my Christian faith, built colleges and churches, developed educators and bishops. My name is Legion. I am everywhere and everything. The record enrolled me as Booker T. Washington, George W. Carver, Bishops of all names, Paul Robeson, Sisserita Jones, Bert Williams, Bill Robinson, Herbert Delaney, William Tompkins. Too many to mention at this time. For I can be found participating in every walk of life and profession. I am without care or worry. My face reflects sunshine. My eyes are bright. My manner gay. My voice is filled with laughter and in my heart there is always a song. Each day I say "Lift up Your Voice and Sing,"—"Onward Christian Soldiers,"— and "God Bless America." For this is my land, my home the America I love and will always defend and no one can deny. My claim that I am an All-American.

Sketch Subject: MABLE FOUNTZ . . . Head Nurse at St. Catherine's Hospital, Ocean Park, Calif.

By VICTOR NICKERSON

Nursing to some of us may not seem to be such an interesting or startling occupation. The trained nurse rarely shoots into prominence as a Nightingale or Cavell. Rather does her work entail a daily devotion to the duty of watchfully administering to the needs of six to ten nurses. Her specialties of failing bodies and flagging spirits.

Only those who have come under their claim as a patient, or the doctor who has had their services and oft-times advice are really able to appreciate their occupation. Our subject, Mable Fountz was born in Danville, Indiana, she attended public school there as well as in Kalamazoo, Michigan. Her high school training was in Indianapolis. Later she attended the Greenwood, South Carolina Normal School, after which she spent three more years in Nurse Training at Spelman College, Atlanta, Ga. Then followed six months of obstetrical work, a specialized training in the City Hospital of Atlanta. This was followed by another six months in public health nursing in Atlanta.

Miss Fountz is one of three children. She has a sister in Atlanta in the same work with the Anti-Tuberculosis association in Atlanta, and a brother in Chicago. The mothtr died when the children were infants and she was reared by a grandmother and later by an interested white family, a Mr. and Mrs. Burris, living in Cloverdale, Indiana. They made possible a large part of her education.

Just a few years ago Miss Fountz came to California and started in her profession in the St. Catherine's Hospital in Ocean Park as a trained nurse. She has gradually risen to become head nurse. The entire second floor of the hospital is under her care. She has, as her assistants, from six to ten nurses. Her specialties are obstetrical work and administering anaesthetics in both of which she is a recognized authority. Her responsible position has come, not by mere chance, but from a merited recognition of her many capabilities.

The Santa Monica Bay District salutes Miss Fountz, and Southern California has gained a useful citizen.

REMEMBER: Occupational Sketches have just completed their first year of service to you and the community. We are starting on a new and greater second year. If you know of some person who is outstanding in the field of work he is in and merits special distinction, send us an outline of his life and it will appear in this column whose purpose is to familiarize the community with persons of achievement.

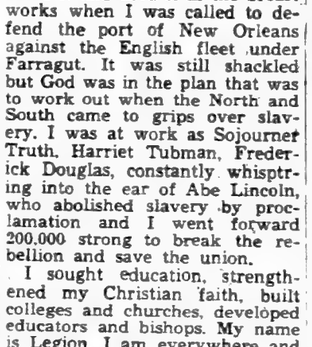
Pedestrians Urged to Use White

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—If you walk at night, wear or carry something white. This was the advice today of E. Raymond Cato, Chief of the California Highway Patrol, in reporting on pedestrian accidents for 1939.

"For the first 11 months of 1939 we had 18 more pedestrian deaths, but 241 fewer injuries than for the same period in the previous year," the chief said. "Almost 8,000 persons were injured and 926 were killed. Pedestrians take to many chances on the highways, and many deaths and injuries could be avoided if everyone walked to the left on all rural roads and wore or carried something white to make themselves visible to motorists."

A list of most common causes of pedestrian deaths and comparison of the 11 months periods of 1938 and 1939 follows:



Crossing at intersection no signal, 1938: 257, 1939: 286.
Walking in street not at intersection 1938: 269, 1939: 253.
Crossing a rural highway, 1938: 107, 1939: 128.
Walking on or near right hand side of highway, 1938: 107, 1939: 81.
Coming from behind parked vehicle, 1938: 26, 1939: 26.
Working on vehicle on or near highway 1938: 23, 1939: 26.
Walking or playing in driveway (mostly children) 1938: 14, 1939: 23.
Children playing in street, 1938: 23, 1939: 22.

BY BILL SMALLWOOD

YOU CAN BE MUM IF YOU WANTA. . . I'M GONNA TALK.. Film review of sepia celebs now going the naborhood theatre rounds in Harlem gives Eddie Lewis all the credit. Not exactly fair, for Sinky Bourne, city desk man on the Amsterdam worked just as hard as did Eddie on it. Sinky did the running comment . . Wish Frank M. Davis, ANP, could give us more of his fine verse. His style is distinctive . . Tim Hubbard is the only sepia member of the newssheet put out on the Warner Bros. lot. He really knows Hollywood, from way, way back. His memoirs, from the viewpoint of a cupcarer to the gods, should prove interesting in one of the better mags. . . Of the weekly radio programs emanating from our mid of town, why not an occasional interview for the folk theatrical? A snappy aircaster could get in there and whip up something topnotch. Folks always interested in celebs and their lives, etc. Celebs come and go regularly. To wit: the Mills lads, Jack Irby, Eddie South, Leigh Whipper, Oscar Polk, Fredi Washington, La Waters, Gee Gee and countless such marquee-material. Wish it was possible to be in on a battle to the finish between the two Hawkins boys, Erskine and Coleman, who are doing plenty ok for themselves. Jack Irby's outfit scored at the exclusive Ambassador in Chi (first race combo in there). When they finish their local run they'll shoot right back to Chi for another run at the Ambassador. Vaguely fantastic, all these tales anent Rochester being so gullible for salesmen. Kinda looks as if the publicity boys over at Paramount are running full-time. Heigh-ho. We'd like to hear AND see Prince Modupe and Gene Krupa get together for a little work-out on their tom-toms! Gene, I wager, could learn some points. He's a Polish Jew, swell kid, devoted to his cute wife, his scottie, let's the world howl outside his door for him while he argues on problems in algebra and world events. I think one of his keenest moments of despair was when he and Goodman, at the Phila. Earle, had their famous bust-up in Lionel H's dressing room. Gene had tears of anger and hurt, and sat moodily while we tried to cheer him up. He returned to NY and left Goodman for keeps. What they really argued about will never be known. (Teddy Wilson left shortly after that, too.) I'm glad to see Gene doing so well, he deserves it.

Earl Hines guaranteed for Harlem's Savoy. His Rosetta wax will always be his best . . . In case you were curious, there is exactly 18 yards of fine silk in that red petticoat Hattie McDaniel wore in GWTW. Selznick made her a gift of it for her memoires, with others of the wardrobe.

Stage-Screen-Radio

CeePee Johnson, king of the tom toms, and his orchestra, are shown recording the scoring for that fast moving mystery drama, "Mystery in Swing." CeePee and his orchestra made history as this is the first time an all-colored orchestra has ever recorded the complete underscoring for a motion picture.

Now that IVIE ANDERSON, above, is back with Duke Ellington's band, after an illness, rumors that she is to be replaced have been stilled, an Eastern columnist reported this week.

Two Sweethearts for Valentine's Day—Judy King and Paula de Garde, take time off from working in Paramount's "Light that Failed", to help the Fourth Annual Charity Day Committee. The yearly 100% Charity program will be held Valentine's Day at Santa Anita. The thoroughbred with Judy and Paula is Santouri.

Cameras Roll on Press Yarn

After weeks of searching and testing of actors and acitresses, Arthur Dreifuss, director and coproducer with Bert Goldberg and Port, Inc., of "Mystery in Swing", started the cameras rolling this week on this fast moving newspaper drama. This press yarn is centered around Biff Boyd, a star reporter for "The World", and his Girl Friday, Linda Carrol.

Mr. Dreifuss stated, "After a thorough search throughout the country, I feel as though I have assembled together the greatest group of Colored actors and actresses to ever appear together on the screen."

After testing hundreds of feminine leads, Dreifuss finally chose Margaret Whitten for the important part of Linda Carrol, the female Walter Winchell. Margaret, who is a seasoned dramatic actress, having appeared in many major white productions, gave her most outstanding performance in "Way Down South".

The role of Biff Boyd was given to that capable dramatic actor of the stage and screen, the scene and picture stealer of the colored film capital, Monte Hawley.

This wild, witty, whirlwind mystery will bring together on the screen for the first time Sybyl Lewis and Bob Webb. Although having appeared before the camera many times and having played in Broadway and Pacific Coast stage success, it took that brilliant RKO and Columbia director, Arthur Dreifuss, to bring them together on the screen. After seeing them give finished performances in the first act of the Pacific Coast edition of "Strong Heart" (the play that made Paul Robeson famous) he dashed back stage and signed these two brilliant players for the parts of Cleo and Prince Ellis in "Mystery in Swing."

Included in this stellar cast are Tommie Moore, Alfred Grant, Eddie Thompson, Halley Harding, Earl J. Morris, Leonard Christmas, Jess Lee Brooks, and Buck Woods, with F. E. Miller. As specialities for the night club sequence Dreifuss has signed the Four Toppers, Cleo Thompson, and Cee Pee Johnson and his orchestra, who will record the entire musical track (this being the first time an all-Colored orchestra has done the entire musical scoring for any picture—white or colored).

ALBERTA HUNTER, who is internationally famous as a singer, will have been completely around tht world when the company of "Mamba's Daughters" reaches the Coast. Miss Hunter plays her first dramatic part, the role of "Dolly" in the Ethel Waters-starred drama.

Miss Hunter has spent 14 years abroad. It was when she returned to the U. S. to do radio chores for the National Broadcasting company that she was selected for the dramatic role.

"I'm going back to Europe as soon as I get my commitments finished hert and as soon as I can get an okay from the government to go to the war zone", she said.

Abbie Mitchell, Marriott on Tour

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Two outstanding colored players will be with Herman Shumlin's production of "The Little Foxes", starring Tallulah Bankhead, when the Broadway success begins an extensive road tour in Washington, D. C., in less than two weeks. They are the veteran, Abbie Mitchell and talented newcomer, John Marriott.

Abbie Mitchell is a well known veteran actress.

Harangue's Concert Pleases

Reginald Harangue, tenor, made his first appearance as a concert artist last Sunday in the French Room of the Mus-Art Center.

He was presented by Mary Catching Wall, teacher of voice, and assisted by Gilbert Allen, pianist.

The repertoire of the new virtuoso included selections by Schubert, Hall Johnson, and other well known composers. He was well received by an appreciative audience. Natural poise and dignity enhanced his solo presentations, while his friendly manner endeared him to his audience.

Harangue has been guest artist at numerous churches, and has been heard professionally thru the movies and over the radio.

He was educated in New Orleans, and is a graduate of Straight university (now Dillard) and did post graduate work at the University of Chicago.

As a whole the concert was largely attended, very enjoyable, and unquestionably the highlight of the weekend in musical circles. —R. B.

Out of France comes an ironic note to the effect that hunting is to be banned in that country. This hunting rule, of course, applies only to birds and animals. There is still no limit on human beings, and nobody needs any more license for this kind of sport than is needed to slap mosquitoes. The British Officers are a bit perturbed because they are not allowed to take their hunting dogs across the Channel. 'Black and Tan Revue' on Orpheum Stage Stars Mills

Starring the internationally famous Mills Brothers, a great aggregation of colored talent is seen on the stage of the Orpheum theater this week (started yesterday) in "The Black and Tan Revue of 1940".

Since leaving America, the popular harmony quartet has appeared in practically every leading capital, and in London established many new box-office records as well as played a command performance for the king queen of England.

Bob Parrish, who has just returned from New York where he scored heavily in "The Hot Mikadod" with Bill Robinson, is also featured in the revue while other favorites include Pigmeat Markham and Monte Hawley, Robert Talamon, who recently won the Herald-Express talent contest, and Floyd Ray and his orchestra which features Ivy, Vern and Von, Joe Alexander and the glee club.

'Darktown Strutters Ball' Director Discusses Editing

BY JAMES AESCENDIO

Arthur David Hilton, who has had such varied experience as editor, production manager and director and for years as an associate of Sol Lesser, was signed by George Randol, president of George Randol Productions, to direct and supervise editing of "Dark Town Strutters' Ball."

Mr. Randol stated, "I have made a valuable addition to my staff by selecting Mr. Hilton as director and I have given him full responsibility for the editing of what I hope will be the best all-colored cast picture ever produced."

Like a piece of literature, a motion picture must show continuity and must be properly punctuated and accented. Like newspaper copy, it must go across an editor's desk before it reaches the customers.

The film editor gets the picture as assembled by the cutter, on whose famous floor have wound up a potential star's first screenings. The editor checks each scene for screen grammar, characterization, tempo and structure. With cuts, closeups, fadeout, dissolves and wipes he molds the picture until it flows smoothly to the desired climax.

The film editor's job, as Hilton explains it, is making a picture look as though there are no cuts except where they are needed.

Wake Lazy Insides All-Vegetable Way

Thousands turn to this way to get relief when theyre lazy intestinally and it has them headachy, bilious, irritable, listless: A quarter to a half-teaspoonful of spicy, aromatic, all-vegetable BLACK DRAUGHT on your tongue tonight, a drink of water, and there you are! Thus, it usually allows time for a night's rest; acts gently, thoroughly next morning; so relieving constipation's headaches, biliousness, bad breath.

BLACK-DRAUGHT'S main ingredient is an "intestinal tonic-laxative", which helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. The millions of packages used prove its merit. Economical, too, 25 to 40 doses: 25c.

DOWN IN FRONT

"FIGHTING WORDS"

Writing a weekly sports column has its disadvantages. For instance, we have to cram comment about the Joe Louis-Arturo Godoy heavyweight championship match tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden, the Henry Armstrong-Ceferino Garcia middleweight title match later this month, the UCLA Bruin-USC Trojan cage date tomorrow night, ad infinitum, all into one column, or else the dope is so stale it isn't worth appearing in print.

And so, being so far away from the scene of action of the Brown Bomber's title defense, we are only going to say that Joe should win—and handily.

Closer to home, from the erudite Bill Miller, the publicity man, comes a condensed chronology of the middleweight division — tracing descent of the title from Jack "The Nonpareil" Dempsey down to Ceferino Garcia, colorful Filipino who currently rules the roost, and who defends his throne against the Black Blitzkrieg, Henry Armstrong, at Gilmore Stadium, Feb. 22.

It's curtailed, of course, says Bill. Continuing, he writes, "To properly chronicle the history of the middleweights, you'd need more pages than 'Gone With the Wind', and without Scarlett O'Hara — ha! Sex rears its ugly head!"

But let p. a. Bill tell you about it:

GARCIA INHERITS TITLE FROM NBA

In California, New York, in all of Europe and Asia, and to all thinking people everywhere, Ceferino Garcia is THE middleweight champion of the world.

In Seattle, and those states dominated by the NBA, Al Hostak is recognized — or he was, prior to the whipping he took at the hands of unknown Tony Zale, recently graduated from prelim ranks.

Here is today's belly-laugh:

Garcia inherits his title from an NBA Elimination.

And Hostak, believe it or not, inherits HIS meagre claims from a New York Athletic Commission Elimination tourney! Today, the New York Commission can't see Hostak with the Lick Telescope; and though the NBA was the fount from whom all Garcia's blessings flowed, they persist in snubbing the Tagalog Terror. Perhaps by the same line of reasoning which prompted the NBA to name Black Bill flyweight champion of the world, SIX MONTHS after his burial!

Garcia kayoed Apostoli, who kayoed Marcel Thil, who kayoed Gorilla Jones—undisputed winner of the NBA Elimination tourney.

Hostak? Well, Ben Jeby won the New York tourney; Jeby was stopped by Lou Brouillard; Vince Dundee dethroned Brouillard; Teddy Yarosz liquidated Dundee; Babe Risko yanked Yarosz; Freddy Steele expunged Risko; Steele was hamstrung by Al Hostak; Hostak was blitzkrieged by Solly Krieger, then Krieger was bounced by Hostak, again. And there you are! — but where?

'FRISCO STAGED FIRST CHAMPIONSHIP

To San Francisco, northern suburb of Los Angeles, goes the distinction of having staged the first middleweight championship match on American soil—April 13, 1867. Tom Chandler defeated Dooney Harris, 33 rounds, bare knuckles. Chandler weighed 156.

In 1872, George Rooke challenged Chandler, but Tom was deaf in that ear—ignored the challenge. Rooke claimed the title. In 1874, Mike Donovan defeated Rooke and claimed the crown. Mike retired in 1882. In 1884, George Fulljames appeared upon the scene, gave the division the name of "Middleweights", claimed the title and challenged the world to knock the chip off his shoulder.

Jack Dempsey, "The Nonpareil", accepted the defi. Now go on with the story:

1884—Dempsey knocked out Fulljames, 22 rds; Toronton, Aug. 30.

1891—Bob Fitzsimmons kayoed Dempsey, 13 rds; New Orleans, Jan. 14.

1896—Fitz resigned after five years of inactivity; making 158, then the middleweight limit, was an irksome task. Ruby Robert became a heavyweight; there were no light-heavies in existence then.

1897—The air became filled with title claimants: Kid McCoy, Tommy Ryan, Phila. Jack O'Brien, Tommy West—also John Doe, Richard Roe and your Uncle Ebenezer from Hamtramck. Each was billed as "World's Middleweight Champion" wherever he fought. Nobody gave a damn WHO was champion, except the claimants themselves.

1908—Billy Papke kayoed Ketchell, 12 rds, Los Angeles, Sept. 8.

1908—Ketchell kayoed Papke, 11 rds, San Francisco, Nov. 25.

1910—Ketchell was shot and killed by Walter Dipley at Conway, Mo., on Oct. 15; woman trouble. The title was vacated.

1911—Papke claimed the title; so did Cyclone Johnny Thompson, who defeated Papke that year at Sydney, N.S.W.; so did Eddie McGoorty; so did Jimmy Clabby; so did Mike Gibbons; so did Jack Dillon, who couldn't make 158 without chopping off a leg; so did Frank Klaus, George Chip and your grand-aunt Susie from Oshkosh.

1913—George Chip knocked out Klaus, 5 rds, Pittsburgh, Dec. 23.

1914—Al McCoy knocked out Chip, 1 rd, Brooklyn, April 7.

1917—Mike O'Dowd kayoed McCoy, 6 rds, Brooklyn, Nov. 14.

1920—Johnny Wilson decisioned O'Dowd, 12 rds, Boston, May 6. There was turmoil and dissension over the verdict; they were rematched.

1921—Johnny Wilson defeated O'Dowd, 15 rds, New York, March 17.

1923—Harry Greb defeated Wilson, 15 rds, New York, Aug. 31.

TIGER FLOWERS FIRST NEGRO CHAMP

1926—Tiger Flowers (first Negro champ) def. Greb, 15 rds, N. Y., Aug. 19.

1926—Mickey Walker decisioned Flowers, 10 rds, Chicago, Dec. 3.

1931—Walker relinquished title, June 19—unable to make 160 lbs.

1931—Another free-for-all scramble ensued. Title claimants appeared everywhere. The NBA held an Elimination Tourney. Gorilla Jones, Memphis Negro, became the second man of his race to hold the middleweight title.

1932—Marcel Thil stopped Jones, 11 rds, Paris, June 11.

1937—Fred Apostoli kayoed Thil, 10 rds, New York, Sept. 23.

1939—CEFERINO GARCIA kayoed Apostoli, 7 rds, New York, Oct. 2.

HERBERT AND BORICAN, WOODRUFF, THOMPSON WIN ON N. Y.'S BOARDS

Borican Breaks Three-Quarter Mile Mark, Woodruff Half-Mile Record in Carnival

NEW YORK, Feb. 8. (ANP)—America's Negro track stars set two new records at the Millrose carnival before 16,000 spectators in Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

John Borican, returning to the form that made him the 1939 indoor sensation, set a new world record of 3:02.6 in the three quarter mile race beating such aces as Archie San Romani and Tommy Deckard. The old indoor mark of 3:03.4 was made in 1925 by Lloyd Hahn.

WOODRUFF WINS

Finally getting the hang of racing on boards, Long John Woodruff, now a graduate student at New York U., blazed his way to a half mile victory in 1:52.8 to set a new meet record with Curtis Goddings, former N. Y. U. star, second. Woodruff won by the simple expedient of starting out in front and outrunning anyone who tried to pass him.

After a disappointing 1939 season, Jimmy Herbert came back with a bang to annex the Millrose 600 title in 1:11.4, just three tenths of a second off his own world record and second fastest time in the history of the games.

Sprint honors in the 60 yard dash went to Herbert Thompson, last year's champion in 6.3 seconds. The four finalists were all colored with Barney Ewell of Penn State Eulace Peacock and Thomas Carey in that order behind him. Ben Johnson, former Columbia U. track captain, faild to survive the semi-finals.

2 Basketball Games at 'Y'

The 28th Street YMCA Varsity and the 145 lb. Tigers will play Friday at 7:30 P. M. at the 28th Street gym in the first double feature of the year.

Both teams will play the Penn Service Five of Pasadena in their respective class. The "big" team from Pasadena sends warning of some mightly good players and that the 2Y8 Varsity will have to be on their guard for a tough game. The 2Y8 Babes, will find the Pasadena Babes tougher than the Dead End Kids.

Social Club's Hoopsters Win

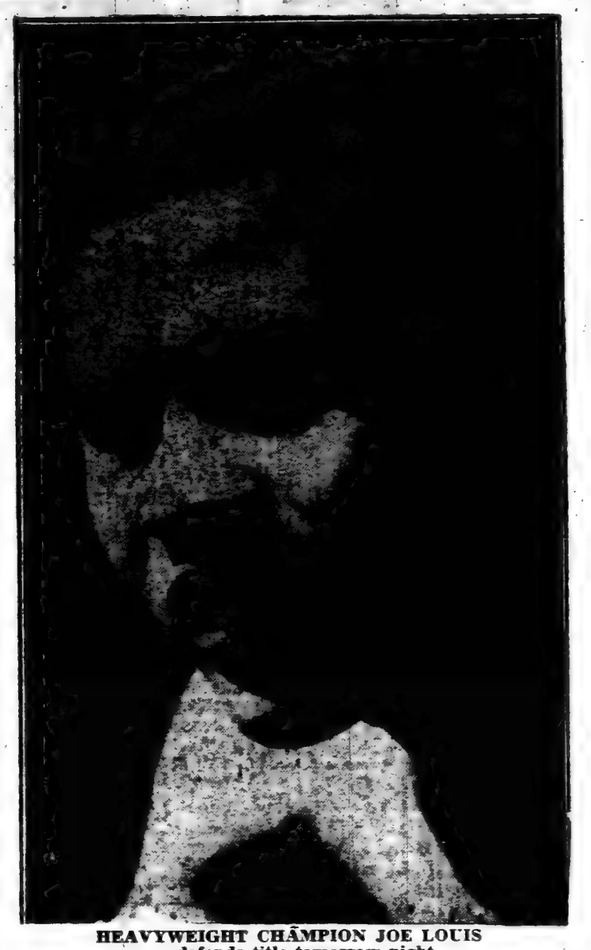
In two sensational basketball games, Les Marquisettes Social Club was the victor over the Manual Tri-Y and the Aristocratic 12 at Avalon Christian church gym, Jan. 22 and 29.

Outstanding player of both games was the Marquisette president, LaVeta Dillingham. Miss Dillingham scored 17 of the 23 points made by her club at the first game and 14 in the second.

Les Marquisettes issue a challenge to all amateur girls' basketball teams.

Scrappy 'Y' Five Drops One to Long Beach

A scrappy gang of cagers from the 28th Street Y. M. C. A. went down in defeat before a far superior Long Beach quintet, last Saturday, in the Long Beach "Y" gym. The first half of the game was played almost entirely in the 28th Street Y territory as the L. B. machine found their goal time after time. They had the ball in their possession most of the time since the local boys seemed unable to get the ball off the backboard on rebounds.



Up until this game, five of the 28th St. players—Cherry, Bullock, Brewer, Curry and Lewis, were among the 10 leading scorers of the league. Curry was absent from the first game and Bullock exceeded the weight limit and was not allowed to play. Brewer and Cherry were held to 2 and 3 points respectievely while Lewis managed to accumalate 5. Meanwhile Sharrar, of the L. B. team, had a field day and rolled up 16 points. Tuttle, his team mate scored 12 points. After trailing at the half 28-16 Ralph Cooper's aggregation started a drive in the third quarter that brought them to within 6 points of their opponents. However they were unable to stand-off Long Beach for long and lost the game 53-30.

Newark A. C. to Honor Sprint Ace

NEWARK, (N. J.), Feb. 8.—Herbert Thompson, Jersey City sprint champion, will be awarded the annual prize by the Newark Athletic club for being New Jersey's outstanding 1939 athlete. A committee of 100 nports writers, coaches and physical educator directors, chose Thompson because of his remarkable sprinting record last year. He won 28 out of 29 races and equalled the world's record for 60 yards at 6.1 and 60 meters at 6.6. John Borican, Jersey athlete, will receive the third award.

FORMER SLAVE DIES; BODY LIES IN STATE

OXFORD, Miss., Feb. 8., (ANP)—"Mammy Callie" born Carolina Barr in slavery just 100 years ago, died Saturday at the Faulkner estate where she had lived since shortly after the end of the Civil war. Sunday she lay in state in the drawing room of William Faulkner, noted southern novelist, who described her as "a fount not only of authority and information, but of affection, respect and security."

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION JOE LOUIS ... defends title tomorrow night.

Compton Jaysee Tangles With Pasadena Five Tomorrow Night

In what looms as the classiest basketball game of the season in Southern California junior college ranks, Compton Junior college will collide with the mighty Pasadena Junior college five tomorrow night in the Tartar gymnasium. The game will begin at 8 p. m.

As in virtually all athletic competition, tonight's Tartar-Bulldog basketball tilt is expected to be packed with thrills from start to finish. The two teams are evenly matched and will enter the tilt rated on even terms.

Headlining the Bulldog quintet will be George McNutt and Bud Leveille, high scoring forwards. McNutt has been a key offensive man in the Pasadena attack for the past two years and last week turned in brilliant performances in the north against powerful Northern California jaysee fives.

Leveille is the youth that took over the forward spot left vacant by the graduation of Jackie Robinson. Leveillle has developed into a top flight player and is expected to be one of the real threats of the Bulldogs.

Slated to lead the Compton offense are Nye Moses, and Don Moore, forwards, and Jim "L'il Abner" Ahler, center. Ahler turned in a great performance last week against Santa Monica and is being counted upon for several points against Bulldogs.

SPORTS BULLETINS

Expecting to pick up where they left off last Saturday night in Berkeley when they ended their 31-game conference losing streak by nipping the California Bears, the UCLA Bruins engage USC's Trojans in another basketball tiff at Shrine auditorium tomorrow night.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Postponed a week by rain and wet grounds, the Golden Gate Bowl charity football contest between Kenny Washington's Collegians and Ernie Nevers' All-Professionals, will be played Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m., in Kezar stadium. The game will be held rain or shine, according to Harry E. Wentworth, chairman. Proceeds are to aid needy disabled and wounded veterans and fraternal charities.

For the first time in several years, the fraternity basketball series will be a three-way affair. Announcement of the entry of a team, representing the Omega Psi Phi fraternity, was made today. Alphas and Kappas complete the loop.

RUMOR PEACOCK TO WED BTW'S KIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Eulace Peacock, famed track star, is being seen continually in the company of Miss Etta Washington, granddaughter of the late educator, Booker T. Washington. It is rumored that the two are engaged.

Armstrong Starts Boxing Today for Garcia Match

Although he planned to start boxing tomorrow, Henry Armstrong changed his mind and will start today at the Main Street gymnasium in preparation for his fourth title bid Feb. 22, Gilmore stadium, when he meets middleweight champion Ceferino Garcia.

Arriving by plane Wednesday of last week from the midwest, "Hammerin' Hank" began his workouts Monday. Under the watchful eyes of trainer-brother Harry Armstrong and major-domo Tommy Farmer, the welterweight champion worked seven rounds Tuesday and yesterday. He shadow-boxed one long round, worked two on the fast bag, two on the heavy bag, and rope-skipped two.

Eddie Mead, Hank's manager, arrived late Tuesday afternoon, motoring from the East.

CHAMP SETTLES DOWN

Garcia, settling down to hard work in preparation for the defense of his title against the Black Blitzkrieg, has been going through snappy workouts at Hollywood Legion stadium. His sparmates are Kid Lester and Cyclone Turner, both Negroes.

According to Bill Miller, publicity man, Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom, one-time lightheavyweight champion, told matchmaker Charley MacDonald this week that he will be on hand Monday to act as Garcia's sparring partner.

Spring Street says betting is "9 to 10, take your pick".

Crouch Tops Olympic Card

Georgie Crouch, sharpshooting coast lightweight just returned from a successful invasion of eastern rings, headlines matchmaker Jimmy Murray's fistic offering at Olympic auditorium next Tuesday night when he faces George Latka, up and coming fighter from San Jose and the Bay District.

6 FT., 11 IN. HOOPSTER PLAYS FOR N. C. STATE

GREENSBORO, (N. C.), Feb. 8.—Tallest man in the conference is Norbert Downing, 6 feet, 11 inches, who plays guard for North Carolina State college.

Richard Lemos knocked out Young Polite in the second round at the Olympic Tuesday night.

Steam pipes laid under four-inch concrete floor slabs heat an office building at Racine, Wis.

Louis Ready for Godoy Friday Night

Champion Works on New Punch to Use on Chilean

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—"The winnah . . . and . . . still heavyweight champeen . . . of the world . . . Joe Louis!"

This is the cry boxing circles generally expect to hear tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden when Louis meets Arturo Godoy, rough and tough challenger from Chile of South America.

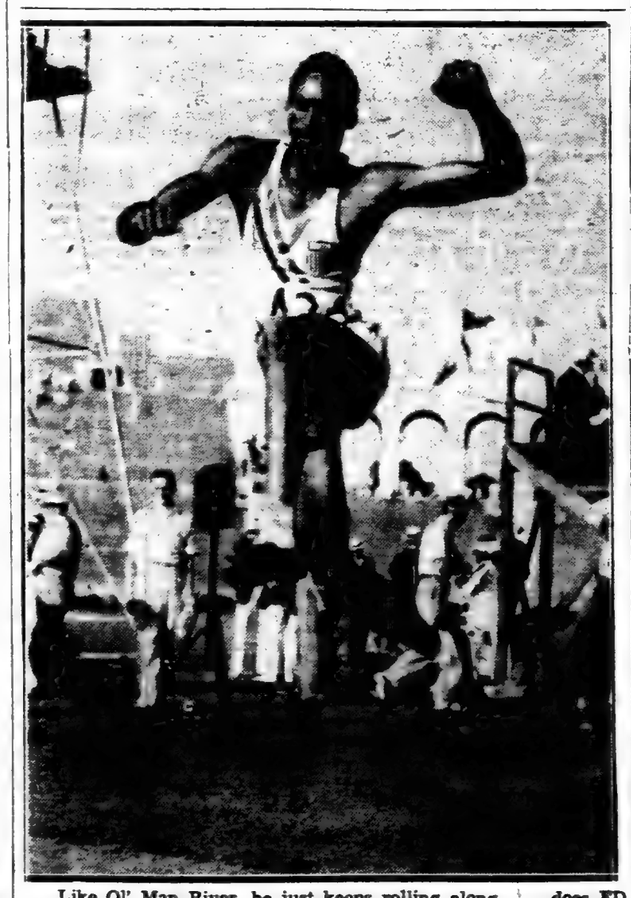
From both training camps — Louis at Pompton Lakes, N. J., and Godoy at Summit, N. J. — come reports that both boxers are confident.

Already known as one of the greatest punchers in ring history, the heavyweight king has developed a new punch—a sort of left hook-uppercut—delivered in close.

It is expected that the Bomber will use the punch to straighten up the challenger, who uses the bobbing and weaving style, covering the vulnerable points.

WOULD END STRING

Godoy hopes to end Louis' string of seven consecutive kayo title triumphs. He concluded his training Tuesday for the 15-round (or less) championship bout.



Never known to let grass grow under his feet, promoter Mike Jacobs has reportedly signed Tommy Farr for another match with the Brown Bomber in June, providing, of course, Louis hurdles Godoy tomorrow night.

Ellerbe Ousted from Tuskegee

TUSKEGEE, Feb. 8.—Mozelle Ellerbe, famed track and footbal ace, was ousted from school because of numerous unexcused "cuts" from military duty and chapel, President F. D. Patterson stated this week.

The athlete, with star basketball player, Lloyd Jones, was let out by military officials for "insubordination."

James L. H. Peck
1827 East Street
N. S. Pittsburgh, Pa.

Like Ol' Man River, he just keeps rolling along . . . does ED GORDON, Eastern track and field ace. Gordon is being hailed as a "perennial trackster" by Eastern sport writers who marveled at his feats in the Senior Metropolitan District A. A. U. indoor track championships at New York last week.

Gordon jumped 21 ft., 10¼ in. in the face of an icy wind on Ohio Field to retain his broad-jump title. He followed that up with a third in the 70 yard high hurdles.

A regular participant in the indoor track meets back East, Gordon is shown above leaping to victory in the 1932 Olympics held at the local Coliseum.

Peaceful Settlements

IT IS a truism that no controversy is ever settled permanently until it is settled rightly. There must be an equitable meeting of the opposing factions, that those concerned may not continue to harbor the animosities which caused them originally to disagree. Exercise of such evils as malice, ill-will, hatred, revenge, is inadmissible and indefensible. Jesus rebuked these traits in the disciple who cut off the ear of the high priest's servant. "Put up again thy sword into his place," he said (Matthew 26:52), "for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword."

Had Jesus told his followers merely what not to do, without telling them how to control their actions through scientific right thinking, he would have left them to the mercy of human will-power. They would have remained in ignorance of how best to conduct themselves so as to be free from the shackles of materiality. But he did not stop there. His teachings were always positive, for he understood whence came his marvelous healing power. He wanted them to understand the source of his power—which was as available to them as to him—and, through their understanding of God, to demonstrate the divine power in good deeds.

Right actions follow right thinking. The one Mind, divine Principle, is the only basis upon which unity of thought can be gained; it is the source of all right thoughts. . . . On pages 469 and 470 of the textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy writes, "With one Father, even God, the whole family of man would be brethren; and with one Mind and that God, or good, the brotherhood of man would consist of Love and Truth, and have unity of Principle and spiritual power which constitute divine Science."

As men are actuated by a desire to be fair in their dealings, they express the "unity of Principle" which makes all men brothers. This is not a mere platitude; such unity can be and is being demonstrated. . . .

In handling error of any sort, we start with the scientifically correct premise that God, Mind, is good, and that the real man, Mind's reflection, is also good. Whatever wrong we see in others is but a manifestation of the carnal mind, and our part in the correction must begin with ourselves — we must destroy the wrong image in our own consciousness. This was Jesus' method of destroying error. He saw it as unreal, as no part of man's true selfhood, because he ever held to the truth of being, namely, that the real man is God's reflection.

As we progress in our ability to distinguish between the real and the unreal, our sense of the beauty, utility, and permanence of all that is good is enhanced. This is illustrated by a story of three men who once took a walk in a forest. One was a botanist, one a business man, and one a poet. As they went along, each asked the other what he saw in the forest. The botanist answered, "Interesting specimens;" the business man, "Thousands of feet of lumber rolling off the saws;" the poet, "Endless inspiration." They all saw the same objects with their physical eyes, yet their reactions were vastly different, and each vision was right and useful in its place.

One is false to himself when he permits evil to handle him, or when he sees evil as something belonging to persons. Evil is a negation, nothing, and he must therefore not see it as something real. To magnify human weaknesses, either in individuals or in groups of individuals, is in itself an evil. The one Mind, which man reflects, knows only good. When we classify all wrongdoing as impersonal error, then we shall be able to destroy it as Jesus destroyed it. This attitude of spiritual thinking will bring about a peaceful settlement in any controversy. —The Christian Science Monitor.

Scientific Study of Your Personal Problems

I. C.—I wish to thank you for the Charm Bag and your advice. The bag has brought me success and lots of happiness. And your encouraging advice has helped me to solve many problems. May your good work continue.

F. H.—What does the future hold for me?

Ans.—It comes to me that you are interested in various things, one of which is the present love affair. The outcome will be quite satisfactory and your ventures in business will also be very beneficial. Your future looks very prosperous and successful.

W. A. R.—Will my son get work soon?

Ans.—It appears to me that your son has made many efforts to find work, but due to his age, he has been unable to qualify for them. Encourage him all that you can, as he is very despondent, and in the very near future he will be successful.

N. B. H.—My friend and I are unable to get along. Can you tell me what the trouble is?

Ans.—According to your Zodiacal sign, L. S. is not your mate, hence your not getting along. You will find happiness and true love with someone born under the sign of Taurus or Capricorn.

M. V. T.—Will my husband ever do any better?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question, the answer I find is that your husband has been worried over financial matters ever since you were married. He had such high hopes to make things nice and comfortable for you, and then all of the interference made him go into debt and he has become discouraged. However, he will snap out of this if you will give him a little encouragement and make things a little more pleasant at home.

M. W.—Dear Prof. Herman: Just a line to let you know how pleased I am with the Prayer and Meditation Combination. There seems to be more peace and contentment in my home, now. May I just say that I hope you will print this, as I want others to benefit by your wonderful products and information.

Z. B. L.—Can you give me some information concerning my friend?

Ans.—My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals that your friend has been working for a company whose headquarters are out of town. He has to make trips back and forth thus taking up his time. On his next trip to town, he will visit you.

J. F.—Will I keep the girl I am going with? Does she love me as much as I love her? Will I get a job after school is over?

Ans.—In regards to your first question, the answer I find is that you will be good friends with this girl for an indefinite period of time. Only one question is answered in the column. If you will write in for a private reply, I shall be glad to answer the others.

E. J. S.—Please tell me what became of my teaspoons?

Ans.—A careful analysis of your case reveals your spoons were stolen from your buffet sometime ago. As you do not use them often, you did not miss them. It is too late now to trace them. I suggest that you watch the people that are living in your home.

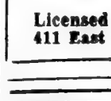
Says U. S. Lynch Law Essential

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8—Passage of a federal anti-lynching law is "essential to protect human life in the South" in the opinion of Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, editor of the Richmond, Va., News Leader.

Dr. Freeman's statement was read into the record of the hearing on the anti-lynching bill Tuesday by Walter White, secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in the course of his testimony in support of the measure.



The cement of a higher humanity will unite all interests in the one divinity.
—Mary Baker Eddy.

Thine heart should feel what thou may'st hourly see,
That Duty's basis is humanity.
—Robert Bloomfield

I am a man, and whatever concerns humanity is of interest to me.

t any rate, "J. B.'s" spirit must e been very happy to learn about Harris' industrious sow.

Nosed Out

"Last summer I became a part of a group of citizens who asked for and received what they thought they wanted: The rezoning of the district known as Central Avenue Gardens," said Paul O'Rourke, young businessman of the South L. A. community this week.

Mr. O'Rourke has good reason to remember his participation in this campaign just now. At the time, he says, it was his understanding that Hooper Avenue was not to be included in the "strictly residential" area and would be open to limited business. You see, the young man was then near completion of an electric fixture shop on his property at 92nd and Hooper Avenue.

Mr. O'Rourke who is a classmate of the EAGLE'S J. Cullen Fentress, is a graduate of Tuskegee Institute. He owns the property at 92nd and Hooper and has operated as an electrician at this point, using his garage as a temporary shop. Meanwhile, he and his young wife saved every dollar they did not need for living expenses and looked forward to the day when they would open the doors of their little electric shop.

Young O'Rourke confided to the editors of this journal that he had heard lately that there was some opposition to the opening of the electric shop. He had canvassed his immediate neighborhood, and had the assurance of the people living in his street and those on Pace street, directly in back of him, that there was no objection to the presence of the electric shop.

However, Wednesday, Jan. 31, when Mr. O'Rourke appeared before the Planning Commission to ask for a permit to open his shop, he was met by five persons of his racial group, two of whom protested the granting of the permit; the other three furnished an atmosphere.

He was denied the permit to operate an electric shop.

It has since been pointed out that those who protested his permit did not live in his immediate neighborhood and had no direct interest in his affairs.

Whether or not these facts are accurate, it is certain that the overwhelming majority of O'Rourke's near neighbors are willing, if not enthusastic in support of his ambition. It is felt that the establishment of a well-appointed electric shop will be a definite addition to the community, rendering a needed service and enhancing appearances.

It is difficult to understand the reasoning of Negroes who would deny the right of a young man to embark upon a merchandising career. One of the points most frequently stressed by race leaders is the need for commercial activity among our young people. The denial of this activity on such flimsy technical grounds as seen in the Central Avenue Gardens protest is not a very complimentary reflection of racial I. Q.

SRA Investigation

Assemblyman Yorty and his comrades gave Los Angeles a great show this week in their revelations of communist activity in the State Relief Administration here.

Fists flew and fiery comments were hurled during the investigation — and several striking facts brought out. Final decision, of course, was to the effect that the SRA IS dominated locally by communist influences; information neither fresh nor breath-taking to most Angelenos.

Although there is yet to be a vast quantity of wrangling, the charge of communist infiltration in the SRA has been established as basically true. What is to be done about it? This is the question that will vex State officials from this point forward.

It would not be very consistent with democratic ideals to discharge any State worker because of outside political affiliation. However, if that person is proved to be using the State office to further projects of the outside political affiliation, something MUST be done. But proving improper usage of a State office is very difficult, since offenders have so much time and opportunity to "set their house in order".

Probably the most important contribution of California's "little Dies committee" will be to destroy a wall of public indifference as regards subversive forces in the administration of State agencies. It will be difficult for John Public to "take it for granted" that State personnels are tried and true in the future.

LET HIM IN!

Birth Control: The Case for the State

By DON WHARTON, condensed from The Atlantic Monthly.

No spot in all North Carolina is more than 50 miles from a state-sponsored birth control clinic. First to promote birth control officially, the state is going at the job in earnest.

North Carolina is pioneering because it has a public health officer who for 25 years was a country doctor. He knows why his state has virtually the nation's worst record on all matters connected with births. Ignorance, poverty, poor sanitation, inadequate hospital facilities, little if any prenatal care—all these contribute to appalling infant and maternal mortality ratts.

The chances that a North Carolina baby will die in its first year are 66 in 1000, compared with Connecticut's infant morfality rate of 40 and the nation's 54. Thousands of North Carolina mothers are attended by midwives, most of them untrained and ignorant of asepsis. Abortions are rife, especially among Negroes, and infanticide is still practiced. If the nation bred at the North Carolina rate it would have 700,000 more babies a year. That might be wholly desirable —but not if the extra babies are born into indigent, dirty homes where their chances of survival are poor.

To improve conditions so that dirt, poverty and disease will disappear is the ideal solution. But that will take time. Birth control offers immediate help. Its advocates point out that the family without much to eat ought to have the choice as to whether it wants to bring another high-chair to the table. Birth control, they say, can help to stop the infant and maternal carnage and build a healthier and perhaps even a larger population.

So, too, believed Dr. George M. Cooper, to whom the appalling statistics represent people he knows. A native of the Tarheel State, he had, during his years of practice, listened, observed, and sympathized. He knew many a girl-wife living in a two-room mountain shack with six children and a tuberculous husband. He had seen many famlies like the hard working but desperately poor Negro couple who had been married 17 years and produced 20 children —12 of them to die in infancy. He had heard many women tearfully beg, "Isn't there something we can do?"

When he became director of preventive medicine of the State Board of Health, Dr. Cooper preached to fellow physicians and laymen alike that North Carolina could not climb far toward better health without birth control for the poor. But his hands were tied by the federal law against spreading birth-control information—the Comstock law, dating from 1873—which frightened every physician in the country into silence. But in 1936 the federal courts ruled the law could not prevent physicians from prescribing contraceptives "for the purpose of saving life or promoting the well being of their patients." Even then there were no funds for birth control clinics, and Dr. Cooper knew the futility of taking a contraceptive promotion program before a state legislature. The situation seemed hopeless as ever.

Thereupon fate stepped in—in the person of Dr. Clarence J. Gamble, philanthropic heir to a soap fortune. Dr. Gamble had long been interested in birth control and was financing an experimental program on the densely populated island of Bocagrande, off the Florida Everglades. Hearing of the North Carolina problem, Dr. Gamble offered Dr. Cooper sufficient funds for a three months' experimental program. Dr. Cooper looked the gift horse straight in the mouth. He said he would accept a year's financing—not three month'—if no strings were attached. Dr. Gamble finally agreed and in March 1937 sent a check for $2250 as a starter.

When the plan was launched there were only three birth-control clinics in North Carolina. By the end of 1938 the state had created 56. It now has 62; only New York has more. Strategically located in 58 of the state's 100 counties, they provide a state wide coverage. The counties participating had 50,565 birth in 1937 —a figure topped by only 18 entire states.

The spread of the program has gone ahead quietly, without ballyhoo. Dr. Cooper has never tried to force birth control upon any county. The Gamble funds were used to buy contraceptive supplies and to provide a consultant nurse, Miss Roberta Pratt, who had been in charge of Bocagrande work. The state made these supplies and services available to any county health officer who wished to set up a contraceptive clinic as a part of his existing county health unit. County health officers were asked to get the opinions of local physicians—individually rather than at meetings, which might lead to unmanageable debates. Particular caution was used to prevent public controversy.

Each health officer is free to run his clinic as he wishes, to use the simple technique which the state advises for the poor or to lean more heavily upon surer but more expensive individual examinations. In some counties the nurses carry information into the homes, while in others they bring the mothers to the county health office. Some clinics have secured appropriations for materials from the county commissioners; others depend upon donations from individuals and socially minded organizations. In Winston-Salem, where young socialites have assumed financial responsibility, a pamphlet giving dates for clinics goes out with every birth certificate. Some counties make their funds go further by getting patients to pay anything they can —even as little as ten cents.

At the end of the second year of state contraception, the clinics had provided instruction and materials for 2000 women. The present year may see this figure doubled. Of course, that is only scratching the surface; one nurse told me her center alone would have 1200 clients if funds were available. But Dr. Cooper's idea has been to build firmly then expand. The clients are women who cannot pay for medical care, a fact certified in each case by a welfare officer or a private physician. And to these women pregnancy would be actually, or nearly, a tragedy.

Already the state has files of letters which comprise a social Magna Charta. Naive, honest letters of thanks or pleas for information, most of them written in pencil on the rough, ruled paper sold in country stores. Chief beneficiaries of state birth control are the mountaineers, the textile and tobacco workers in the industrial section, and Negro tenant farmers.

In a cotton country, 50 Negro women appeared at the clinic the morning it was opened. One woman of 39, married 19 years, had ten children; her husband didn't make enough to support the family, so she took in laundry.

A cotton farm tenant's wife, 25, married at 16, had six children in seven years, all delivered by midwives in a small, unscreened shack. Water supply, questionable; sanitary facilities, none. After her fifth pregnancy, this woman asked, "Isn't there something you can do?" And the county nurse—this was before state contraception—had to admit there wasn't. A few months later the nurse found the woman in tears—she was pregnant again; but at about that time the county set up a birth-control clinic, and there have been no more after the sixth child.

MEN AND MEASURES

Neutrality, like prosperity, is favored by everyone. But keeping a firm hold on neutrality has something in common with the County Fair game in which contestants must catch a greased pig —it is possible but difficult, and no job for the lazy or slow-witted. In ignoring America's protests against delaying our ships and seizing parts of their cargoes, Great Britain has thrown one more obstacle in the path of this country's neutrality. Other recent incidents further attest that passing laws, or making speeches, in favor of neutrality are not enough to secure it. The invasion of the Pan-American safety zone by German and British warships, the attempt, fortunately unsuccessful, to transfer registry of American ships, the detention of transatlantic clipper planes at Bermuda by the British censor —all these have forced upon the State Department the job of making day-to-day decisions on matters not covered by neutrality legislation. But these day-to-day decisions, over a period of months, determine the course of American foreign policy. Hence, it is the wisdom and alertness of our statesmen, and the coolheadedness of the public—or the lack of these—rather than legislative measures, which will pilot the nation through troubled waters or run it afoul on the reefs.

BEWARE THE BOOMERANG

The boomerang, native of Australia, is no stranger to politics where hastily written laws are noted for turning into boomerangs and striking innocent bystanders. Last week from Congress came proof of that. While Rep. Patman of Texas re-opened his perennial attack on the multi-unit store, the Atty. General of his home state had suits on file against companies operating chain filling station. The last thing Rep. Patman has ever advocated is a tax on these—Texas is a big oil producing state! But the Texas state tax on the network retail store, Atty. General Mann declared, should apply equally to any type of retail enterprise which operates through several outlets. The harmless-looking little cub which that state's legislators unleashed has now grown into a big and hungry wolf! As a result, Texas joins company with Colorado, Louisiana, Georgia, Kentucky, and other states who have found that the philosophy of taxing a competitor out of existence, or jeopardizing his servict, is both unsound and harmful. Since the boomerang, in politics, proves itself a dangerous weapon, maybe we should unloose a few doves bearing olive branches to see if they won't do more good

PATRONAGE PREVENTION

At a time when Federal employes have passed the 900,000 mark—even exceeding the wartime peak of 1918 which was the highest in history—there is need for such a measure as that proposed in Congress the other day by Sen. Hatch of New Mexico. Extending a law passed last year prohibiting political activities of all Federal employes save those in policy-making positions, the new proposal would include all State employes whose salaries are paid in whole, or in part, by the Federal government. The vast army of workers in state and Federal government will not soon grow less. The advance of government into the fields of relief, the setting up of innumerable agencies, boards and commissions, dealing with social security, pensions, unemployment, and the administration of labor laws, has put, and will keep, a huge number of persons on that government payroll for years to come. That condition calls for a dose of strong medicine, such as Sen. Hatch proposes, to check the growth of political machines in these bureaus and agencies and to lessen the evils of patronage. Such medicine, applied too late, may find the nation already burdened with an entrenched bureaucracy.

MR. BROWDER EXPLAINS

Having been dealt a four-year sentence for passport fraud, Earl Browder, Communism's top spokesman in the United States, has given to the nation at large an amazing explanation of his conviction: the Administration wants to suppress him because his party no longer supports the New Deal! There are those who will believe this—the ones who accepted that other Communist contribution to history: Finland goaded Russia into waging war!

HITTING NEW HIGHS

Though war has kept Southern California aircraft plants busily whirring, aviation in this country is on a solider basis than a mere war boom. Compared to a year ago, America's domestic air lines, it is revealed, are today carrying 45.9 per cent more passenger traffic, 49.7 per cent more express, 12.5 per cent more mail. Definitely, business is soaring!

• • The Laundryman

WAR is in full swing nowadays, in Europe, in Asia, and in America even. Many people are not fully aware of it yet, but a bitter, gruelling battle is being waged in our State capitol halls at Sacramento. In the final analysis, it is the same old contest, human rights versus property rights. As in all wars, the Man in the Trenches—in this instance, thousands of "Reliefers"—will be the chief sufferers.

In this contest the bombers are the oratorical flights of impassioned, power-loving politicians, windy arguments duplicate the stacatto sound of barking machine gun salvos. The trenches are already being littered with despairing crippled soldiers. Reliefers thrown suddenly back up on their own initiative.

Regardless of who is right or wrong, the situation is a sad one. Men with wives and two or three little hungry mouths to feed, widows with fatherless children to rear, are sitting tonight in tense, heart-racking silence, wondering where the money for this month's rent, for food and clothing, will come.

Not a pretty picture, but nevertheless a true one, and one which we must face squarely. For nothing is to be gained by averting our faces from this disagreeable scene.

One of the things which as a novice in National state-craft, I can't understand, if the United States is so impoverished that it cannot afford to alleviate the suffering of its own citizens, how can this country consider making such large loans to the people of distant countries? Some may argue that on account of the peculiar relation between the States and the National Government, the latter is able to extend aid only in the amount prescribed by the State governments. Nevertheless, it still seems that the citizens of the United States should have preference over the inhabitants of foreign countries, regardless of so-called State's rights. Charity should begin at home.

HUMOR

A monocled, middle-aged German, Otto Prignitz by name, residing in Manhattan, recently received orders to report to the Fatherland for duty as an aviation instructor. Dutifully, he repaired to the German consulate and received his traveling money. Undutifully, he then set out for Harlem to throw one last wild party before returning to the land of pure Aryan stock. Still more undutifully, he chose a non-Aryan, a colored damsel named Rene Jones, for his companion on this farewell Blitzkrieg. When he "Woke up this morning, she —and $117.00, his fare back to the Fatherland—were both gone."

Like any well trained German soldier, he yelled KAMERAD! KAMERAD, excitedly until the police came. He gave them the lady's name and they found and arrested her.

The other day in court, the Judge told Mr. Prignitz that he would have to remain in New York for several weeks in order to be present to testify against Miss Rene Jones at her trial. Prignitz declared he could not wait that long. "The Fuehrer will be very angry," he protested. The Judge thought differently, and put him under $5000.00 bail as a material witness. Now, Prignitz is really in the dog-house. If he tells the Fuehrer the truth, he is liable to be beheaded for having besmirched the Aryan escutcheon by fraternizing with a lady of color. And if he fails to hatch up some air tight excuse for his delay, he may be executed just the same, for disobedience to the Fuehrer's orders. Any way you take it, Herr Prignitz is in a heck of a fix.

On the Fast of Mahatma Ghandi

By Ruby Berkeley Goodwin

"A fast! A fast?" The whole world jeers, "A fast—
What can a fast accomplish in these times?
A fleet of bombing planes, some poison gas—
The world can only learn from lessons hard.
Mangled men's bodies, the stench of blood-drenched air,
The groans and cries and curses of the men;
Virgins, wide-eyed with fright, cowering in a cellar;
Gaunt, hungry children roving the streets for bread—
All this the world both knows and understands."

'Twas not the fast that made the Powers change.
Living, they knew that this spectacled man
Held in his hands the guiding reins of souls—
Three hundred million, swarthy, brown-skinned people—
Held them through faith, love and humility.

What matters if a frail, old man should die?
A frantic heretic who dares to rise,
Dressed in a homespun loin cloth,
And give an ultimatum to a nation.
What if this man should die?
The reins held tight would slacken in his grasp;
Another then would carry the battle on,
And these three hundred million souls would cry
For blood, to offer for their leader's death.
The blood of fair-skinned, high-born Englishmen
Would be shed on the altar of God Mars.
The narrow streets of Bombay would run red;
Gas-stricken towns would choke, and reel, and die;
Women, pink fleshed, and beautiful would be men's passions;
Towns would be razed, famed landmarks be destroyed,
And hungry children roving the streets for bread.

This ghastly picture the wise Powers saw,
And since wise men are ever known to change,
They changed. They changed—but not to save
The life of one small, frail, brown man.
They changed to keep that, that they had.
Lest, carrying things too far, they might lose all.

But think! Would this frail, little man have died
For the cause of these oppressed "Untouchables?"
We boldly say, "Yes. This man knew the law!"
For men have struggled all life long in vain;
Yet by their death have forged a stronger chain
Than life could ever make.
No cause is ever lost if as its aim
It lifts a human soul.

Letters to the Editor

THANK YOU NOTE

Dear Editor:

Our "Bean Bowl Classic" held here Dec. 30, 1939, was one of the finest activities ever given by our association, and will long be remembered by the 650 or more boys that were present and made happy by the wonderful treat given them.

We want to thank you for the fine way in which you contributed to the occasion and it was through such fine and generous participation on your part that this "Bean Bowl Classic" was a success.

Every kid went away with joy in his heart that could only be shown because of the fine time and the splendid "Beans" that he had partaken of that night.

Next year and thereafter, we are hoping to put on this affair because of the spirit and assistance received on this first attempt.

Again, in behalf of those 650 or more boys, the physical division, expresses its appreciation to you for your interest and cooperation.

Very truly and sincerely yours,

Dear Editor:

For a long time I've wanted to write to let you know that yours is the type of cosmopolitan mind that is rarely found among our group. I look each Monday with much anticipation to receiving a copy of the EAGLE that I may read first that emotional and informative column called "On the Sidtwalk", regretting only that the entire editorial is not intacted on the very front page, fearing that someone might forget to turn to the section where it is always so beauifully completed.

I followed with much interest the panaroma of your auto-trip through the States to New York which I shall always cherish as the criterion of my scrap-book. Your chat about the young tubercular woman in the Christmas issue, the comments on "Current Events of 1939" in the December 28th issue, "The Finnish Question" in the January 4th issue, "Briefs on Communism" in the January 11th issue, and your "Negroes Under the French Flag" were literary masterpieces.

Being very busy about things civic and social here in Chicago, I am naturally fascinated by Mr. Bill Smallwood's clever chatter.

Your editorial page should be clipped each week and a copy sent to every State and National Representative in the country.

If you continue your gallant fight, Mrs. Bass, surely in the ultimatum, the residents of the Eastside community, in which my sister, Mrs. Julian Reed lives, will be given the recognition that rightly belongs to all citizens of these United States.

Finally, may God give you strength and courage to continue to stand at the head of your class and fight for the rights of Los Angeles Negroes, thus reflecting the spirit of your late husband, Mr. J. B. Bass.

Sincerely,
Roosevelt L. Robertson

THANK YOU NOTE

Dear Editor:

I want to add my personal thanks, with other members of the club, for your wonderful talk over the air in the interest of the Sojourner Truth club. We feel it will be the means of interesting others to help us reach our goal. Again thanking you most sincerely.

Gratefully yours,
M. D. SCOTT

As harlots only made for mad
I am sending you a little fact in rhyme.
They say this depression is a disease,
And war is the only cure
That the nation has fallen into sin
And there is not a man who is pure
So man turn toward man
And God is out of the plan.
They say the earth is overpopulated
And war would kill the surplus
That war would be good to rid
The world of its evil and lust
They do not put God in the plan
They've left the business up to man.

They say war is the greatest cure
For evil sickness and sin,
War will help rid
The world of common men
Man says this to man
And God is out of the plan.

"The West Pico Furniture company sponsors no "seasonal sales," but its volume buying policy enables us to bring you outstanding bargains the year round," Ray stated.

"If you have a home furnishing problem, call WE. 5222 for our representative."

And many housewives and newly married couples are having "home furnishing problems," Ray pointed out. Oddly enough, one problem is arising out of the sensational movie, "Gone With the Wind."

"Gone With the Wind" is reviving an interest in and taste for, "period" furniture," Ray pointed out.

"We all like to be in style and period furniture is a style whose passing many regretted. Now that it is again fashionable, there are many who would like advice on how best to include a piece or so, or perhaps a full suite, in modern homes. Such advice may be had by calling West Pico, WE. 5222.

Ray also announced that the new 1940 General Electric refrigerators are in and may be seen on display at the Central avenue West Pico store. A free cookbook will be delivered to all calling WE. 5222.

Virginia Still Undecided on Song Written By Bland

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. (ANP)—Carrying on the argument around the state capitol down in Virginia over the merits of the name of the song, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," a member of the state legislature will endeavor to clear up the impasse which now confronts the house courts of justice committee when the committee meets again.

Written by James Bland, colored Pennsylvanian who never set foot on Virginia soil, the song has been responsible for legislative deliberation from southwest Virginia as to whether "ta-toes" or "sweet potatoes' should be recognized and from another section of the state as to whether Virginia or Virginny should be carried in the title.

The early script carries the clause, "There's where the cotton and the corn and ta-toes grow." The original title was registered in the Library of Congress as "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," but the original copyright expired in 1934.

As a member of the committee and Arlingtonian declared, "The only thing that concerned me was whether we should adopt a song that was a monopoly and whether anyone using it would have to pay tribute to the copyright owners. I personally don't care whether it's ta-toes or potatoes, Virginny or Virginia."

DE MILLE "GROUNDED"

Cecil B. De Mille was the first film celebrity to be grounded by a studio. Few know it, but the pioneer Paramount producer-director, now preparing "North West Mounted Police" for the cameras, organized an aviation company during the war, was a pilot himself, and was ordered by Paramount to stay on the ground while filming the $3,000,000 production, "The Ten Commandments."

Posts' Hospital Units Visit Veterans

The hospital committees of the Fred Whittaker and Benj. J. Bowie Posts of the American Legion, Nos. 372 and 228 respectively, made their regular monthly visitation Tuesday evening, Jan. 26, to the Barracks of Ce. 10 at Sawtelle, cheering up the shut-ins and convalescents.

The "boys" are very fond of popcorn—and, of course, cigarettes, and at each visit the ladies of the auxiliary are very generous in their donations.

The pastimes enjoyed by the visitors and veterans were whist, po-ke-no and bridge for which prizes were offered, making the evening an enthusiastic and entertaining one. All men were also given slips of paper upon which to write their names and, as is the usual custom, a drawing, presided over by Mrs. Nellie Carlisle, was held, with prizes being awarded to lucky holders.

Mrs. Carlisle introduced the following officials of the two units: Fred Whittaker Post: Mmes. B. Meadows, vice pres.; O. Arnold, secy.; R. Hardiman, sgt-at-arms; and M. Roseborough; Benj. J. Bowie Post: Mmes. D. Watson, pres.; Katie Smith, chaplain; E. Solomon, vice pres. and membership committee chairman; C. Hubert, past pres.; L. Spiller, ex. com.; E. Page and L. Carlisle, past presidents; Sylvia Winters, dist. rehabilitation chm.; and Manhattan Beavers and 23rd district president Dorothy Baker were present. Affiliating were comrades Smith, Hubert and Solomon.

Climax of the evening's fun was the distribution of 25c pieces, furnished by the women of Benj. J. Bowie Post, to the lucky veterans. The visitors, reluctant to leave at taps, were urged to come again at an early date by the "boys."

J. L. HILL . . . rated one of the country's most efficient funeral directors, is receiving congratulations this week for the fine record set by Angelus Funeral home, of which he is the manager, during 1939. Angelus led the Eastside undertakers last year. (See story.)

Shown as she turned the first shovel-full, breaking ground for beautiful Angelus Funeral home, MRS. SOPHIA SMLTH,(above,) assistant to Manager J. L. Hill, is known as the "Mother of Eastside undertakers."

State Undertakers' Statistics Show Angelus Funeral Home Eastside Leader

Preference for the fine service of the Angelus Funeral Home was again revealed with the release of statistics on California undertakers for the year 1939 in January, showing this popular establishment leading in the Eastside group.

This was to be expected, especially after the Angelus set an all-time record for the month of November, 1939, with an average of ten families a week selecting the Angelus Funeral Home to arrange memorials for their loved ones.

Beginning in 1925, the rapid growth of this institution was climaxed when in 1935, it opened one of the finest and most modernly appointed and equipped mortuaries in the United States. The hundreds of visitors who have insepected the Angelus declare it cannot be surpassed in any detail.

Added to this is a staff composed of some of the best in the profession, who assume all responsibility for patrons in a manner that brings forth unstinted praise from those whom they serve. During the month of January, more than 25 families chose the Angelus Funeral Home as the most preferable from the standpoint of economy and the best in memorials obtainable.

The managing head of Angelus Funeral Home is J. L. Hill, rated as one of the most efficient funeral directors in the country. His assistant is Mrs. Sophia L. Smith, popularly known as the "oMther of all Los Angeles undertakers."

Narcissus Art, Literary Club Holds Meets

The Narcissus Art and Literary club has held meetings regularly for the past two months, devoting part of the time to art and literary work in keeping with the club program.

Social activities consisted of a delicious turkey dinner party at the home of Mrs. Alberta Davis on E. 48th street. Guests were invited and everyone spent an enjoyable evening.

One meeting was devoted to a Wome's Forum, which proved interesting as well as beneficial. Mrs. Anna Mabry, one of the members who spent several weeks in Honolulu, gave highlights of her trip. When she had finished, everyone thought she had been abroad.

Delegates from the club attended the regular reciprocity meeting of the California Federation of Colored Women's clubs. Miss Lulu Adkins, Mmes. Georgia Banks, Bertha Williams and Lorene Bane have been ideal hostesses at the various meetings held. Eulalie Henderson, reporter.

Edward Pavgeau Rites Held at People's

Memorial Chapel of People's Funeral Home was filled to capacity with friends of Edward Pavgeau Sunday night, January 28, when a rosary for him was solemnized, with Father Casey presiding. It was one of the largest and most impressive ever witnessed on the Eastside, many being turned away. Final mass was celebrated the following Monday morning at St. Vincent's, Adams and Figueroa.

Mr. Pavgeau, who resided at 3647 Trinity, was a native of New Orleans and had lived in California 20 years. He enjoyed a wide acquaintance of friends. His widow, Mrs. Jewel Pavegau, is well known in local club circles.

land, California:

"ALL MEN ARE CREATED EQUAL

" . . . Later in the day, John E. Lewis called Don Shields, chief inspector for the State Commission.

"'My boy and I,' John E. Lewis stammered, 'we tried to get to your office today. We wanted a license. For Paul. But we didn't get there. Because . . . well, Mr. Shields, it seems there's a freight elevator . . .'

"'I know, John,' Shields replied, 'and I'm sorry. But it's not my fault. I don't like it any more than you do, but . . .'

"The inevitable but . . .

But what would happen if Joe Louis agreed to defend his world championship in San Francisco? He, too, would have to appear at the State Athletic Commission offices. Just as Paul Lewis did.

"And what would his sufferance be? Would he, too, be stopped at the front door and ordered to take the freight elevator . . . or else? I wonder.

"And John E. Lewis wonders.

And Paul Lewis wonders.

"They wonder—and I do, too—why they cannot walk thru the same door as their white brothers to an office created by the taxpayers of California, of which John E. Lewis is an active member, and supported by the boxing public which recognizes no color line, inside or outside the squared circle.

"At this late day, San Francisco, cosmopolite of cities, hardly enhnaces its legend by repudiating the Emancipation Proclamation and creating a Jim Crow section in prizefighting, the most democratic of all sports rackets.

All God's chillun—regardless of creed or color—are welcome to walk thru the same door, the front door, of the State capitol in Sacramento. All use the front, not the freight elevator.

Why, then, must a small branch office of that building impose restrictions that violate every tenet of American freedom?

Perhaps the city to the north would do well to follow the example of our own community which recently tucked away one of its remaining Jim Crow conditions after a two-day session before the same Athletic Commission.

The people of Los Angeles heard the voice of the Negro rising in protest against an unfair policy of exclusion at the Hollywood Legion Stadium. Led by Hugh E. MacBeth, local attorney, the fight was expertly handled — its results a tribute to the spirit of democracy in a world that seemingly has forgotten it.

Famed Typist in Los Angeles

heard over the Hobby Lobby radio program, that he invited him to appear on the stage with his current show, "The Hot Mikado."

Peters has a record for 138 net five stroke words per minute for one hour in championship competition. He holds the world record of 176 words per minute on a portable typewriter.

Peters believes that if he would enter a contest now, he could emerge the winner. He gives as his reason the fact that in the competitions of 1935, '36 and '37, in which he was runner-up to the champion, he was comparatively inexperienced. The champion had had 15 years' experience.

Peters was a navy clerk and a secretary to Congressman John M. Nelson of Wisconsin before turning professional typist. He said he demonstrated an aptitude for it in high school and practiced continually to gain his end. That practice he says he continues today.

Ability to think quickly, the 33-year old expert gave as the first requisite to efficient typing. He exhibited a pair of extremely flexible looking wrists, but said he takes no particular care of them—other than to "keep typing." Use of oils, he says, has a tendency to cause the fingers to slip on the keys.

Sojourner Truth Home to Enjoy Great Year

1940 will be a memorable year in the history of the Sojourner Truth club. This club was organized 26 years ago by the President Emeritus of the California State Association of Colored Women's Clubs, Mrs. Eliza Warner, for the purpose of maintaining a Christian nonsectarian home for self supporting girls and women, to develop the highest conception of Christian womanhood, to influence the young women with whom the home contacted toward self-reliant, and virtuous living, to establish the truth among all people that all labor is honorable, and to encourage and promote efficient service.

It will be a year in which we shall be given the opportunity to climb to higher things, to a greater Sojourner Truth. This will be a year when the plans for the expansion program will become more than a dream on paper.

Much enthusiasm was displayed Tuesday, Feb. 6, when the Advisory Council, and the Board of Directors met at their Second Dinner-Meeting to formulate plans for launching the campaign to enlarge the Sojourner Truth Home to meet the requirements for the growing population.

Co-chairman with Dr. E. I. Robinson will be Mr. Titus Alexander, while J. Allen Reese and J. H. Shackleford will be secretary, treasurer respectively; F. M. Roberts, publicity; Mesdames Bertha Marshall and Willa Mae Beatty will serve with the above group to form a contact committee.

Another Dinner-Meeting will be held at the Glub House promptly at 6:30, Tuesday, Feb. 13. This will be the third of the series of such meetings.

Marshall, second vice pres.; Geneva Wade, recording secy.; Thelma Long, corresponding secy.; Margaret Scott treasurer; Edna MacBeth, education chairman; C. A. Roberson, social; Ruth Kirkpatrick, chairman economic; Willa Mae Beatty, chairman entertainment; Thomey Hudson, publicity; Mrs. E. A. Johson, past president and Gertrude Reese Hicks, president.

Houston, prominent businessman and legionnaire, will recall the part Negroes have played in American wars, from the Revolution to the last world conflict.

"STYMIE" BEARD ON STAND

"Stymie" Beard, 13-year old movie actor, was put on the witness stand in municipal court yesterday to give testimony against his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Beard, 1507 Staunton avenue, in their preliminary hearing on a charge of charity chiseling.

The complaint accuses the Beards of accepting $292 from the SRA from Sept. 30, 1937, to Jan. 19, 1938, while "Stymie" was earning $2095 as an acter with Warner Bros.

Court Decision Frees Four

SAVE 2 WOMEN FROM RABBLE

on the sidewalk

YES, it's stranger than any fiction I have ever read: what's going on at Newton Street Police station.

When this station was first erected Eastsiders envisioned a four-square community representation in the official set-up. First of all, we expected a court room and groomed a presiding judge. We soon learned that this feature of the Newton Police station was not in the offing. So we contented ourselves with the belief that the station would be manned by people whose training and experience would be the requisites for placement in key positions. Here again we were partially doomed to disappointment.

Under the Frank Shaw administration, things started happening at Newton Street. We awoke one morning with an acting Captain of Detectives. Another day we emerged with a new Juvenile Department presided over by some of our bright young officers; a policewoman of experience and good standing was brought to Newton Street as well as two stenographers.

But the howl went up that these men were not drawing pay commensurate with these positions, and an even louder yelp was heard from the populace that vice and corruption had seized the Central Avenue district to the extent that it had become the despised spot of the city. Our Westside citizen came over and helped move the effect without interfering with the cause.

Tax-paying Eastsiders, especially those engaged in business, welcome any and all changes that make for civic betterment. But we are roll-calling on those who kept the daily press buzzing with the terrible plight of the Central Avenue district to turn their faces again towards the Eastside.

I call to your attention the fact that we have police officers in the department who have served to the point of retirement, yet will receive none of their well-warranted advancement and recognition. The men who a few months ago held places of honor and rank even at Newton Street have been relegated to the ranks of the traffic cops. Negroes who were Lieutenant Detectives are now "just coppers".

I am informed that a certain Oklahoma gentleman who occupies an important spot at Newton street has decreed that there is to be no mixing or meeting of whites and Negroes in dance halls or other public places of amusement.

It seems indeed strange to the California EAGLE that certain individuals and newspapers become so interested in what goes on in the Central Avenue sector at certain times, and at others remain so obviously silent — silent even when the civil liberties of the people of the district are being ignored and violated.

I HAVE just heard that the gang which demolished a sidedoor entrance last Sunday evening during the Jimmy Lunceford dance at Shrine auditorium was not made up of Central Avenue rabble. This statement, contrary to what has been printed in the daily press, came to me by one who claimed to be an eye-witness.

However, I have heard from others present that the behavior on the part of young Eastsiders at the Shrine last Sunday evening was an abomination in the eyes of common decency.

This newspaper, which is dedicated to the cause of ad-

Judge Bolin Here With Husband.

Prominent Woman Jurist and Mate 'Just Vacationing'

Judge Jane M. Bolin, who presides over a domestic relations court in New York City and is rated one of the outstanding Negro women of the nation, is in Los Angeles this week with her husband, Ralph E. Mizell, assistant solicitor general at Washington, D. C.

The prominent couple are stopping at the home of Mrs. B. T. Mitchell, 1249 W. 36th street.

A brief interview just before yesterday's deadline with Mr. Mizell, revealed that the pair will remain here until the end of the week, when they complete their giant swing through the country by way of Chicago and New York. They recently visited Dr. and Mrs. Patterson at Tuskegee Institute in Alabama.

"JUST VACATIONING"

Mr. Mizell proclaimed that he and his famous wife were here "just vacationing." He also voiced a decided sentiment in favor of returning to bed, from which he had been roused for a brief confab with your EAGLE reporter. Back he went.

SENSATIONAL APPOINTMENT

Judge Bolin's recent appointment to her berth in one of Father Knickerbocker's domestic relations courts was hailed thruout the national Negro press. She is one of the few women in the country, regardless of race, so honored. In making her appointment, Mayor Fiorello "Little Flower" LaGuardia of New York City stated, "I selected her solely on the basis of ability."

Through the appointment of Myles A. Paige to the Superior Court a few weeks ago, LaGuardia has added to his great reputation as "the fairest mayor in the land."

Here's a worthwhile opportunity!

In this week's EAGLE will be found a full page of coupons, which when stamped at the office of the EAGLE, will have a total value of $15.00 for merchandise at stores that are taking this means of getting acquainted with the public.

This is a gesture that many will appreciate.

Frankly, it is just another form of advertising. The merchandise is given away without cost, on the theory that recipients may come back again or may make another purchase. But you can't help from benefitting.

Think of it, $15.00 worth of merchandise for only 75c.

Youth Killed By Unknown Assailant

Conflicting Reports Come from Scene of Slaying; Family Here

Richard Johnson, 18, former Polytechnic student and track athlete, was shot to death by an unnamed white man in Miami, Fla., last Thursday, it was revealed this week

Circumstances surrounding the youth's death were shrouded in mystery, with conflicting telegraphic reports coming to the grieved family from the southern city.

One report holds that young Johnson entered a Miami store to purchase a shirt. Looking over the stock, he assertedly handled a shirt, finally choosing another. It is stated that a white clerk said, "You take the shirt you touch down here." An argument ensued, allegedly climaxing in the boy's murder by the store clerk.

Another version contends that Johnson was killed "in an argument over a shirt at the place where he worked."

The family pointed out, however, that neither story has been officially verified and that details of the tragedy remain unknown. Appeals for information to the Miami police department have been fruitless, relatives said, despite the fact that a week has passed since the fatal altercation.

ACCOMPANIED CHAUFFEUR

Young Johnson "went along for the ride" when a friend, John Thompson, chauffeur for silverware manufacturer Ray Dodge, drove his employer to the southern state. Thompson has not yet returned from Florida. It is expected that he will bring full defull details when he does.

Md.'s State Troopers Save Pair

Woman, Daughter Dragged from Jail; May Spur Action

SNOW HILL, Md., Feb. 15.—A Negro woman and her young daughter were rescued early yesterday morning from an enraged lynch mob after a battle with state troopers at Stockton, Md., near here. The two had been dragged from the Worcester County Jail here, where they had been confined for investigation in connection with the slaying of Harvey W. Pilchard, Stockton farmer, Sunday night.

MAY HELP LYNCH BILL

Impact of the lynch mob's action here is set to reverberate throughout the nation; perhaps to knock the stymied Gavagan-Van Nuys anti-lynching bill out of the Senate Judiciary Committee, where it has been blocked by the pressure of southern senators.

BALTIMORE 'SAFEKEEPING'

The rescued women, Martha Beake, 31, and her daughter, Lillian, 14, were taken yesterday across the Delaware state line for safekeeping in Baltimore, fifty miles from here.

Taken into custody when found with a suspect in the Pilchard slaying, who escaped, the pair were incarcerated with the hope that they might "talk," police stated. No direct implication in the crime was charged.

Governor Herbert R. O'Connor revealed yesterday that Sergt. W. H. Weber of the state police was injured in effecting the rescue. Wounded by a blow upon the head, it was stated that Weber aided in freeing the pair from the battling crowd and managed to load them in an automobile and drive away.

Reinforcements have been rushed to this sector by gubernatorial command, and law and order has been established. After their quarry was seized from them, the lynch mob dispersed.

ANOTHER NEGRO SUSPECT

A Negro man, also jailed in the Pilchard investigation, was early transported to an unannounced destination by Sheriff J. William Hall. It was necessary at one point for the official to allow members of a crowd which had formed on the jail lawn to pass through the cell block two by two to assure them that the Negro man was absent. Believing that the crowd would not attack women, Sheriff Hall had allowed them to remain.

Early Tuesday evening, a throng milled around the jail front, noisy and jeering. They smashed in a window, attached rope to a cell door and tore it

Fifth Street Store Features Big Dollar Day Bargains

Friday's giant Dollar Day will find the Fifth Street store Los Angeles' bargain leader. The great merchandising center has vowed to set new Dollar Day records with as formidable a line-up of sensational values as the City of Angels has even seen.

Executives point out that the downtown shopping area is the only place that such sensational values can be offered to the shopping public. The tremendous buying power of the Fifth Street Store brings to L. A. bargain seekers unprecedented price concessions. Only the mammoth stock orders of the Fifth Street store make such prices possible. Lesser merchants would run themselves out of business if they attempted to duplicate Friday's Fifth Street store offerings.

Provision is being made for swift, courteous and efficient service during the expected shoppers' rush. For many years, Fifth and Broadway has represented to shoppers "the most courteous spot in Los Angeles."

Store executives vow that reputation will be upheld during Dollar Day.

ANOTHER KNIFE FLASHES!

Minutes before EAGLE deadline last night a knife flashed in a little house at 1168½ E. 40th Place and a moment later was buried in the heart of William Small, 43, 1117 E. 41st St., WPA worker and World War vet, killing him instantly.

Willis Jones, 38, was booked for the murder last night at Central Police station. He was apprehended by Lieuts. Holt and Jennings of University station. Time of the fatal stabbing was placed by eye-witnesses at 7:10 p. m.

The altercation was precipitated when Small, visiting the East 40th Place home with five friends, assertedly asked his hostess, Molly Montgomery, "How come you got on your glasses, Granmaw?" She did not answer, and he repeated the question, whereupon Jones, who lived in the house, demanded "What do you care?" He then allegedly stabbed Small with what police termed "a long knife".

Small is survived by his wife, Levora, a son, William George; two sisters, two brothers, and parents in Bakersfield, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Small.

Eye-witnesses of the tragedy include Archie Helton, Wallis Colley and Benny Murray.

Others fired were Alice Orans, Katherine Kilbourne and Samuel Houston, all white.

A prepared statement issued by SRA officials yesterday held that the dismissal of Mrs. Miller and her colleagues was

Connally Tries to Scare Witnesses in Senate Hearing on Anti-Lynching Bill

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 15—With 8 witnesses testifying, three of them from Texas, two days of hearings on the Wagner-Van Nuys-Capper federal anti-lynching bill closed here Feb. 7, in the Senate office building caucus room before packed audiences, which included a goodly number of college students.

The witnesses were:

Dr. Arthur Raper, secretary of the Interracial Commission, now on leave to do research work for the Carnegie Corporation; Rev. Gresham Narmion, assistant rector of St. Albans P. E. church, Washington, D. C., and a native of Texas; Dr. George F. Porter, president of Wiley Junior college and the Rev. E. C. Estell, pastor of St. John's Baptist church, both of Dallas, Texas; R. B. Grovey, of Houston, Texas; Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP; Arthur B. Spingarn, president of the NAACP; and Dean William H. Hastie, of the Howard university law school.

White and Spingarn conferred with the President at the White House on Thursday morning. Contents of the conference were not revealed following the hearing.

NO CONNALLY WITNESSES

Despite the fact that he had let it be known that he intended to have a large number of witnesses from the South to testify in opposition to the bill, Senator Tom Connally, of Texas, arch foe of anti-lynching legislation, presented none.

Senator Frederick Van Nuys, chairman of the Senate sub-committee, conducting the hearings, announced after adjournment, that resumption of testimony would be subject to the call of the committee.

He told secretary White that he would do everything possible to bring a report on the bill speedily. Senator Van Nuys, in answer to criticisms of his allowing Connally a wide latitude in attacking witnesses, said he made no effort to check the Texas senator in order that everything might be placed into the record.

Senator Warren Austin of Vermont was the only member of the committee who was absent thruout the hearings. Other members of the committee present were: Senators Matthew M. Neely, of West Virginia; and Alexander

Three Youths Sought In Murder

Suspect Trio of Fatally Stabbing 1, Shooting 2

Three youths were sought this week by Los Angeles police as suspects in the murder of Walter Peniger, 20, of 1250 East 17th street, and the shooting of two other 'teen-age boys.

The accused youths are Ernest Waters, alias Goldie Waters, 18-years old; his brother, Edward, 19, and Frank Ferguson, 20, addresses unknown.

According to police, the stabbing of Peniger and shooting of William Mells Watson, jr., 19, of 1344 East 21st street, and Jimmy Dabney, 1075 N. St. Andrews, grew out of an apparently innocent argument between two "gangs".

It is stated that about 10:20 last Friday night, Watson, Dabney and several other boys who were later joined by Peniger and two other youths passed another "gang" whose leader apparently was Goldie Waters in the vicinity of 23rd and Central.

According to police investigation Waters' "gang" was "eyeing" the group of which Peniger was a member and one of the latter is said to have made a remark "what are you looking at . . . keep moving." Shortly thereafter both groups apparently dispersed.

In the succeeding minutes, Peniger was fatally stabbed just above the heart and was found by Newton Street Officers I. M. Deaton and C. W. Barber in a rear driveway at 22nd and Central. . .and on the sidewalk in front of 2222 Central, Watson was lying with a bullet thru his abdomen.

Dabney, when questioned by Central Homicide Officers Jones and Lopez, said that when the argument between the two "gangs" had apparently been peacefully

Stark Asks 2nd Delay in Farm Evictions

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. Feb. 15. (ANP)—Gov. Stark last week again urged land owners in Southeast Missouri to extend grants in the time set for eviction of sharecroppers who have been notified to vacate their present home, pending completion of the survey being made by the State Employment Service in conjunction with the Federal Farm Security Administration.

When eviction notices were issued to 1500 tenant farmers and sharecroppers in January, Gov. Stark intervened, asking landowners to await the outcome of resettlement plans. He stated last week that the various state and federal agencies still are working on the problem.

In reporting on the survey requested by Gov. Stark, Carl Wedeking, head of the District Employment Service office in Sikeston, said 600 families are listed without jobs, and 95 requests for farm labor have been received. "I don't know where they are going," he said.

Third Degree Used in Confessions

Opinion Written By Justice Hugo Black of Alabama

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (ANP) — Conviction of four Florida men to die for the alleged murder in 1933 of Robert Darsey, Pompano, Fla., white merchant, was reversed in a decision handed down Monday by the Supreme Court.

The men, Isiah Chambers, Jack Williamson, Charlie Davis and Walter Woodard, appealed to the high court on the ground that third degree police methods were used to force their confession to the crime.

The opinion was written by Justice Black, the Alabaman who was accused of once belonging to the Ku Klux Klan. It said:

"No higher duty, no more solemn responsibility, rests upon this court than that of translating into living law and maintaining this constitutional shield deliberately planned and inscribed for the benefit of every human being subject to our constitution—of whatever race, creed or persuasion."

FDR Praises Black

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—Associate Justice Hugo Black of the Supreme Court delivered a unanimous decision of that body Monday freeing four Florida Negroes from a death penalty on the ground that confessions had been obtained by third-degree methods.

Justice Black was heatedly attacked by the Negro press when, at the time of his appointment, he was accused of former membership in the Ku Klux Klan. Later, as a star reporter for one of the national news services revealed factual basis for the accusation. Black admitted his one-time Klan affiliation in a dramatic radio broadcast. Since that time he has gained a wide favorable reputation for his liberal rulings as a High Court member.

Monday's reading of the Court decision in defense of four Florida Negroes by Black was interpreted in official circles as a high-point of judicial liberality.

PRESIDENT CONGRATULATES

First to congratulate Black was President Roosevelt who stated in his Tuesday press conference that "the press should offer a modicum of apology for some of the things it has said in the last few years about Associate Justice Black." Mr. Roosevelt declared that some of the press had given Black praise. Then he added his suggestion for an apology.

White Women Plan New Drive on Mobs

ATLANTA, Feb. 15. (ANP)—How to cooperate with newspapers and press agencies to give publicity to lynch-bent mobs is to be studied Thursday at the executive committee meeting of the Association of Southern Women for the Prevention of Lynching.

According to Mrs. Jessie Daniel Ames, executive director, the organization, now going into its 10th year, has some 40,000 white women, mainly housewives and mothers, pledged to fight lynching and campaign against public opinion that has "accepted too easily the claim of lynchers and mobsters that they are acting solely in defense of white womanhood."

The drop of lynchings from 20 in 1930, which showed only 21 percent motivated by alleged crimes against white women, led to the association and its drive against the "defense of honor masquerade." Since 1930 the percentage has dropped below 21 and none of last year's cases involved crimes against women.

SUPPORT NAACP MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Los Angeles citizens were expected to 'rally round' the current NAACP membership drive, as competing teams swung into action.

FAY ALLEN LEAVES CITY TODAY FOR EDUCATIONAL CONFABS IN EAST

Board of Education Member to Study Educational Systems in St, Louis, Chicago

Delegated to represent the Los Angeles City Board of Education at important national educational conferences, Mrs. Fay E. Allen, board member, leaves today (Thursday) for the East.

In Chicago, Mrs. Allen will attend the meeting of the Progressive Educational Conference, which will be in session from Feb. 19-24. From there Mrs. Allen will go to St. Louis, Missouri where she will confer with delegates to the meeting of the Superintendents Council of the National Educational Association being held from Feb. 24-29.

Mrs. Allen expects to spend considerable time investigating the educational systems in both cities. In Chicago particular attention will be paid to the work of teachers and administrators under a mixed school system, while St. Louis will afford her an opportunity to view their work under conditions of a separate school system. Special attention will be given to a comparison of facilities for Negro students in the separate schools in St. Louis, including buildings, playgrounds, equipment and staff.

REPORT TO BOARD

Conditions extant in both St. Louis and Chicago schools in comparison to those in Los Angeles, in addition to a summary of the educational conferences' proceedings will be included in Mrs. Allen's report to the Board on her return.

While in St. Louis Mrs. Allen will be the house guest of her niece, Miss Isabel Allen, a school teacher in that city. Professor Evans, principal of the Crow Elementary School in St. Louis is making special arrangements for Mrs. Allen to tour the city's schools. Fellow sorors of the Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority are expected to entertain Soror Allen extensively in both St. Louis and Chicago.

Correction

In the write-up of the reception tea, given at the Hollywood hotel, Jan. 29, for Novelist Kathleen Norris, (EAGLE, Feb. 1), it was erroneously stated that Mrs. C. A. Bass, EAGLE editor, posed for photographs with Mrs. Norris.

Not Mrs. Bass, but Mrs. Fay Allen, member of the Board of Education was photographed with the famous writer.

BEAVERS NAMED TO SOCIAL COMMITTEES

George A. Beavers, Jr., insurance executive, has been named to two committees on the local Council of Social Agencies, Department of County Welfare, it was learned today. The Eastside businessman will sit on the Committee on Family Welfare and Adult Services and the Subcommittee on Sailors and Homeless Men.

Ruben Richardsons Have Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Richardson celebrated their silver anniversary last Sunday evening at their beautiful home at 1165 E. 48th street.

Assisting them in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. William Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rutherford.

Assisting as hostesses were Mesdames Juanita Henderson, Bertha Barrad, Adlena Brown, Freda Foster, Maxine Heflin, Eola Johnson, Ethel Green, Fleecia Cannon, Hattie Saunders, Australia McCarty and Anna Oliver, who poured tea. Guests numbered over one hundred.

TO MEASURE NEGRO LISTENING POWER

Do colored persons living in New York City still have more radio sets than those living in any other large-sized city in this country now, as they did in 1930? The 1940 Census which starts April 1, will answer this question. In addition, it will show exactly how many sets colored Americans own. In 1930 Negroes in New York City had the largest mass listening power, with 30,917 radio sets. Chicago was second with a total of 23,487 sets.

Morris Denies He's Quit Tennessee State

Denial that he had resigned his professorship of English at Tennessee A and I State college was made by Dr. Charles Satchell Morris in Phoenix Sunday. Enroute to Los Angeles from a coast to coast speaking tour, Dr. Morris promised a statement of his connection with the college soon after his arrival in Los Angeles last night.

Dr. Morris will return to Los Angeles to his bride of three months, the former Mrs. Irene Givens Freeman, whom he left immediately after a surprise elopement for his speaking tour. The two were married in Phoenix in November by Rev. C. L. Upthegrove, pastor of Tanner Chapel AME church, where Dr. Morris spoke Sunday.

NEGRO FARMERS WIDELY DISTRIBUTED

There were Negro farmers in every state of the Union, and in more than two-thirds of all the counties, in 1930, according to the Census of that year. There were 882,850 colored farm operators, 98.7 per cent of them in Southern states, 1.3 per cent in the North and only .1 per cent in the West. Shifts of this Negro farm population are expected to be shown in the 1940 Farm Census, which starts April 1.

Census to Give Picture of Negro Aged Persons

How many colored persons are there in the United States who are 85 years of age or older? The 1930 Census showed a total of 26,358. The 1940 Census, which starts April 1, will reveal whether this figure has increased or decreased in the past 10-year period.

Incidentally, Census records dating back from 50 to 100 years are the only records many aged colored persons are able to secure that prove their age or date of birth. Such records are important in establishing eligibility for Social Security and other old-age benefits.

Manhattan's Colored Families Have Most Ledgers

Colored home owners living in New York City had a larger percentage of lodgers in their homes than those in any other large community in the United States, the Census of 1930 showed. More than 64 percent of them had persons other than members of the immediate family living in the home. A comparable figure for the present will be afforded by the Housing Census of 1940, which will begin on April 1.

Jeff's Vice Principal Resigns .

Irvin Hague Had Been at Eastside School Since '16

Irvin Hague, boys' vice-principal at Thomas Jefferson High school for 24 years, announced his resignation from the Los Angeles school system at the faculty meeting, held on Monday morning, Feb. 5, before the opening of the new semester of school. The announcement was made public today.

Loss of Mr. Hague will be keenly felt by Jefferson students and alumni as he had been at Jefferson since its doors were first opened in September, 1916.

At first, Mr. Hague acted as head of the commercial department. In 1920, he took over the boys' vice principalship, in which capacity he served continuously, with the exception of a half year's leave of absence in 1936.

Mr. Hague has made many important contributions toward the building of worthwhile traditions for the school. On the day that the school opened, he made a pep talk, and ever since that time, he has been urging the students to accomplishments in sports and in scholarship. During the days following the earthquake which proved particularly disastrous to Jefferson, he authored a new school song.

Mr. Hague's wife, Mrs. Carlie Hague, taught at Jefferson for a number of years before she went to Mt. Vernon Junior High school. His daughter, Lois, graduated from the school in 1924.

The founding of the Knights' organization, of which he has been the sponsor, was one of Mr. Hague's most lasting accomplishments.

Classes in Short Story Writing at Jefferson

Members of the Short Story writing class at Jefferson Evening high school are doing a number of interesting things, including the preparation of stories aimed at the movies, feature sections of the newspapers and magazines. Two members of the class are working on novels under the direction of the instructor.

According to all the signs, the writers of our group will be in increasing demand in the next year as Negro moving picture companies and magazines are already seeking writers of talent.

The course as offered at Jefferson Evening High school is designed to teach the fundamentals of creative writing, as well as to give special attention to those who need it. The class meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8:00 to 9:30 o'clock. There is no fee.

Journalism Is Offered at Evening School

Churches, clubs, lodges and other organizations wonder why news which they submit to their newspapers is frequently changed, shortened, or even left out. Sometimes they become angry at the editor—but they shouldn't, for editors are busy people who have little time to re-write unsolicited news.

Reporters for the various organizations usually have no training in newspaper writing, for if they had they would be able to send in articles which would make the editor smile in relief.

At Jefferson Evening High school the class in Journalism offers training which will enable reporters for lodges, clubs, churches, etc. to be able to please newspaper editors—and thereby get their news into the papers.

The class meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 6:30 to 8:00 o'clock. Members of the Journalism class prepare and edit the Courier, official organ of the evening school. Enrollment for this class is now under way.

Obey Vehicle Code, Avoid Crashes

Frequent crashes at intersections are largely due to failure of motoroists to understand and obey the turning regulations and right of way rules, declares the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

In an endeavor to reduce the turning hazards at intersections the Vehicle Code provides that a right turn must be made from that portion of the roadway as close as practicable to the right hand curb or edge of highway. The same section of the code also provides that left turns must be made from that portion of the roadway nearest the center line. The purpose of both provisions is to keep to a minimum any conflict between a car making a turn and other traffic.

I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had no where else to go. My own wisdom, and that of all about me, seemed insufficient for the day.—Abraham Lincoln.

MANAGER OF ROSCOE TOLES HELD IN CHICAGO AS POLICY RACKETEER

Everett I. Watson Arrested on Warrant Charging Conspiracy to Obstruct Justice

CHICAGO, Feb. 15. (ANP)—Everett I. Watson, 48, manager of Roscoe Toles, heavyweight fighter, and alleged Detroit policy king, was arrested Saturday night on a secret warrant, charging conspiracy to obstruct justice. He was found at the home of Jim Martin, owner of the Airplane Inn, who has been named frequently in connection with Chicago policy game operations.

Detroit's Judge Homer Ferguson is conducting an investigation in graft and gambling there as a one-man grand jury. Several police officials have been linked with the policy racket and a number of the Motor City's Negroes have also been sought for questioning. Judge Ferguson signed the warrant on which Watson was arrested.

Seized with the Detroiter was his wife, Irene, who was wearing a mink coat valued at several thousand dollars. Lieut. Thomas Kelly and Sgt. Nicholas Disteldorf of the state's attorney's police, in company with Special Prosecutor Chester O'Hara of Detroit, made the arrests. Watson refused to waive extradition and was locked up. Bail was later set at $1,500.

Chester P. O'Hara, white special prosecutor for Wayne County (Detroit) said Watson had been hunted for six months because the jury thought he possessed valuable information. Strong political influence can be brought to bear in Watson's behalf here because James Martin is one of the most powerful political figures on Chicago's west side.

Were L. A. Visitors

Everett I. Watson, accused Detroit policy king, who was arrested in Detroit's war on policy racketeers Saturday night, had but a short time previously returned to his home from an extended visit in Los Angeles.

Accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Irene Watson, the Detroiter spent several weeks in Los Angeles, stopping at the Dunbar Hotel. Mrs. Watson told reporters they were here "for a rest".

Indefinite about the length of their visit, the Watsons left suddenly late in January. They had been in almost daily communication by phone with Detroit during their stay here, it was reported.

Firemen Ignore Call; One Child Dead, Another Dying

CHICAGO, Feb. 15. (ANP)—A quarrel between the little village of North Chicago and an unincorporated community of 500 persons, over furnishing fire protection resulted Friday in the death of little Ella Mayfield, 3, and the probably fatal burning of Rita Mae Pinkard, 11, following the explosion of a gasoline stove.

Last July the little community voted down a proposal to fix a tax levy for fire protection with the North Chicago department, but despite this each fire in the area brings insistent demands for assistance.

Saturday a frame building occupied by four Negro families caught on fire. Neighbors telephoned the North Chicago firemen for help. The department said it was forbidden to come. They were informed there were persons trapped in the structure. The firemen said they were sorry.

Meanwhile Boyd Mayfield carried two of his children from their bed upstairs to safety. He thought someone else had saved Ella. When he learned she was inside the building was completely enveloped in flames. At the same time, Dorothy and William Pinkard, who lived in the other half of the upstairs, rescued Rita Mae but she was badly burned.

While the fire was spreading to the homes of two other fam- Lakes naval training station fire ilies, the Waukegan and Great departments, located several miles away, arrived. They put out the blaze and discovered the child burned to death.

Sleeping Car Porters Brotherhood Leader, A. L. Totten, Gets U.S. Job

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (ANP)—It was announced by the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, affirmed here this week, that Ashley L. Totten, Secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood, has been appointed by the Railroad Retirement Board, as "Special Agent," in connection with the handling of matters relating to pensions under the Railroad Retirement Act and Unemployment Insurance.

Totten's appointment is being hailed because despite the fact that the Railroad Retirement Board handles the affairs of the thousands of Negroes working on railroads and eligible for retirement, scarcely any Negro had been given a job above that of messenger or charwoman in the organization. The lack of Negro employes was even more noticeable because the retirement board occupies the sumptuous building at 10th and You streets, built and then lost by the Prince Hall Masons of the District of Columbia, a structure located in the heart of the Negro district.

SAYS SENATE WASTING TIME IF ROOSEVELT IS AGAINST MOB MEASURE

Word from the President Would Cause Favorable Vote in Senate, Fish States

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15.—"The American people, both white and colored, are entitled to know where President Roosevelt stands on the Anti-Lynching bill and what he proposes to do to help secure its passage in Congress," declared Congressman Hamilton Fish in a statement issued here today.

Complete text of Representative Fish's statement follows:

"Hearings on the Anti-Lynching Bill ,which passed the House by a two-to-one vote, are now being held before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee. Southern members opposing the bill when it was under consideration in the House said that the most harmful thing the Republicans could do would be to "smoke out" President Roosevelt and send the bill to him for his final action.

"President Roosevelt does not hesitate to express his views and pass moral judgments on European nations. Why is he so strangely silent on legislation aimed to provide for the security and safety of the lives of our own people? The American people, both white and colored, are entitled to know where President Roosevelt stands on the Anti-Lynching bill, and what he proposes to do to help secure its passage in the Congress.

If he is against the bill, the Senate is wasting time in considering it, because it never could get a two-thirds majority. If he is for the bill, a word from him would cause a favorable vote in the Senate.

"A nation that sits supinely by and permits its own citizens to be destroyed by mob violence is in no position to protest racial injustices and persecution in foreign lands."

17 Dead in Georgia Tornado

ALBANY, Ga., Feb. 15. (ANP)—Sixteen Negroes and one white person were killed in a devestating tornado which swept thru this winter resort and industrial city shortly before dawn Saturday, injuring more than 300 others and leaving 1,000 persons, mostly Negroes, homeless. Total property loss was between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000.

Negro losses were particularly great because a frame residential section near the railway station lay directly in the path of the tornado. Scores of these dwellings were flattened and the occupants buried in the debris. The city's lone 50 room hospital was soon overtaxed and emergency hospitals were established in the Negro high school and other buildings.

Kelly was charged with the fatal shooting of Veverly Pinkman, 35, who lived in the same house with him and his wife.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (CNA)—Aid to the Helsinki regime in Finland is in reality aid to the "reactionary forces and the enslavers of the colonial peoples," Paul Robeson, world famous singer and actor, declared this week in announcing that he had refused to participate in stage benefits sponsored and directed by ex-president Herbert Hoover for aid to Helsinki.

In his statement, Mr. Robeson said: "I distrust Chamberlain and Daladier who is virtually the dictator of France. I know that Chamberlain is eager to make a deal with Germany, and I feel that Chamberlain and Daladier represent the forces of re- Will Geers, of Tobacco Road, who direct road to war."

action. I suspect already a subtle fascism permeating England that may become more acute as the war progresses."

"According to my reasoning," he continued, "aid to the Finns, then, in reality is aid to the reactionary forces, which if the Allies win the war, still would leave world problems, the problems of the oppressed in the colonies, the problems of the workers, unsolved. The progressive policies of the liberals of all countries are not represented by the Chamberlain, Daladier or the Mannerheim (Helsinki) government."

Joining Mr. Robeson in his stand on the Finnish question was said he spoke for the actors who regard the Finnish benefits "as a

Aaron Payne Is National Republican Club Speaker

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (ANP)—Before one of the most important Lincoln Day gatherings in the country, Aaron H. Payne, youthful Chicago lawyer, delivered one of the three addresses given before the National Republican Club of New York here Monday night. Chairman John Hamilton and Mrs. Robert A. Taft, were the other speakers.

It was the first time in 30 years that a colored man had spoken on this program although President F. D. Patterson of Tuskegee was a guest at the dinner last year. Payne called attention to this fact when he said:

"Many years ago he beloved Booker T. Washington of Tuskegee was one of your guest speakers. He richly merited the distinction, for he was universally accepted as the accredited spokesman for his people. He has no successor. Able spokesman that he was, the cause of Republicanism and the love of Abraham Lincoln were no stronger in his heart than in mine; and regardless of what some few may say, the fundamental attitude of my people, North and South, is no different from my own.

Christianity An Interracial, Social Adventure – Caston

Dr. J. L. Caston, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, W. 36th and Normandie streets, literally denounced "the modern expression of Christianity" before hundreds who gathered at the church last Sunday morning to observe "Race Relations" Sunday.

The minister said New Testament Christianity was "the reverse of Old Testament Judaism, in that the Old Testament starts out with the individual immersed in the group, with little or no value per se, while the most singular contribution Jesus made to the world through the Christian movement was the clothing of human personality with supreme value.

"The Christian movement began with making individuals worthwhile and they became the basis of universalism. The Kingdom of God was made up of persons who had become sons of God who dared take to the open sea in an adventure of inter-racial and international fellowship. The Christian movement and the Christian Church when they are "jelled" into racial patterns, are false to their Founder," the prelate blasted.

"We get off on the wrong foot in America despite the advantages which have come to the Negro from separate racial churches. There can be no "Christian" white church or black church if in either there is a color or racial bar which denies membership to any son of God.

"Neither Hitler nor Chamberlain invoking God's blessings upon their legions of destruction are up-to-date in religion. That attitude is an ancient throwback to the days of tribal deities. The God of Jesus Christ is no patron saint of any race or nation. If He is not the one Father of all mankind, he is far too small to meet modern needs.

"The modern expression of Christianity will remain a lying and deceitful counterfeit until its prophets and devotees make inter-racialism and inter-nationalism their one absorbing passion", he went on.

"Race must be spiritualized so that to be a true son of Abraham will not involve being a Jew, but being a modern man of faith, one who is willing to move out from the narrow provincialisms of primitive society to a land unseen and unknown. This vision of the approaching Kingdom of God is hidden from those who write "The Shape of Things to Come" but revealed to those who by eating the Word of Life, have become hardy seamen, incessantly adventuring against the winds and storms of race prejudice wherever and whenever it shows its monstrous head. Christianity and race prejudice are mortal enemies. To embrace either is to deny the other," he concluded.

The nominating committee of the Sunset Avenue S. D. A. church, Sunset and Pepper Sts., Pasadena, will present its annual report at the 11 o'clock preaching service next Sabbath. Last week when he presented "The Great Lincoln" the large audience was spellbound with interest as the many thrilling incidents in the life of the Great Emancipator were renewed in the memories of those wro regard and respect this great man. Mrs. Betty Hill launched the church drive for NAACP memberships, and the interest was keen as the aims of the Association were again brought to mind.

Sabbath Saturday) the Pastor speaks at 11 a. m. The Sabbath school convenes at 9:35 a. m. under the leadership of Dr. A. C. Garrott.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH:

"I will set my tabernacle among you: and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people." These verses from Leviticus are the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ Scientist.

One of the Scriptural selections includes these words about Jesus from Luke: "And it came to pass that as he was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging: . . . And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me. . . . And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him, Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight. And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee. And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God."

The Lesson-Sermon presents also these passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Neither age nor accident can interfere with the senses of Soul, and there are no other real senses." "There is more Science in the perpetual exercise of the Mind-faculties than in their loss. Lost they cannot be, while Mind remains. The apprehension of this gave sight to the blind and hearing to the deaf centuries ago, and it will repeat the wonder."

Prelates Hits Jim Crow in Airing

TOPEKA, Feb. 15—After a local preacher declared in a radio broadcast Sunday that Negroes are not allowed in the Topeka Gage park swimming pool, a white woman registered a complaint with the city commissioners, suggesting that such statements be forbidden the air.

The preacher, Rev. Ormal L. Miller, white, said the "subservience of the Poles to the Germans was deplorable . . . But we have the same situation here . . ."

Racial Minorities Problems to Be Discussed Tomorrow

The common and special problems faced by Negroes, Filipinos and Mexicans will be highlighted in the symposium on the subject "Problems of Racial Minorities" programmed for the regular monthly meeting of the L. A. Council National Negro Congress Friday, Feb. 16 at 8 p.m. at Wesley Center, 1209 E. Vernon ave.

Representatives of the National Negro Congress, Committee for the Protection of Filipino Rights, and the Mexican People's Congress will outline the particular problems of their respective racial groups and the remedies proposed by their organization.

"Cooperation among racial minorities has long been considered desirable," said Attorney Loren Miller, executive secretary in announcing the meeting, "for the various groups face many similar problems. Unfortunately, however, few of us have any clear idea regarding what practical issues offer a basis for cooperation. This symposium offers a unique opportunity for an exchange of experiences among representatives of the three predominant minority groups in this area, to the end that we can establish a closer relationship in defense of our mutual and special interests."

DR. GLOVER ATTENDS ATLANTA MEETING

Dr. J. L. Glover, pastor of William Chapel AME church, San Pedro, and Connectional Director of Music of the AME Council, left Saturday to attend the Bishops and Connectional Council Meeting in Atlanta, Feb. 15-17. Rev. Williams Returns to Pulpit

Rev. S. A. Williams, pastor of St. Paul Baptist church, 21st and Naomi avenue, and wife, after a five months' vacation, spent in Honolulu, extended him by his church, returned to his pulpit Sunday morning, much helped. He is planning a great soul saving campaign to take place in the near future.

Pastor Williams at all times stands for bigger and better things. This brings one among the many times without warning that Pastor Williams dropped a $200.00 offering in the basket Sunday morning as his contribution to the cause of Christ. This kind of thing seems to assimilate within the membership and even our visitors take kindly as they too, so often drop as much as $1.00 into our Sick or Emergency Fund. Proves that you can't do big things for God and lose.

We are pleased to announce that our Sunday evening service will commence 45 minutes earlier in the future, starting at 7:15, which will aid in closing our services practically one hour later.

Come early, leave early.

Good singing, good preaching. You are invited to visit us at St. Paul.

The Delightful Side

By BILL SMALLWOOD

Who will REALLY be travelling in approved swank thru the next few weeks will be Hattie McDaniels! With two trunks, five bags, a fabulous mink, her maid and a fat advance check, she'll take a drawing room across the land into NY where she'll more than likely do a turn on Bway, which is clamoring lustily for her. . . And who, pray I ask, can outequal Hattie as hostess? Sunday eve, she had a round-up of friends in for buffet and gay doin's. SUCH fun! Laura Bowman and her Haitian hubby (of whom, more anon) were really the asterisked guests. A wealth of talent, naturally, and several folk pranced around doing amusing and fascinating things from their repertoire. M'sieur Antoine contributed a native Haitian chant. . . But twas Hattie who climaxed the eve She gave us an idea of the act she'll do (she open in Long Beach tomorrow), and showed us the wardrobe (costliest of mink), and the entire script of GWTW which was a Xmas gift from Producer Selznick. Happy, content and in love with life, Hattie is incomparable, and just tops of slim list of favorite people, no foolin' . . .

Her buffet was toothsome. . scads of folk. Cross-section: the Ernest Whitmans (she's our sophistocratic nomination for the week), the Earl Johnsons of them, more anon), the Bill Lawries, Mildred Blount (the dis-missed milliner at John-Frederics; she's doing some stage hats for La Hattie and is also to do the hats for the "Su- and God" film), Juan Cesteros, and others . . Ruby Berkley Goodwin. . .Worth exhibiting is the mass of congratulatory wires and messages But only thing worrying Hattie now is whether she'll be here for the Academy Award dinner. She'd hate to miss it naturally. Too, she has five guests for the event.

Beautiful home, that of the Ruben Richardsons! Sunday eve was their twenty-fifth anniversary, and folk well-nigh filled their luxurious place. Gleaming silver was the gift motif. Some dozen or so matrons assisted. Nice, seeing Della McDonald again, and in a tricky red hat with feathers perily atop. And Freda Foster, who we seldom see. The Lionel Fortiers, Bea de Vaughn and Dr. Ing (attentive cavalier!). Bea is off to 'Frisco at the end of the month. Other folk eddying around. . . Lovely af-fair . . Nice too, seeing Jimmie Lunceford again. He was over to Bobbee Black's for tea, Sunday. Piggie looks well-fed and well-barbered as ever, still rushing to keep all dates. Now very nice, tho', seeing widowed Jewel Pavageau smiling again and moving about complacently.

The Lone Wolf Club rang the welkin at the Ala-bam last week with their formal cabaret. Intimate crowd, food and music, and supper 'n champagne to boot. "Build-Up" Relief Explained To Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering!

It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition.

Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of the gastric juice; thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic discomfort. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

It has been my pleasure to examine the reports of the Liberty Building-Loan Association, as revealed in the report of the Building and Loan Commissioner for the State of California. These reports are very revealing, and show that no Corporation of like character is a better or safer investment for you than this concern owned and operated by men whom we all know, honor, and respect. Golden West Bridge Association Brings Readers Questions, Answers

BY ELLIS L. VEIL

Before firing the starting gun of this, our weekly visit with you, we the GWBA, ask, urge and demand that all of our members enter and continue their subscription to this, the West's greatest weekly, the California Eagle. Notices of our activities appearing here weekly are official, complete and final, as given to me by the president and approved by said Committee.

The thousands of Contract Bridge players and students in Los Angeles and many others throughout the State of California, are demanding news of this class. When I was interviewed by the Board of Directors relative to my service, they stated, "That the Golden West Bridge Association feels honored in having a man that is a certified teacher, licensed by the Culbertson National Studio, an authority on Contract Bridge to write for their organization.

So, I say to the members of this organization, if you fail to read the EAGLE, you may never know it happened. Due to the indolence of so many of our Contract Bridge players, we will ask and answer questions in a sincere effort to ignite that spark of enthusiasm that should exist in the life of every good bridge player.

Question this week: You are dealer, neither side vulnerable. You open the bid with one spade, opponent passes, partner responds one No Trump. Next hand passes. What should you do holding this hand:

S A 9 XXX, H Q XX, D A Q, C KQ X.

Answer next week.

Our next tournament will be held at our club room, 1503 E. 22nd street, Friday, Feb. 23. That's the bridge news for the week.

Misses Bowman and Brewer Hostess Theater Party and Lingerie Shower Honoring Bride-Elect Ethel Carter

Beautiful appointments distinguished the theater party and lingerie shower at which Miss Ethel Ellis Carter, bride-elect of Rev. John L. Branham, pastor of Calvary Church of San Diego, was feted last Saturday afternoon.

Hostessing the charming and festive affair were the Misses Ida Bowman and Muriel Brewer who had made reservations for the party of 20 to see the current musical hit revue, "Meet the People" at the Hollywood Playhouse. The hostesses presented each guest with a refreshingly lovely corsage of blue iris. Chocolates were enjoyed during the highly entertaining performance.

After the theater, the fashionably garbed party reassembled at Miss Bowman's apartment where the honoree opened her many lovely gifts. Retiring to the living room, the guests found their places for the sumptuous buffet dinner by cleverly designed and gaily colored candy figurines which served both as a Valentine motif and place cards.

GUEST LIST

Enjoying the hospitality of the Delta Sigma Theta sorors, Misses Ida Bowman and Muriel Brewer, were: Anita Beverly, Josephine Blodgett, Constance Boring, Rosetta Brown, Katherine Dixon, Cortez Ferguson, Sylvia Gilliam, Cora Harden, Grace Jones, Wathea Jones, Edyth Kemp, Lena Lewis, Adele Matthews, Emily Thompson, Mae Turner Doris Watson, Mary Woodyard and Helen Wright.

Nuptials uniting the popular young couple will be celebrated on Sunday with only members of the immediate families present, followed by a wedding reception. Miss Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon of Riverside, Calif., is a graduate of UCLA, holding a B. A. in psychology; and a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority. Rev. John Branham, son of Rev. James H. Branham, assistant pastor of the Olivet Church of Chicago, Illinois, received his collegiate training at Morehouse and Bishop colleges where he was prominently identified with Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity.

TWO MEN

Sunday most ministers sermonized on the life and work of such men as Frederick Douglass and Abraham Lincoln.

Their greatness, to us, is determined by the fact that their lives will be beacon lights for the rest of us down thru the ages. Both were shining examples of wisdom in the fields of individual and national conduct, their views having as much weight now as they did at the time they were alive.

We heard one minister say that the Negro was too much imbued with the defeatist attitude, thinking "I can't do this and that because I am black". If, as a group, the Negro is qualified, the prelate went on, there is nothing the Negro cannot do.

As an example, he cited the fact that if he publicized a call for 100 stenographers, 60 per cent of those who applied for the jobs would be unfit, lacking the qualifications necessary to be a good stenographer.

To further prove his point, he told his listeners of an incident at an eastern college some years ago when a large laboratory was searching for a chemist. The lab officials asked this school for the best chemist it had. The school, in reply, said that their best chemist was a Negro. The great laboratory directly dispatched a statement that it didn't care who the chemist was, or what his color, all it wanted was the best chemist the school had. That, of course, was that.

A SHORT STORY

A tale is being bandied about concerning a girl with theatrical ambitions, who being possessed of a fair skin, applied for a job in a club's chorus line and succeeded in "passing".

Her identity was discovered and she was told that the management could get Negro dancers if it so desired.

"Passing" has its pitfalls.

ITEM OF TIME

Meetings advertised to begin at a certain time should so begin.

This remark is overheard more than once. And it is justified. In these times when most people have more than one thing to do and more than one place to go of a night or day usually have difficulty in keeping their engagements if the time element does not come in for reckoning by sponsors of meetings.

Sometimes the sponsors claim that people don't come out on time, thus delaying the meetings. It would appear that this state of affairs is due to the fact that the people are wise to the conduct of such meetings and deliberately stay away until they feel that the meeting has started. As a result most of them are anywhere from an hour to an hour and a half in getting underway.

The time-proven remedy is, of course, to start the meeting on time, regardless of who is or who is not there. If that is done time after time it would not be long before the people who attend responded in like manner.

Kappa Mothers Award Two Scholarships

Vincent Williams of Santa Barbara State college and Burghardt Lassiter of UCLA will receive the scholarships awarded annually by the Kappa Mothers, it was announced today following the regular meeting of the group at the home of Mrs. Martha Tillie.

Williams is the son of Mrs. Susie Williams and Lassiter of Mrs. A. Lassiter.

Mrs. Carol Moore was installed as president of the Mothers, as a part of the business of the meeting. Mrs. Bertha Thomas and Mrs. Boring were sworn in as assistant secretary and treasurer. Refreshments were served after the meeting was adjourned.

NEGRO GETS PURGED TEXTBOOKS IN MISS.

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 15. (ANP)—Because, as Dr. E. M. Gavin, state senator from Strafford Springs, said, "the prevalence of syphilis and tuberculosis among the Negro population makes it advisable," textbooks for colored students will not only be different from those used by whites but will be kept in separate warehouses if bills enacted Friday by the state legislature become law.

Rich Bootblack Cuts Off Wife With $1

MEMPHIS, Feb. 15. (ANP)—Four foot "Shorty" Hurt, reputedly wealthy bootblack who had plied his trade in Memphis "since Main street was cobblestoned" said in his will probated Friday that his wife "has not pleased me and made me very unhappy". So he cut her off with a $1 bequest.

Hurt owned several valuable pieces of real estate in residential areas and frequently lent large sums of money to whites whose shoes he had dressed with his "quality shine" for the past 50 years, said his attorney.

Toote, a distinguished barrister who received his college and legal training in England, is a member of the Board of Education, the Telephone Board, the Electrical Board, and is also a member of a number of other important commissions in the Bahamas. A former member of the legislative assembly, Toote is well known in the United States where he has frequently been sponsor for the delegations of crack tennis players which have attended National Tennis Tournaments in this country.

Mr. and Mrs. Toote are leaders in the delightful social life characteristic of Nassau, famed as a winter resort. MORE THAN 2 MILLION GWTW COPIES PRINTED

A third printing of 350,000 copies of the motion picture edition of "Gone With the Wind" has been ordered by Macmillan only six weeks after its publication in Atlanta and New York, which means that 1,050, 000 copies of this edition have been printed during that time. This brings to 2,843,263 the total number of copies of "Gone With the Wind" printed in this country in all editions.

Are There Still More Colored Women Than Men?

Every Census taken in the last 100 years has disclosed an excess of women over men in the Negro population of this country. The 1940 Census, which will start April 1, will show whether this is still the case. In 1930 there were 179,805 more colored women than men.

Sketch Subject: CORTEZ W. PETERS . . . World-Famous Speed Typist.

By EDDIE L. PRUITT

Cortez W. Peters was born in Washington, D. C., Dec. 23, 1906. The name of his parents were Harry W. Peters, and Alberta V. Peters. His father was the first colored jeweler to have an established place of business in the city of Washington, D. C.

Peters took up typing at the age of 13 in the public high schools of Washington, D. C. His early talents were so unusual that his first instructor in typing did not believe he was capable of turning in the amount of work each week which was being submitted. Not even after the first semester was completed did this intructor realize that she was training a typist who was later to become world renowned.

His next instructor in typing was the late Prof. James C. Wright, Dunbar High school, who became famous because of his part in securing 3-cent car fare for the school children of the District. Prof. Wright was responsible for inspiring young Peters to stick to his task until he became a national figure.

Early in his school career he became renowned as a typist winning numerous medals for his efficiency: From one company, a solid gold fountain pen and pencil set, from another company, a gold jewelled pin and a large typewriter; from another company, a 14K gold medal and a large typewriter; from another company, a silver pin, a gold pin, a portable typewriter and a large machine; and from still another company, a bronze medal, a silver medal, a gold medal, a gold button, insignia of the Order of uAccurate Typists, a gold pin with pearls; a gold pin with sapphires and a platinum pin with diamonds and emeralds.

Several years after his graduation, he competed for the Amateur Championship of the World and on that title, being the first member of his race to gain such distinction. The depression then came on and contests were temporarily discontinued. In 1935, they were again revived.

Typing at the rate of 125 words per minute, net, for one hour, Peters lost only to Albert Tangora who typed 128. In the 1936 contest, Peters raised his average to 133 words per minute for one hour, again only to be topped by Albert Tangora, who typed 135. In the 1937 contest, Peters again raised his average to 138-29/60 words per minute, aain only to be topped by Albert Tangora, who typed 140-41/60. Peters and Tangora have not competed since 1937.

Those who are in the know do not believe Tangora could trim Peters at the present time. On the occasion of their third meeting, with only a trifle more than two words per minute difference in speed, Tangora boasted of more than 15 years professional experience, as against 3 years by Mr. Peters. A professional typist does not reach his prime until he has had more than five years experience in competition as a professional. Mr. Peters has already worked out in training at 150 net words per minute for one hour, which makes him a cinch to break the world's record any time he competes . . . but whether he will trim Tangora (which a majority of ranking typists believe he will do) is still a ???

Mr. Peters served as secretary to former Congressman John M. Nelson, of Wisconsin, for five years, at the time when the famous Congressman headed the LaFollette bloc in Congress.

Peters has also served as typist-clerk for seven years in the U. S. Navy Department, Washington, D. C., where he distinguished himself because of his outstanding efficiency. He alone was the only typist with speed sufficient to serve in connection with the investigation of the Akron disaster several years ago.

Peters is also a fraternal man, serving for seven years as Secretary of his Elk Lodge, Morning Star Lodge No. 40, IBPOEW, Washington, D. C. For five years he served as assistant to the Grand Secretary of Elks.

He is also a member of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity. Is the founder and organizer of three business schools, dedicated to the training of more efficient Negro boys and girls . . . one school is located in Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., and Chicago, Ill.

At the present time, Mr. Peters is an expert typing demonstrator for the Royal Typewriter Company, which position he has held for the past five years. His work carried him throughout the entire United States, demonstrating in white and colored schools alike.

Several months ago he made a tremendous hit on the Hobby Lobby Radio program when he scored with his famous Bill Robinson tap dance on the typewriter. In addition to this, Peters types blindfolded with mittens on, and types and recites poetry at the same time. It is not unusual to see him dash off more than 160 words per minute from straight copy . . . and 160 words per minute is almost three words per second . . . SOME SPEED!

Peters will be in California for about one month, and is to be presented in a public appearance under the auspices of the Los Angeles Urban League. Watch for the date.

A Motion Picture Producer's 'Girl Friday' Writes Her Views on Films About Negro

BY HELEN MAY

Amateur though I am, the fact remains that when you feel a story coming on and you have a typewriter at hand—you write, for all you're worth and heaven help the public.

We shall all be deluged from now until its release with publicity on the merits of the mystery picture, "Mystery in Swing" with its all-Colored cast, but except for a few formal facts on its producers, and some glamorous bits about its actors and actresses, very little will be learned about the actual personalities and happenings behind the scenes.

Being secretary to a motion picture company for the first time has its definite excitement like one's first love, but I somehow can't rid myself of the feeling that history in the evolvement of the colored race is being made right before my eyes.

We have as our co-producer and director (my boss), Arthur Dreifuss. Mr. Dreifuss has only recently entered the field of colored picture production, but is already establishing a reputation for himself. He seems to have a talent for bringing out the best qualities in his actors and actresses. This, I think is caused by his innate kindness of heart and the fact that he makes person to person contact with everyone who approaches him with the desire to be an actor or actress.

Mr. Dreifuss never plays the big executive, but seems to be able to put himself in the other fellow's place. It is this ability to put himself in another's place that enables him to feel out his scenes and the music to see if they will "take". I am inclined to believe that the stage has missed a natural born actor with truly histronic qualities.

Fate has seen fit to leave Mr. Dreifuss bald and his constant worry is to keep track of his old hats to wear around the set. One day I heard him complain that Mrs. Dreifuss had thrown out several of his old hats while he was in New York and he meant to hang on to the one he had. He works untiringly and particularly characterized by his quickness of thought and movement and an unselfconscious naturalness.

Dr. Rudolph Brent, Associate Producer, a Doctor of Philosophy, was born in Vienna and has had a colorful career as a newspaper correspondent and photographer and later as producer of educational films for use in schools, universities, etc. Upon meeting Dr. Brent your first impression is of a quiet, almost retiring persons, but you soon learn that he never misses anything and that while he never talks a lot, he has an exceptionally active mind, and when he acts, he acts decisively.

INCH-LONG LASHES

Our dialogue director, William Kent, was once on the vaudeville stage and has been working with Arthur Dreifuss for the past three years. The most outstanding thing about Mr. Kent is his eyelashes, which seem at least an inch long.

Bert Goldberg of International Road Shows, co-producer of "Mystery in Swing" has been in the business of producing colored shows for years and is extremely well qualified for the part he is playing in colored motion picture history. All of the oldtimers in the colored show business call him "Bert".

Personally, I have not enjoyed the few all colored cast pictures that I have seen, because of the usual character of these pictures, but being behind the scenes has given me a different slant on things.

I have felt a pride that for the first time a colored band, led by CeePee Johnson, who must certainly have rhythm in the marrow of his bones, has done the entire musical underscoring for a motion picture. CeePee is tall and magnetic, and walks with a catlike tread.

Through the weeks of casting I had many opportunities of talking to our players and learning of their past experience and future ambitions. I learned how much it was appreciated by the fair-skinned girls that no longer would they be turned away by casting offices with the remark "You're too light." Now, the colored race in all its varying shades may have a chance in motion pictures. It seems that this new angle of colored people in pictures is bringing out the cream of the crop.

"SHOOTING" BEGINS

Finally, came the hub-bub and activity of "shooting" and under the deft touches of the make-up man the people I had known became new people with new and more vibrant personalities as they played parts more as they were or as they hoped to be, instead of as the major white studios have always portrayed them.

I saw one hand, with long tapering fingers, shake as it held a cigarette. The owner was waiting her turn for the make-up man on the first morning. This was her first part in an all-colored motion picture and the biggest role of her career.

There has been a warmth and friendliness through the "shooting" that is quite unlike the usual temperamentality and harsh language I had always heard on a motion picture lot. It has been more like the feeling one gets at graduation or Christmas when there is an electric feeling of excitement and anticipation in the air, and a consequent letting down of icy barriers.

From now on I shan't miss seeing an all-colored cast motion picture, and when I do see one, I shan't cruelly compare it with a major white Class 'A' picture and decide it's no good because it isn't exactly the same. I shall realize that it's a new industry in the making—a new opportunity for youth—and a new era in Colored show business.

Studios Lure Circuses to Film Capital

The Chamber of Commerce probably will shudder individually and en masse on learning this astounding information, but it isn't the climate that today draws a collection of circuses to go into winter quarters in and around Los Angeles. It's the motion picture studios.

The proprietors of the wild animal shows have learned that there is a ready market for their acts in films. What would Johnny Weissmuller be without a flock of lions? What would any Dorothy Lamour film be without monkeys? What would any kind of a show featuring animals be without animals? Nothing, of course.

FILMS OFFER STEADY WORK

So the circuses have discovered that there is a ready rental for beasts of all sorts, shapes, varieties and descriptions during the winter months when they wonder hither and yon about the countryside.

From the mighty elephants, right down to the trained dogs, there is a use for every kind and variety of beast. For example, Charles Laughton and Vivien Leigh form an admirable team in "Sidewalks of London." Under ordinary circumstances, no one could ask for more. But the authors wrote a dog into the picture, so there is need of a trained dog. A mangy-looking Fox terrier is needed—and the circus, filled with such trained animals, supplies it.

Jackie Cooper whips through Paramount's filmization of Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen" without a bit of trouble. But the script calls for a dog—so here comes "Floppit," to join Asta, Rin-Tin-Tin, Boots, Buck and other famous canines.

RIVALS NOAH'S ARK

The demand, of course, isn't confined to dogs. Cecil B. De Mille is looking for a reindeer with a personality to appear in "Northwest Mounted Police." Miss Lamour will toy with "Skippy," a chimpanzee, in "Typhoon." A whole flock of ostriches make an erratic screen debut in 'Adventure in Diamonds."

Jack Benny has publicized "Carmichael," a polar bear, on his radio program, so an actual counterpart of this mythical character appears in "Buck Benny Rides Again." Elephants and lions are prevalent in "Safari," and the all-Technicolor adventure picture, "Dr. Cyclops," has cats, dogs, horses, burros, deer, jaguars and parrots in one scene and another.

A 128-pound Great Dane dashes through "Destiny," while "Boots" and "Saddles," a pair of trained dogs, appear in Emergency Squad."

Singers, Dancers Work in RKO-Radio Film

One-hundred colored singers and dancers under the direction of Benjamin Carter and Leroy Broomfield, worked last week at RKO Radio Studios for scenes in "Irene," screen adaptation of America's most successful musical comedy.

Producer-director Herbert Wilcox selected the talent after extensive tryouts, picked such well known artists as Hattie Noel, the Three Rockets and the Dandridge Sisters (Vivian and Dorothy Dandridge), Etta Jones.

Sequence in which they appear will be the big production number of the picture, climax of a picturization of the course of a song hit around the world. Anna Neagle, star of the production, will introduce "Alice Blue Gown" in ballad tempo, followed by Hawaiian, Chinese and French versions whence songstress Martha Tilton torches it up, tosses it white-hot to Ben Carter, Broomfield and their troupe for a Harlem swing version.

MARIAN ANDERSON

Marian Anderson to Sing at Philharmonic Next Week

The work of a young Negro composer, Florence Price, will be included in the program of Marian Anderson, noted contralto, when she sings here next week. Miss Anderson will be heard at the Philharmonic auditorium in two concerts, next Tuesday evening and the following Sunday afternoon.

Entitled "Song to a Dark Virgin," Miss Price's composition will be sung in an American group on the Sunday afternoon concert. Miss Anderson was quoted recently as wishing to include more works by modern writers in her repertoire.

A heavy demand for seats for both Anderson concerts was reported from the Philharmonic box office this week. L. E. Behymer is the impressario. Kosti Vehanen, distinguished Finnish composer-pianist, will accompany the contralto.

On Tuesday evening's program, Miss Anderson will sing three works by Handel, five by Schubert, two by Vehanen, one by Bizet, Sadero and Ravel. She will conclude her program with four spirituals with arrangements by Hall Johnson, Harry T. Burleigh and Lawrence Brown.

Music Corporation Returns Check to "Mr. Universal"

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15—At loss as to how to book the money, the Remick Music corporation this week returned to a Divine follower in Los Angeles, a check for $6.00, sent the corporation in payment for music "stolen" several years ago.

Last week, the corporation bookkeeper received a letter, inclosing the check, in which the Divinite, signing himself, "Mr. Universay," confessed that as an orchestra leader several years ago, he received "professional copies (of music) and other copies from your Los Angeles office under false pretenses."

"In other words," the letter went on, "I lied to get the music which I now consider was nothing less than stealing since coming into the Knowledge and under the influence of Father Divine's teachings."

The corporation said it had no "conscience fund" and ordered the money returned.

Rochester Without Black Birthmark, Upsetting Jack Benny, Phil Harris

Looking for a needle in a haystack today depreciated to a more minor chore by comparison with the task which was confronted Jack (Buck) Benny and his pal, Phil Harris, during the filming of "Buck Benny Rides Again" for Paramount.

They've been searching, it seems, for a dark birthmark which Eddie (Rochester) Anderson assures them he bears upon his features.

JULES BLEDSOE TELLS WHY SINGERS USE WHITE ACCOMPANISTS

Most Negro Pianists Lack Training or Want to Hog Show, Says Noted Baritone

NEW YORK CITY, Feb. 15. (ANP)—Jules Bledsoe, considered by many critics both in this country and abroad as one of the world's most magnificent baritones, gave his analysis this week of a question which has been controversial among music lovers for a number of years: "Why does the Negro artist employ white accompanists?"

Describing the question as "one loaded with dynamite and one which he would prefer not to discuss," Bledsoe, in an exclusive interview, said that he had had to answer it many times since his highly successful Town Hall recital here on Jan. 28. On that occasion, the artist used Sanford Schussel, white, as his accompanist.

Use of Mr. Schussel was all the more noticeable in Bledsoe's case since at his last Town Hall recital, he employed Carl Ditton, well-known in Negro music circles.

Stating that almost without exception, Negro artists appearing on the concert stage at the present time—use white accompanists, the noted baritone said that he knew that he would be wrong if he tried to answer the question "and if I don't try to answer, I'm still wrong."

TWO REASONS

There could be only two reasons possible for this state of affairs, he said, firstly, prejudice against Negro accompanists and secondly, the superior facility of the white accompanists.

"The first premise we will dismiss as without foundation," Mr. Bledsoe commented.

"I am certain that every one of the artists in question would gladly employ an accompanist of his own race if one could be found who was as fully prepared for his line as the artist to be accompanied."

"The natural process of elimination and the survival of the fittest are just as immutable facts in art as they are in life itself. There can be no doubt that the white pianist has, through years of association and purposeful planning and directed effort, gained a very deep insight into song literature.

"The fact that all Negro singers have to spend years in white studios studying the white man's music under white vocal masters, to the accompaniment of a white pianist, has some weight."

Every vocal master, the singer explained, either plays himself or had an expert pianist who knows intimately all great music written for voice and has a firm grasp of the true meaning and mood of the music regardless of the language employed.

"These pianists," Mr. Bledsoe declared, "have trained for this and have made it their avocation—their chosen career. They have worked as hard at the art of accompanying as the solo artist has in his field. The understanding of the vocal text, no matter what the language, is as important to the pianist as to the singer."

The Negro pianist, the artist commented, has ample technique, but has only considered accompanying as a secondary art, or 'as one might say, something to fall back on when all else has failed."

"When I first started out in the concert field," he continued, "I used white accompanists, but in recent years, I have tried to employ those of my own race. My latest attempt was in employing the services of Mr. Diton. I am sorry to say that he was not an exception to the rule."

He declared that he could never tell beforehand whether Mr. Diton would give a cold, inaccurate performance or not.

"Despite my generous treatment, Mr. Bledsoe observed, "I always felt that I had an enemy in the camp. There were instances when Mr. Diton would play out phrases too long for anything that breathed but a camel, thus always placing the singer on trial, seeing just how much punishment the singer's art and wind could stand playing bad notes in songs he didn't like."

Marching Men in Current Films

Hollywood being what it is, it isn't surprising that recent films today show a definite trend towards wars and soldiers. Not, with some rare exceptions, the present conflicts raging in Finland, France and China, but wars in general.

For war is in the air, as well as in the newspapers and the radio, and pictures about war have a jump at the box office. The tramp of marching feet can be heard in Hollywood just as clearly as it is along the Maginot line.

"Gone With the Wind" of course, is a ready example. There were plenty of soldiers in that one, representing both North and South.

Tommies vs. Fuzzy-Wuzzies

William A. Wellman, who recently glorified the French Foreign Legion in "Beau Geste" is about to spring another one on an anticipatory public. This is Rudyard Kipling's "The Light That Failed," which is about an artist, but which none the less has the British Tommies doing right well for themselves against the Fuzzy-Wuzzies in one of England's numerous Sudan campaigns.

Rogers' Rangers came into their own in "Northwest Passage," and General Herkimer's Revolutionary militia saw action in "Drums Along the Mohawk". "The Fighting Sixty-Ninth" and "Seventh Cavalry", as their titles indicate, wave the flag for various American army units. And "The Greater Glory" dealt with the American army in the Philippines.

Indians Feature

"Geronimo!" tells the story of that famous Indian's war with the United States. Vincent Sheehan's "Personal History" soon is to go into production with Chinese, Riffs and other soldiery in action.

Cecil B. De Mille will bring uniforms to the fore with "North West Mounted Police".

All of this warlike activity is of great interest to the extra ranks and to the technical advisors. Each different type of war, or army, requires a different type of maneuver. There is a man in Hollywood for every war ever fought. Either he took part in it, or is an expert on the subject.

When Wellman made "The Light Failed", he took Captain J. R. Durham-Mathews of the Irish Guards, with him to New Mexico. There the 11th Cavalry and the 120th Engineers of the New Mexico National Guard, were hired to depict British soldiers and natives. Capt. Durham-Mathews gave the technical advice on the historic British Square attack and counter attack which lends authenticity.

The Los Angeles WPA Colored Chorus is a unit of the Southern California WPA Music Project. Dr. Karl Wecker, recently brought to Los Angelesto head the project, says, regarding the Negro choristers . . . Borican Beats Woodruff to Set New Boston A. A. 1000-Yard Mark BOSTON, Feb. 15. (ANP)—Johnny Borican, 1939 indoor flash, beat Johnny Woodruff, world's fastest half miler at 1000 yards Saturday night but he had to set a new Boston record of 2:12 to do it before 15,304 spectators at the 51st annual Boston A. A. games.

Borican took the lead after the third lap and won by two yards. His winning time was six tenths of a second faster than the mark he set last year.

Jimmy Herbert of New York U. lost by a yard in the Hollis 600 to Charlie Beetham in 1:12.6. Herbert Thompson captured the Briggs 50 yard dash for the second year in 5.4 seconds.

Armstrong Hopes to Start Writing Career on Garcia

Henry Armstrong, imbued with literary aspirations, hopes to start his writing career on Feb. 22 at Gilmore Stadium—his opus, "How I Won My Fourth World Title," he yearns to write, with gloves, on the sombre puss of Ceferino Garcia, middleweight champion.

Henry is in deadly earnest about this writing business. He has in mind a book to be entitled: "When the Crowd Stops Roaring."

The earnest little Negro isn't the first to soar on the wings of Pegasus—the first ring champion, that is. Gene Tunney wrote a book. In fact, he even read one. The erudite marine wrote: "A Man Must Fight"—though one unkind critic, a gym lowbrow, once said: "How the hell did HE know? He did more runnin' than fightin'!"

Jim Corbett's "Roar of the Crowd" made interesting reading. Frank Klaus collaborated with an English writer on a treatise devoted to body-punching, but it was rather dry and technical. The late Jimmy Britt often got credit—or debit—for writing "The Kid's Last Fight," which he didn't.

Ham-and-egg fighters often became good writers—but not vice versa. Charles "Socker" Coe could handle his mitts a bit; Jim Tully admits to palooka ranking. Over in England, Jeffery Farnol, author of "The Amateur Gentleman," and "Beltane the Smith," and other popular novels, had some fame as an amateur boxer.

Fidel La Barba collaborated on "Susannah of the Mounties," a recent Shirley Temple picture. Kid McCoy is writing "Ten Lives in One." Jack Dempsey dropped $22.000 publishing a fight magazine—readers couldn't picture the great Manassa Mauler as a literateur.

The very literate and articulate Paul Gallico—"Farewell to Sports"—proved very illiterate and inarticulate with boxing gloves. He was Dempsey's sparring partner once. Only once. It was the kid's First and Last appearance in that capacity. Frank Mastro, boxing writer for the Chicago Tribune, was a better-than-average pro. He's Earl Mastro's brother.

Mike Jacobs All for Armstrong Meeting Garcia

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (ANP)—Last obstacle to the Henry Armstrong-Ceferino Garcia middleweight title bout scheduled for Los Angeles next Thursday, Feb. 22, was removed Friday when Promoter Mike Jacobs withdrew his objections.

Jacobs previously had threatened legal action against the Hollywood legion post for making the match. It is believed he changed his mind because A. Hostak. NBA middleweight king, was defeated and suffered a hand injury in Chicago recently. Jacobs had intended to match Garcia and Hostak to clear up the title muddle but Hostak will be out of action for at least two months.

Thompson Wins All-Negro Finals

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—All the finalists in the 60-meter dash, feature of the Milrose Games at Madison Square Garden last week, were Negroes. Herbert Thompson of Jersey City was first; Norwood Ewell of Penn State, second; Eulace Peacock of Shore A. C., third; and Thomas Casey of New York Pioneer club, fourth. The winner's time was 0:06.3. Fourth place winner Casey was barely two feet behind Thompson.

Blackburn Will Answer Tunney

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—"Joe has too many guns to let loose on any challenger like Dempsey," said Trainer Jack Blackburn of the recent series of articles by Gene Tunney, in which it was asserted Jack Dempsey would have beaten Joe Louis.

"I will answer the Tunney article in a few weeks," Blackburn promised.

Mozelle Ellerbe Enters Nat'l AAU Meet

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—The entry of Mozelle Ellerbe, formerly of Tuskegee, has been received for the National AAU track and field championships at Madison Square Garden, Feb. 24.

Ellerbe will compete in the 60-yard dash against the fastest indoor sprinters. The runners will be shooting at the meet record of 6.2 seconds, set in 1926 by Albert Francisco and later tied by Chet Bowman and Emmett Toppino.

Elerbe made his debut in indoor track at the AAU championships last year. Lack of familiarity with the boards held him back, it was believed.

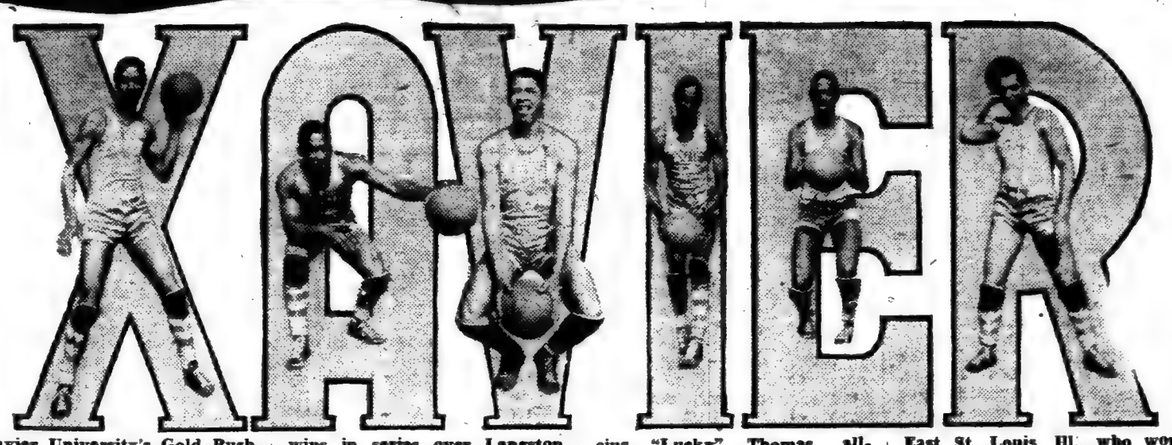
HEAD OF THE CLASS



The most scholastically distinguished movie lot in Hollywood is Paramount, with Joel McCrea, a Phi Beta Kappa from Pomona College, as lead in Cecil B. DeMille's "Northwest Mounted Police," and Jean Cagney, a Phi Beta Kappa from Hunter College, in a featured role with Blanche Yurka, Ralph Bellamy and Bill Henry in "The Woman From Hell."

Henry on Hank-Garcia Bout Card

Yancey Henry, one of the coast's better - than - average heavyweights, is slated for a spot on the Armstrong-Garcia middleweight championship card at Gilmore stadium next Thursday night, it was learned this week.

Henry's chief claim to fame to date is the fact that he proved to be one of heavyweight champion Joe Louis' best sparring partners when the latter trained here for the Jack Roper bout a while back.

Sports XAVIER

Xavier University's Gold Rush cagers of Louisiana have established a record which makes them the outstanding claimant of the national cage title. The Xavierites have held the SIAC and Dixie championships by virtue of victory in the SIAC annual tournament and wins in series over Langston University, Southwest Conference champions during the past two years. They are, left to right: X-Frank "Blotto" Crozier, all-SIAC forward of '39 who hails from Chicago, Ill.; A-Edgar "Hearts" Reeves of Los Angeles, Calif.; V-Lucius "Lucky" Thomas, all-SIAC guard of '39 who hails from Chicago, Ill.; I-Wince "Champ" King, all-SIAC center of '39 who hails from Los Angeles, Calif.; E-James 'Wimpy' Hall of Chicago, Ill.; and Allen "Chuck" Summers of East St. Louis, Ill., who won all-American honors on the first team of the Scott News Syndicate (Atlanta Daily World) at end, guard, and center, and was recognized as the outstanding grid lineman of the year.

GODOY FARCE MAY AID 'BOMBER' FINANCIALLY; JOE IS NOT SLIPPING

Costs Champion $1,000 Weekly to Live; Chilean Won't Have Easy Time Again

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (By Albert Anderson for ANP) — That farcical heavyweight championship bout between Joe Louis and Arturo Godoy of Chile in Madison Square Garden Friday night, during which boxing rules took a sound beating, may eventually be a big help to the ever-needy Louis purse.

True, Joe Louis has made more than a million dollars in the ring and sollected $32,848 for his 15 round title bout last week, but it is no secret on Cauliflower Row that it costs the champion more than $1,000 weekly to live. A king is expected to live like a king or else lose caste and consequently opportunity to make cash in the sporting world, and bighearted Joe has a large family and expensive tastes—such as a string of thoroughbred riding horses and occasionally a softball team—to keep up.

It so happens that after several fights in which the champion easily disposes of his opponents, public interest wanes in his next matches. He was considered unbeatable when he met Max Schmeling the first time and the gate suffered. Because of the defeat, interest mounted in his next matches to see whether he could come back. After the Tommy Farr fight, the public was curious to know whether he was slipping.

By blasting everything aside since then, Louis was for the first time unable to draw a $100,000 house Friday in the garden. John Q. Phan didn't believe the South American had a chance. But now that Godoy did make such an excellent showing, interest will mount in the next Louis bouts and a return match with the Chilean may mean a million dollar outdoor gate with some $400,000 to the Brown Bomber.

FARCE

That Friday's fight was a farce and violated the rules was quite evident. The very first rule of the Marquis of Queensberry Boxing code reads, "It shall be a fair, stand up fight." Boxing rules also say that when a fighter's gloves touch the canvas, he is technically "down." New York boxing rules state that when a man is "down" three times in one round, the referee can stop the fight.

Godoy imitated a gent hunting a dime on the floor of a dark room thus violating the Queensberry code. In the 14th round he bent so low his gloves touched the canvas three distinct times and Referee Arthur Donovan once brushed them off. He would have been within his legal rights had he stopped the bout, but of course there's no telling what the fans would have done. The knock down counting referee at the ringside did not stand up to start count as he was required to do when Arturo's gloves touched the canvas The 14th round farce was made complete when Godoy clinched and planted akiss on Joe's rather surprised and embarrassed face.

LOUIS NO BUM

However, failure of the Brown Bomber to kayo or even knockdown the challenger does not indicate he is slipping. There is no reason why Louis should be expected to knockout everybody he faces in a few rounds or be called a "bum". Even the greatest of former heavyweights battled up to 75 rounds or more and stilled retained popular respect.

Jack Dempsey, with whom Joe is constantly being compared had plenty of trouble at his peak with one Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, Mont., in 1923. Gibbons, really a lightheavyweight, less durable than Godoy and without the latter's punch, fought the deadly Manassa Mauler for 15 rounds and was standing when the last bell rang. It was simply impossible for Dempsey to land his best blows, just as Louis found it Friday night. Gibbons forced and held, while Godoy made a point of climbing up Joe's thighs and holding.

The Chilean may not expect so easy a time of it at their next meeting. Cagey Jack Blackburn will probably spend the next few months preparing Joe for just such a situation as that of Friday, and Louis will probably have revenge burning within just as his second bout with Schmeling. Louis also knows Godoy can't hurt him, for when the challenger insisted on slugging after the bell in one of the middle rounds, Joe dropped his guard and started walking to his corner without changing expression although Godoy landed several Sunday punches on the champion's chin.

Crouch Meets Boxing Master In Latka

Georgie Crouch, up until Tuesday night, was the greatest boxing stylist on the Pacific coast. He has given up the appellation, however, to one George Latka who serves as boxing tutor of the Santa Clara university Broncs.

Professor Latka gave Georgie a boxing lesson at the Olympic to easily win referee Reggie Gilmore's 10-round decision.

Elmer Lewis nodded Gene Mock in the six-round semi and, in the fours: Billy Latka hung up an easy win over clowning Bert Valesquez; Johhny Grady looked good in shading Nick Castor; Bob Brown stopped O. C. Loftus in a round; and Hindu Flee TKOed Clash Clinton in the third of the curtain-raiser.

Philco Refrigerator Handled on Eastside by West Pico Co.

JUAN RAY

Excitement reigns at the Central Avenue West Pico Furniture Company store, 25th and Central, as it is revealed that the revolutionary new Philco Refrigerator is to be handled exclusively in this district by the firm.

Comparable to a newspaper "scoop" in the furniture business, the West Pico exclusive has salesmen in a dither with purchases hitting new highs.

Virtues of the new refrigerator are apparently limitless, as Juan Ray, youthful West Pico executive, pointed out that in addition to many innovations, the Philco box sells for as much as $50.00 less than the best refrigerators of the past.

Among outstanding features of the new cooling unit is Philco's patented advanced design evaporator which boasts two complete freezing chambers. One for fast freezing of ice; the other for packaged frozen foods, ice cream or frozen desserts.

Another prominent "talking point" of Philco salesmen is the "Conservador," a sort of extra door with room for storage. It supplies 26% more usable space, and is exclusive with Philco.

Foods that need dry cold are amply provided for by a special compartment built into the box for that purpose. Physicians have pointed out that no refrigerator is completely safe and healthful unless it has such a compartment.

Wonders never cease, it appears, since Philco also offers a Moist Cold Compartment, dedicated to the well-being of cooked meats and left-over vegetables. The compartment preserves the comodation, covers for foods taste, flavor, color and juices of these foods. With this unusual acwhich shriveled if left exposed, are no longer needed! Official title of this innovation is, appropriately, "The Freshner Shelf." Plated with aluminum, the shelf cools foods faster, by direct contact.

High in spirit over the 25th and Central West Pico store there waves a banner: "Philco—The Most Complete Prefrigerator Ever Built!"

According to a New York City College professor, the 'dese and dose' lingo which is usually associated with gangsters and rowdies, is really a form of baby talk. He claims that many New Yorkers don't have a chance to learn to talk properly because of noise and nervous tension. Maybe the professor's right, and the language is baby talk—but if you happen to meet a burly, gun-packing hoodlum in a dark alley and he says, "Okay, punk, reach fer d' sky before dese rods start doing me talking' "—don't make the mistake of offering the baby talker a nice big lollypop.

In Massachusetts, while John MacKenzie was sleeping, someone stole his bagpipe. Probably somebody else making sure of a litle sleep.

And speaking of sleep-it's funny that so many Los Angeles folks are asleep to the virtues of good domestic and imported wines. Hard liquors have their place but nothing takes the place of Burgundies, Clarets, Rieslings or Sauternes with dinner and a glass of port or sherry is always a good appetizer or "pick me up" at any time. You want the best selection so why not go to the House of Morgan, 2719 Central Avenue?

Ewell Again Sets World 50-Yd. Mark

Penn State Soph Breaks Tape 2 Yds. Ahead of Peacock

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15. (ANP)—Norwood "Barney" Ewell, slender Penn State sophomore who is seriously gunning for the "world's fastest human" crown, again set a new world mark for the 50 yard dash in 5 seconds flat at the third annual Penn A. C. track meet at Convention Hall Friday night before 8,500.

Last year Ewell won the event in 5.1, figures that never received recognition. The world mark, 5.2 seconds, was set in 1915 by Joe Loomis of Chicago. It is believed Ewell's Friday night time will be accepted. He beat Eulace Peacock by two yards in his record breaking attempt.

Ed Gordon, Jr., who still rolls along like "Ol' Man River", was second in the 50 yard high hurdles. He represented the Grand Street Boys association.

The ASTROLOGER
To Assist You In Making Wise Decisions

Specialized Study of Your Personal Problems

AQUARIUS, Jan. 20 to Feb. 19.

If you are one of the persons born under this sign, you have great possibilities in the professional field. But you are inclined toward leisurely habits, and it will require a strong incentive to force you into action. When you have once made up your mind, you will be firm in your determination.

Behind an outer strength you conceal a deep, quiet and sensitiveness. Disappointments will not bring from you either bitterness or complaint. You will be too dignified to stoop to an ordinary quarrel.

In disposition you will be gentle and even tempered, affable and free, though somewhat quiet in manner, and anxious for the good opinions of others.

April and August are your lucky months and Saturday your most auspicious day. Marriage to persons born under the sign of Leo, should be favorable. The Tulip and Daffodil are your lucky flowers, and if you wear a Sapphire or Garnet, they will bring you happiness.

If you are interested in knowing your future as revealed by the Stars and Planets, write Prof. Herman, today.

G. L. W.—Dear Prof., I received my Charm Bag on the 4th of November, and on the 4th of this month the Charm Bag is due to be changed for a Double Strength one. I cannot thank you enough for suggesting that it would help me. I received blessings and will never be without one.

E. B.—What do you suggest as an occupation for me?

Ans.—It appears to me that you are endowed with great possibilities along the art of Cosmetology, and you should direct your studying along that line.

E,G,—Will my husband and I go back together?

Ans.—Probing into this affair it seems that your greatest trouble during your married life has been the lack of confidence in each other. If you can overcome this, and try to understand each other, than a reconciliation is adviseable, and will occur in the near future.

L. M. D.—What does the future hold for me?

Ans.—My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals a very successful future for you. You are destined to have unusual luck within the next few weeks and the plans that you have uppermost in your mind will be fulfilled.

R. L. J.—How did I lose my purse the other day?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question the answer I find is that your purse was stolen from you while you were shopping Tuesday. The person that took it was a young boy. Be very careful from now on how you hold your pocketbook, and do not display large sums of money in public.

M. P.—I am certainly surprised at the results I have obtained from using the Prayer and Meditation Combination and only hope that others are taking advantage of this wonderful product. It has brought much peace and contentment into my heart and gives me courage to keep on. May you always be able to continue helping others.

G. H.—Will I be able to make a success out of my invention?

Ans.—It comes to me that yor are in for a great surprise as your patent is really going over. It takes time to accomplish anything worth while, so do not become discouraged.

C. C.—Please tell me where I can find my pet?

Ans.—The answer I find regarding your question is that your pet was stolen, and the person took it out of the city to sell it. I advise you to get license, if you decide to buy another one.

B. Y. R.—I have been sick for a long time and the doctor's advice is to have an operation. Do you think that I should?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question, it seems to me that the best plan is to follow your doctor's wishes. He would not prescribe anything that would not be for your best interest.

A. T. F.—Would it be wise to go to my brother's in the spring if my health permits?

Ans.—It appears to me that it would help you in more ways than one if you went there. Your life is rather lonely and he would help to bring happiness into your life. And your health would be better there.

They carried a rope and a little while afterward, mobsters on the outside seized the line and began tugging and hauling, finally tearing the women from their cell. They were shoved into waiting automobiles and taken to Stockton, where the rescue was made hours later by state troopers.

Appreciation

To my many friends who were so kind to me during my recent illness, I am very grateful. The beautiful cards, flowers, tokens, prayers, and kind thoughts, all of which helped me to improve, I deeply appreciate;

My kind neighbors, who were so thoughtful of me, I too shall never forget.

I am very happy to say, I am improving nicely, and, ask your prayers that I may fully recover.

settled, the seven members of his group went to the rear of a gas station at 23rd and Central to drink wine. He said his group then broke up and when he tried to catch a street car, having to pass Waters' "gang" in doing so, he was shot in the leg.

Watson reportedly told police that he was a bystander. He had been sitting in a cafe and ran out to see what was happening when he was shot. He stated, "Goldie's brother Edward Waters did the shooting". He is in General hospital.

Reconstructing the stabbing and shooting, Central Homicide Detail officers Corsini and Hudson state they believe the Waters boys and Ferguson headed for Willow Springs, in a sedan, immediately following the tragedy.

According to Ventura county officials Goldie and Edward Waters had only recently been in a CCC camp.

The officers said no information had been unearthed as to who actually stabbed Peniger. Coroner's inquest into his death will be held this morning at 10 o'clock.

"THAT MAN Sampson" was thrown on the screen at Thomas Jefferson High School auditorium Friday afternoon for the delectation or rejection of the principal and faculty of that institution as a part of its educational program.

After quietly viewing the picture, which lasted about half an hour, Principal Dickinson was first to speak against its use as part of the school works program.

Personally—while the photography and the singing of the Hall Johnson choir were well done—I see in the production a conglomeration of scenes from "Run, Lil Chillun" and "Green Pasture:" which leaves "Sampson" plenty strong, but pointless. And I am wondering by what process of deduction one arrives at the conclusion that such a presentation could be of educational value in a system so far removed from the scenes, customs and even the psychology which the play meanly attempts to revive.

Connally Tries to Scare Witnesses

Wiley, of Wisconsin. Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York, Senator Van Nuys and Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas were present, co-authors of the bill.

ANGERS TEXAN

As the first witness before the committee on Tuesday, Dr. Raper aroused the wrath of Senator Connally, when the research director of the Interracial Commission asserted that when a Negro kills a white man in the South, most southerners believe that no matter what the provocation, the Negro has no right to kill a white man and therefore has no chance of being freed of such a crime.

Expressing angry amazement that a southern white man could make such a statement, Senator Connally peppered the witness with detailed questions as to his salary, who sent him to testify, and who paid his expenses to and from Washington. In an effort to discredit Dr. Raper's testimony, and to prove that the states are capable of combating the crime of lynching, without the aid of Federal legislation, Connally placed in the record, figures on instances of prevented lynchings. He announced that this information was supplied him by Mrs. Jessie Daniel Ames, president of the Southern Women's Association for the Prevention of lynching.

EPISCOPAL RECTOR TESTIFIES

Opening his testimony with the statement, "I have come here as a Christian to testify," the Rev. Marmion told the committee of his experience in attempting to put down a lynching in Eagle Lake, Texas, in 1935, by standing on the running board of his automobile and appealing to the mob to let the law take its course. For trying to save the lives of the two Negro boys, who later died as victims of this lynch mob, Dr. Marmion said he himself was threatened with being lynched.

The Episcopal rector said he was pastoring a church in Eagle Lake at the time. "When I got there," he said, "the mob had the rope around the neck of one of the boys. I was threatened myself when I appealed to the mob to let the law take its course." Dr. Marmion said the leading citizens of the town including members of the local chamber of commerce, a judge and the prosecuting attorney, defended the lynching.

COLLEGE PREXY "LYNCHED"

Dr. Porter, Wiley J. C. president, threw a bombshell into the hearing when he answered Senator Connally's challenge to "name a single unpublicized lynching in 1938," with the reply, "My own."

Dr. Porter pointed to the fact that he was injured when he was thrown bodily down the steps of the Dallas, Texas, courthouse in 1938, by a mob after he had insisted on his constitutional right of serving on a jury. The crowded caucus room applauded the college president's answer.

Moss-back Republicans on the ern shores of our great nation e suddenly discovered that mili- Thomas E. Dewey, New York idential candidate, is far too ng to seek such high office.

is held by these sagacious ob- ers that Mr. Dewey has not garn- d sufficient experience in "nation- olitics" to function as an effec- administrator. He is too, too UNG!

Perhaps it is best to admit at the t that youth is a rank offense to ertain type Old-Guard Republican ler any circumstances; and most tainly become unspeakably horri- in a GOP presidential candidate. s is a fact sad but true. However, s comforting to point out that this e Republican is fast loosing und in the party and will soon be igned to the mantel shelf as a ven- ble, if amusing memory.

But all Dewey-youth opposition does not emanate from the die-hards; some of it comes to us legitimately from Republicans who genuinely fear the New York D. A.'s lack of experience in "political strategy". To these worried individuals, we might put the question "So what?" Is it not a fact that "national politics" have strangled the New Deal, which was essentially a beneficial program. Is it not a fact that "national politics" is responsible for two thirds the administrative funk now extant in our federal agencies? Is it not a fact that "national politics" is the God to which untold millions of U S. cash has been sacrificed during the past seven years?

In which case it would appear that Mr. Dewey's lack of knowledge at this point is a vital asset rather than liability.

Bridges Burns Bridges

Another gent with his chapeau firmly in the GOP presidential ring, Senator H. Styles Bridges, of New Hampshire, recently uttered a series of scorching statements on the Senate floor which must have left Senators Smith, Connally, Bilbo, et al suffering with sun stroke.

Blasting the U. S. War Department for its "apparent contempt for laws enacted by Congress," Sen. Bridges scored the autocratic conduct of the department in discriminating against Negroes in the matter of military training in aviation.

Sen. Brdges, introducing a letter into the Congressional Record received by Frank S. Reed, jr., of Chicago, from Major J. G. Breckinridge concerning facilities for aviation training for Negroes, charged that the War Department had flagrantly evaded the law which specifically provdies against discrimination against Negroes and demanded to know where the blame for such action should be placed.

Senator Bridges' blast occured during a report by Sen. Thomas of Oklahoma (note), on a 30,000 mile tour of military posts during which the latter expressed high praise for the training of colored soldiers he reviewed in Southern Arizona.

"I have seen many reviews, and we saw reviews throughout the United States," declared Sen. Thomas, "but the colored detachment at this fort located in Southern Arizona put on the best review I have ever seen."

Sen. Bridges, securing Sen. Thomas' consent to interpose a point, then rose and delivered his scathing denunciation of the War Department's policy which, he said, constituted outright flaunting of legislation passed by Congress.

Pointing out that Negroes had been specifically mentioned in the military appropriation act of April 3, 1939, the measure setting up the C. A. A. training courses, in order to prohibit just such discriminations," Sen. Bridges asserted:

"I think this is rather a serious thing. I am in sympathy with these appropriations and the general purpose of this bill for national defense, but I should like to have it a matter of official record that the law was passed. It was passed with certain stringent regulations concerning non-discrimination."

. . . It is a fact that Sen. Bridges is an erstwhile presidential candidate; it is also probable in making these statements he was not totally unmindful of the balance of power held by black voters in eleven key states of our great union. But, whatever the underlying reasons, it is a comforting quotation to come to Afro-America from the floor of our highest legislative body.

The LAUNDRY MAN

By Caldwell Jones

The words of John L. Lewis, militant president of the United Mine Workers of America, as given to a Pittsburgh Courier reporter last week are worthy of sober thought and study by all earnest Negro leaders. He said:

"There is one thing I would suggest to Negroes and leaders in general, and that is that they pay more attention to the Social and Economic questions rather than devote all their time and energy to politics alone." (I wish he had added religion and Secret Orders to his roster.)

"It is now up to the leaders of the group to devote some attention to these pressing problems; for only after this fundamental economic structure has been built, can effective political action (or any other group action) be organized. BREAD COMES BEFORE CULTURE. After all, a man, whether he be Negro or white MUST FIRST OF ALL EARN A LIVING. As I told the preachers at the Ohio Pastor's Convention last week, a man has to eat before he can be a Christian."

In these words, Mr. Lewis has driven straight to the core of the so-called Negro problem in this country. IT IS ECONOMIC, ECONOMIC, first, last and always ECONOMIC. Dumped unceremoniously into the midst of an alien civilization—for which we had no previous background of preparation—we have made the colossal mistake of adopting the White Man's Standard of Living while lacking the Economic base upon which his standard is reared. We are trying vainly to accomplish by LEVITATION, what he has achieved by intelligent thrift, business acumen and a realistic knowledge of the tremendous POWER of accumulated Capital.

THRIFT, by the way, is simply the ability to so manage that one SPENDS less than one EARNS, and only by Thrift can our group lay a stable foundation for the erection of decent standards of living. Lest I be misunderstood, I will pause to state just here that I do not mean that we should plod humbly along and not put up a fight for equality of opportunity and decent wages. On the contrary, I am convinced that no submerged group can attain its rights without a bitter struggle. But just as no army can fight very long without a supply base, just so no individual or group can wage a successful fight for their rights if they have no reserves of CASH to sustain them during the melee. Neither a "broke" man nor a "broke" group are in position to stage a successful strike against any sort of injustice. The inexorable pressure of "NEED" would so distract them that they would be unable to present the Unity of thought and action necessary to win their desired objective.

A sane, economic Standard of Living, based upon OUR earning capacity, rather than upon the American white man's standard, is the crying need of our group today. It is the only sure method by which, through the accumulation of Almighty Capital, we can build a solid, economic foundation which will serve us as a Maginot Line in our fight for equal rights and equal opportunity in America.

Mr. Carter G. Woodson writing in the Pittsburgh Courier this week, made a slurring remark about Los Angeles which aroused my dander. In speaking about Negro History week, he said:

"The club in a large Eastern city which will have a great feast and serve food and drinks in abundance; some ladies in a western city who will concentrate on a fashionable tea, etc; and another circle in Los Angeles which will open with a Chitterling supper, all these will have missed the real point of the celebration."

Just where Mr. Woodson got the idea that Chitterlings are indigenous to Los Angeles is quite beyond me. Although born and raised in a small Southern city, the first and most imposing array of Chitterlings and other Hog-accessories I ever saw, was at Pig-foot Mary's Hog-emporium on Lenox Avenue in the large Eastern city of New York. In the great Western city of Chicago, where this writer resided for some years, Chitterlings were as plentiful as oranges in California. Perhaps though, Mr. Woodson was on "Chitterling Time" when he was in our city—if he ever was here. We sincerely hope that he will meet the "Right People" on his next visit.

FEW NEGROES MOVE TO SOUTHERN STATES

The 1930 Census showed that less than 1 percent of the colored persons living in the South at that time had moved there from other sections of the country. It also showed that more than 58 percent of the colored people living in the North and West were born in the South. The 1940 Census, which begins April 1, may reveal a new trend in Negro migration from section to section.

TRAFFIC VICTIM'S BODY SHIPPED EAST

• LIBRARY BOOK NOTES

Courtesy Vernon Branch Public Library, 4504 So. Vernon.

Among the new books recently received at the Vernon Branch library are several which we feel sure will be of general interest. Thy are: "Moses, Man of the Mountains" by Zora Hurston, "Land Below the Wind" by Agnes Newton Keith, "African Intrigue" by Alfred Batson, and two novels in a light vein, "Sown among Thorns" by Ethel M. Dell, and "Station Wagon Set" by Faith Baldwin Cuthrell.

Of "Moses, Man of the Mountain" one reviewer says: "This life of Moses, the greatest and most fascinating character in the Old Testament, is more than a biography. Zora Hurston in her inimitable way treats the great leader from the point of view of the American Negro—as the great "Voodoo Man" of the Bible. Although her story follows closely the facts as far as known, this distinguished young author brings to Moses' life all the characteristic brilliance she showed in her previous books, "Mules and Men," "Tell My Horse," etc.

"Land Below the Wind" is a delightful story of the four years spent by the American wife of a British civil servant in the jungles of N rth Borneo. Mrs. Keith writes with a keen delight in all phases of her strange life in this out-of-the-way part of the world. Her trip into the jungle with her husband and his native helpers is fraught with adventure. The book is delightfully illustrated with drawing by the author.

FRENCH W. AFRICA

"African Intrigue" by Alfred Batson, is the story of the expedition headed by four unnamed men, sent into French West Africa by Germany in 1911. It is a time when France is peculiarly alone on the European stage—Russia has been defeated by Japan—Great Britian is indifferent. Germany, playing for big stakes, sends a "big-game" expedition into Africa. Before long the status of the big-game hunters becomes that of spies—they go deeper and deeper into French territory—Berlin never hears from them again. Here is their story, told for the first time.

Ethel M. Dell and Faith Baldwin Cuthrell are perennially popular among those readers who want something light and entertaining. Their new books are just as good reading as usual. "Station Wagon Set" is a tale of those gay sophisticates who spend their week-ends at the country homes of former city-dwellers, complete with gossip, intrigue and lively conversation. "Sown Among Thorns" is the story of lovely Anthea Reed, who was faced with the necessity of deciding whether to go out to India, or stay at home to care for her ailing father.

• OTHER PAPERS SAY

Frederick Douglass; Abraham Lincoln

(From The Baltimore Afro American)

Why did Frederick Douglass, the greatest colored America, say of Abraham Lincoln, the greatest white American:

"Abraham Lincoln was not in the fullest sense of the word, either our man or our model. In his interests, in his associations, in his habits of thought, and in his prejudices, he was a white man."

Why did he? Well, as Al Smith says, let's look at the record and from it recite one incident that is illuminating.

It happened seventy-seven years ago, back in the early part of 1863, when Lincoln, not so certain that he could win the Civil War, ordered the enlistment of colored troops, at lower pay than whites, and forbade use of colored men as officers.

Frederick Douglass was one of the unofficial recruiters who not only went from place to place urging colored men to enlist, but put two of his sons in Massachusetts regiments and sent them to the front.

The South howled its head off at Lincoln's move. Putting a gun in the hands of ex-slaves meant the encouragement of desertion of thousands of Southern slaves who up to that time had been loyal. The Confederate government ordered that white officers commanding colored troops should never be taken as prisoners but put to death, and word spread that the same fate was in store for colored soldiers themselves.

At this point, Douglass went to Washington for a conference with President Lincoln.

While receiving Douglass cordially, Lincoln would not agree to equalize the pay of the soldiers, nor to retaliate by hanging Confederates if the rebels hanged Union prisoners, nor would he agree to commission qualified colored men as officers or promote those who distinguished themselves on the field of battle.

But Lincoln noted regretfully that neither slaves nor freedmen were enlisting in the Union armies as rapidly as he hoped, and urged Douglass to do something about it.

Very probably at Lincoln's suggestion, Douglass left the White House immediately for a conference with Secretary of War Stanton and agreed to accept a commission as assistant adjutant to General Lorenzo Thomas, white, then recruiting in the Mississippi Valley.

Douglass returned to his home in Rochester, N. Y., and waited; no commission arrived. He wrote to the War Department, and was asked to report to General Thomas.

Why did Lincoln and Stanton change their minds about giving Douglass official army status as a recruiting agent?

Why would they ask him to go into the combat zone of the Civil War and entice men into the Union armies without giving him the protection of a government commission?

Douglass knew; and we know today, because that situation hasn't changed a great deal in some sections of our country.

In thousands of industrial positions, colored men are asked to do work without receiving the pay or the rank that goes with it.

They can be messengers, but not clerks, maids but not stenographers, plainclothes police but not patrolmen in uniform, lawyers but not magistrates, physicians but not health officers, voters but not officeholders.

Lincoln thought he was doing a great deal even to receive Douglass in the White House—"as one gentlemen receives another." He was peeved because in the next campaign, Dmocrats twisted his talk with Douglas into evidence of social equality and advocacy of intermarriage.

Lincoln was a great man, but not great enough not to wince at this kind of criticism. He could not nullify the prejudices of others because at that time he had not conquered his own.

When the war was over, Douglass was to become minister to Haiti, marshal of the District of Columbia, recorder of deeds, president of Freedmen's Bank, editor, orator, and candidate for Vice-President of the United States on the Women's Suffrage ticket, but as Lincoln measured the man in 1863, he wasn't qualified for the simple job of assistant adjutant in the recruiting service. That was a job, Lincoln thought, that should be reserved for white men only.

The Signs of the Times

When the editor of the Christian Index used these words last week in his editorial, "Life is a conflict. Every good thing lies beyond a battlefield, and we must fight our way to it," he spoke words of wisdom and sound philosophy for the Negro race. So many of us do not realize that life is full of conflict, and to enjoy life in its fullest and highest appreciation costs something. Men and women are not decorated for bravery until they meet that conflict in the various fields of human endeavor. It takes brave men and women to meet the conflicts of life square in the face and fight beyond the battlefield. And you can't get beyond the battlefield sitting down or showing your heels in the midst of a great conflict. Men and women who desire to be used to make the burdens of others easy will never enjoy the good things of life. They will be met with disappointments, come out holding the bag and never possess any of the material things of life. They will always be poor and subjected to the dictates of the giver. Men and women are not supposed to be guided around with bits in their mouths and a bridle range like mules and horses, but there are some would-be leaders and self appointed leaders so dumb until they cannot see the signs of the times.

Wintertide

By FLORIDA LUTCHER

I didn't know when summer'd gone
That brand new beauty would be born
Upon the world that seemed so bare
So melancholy and so rare.
I didn't know that over there
Beyond those hills that seem so bare
That frozen beauty lay serene,
And made a winter scene supreme.
I didn't know when winter came game
And sway so proudly in the breeze
Though Fall and stripped them of their leaves.
That leaves that once had been so green
Would change before me like a dream
To hues of gold and susset red
These lovely leaves that now are dead.

I didn't know when summer'd gone
That Time would wave her magic wand
And cloak the earth in her robes of white
And give to us this godly sight.

So many thing I didn't know
About the frost, the sleet, the snow,
The things that summer tried to hide,

Offer Prayers for Ethiopia Sunday

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—The Ethiopian World Federation, Incorporated, an organization dedicated to the liberation of Ethiopia, issued a call through its International President, Dr. Lorenzo King, requesting all churches throughout the United States to offer a special prayer for Ethiopia next Sunday. The Federation itself has asked its Locals throughout the world to hold mass meetings and to make that day a day of prayer, not only for Ethiopia, but for the welfare of all oppressed peoples everywhere.

Dr. King stated that he felt February 18th a particularly fitting day for prayers for Ethiopia, since it is the last day of the celebration of Negro History Week.

Pray that the divine presence may still guide and bless our chief magistrate, those associated with his executive trust, and our national judiciary; give to our congress wisdom and uphold our nation with the right arm of His righteousness. —Bary Baker Eddy.

• ON THE POLITICAL HORIZON

By The Pie Maker

From the February 4th edition of the Los Angeles Times we clip this:

FRESNO, Feb. 3—A Republican State-wide committee today considered recommendations from Republican organizations in California's 20 congressional districts on the personnel of an uninstructed California delegation to the coming G. O. P. National Convention and adjourned without selecting the members of the delegation.

"William E. Knowland, national committeeman, Oakland, chairman of the group, said the delegation probably will be named at the next meeting of the committee in Los Angeles, Feb. 24.

"Among those attending today's session were Worth Brown of Santa Cruz, WILLIAM D. CAMPBELL OF LOS ANGELES, Vergil Chapman of Sacramento, Geraldine Hadsell of Los Angeles, John G. Mott of Los Angeles; Charles H. Segerstrom of Sonora, Bradford Melvin of San Francisco, McIntyre Fairies of Los Angeles, Arthur B. Dunn of San Francisco, Mrs. Jessie Williamson of Berkeley, Mrs. Catherine Niehouse of San Diego, Mrs. Ruth Comforth Mitchell Young of Los Gatos, Mrs. John P. Fredericks of Bel-Air, Leo Anderson of Los Angeles, Assemblyman Gerald Keple of Whittier ,National Committeewoman Mrs. Edith W. Vandewater and Knowland."

In the mail this week was a card from Amos Black. It came from New Orleans. He gets the Eagle each week and keeps posted. Amos mentions something about what may happen in 1940. He also wants me to say hello to the gang. Hello. Now, it would not surprise me to wake up any morning, look out and see Amos, that red carnation in his lapel, right out on Central Ave. . . for there is no political battle field so fertile as L. A.

Aaron H. Payne, young Republican leader of Chicago, spoke at the Lincoln Day Dinner of the Nat'l. Republican Club located in Hotel Waldorf-Astoria, New York, Monday evening.

Young Payne was heard with Mrs. Robert A. Taft over the nation-wide hookup of the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Chairman John Hamilton was heard from the same platform, but over the Blue network of the National Broadcasting Company from 10 to 10:30 P. M., (E.S.T.)

Many Republicans of the Simon Pure type can't see Dewey as presidential timber. They say he is too young.

The Pie Maker thinks Dewey's youth and perspicacity made it possible for him to clean up New York. If he gets a chance at being president for a spell, he might surprise even the Mossback Republicans.

Senator Robert A. Taft seems to be getting the spotlight in some of our big Eastern papers. But the main point is that both Taft and Dewey show every evidence of becoming formidable Roosevelt opponents, by giving the country a re-examination of its domestic problems and suggesting new ways of solving them.

• THE WORLD THIS WEEK

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

From the vantage point of three quarters of a century since an assassin's bullet cut short his life one fateful April night in 1865, America looks back upon her 16th president and finds him still crowned in the hearts and minds of her people, as one of the nation's greatest heroes.

From the Kentuck log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born Feb. 12, 1809, to the threshhold of the White House which he crossed 52 years later, the path that Lincoln trod offers good reason itself why Lincoln still is a man of the people. It was because his life itself is the American dream come true in all its splendor. It was because his character had all those qualities which make for greatness, but a greatness, noble, austere, and aloof as it sometimes was, mellowed by humor and a ready wit, that for all its earthiness, was needle-sharp. It was a greatness that made him capable of ruling a nation divided by civil war with a hand firm as steel, and that enabled him to express, in his letter to Mrs. Bixby, the most tender compassion for a mother bereft of her sons by the war.

This month we rightly honor Lincoln, who from grocery clerk and smalltown lawyer, rose to the presidency and led the nation with courage and vision through one of its most tragic hours. Under any circumstances, such an awesome task would demand great statesmanship, but to have carried on in the face of abuse and vilification adds doubly to the stature of Lincoln.

Though not so regarded in his lifetime, Abraham Lincoln was, as we now know him to be, "a man for the ages."

PITUITRIN FOR PEACE?

To parents of boisterous, unruly children, science this week brings some slight balm. Speaking before a meeting of the American College of Surgeons in Los Angeles the other day, Dr. Max Minor Peet of the University of Michigan, held no brief for the good little Fauntleroys of either sex. The youngster who answers, "Yess, mama," or "Yes, papa," to every suggestion, indisputably ranks high in behavior. But as to his health rating—there's the rub! Sufferers from pituitary gland ailments, stated Dr. Peet, develop a notable sweetness of disposition as a result. Viewing the present state of the world, not all persons will go along with the eminent doctor in classifying such a disposition as an ailment. It certainly isn't one of which there is an overdose among nations. In fact, there is something to be said for the idea of administering 10 cubic centimeters of sweet-nature- producing pituitrin to all the world's combatants!

THOSE DEATH RAYS

Have you ever heard about those frightening, mysterious "death rays". You can breathe easier now. The world's foremost experts in the atom-smashing field, Dr. Lawrence of the University of California and Dr. Fermi of Columbia, last week declared all such "death rays" just a pack of nonsense. That relegates those yarns to the fiction class, for 1940 anyhow!

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

Remember those heart throbs you had on St. Valentine's day? Maybe you thought all such aching heart tugs were over and done with. They're not! We grown ups mustn't forget that. In the hearts of millions of youngsters, on St. Valentine's Day, there was that same feverish, tremulous excitement over those surreptitious messages of love. Wonderful things, valentines! To kids, tongue-tied, excited, too fearfully embarrassed to make open declaration of affection, the genial old saint whose name the 14th of February bears, brought valentines to do their speaking for them. And this St. Valentine's day as on all those past, will bring to countless youngsters that ageless, that eternally heart-pounding question of youth, "Will you be my Valentine?"

WAR DEBS

Many of England's doting mothers and fathers are dismayed this week. War's blackout has even cast its shadow on the royal courts which will be abandoned. As a result nearly a thousand 17 and 18 year old girls, scheduled to come out this season, will have to forego the customary honor of being presented at court.

Having daughter presented to Their Majesties—an honor, be it noted, enthusiastically sought for their debutante daughters by many American mothers—like many other harmless vanities of the socially elect, is a custom that has ever had the hearty support of the butcher, baker and candle-stick maker.

Milliners, tradesmen, and "social advisers" who arrange introductions and instruct their clients in court etiquette, do a $3 million business during London's "coming out" season every year. But this year, for once, fathers will have their innings. They stand to save $500 to $5000 apiece as a result of the blackout of court presentations. And with Britain's income taxes in the neighborhood of 37 percent, they will need it.

In time of stupendously mounting war debts, there's no time for war debts.

"If Lincoln Could Return Today"

By EVA CARTER BUCKNER

If Lincoln could return today,
I wonder what he'd think and say
About this great and glorious land
O'er which he once had full command?

With all the progress he would see,
I know he would astonished be!
The lightning speed of which we boast—
A touch, a sound, from coast to coast!

The clearly distance - spoken words,
Ships sailing through the air like birds.
Numerous inventions, small and great,
Too many to enumerate!

With all these things so strange and new,
He'd scarcely know just what to do—
And like a wanderer on the strand,
A stranger in his own homeland.

Until he'd look around and see
That same old Flag of Liberty!
I wonder, then, if he'd recall
The greatest deed he did for all?

And that if he would sorry be
That he had set the captives free?
What, the millions HE set free?
Oh, yes, the world knows it was he!

But 'twas a mightier hand, you see,
Guided the pen, 'twas so to be—
That all His legatees might share
What you and I love best—free air!

And, too, His knowing eye could see
That to advance all must be free.
And Nature says, and it is true,
To crush the one, we crush the two.

And all who love their country true,
Love Lincoln's name, naught else to do.
But, oh! could he return today—
I wonder what he'd think and say?

MRS. ROOSEVELT PRINCIPAL SPEAKER AT BETHUNE-COOKMAN BIRTHDAY

Florida College to Host Annual Confab of Presidents of Negro Colleges at Fete

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb 15.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has accepted the invitation of Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, president of Bethune-Cookman college to make the principal address at the celebration here of the school's 35th anniversary.

The observance, which will open with an all-day meeting of local educational leaders tomorrow (Friday), will be climaxed on Sunday afternoon, when Mrs. Roosevelt and Aubrey Williams, executive director of the National Youth Administration, will share the platform.

A concert by Roland Hayes on Sunday evening will conclude the three-day celebration.

HOST TO PREXIES

Coincident with the anniversary observance, Bethune-Cookman college will be host to the annual conference of presidents of the Negro colleges and secondary schools related to the Board of Education of the Methodist church.

Bethune-Cookman began its history as the Daytona Normal and Industrial Institute for Negro Girls. The school was opened in October, 1904, in a small rented cabin, with five small Negro girls as students, and a captal of $1.50. During the following months, students and teacher gave musicals and made and sold potato pies, from which were realized funds enough to make a $5.00 down payment on a hundred foot lot, then being used as the city dump. The school was granted a charter in 1905.

Today, Bethune-Cookman is an institution of some 600 students, with 10 buildings on a campus of 34 acres, and a valuation of approximately $800,000.

Known as the "matriarch of the Negro race in America," President Bethune who is also director of the Division of Negro Affairs of the NYA, has been rated as one of the nations 50 leading women, has been given the Spingarn medal.

The Methodist Board of Education has been interested in the school since 1923, when it merged its Cookman Institute at Jacksonville, Florida, with the Daytona school.

'FRISCO GRADUATES MOVE TO FINISH EDUCATION

SAN FRANCISCO, (By Anna Foster)—On our files were the following names of unmentioned graduates: Miss Winifred Macarretta Franklin, from Washington, S. F.'s newest and best equipped High school. Miss Franklin will enter State Teacher's College. Floyd E. Franklin finished from Roosevelt Jr. high and will enter Commerce high. The mother, Mrs. Mattie Franklin, has every reason to be proud.

Members of the regular Democratic Club, Inc., of the 92nd District, sponsored a tea to benefit that organization. Mrs. A. King of 1014 McAllister street, was the afternoon's hostess. Other committee members were Mesdames Ada Henderson, Mattie Franklin, Ora Brown, G. Patton, Laura Holden, Mrs. Sankenzie and Mrs. King.

The Misses Elaine Butler, Dorothy Brinston and Anita White were Bay Region honorees at a party given by the young Messrs. Guy Harris, Jr., Earl Watkins and Solomon Gopal.

Benjamin Casseres of a local journal writes of a Negro family: Benjamin and Pearl Mason, Negroes, with two children, at $11.40 a week, won the Irish Sweepstakes. Taxes took its necessary pile. They put the rest into a personal slum rehabilitation project so as to give members of their own race decent houses with playrooms, gyms and bowling alleys. They expect to house 100 poor Negro families! Further comment, "You're a better man than I am, Gunga Din."

Our weekly interesting oddity: "Signs;" In swanky Nob Hill, California and Powell streets, an ordinary For-Rent sign reads, "Shoppe, Available." Two minutes away, on historic cable car; another For-Rent sign says, "This shop can be had." Deah, Deah!

How Many Cities Have 100,000 or More Negroes?

In 1930 7 cities had more than 100,000 Negroes, according to the Census Bureau. They were New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, New Orleans and Detroit. The 1940 Census, which will start April 1, may show more cities having at least 100,000 colored persons as a result of recent noticeable movements from the country to the city.

NEGROES MOVING INTO CITIES FAST

The past three Censuses of Population have shown that colored persons were moving steadily away from rural areas and into cities. In 1910, 72.7 percent of the nation's total Negro population lived in the country. By 1920 this had decreased to 66 percent, and by 1930 to 56.3 percent. If this trend has continued steadily, it is possible that the 1940 Census, which will begin April 1, will show the Negro, like the white population, predominantly urban.

Discovered by talent scouts at Pasadena Playhouse where he had two fatal roles, Seay was brought to Paramount for "Women Without Names," and condemned to the chair in the picture which features Ellen Drew, Robert Paige and Judith Barrett.

And this be our motto, "In God is our trust."—Francis Scott Key.

2-Day Trial Held in Columbia

Charles Houston, NAACP Attorney, in Brilliant Case

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 15. (ANP)—The case of Miss Lucile Bluford against S. W. Canada, registrar of the University of Missouri, was taken under advisement by Judge W. M. Dinwiddie at the completion of a two-day trial late Saturday in the Boone County Circuit court here. Judge Dinwiddie reserved decision.

Miss Bluford, a journalism graduate of the University of Kansas, now managing editor of the Call in Kansas City, has sued for writ of mandamus to enter the school of journalism of the University of Missouri for graduate study. She was refused permission to enroll at that institution by S. W. Canada, registrar, on two occasions when she went in person to the school, on Jan. 30, 1939 and again on Sept. 14, 1939.

Charles H. Houston of Washington, special NAACP counsel, conducted the case for Miss Bluford, with the assistance of other NAACP attorneys.

Mr. Houston stated that Miss Bluford had a right to enter the University of Missouri because of the decision by the United States supreme court on Dec. 12, 1938 in the Lloyd Gaines case. The supreme court ruled that Gaines had a right to enter the University of Missouri law school in the absence of equal facilities for legal training at Lincoln University, the decision being based on the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment to the constitution.

SAYS SUIT SEEKS NAACP PUBLICITY

W. S. Hogsett, counsel for Mr. Canada, based his defense on three contentions: (1) that Miss Bluford was suing the wrong party, that she should sue Lincoln university; (2) that Canada was a subordinate official without policy-making power and was not responsible for denying admittance to Miss Bluford; (3) that Miss Bluford's application was not in good faith, that she was merely acting for the NAACP in order to gain publicity for that organization.

Miss Bluford spent about four hours on the witness stand Friday and was called to the stand for a few minutes on Saturday afternoon.

The courtroom was crowded throughout the trial, mostly by students from Stephens college, an exclusive white girls' school of Columbia. During noon recesses some of them remained in order to hold their seats, sending out for sandwiches and malted milks for lunch. There were also some law and journalism students from Missouri U. and a few Negro spectators.

GIRLS LAUGH

During the first part of Miss Bluford's cross-examination a disagreement developed over Mr. Hogsett's insistent demands that she reveal contents of correspondence between her and Mr. Houston. She had recently submitted to Hogsett 13 letters exchanged with the NAACP and Mr. Houston and herself.

Mr. Houston told the court that the 19 letters not turned over as evidence were privileged correspondence between client and counsel.

During the argument Miss Bluford held her ground so well and with such assurance that the white students in the audience burst into laughter and loud applause.

Judge Dinwiddie immediately ordered the courtroom cleared, in an action unusual in the history of the Boone County Circuit court.

The judge later agreed that the client-counsel correspondence was private.

Mr. Houston produced correspondence between Miss Bluford and the University of Missouri officials as evidence and brought out through cross-examination of S. W. Canada, that the sole reason for denying her entrance to the school was because she was a Negro.

NOR JOURNALISM AT LINCOLN

Correspondence from Lincoln University in Jefferson City, the state Negro school, and minutes of the board of curators of that institution showed that there has never been provision for the study of journalism at that school, that there is none now, and that none is even possible before Feb. 1, 1941.

Miss Bluford testified that she desired further training so as to perform more capably her duties as managing editor of the Call.

Testimony from Dowdal H. Davis, Jr., acting manager of the advertising department of the Call, showed the importance of news excellence of a paper in the procuring of advertising for said paper.

Hogsett made statements and also showed in testimony by Frank L. Martin, dean of Missouri's school of journalism, that they believed Miss Bluford knew so much about journalism now that further study in that field would be of no benefit to her.

El Centro Church Conducts Achievement Program

EL CENTRO, (By W. A. Payne)—Johnson's Chapel AME church, conducted a Negro Achievement program last Sunday afternoon during the Vesper hour of services. The pastor, Rev. A. C. Austin, presided and presented a well informed group of men and women who told the story of racial progress and achievement in a manner that gave conviction to the large assembled audience. The following program was rendered: organ prelude, Mrs. A. E. Prince; "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," congregation; invocation, "Negro Achievement in the Field of Education," A. E. Prince; "Racial Contribution in the Field of Business," A. E. Washington; vocal solo, James Robinson; "Accomplishments of the Negro in Music," Mrs. I. N. Whitten; "Racial Achievement in the Field of Dramatics," Miss Ruth, Acty; "Civic Accomplishments of the Negro," Mr. W. A. Payne; violin solo, Mrs. Lucille Culberson; "Racial Contribution in the Field of History and Literature," Mrs. R. P. McGregor; "Achievements of the Negro in Sports," Augustus Shaw; piano solo, Mrs. A. E. Prince; "Racial contribution in the Field of Science," L. J. Stewart; closing and benediction. The day being interracial for this community, a large number of white citizens were present, among them, representatives from the public schools, the business section, the Ministerial Alliance, the superior court and other interests. These were frank expressions as to the wealth of information given and dignity of presentation.

Salton Sea Lodge of Elks, IBPOEW, performed the laying of the cornestone of the Sweet Home Baptist church, Sunday afternoon. A. W. Dixon, the Exalted Ruler, directed the ceremony; R. J. Burleigh officiated as chaplain; and W. A. Payne delivered the oration. Henry Banks, secretary, W. A. Jackson, treasurer, and Roy Van Austin, tiler, assisted in the ceremonies. Mosic for the ceremonies was furnished by the Douglas J. C. Male quartet. The Rev. Mr. Milton is the pastor of the church and has done excellent work since pastoring there. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Jacobs of Brawley.

Enrollment in the city schools continues to increase rapidly. At Washington, the enrollment has gone over the 500 mark. Miss Danetta Smith of Los Angeles has been added to faculty of the school. Miss Smith comes well recommended. She is a graduate from UCLA and the daughter of Sergeant W. D. Smith, prominent Angeleno. She will immediately be assigned to duty.

SOCIAL

Among the younger set attending the week-end social activities in San Diego were Misses Albertina Miller and Regenia Payne; Messrs. Lucius Gentry, Maceo Allen, Payton Cook, Alfred Morgan, John F. Payne.

Mrs. Louise Fulghum, Grand Trustee, Daughter Elks, IBPOEW, paid an official visit to Phyllis Wheatley Temple Daughter Elks last Wednesday evening. Following the regular session and fraternal address by the visitor, an appetizing dinner was served. Daughter Fulghum was the house guest of the District Deputy Lottie August during her visit here.

Miss Octavia J. Payne and Mr. William A. Payne, II, visited relatives over the holiday returning to their homes in San Diego Monday afternoon.

MISCELLANY

The Broadway theater presented a benefit show last Wednesday evening, the beneficiaries being Troop No. 72, Boy Scouts. Scoutmaster John R. Allen and the Troop Committee, Messrs A. E. Prince, DuBois McGee, and Augustus Shaw realized from the effort, sufficient funds to send the entire troop to the summer camp in San Diego County. The citizens of the community responded loyally to the appeal. A feature of the evening was a floor show directed by Mrs. A. E. Prince.

The Troop Committee, Scoutmaster, and three boys of the Troop attended the annual dinner and meeting of Imperial-Yuma Council held in the Barbasa Worth hotel last Monday evening. The lads who were fortunate enough to be the guests of the committee were Vangel Mason, Harry Tolliver, and Napoleon Kinney.

The Women's Civic Improvement club was host to citizens of the community and surrounding territory last Monday evening. Bill Cosby's orchestra furnished music for a well attended dance. This and other entertainments are being given by the club, preparatory to outlining plans to entertain the State Federation of Women's clubs.

The wife of Rev. Mr. Milton, pastor of tht Sweet Home Baptist church, died last Friday. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon.

The freshman class, Douglass High school, very cleverly entertained in the assembly of last Friday. Part 1 consisted of a program of music played by the violin choir, directed by Mrs. Lucille Culberson. Part 2 was a well conducted Mock Court, in which students given amusing monickers were indicted for various and sundry campus law infractions. Members of the faculty were called upon to furnish their part of the entertainment.

CHURCHES

The membership of the Second Baptist church is rejoicing over the completion of the new church edifice and planning impressive services in connection with the opening and decication.

On December, 1937, the old building and all contents were completely destroyed by fire. Under the efficient leadership of the pastor, Rev. I. N. Whitten, the membership proceeded to carry on and plan for the future. While the embers were yet smouldering, the officers succeeded in getting a temporary place of worship and also to plan for the new building. They did not use the incident as a means to prey on the public for assistance but rather faced their own task and as the pastor laconically admonished them, the members of the Second Baptist church realized they were the ones "To Whom It Concerned." The records will show that they have not only carried on the worship incident to the church but also have made regular contributions to missions—Home and Foreign; to Education; and to the several demands of charity.

Plans are being made to enter the new building Sunday. During the week the several organizations of the city will attend in a body and will formally extend congratulations and best wishes. The dedicatory services well be held Sunday, March 3. During these series of services and exercises, the various organizations will make dedicatory offerings.

Nat'l Observance to Mark Issuance of Booker T. Stamp

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Feb. 15. (ANP)—A plea for the preservation of the spirit of tolerance and interracial goodwill in America was voiced here Friday by Dr. F. D. Patterson, president, Tuskegee institute, as he launched the Booker T. Washington stamp celebration to be concluded on April 7, during Founder's Day ceremonies when "Negro America will make an unprecedented cultural contribution to the American People." Booker T. Washington founded Tuskegee institute in 1881.

"Before distinguished invited guests, the board of trustees, the Tuskegee institute faculty and student body, Postmaster General James A. Farley will deliver the Founder's Day address, Dr. Patterson announced.

"Concurrently with the Tuskegee ceremonies," he added, "we are organizing a series of public meetings in churches and public auditoriums from coast to coast, where other national personalities will be invited to speak. During these meetings the assembled persons may hear the radio broadcast from Tuskegee and other cities.

"We have received a spontaneous response to the celebration program from today's leaders of our race. Also participating will be many national Negro organizations including the National Negro Business league which was founded by Booker T. Washington in 1900, and the various church denominations." Dr. Patterson said that he expected the churches to participate by having their pastors preach a sermon on the life of the great educator on a selected Sunday during the celebration.

Birmingham, Memphis Have Largest Percentage of Negroes

Birmingham, Ala. and Memphis, Tenn. had the largest percentages of Negro population in 1930, according to the Census of that year. Both had slightly more than 38 percent. Whether or not the 1940 Census, which will start April 1, will show other cities with larger proportions is a question that will not be settled until the results are announced late this year.

MOST NEGROES ARE AMERICAN BORN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Ninety-eight thousand six hundred and twenty of the Negroes in the United States are of foreign birth, according to the 1930 Census. The 1940 Census, which will be taken this April, is expected to show an increase of foreign-born Negroes in the United States because of recent migrations from the British West Indies and Canada.

GLOBE NEWS & GOSSIP

By JAY GOULD

I noticed the girls took my advice for once, donned their new bonnets, extra special. The occasion was Jimmy Lunceford's dance Sunday night at the Shrine.

The glamorous Miss Maggie Hathaway with her fur jacket and hat to match just beamed for joy to be so near to the Lunceford boys again.

Joe Louis' ex-basketball manager and his lovely wife were on hand to give their moral support.

Sport, society, theatrical, laboring classes and of course the jitter bugs were well represented at the Lunceford dance, with a touch of the Orient in spots.

It is too bad that we can not get together in a large crowd without making some kind of a disturbance. This applies to the little squabble two men had at the Shrine dance which the white papers wrote up as a riot. You know all they sit back and wait for is to misrepresent our race as a whole. So we should all try to be more on our toes.

My promise was to give you information about the Lunceford himself. He is 100 per cent and don't let anyone tell you differently. His disposition, attitude, and mannerism in every respect will never change. He's one of those regular cats. You know.

If you did not hear him last Saturday on Al Jarvis' one hour jamboree program on station K F W B you really missed something. The guests on the program included Skinny Ennis, Phil Harris, Ray Noble, Connie Boswell and Jimmy Lunceford. This would have been your real chance to find out how well Jimmy knows his music. He was given 98 per cent.

A music quiz in general between these famous orchestra leaders and lovely singers; birthplace of different composers, what made them famous, their names etc.

Jimmy Lunceford is as well liked among the whites as our own race, if not better. Y'll should have been there to hear them talk about his band and the grand he played to in Glendale the night before.

Take notice of Wilcox, the piano player, you don't realize what he can do to those keys. Say-an thing of Willie Smith, the saxop—e player. He sings the song, too. The bass viol is cool.

Congratulations to Miss Tillie Witney, very attractive waitress at the Dunbar Cocktail Lounge who ran off early Monday morning to get married to that handsome chap, Louis Lorenze. Much happiness with all the success is yours.

Saturday night was the Del Mar's formal, and what a lovely time was had by everyone. In glancing over the crowd some of the following persons were seen cutting the rug:

Miss Gertrude Cruikshank, Mr. Viscodean Mars, G. Benge Bens, Mrs. Estralita Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, Miss Harriet Hightower, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brady, Mildred Jones, Richard Hoyt, Mrs. V. Frankland, Marguerite Chapman, feminine lead of "Lucky Day;" Mrs. Samuel H. Franklin, Miss Maurine Gordon, Rufus Norman, Mrs. Juanita C. Lloyd, Mrs. Ben Augustine, Mrs. Lester Wilkins, Mr. Yvonne Wilhite, Harold Lloyd, Miss Ruth J. Townsell, Miss Dorothy G. Woodson, Mr. and Mrs. Woodson, Frank White, Jr., Mrs. Juanetta Rollins, Mrs. Gladine Milton, Mrs. Juanita Harmon, Mr. Earl Humphries, Waldo Robinson, Dean Mars M., and Mrs. Mallard Johnson, Mrs. Tena Qualls, Mr. and Mrs. Gaulden, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gant, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Aaron, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Brown, Samuel Randall, Laurence Webster, Jr., Ruth Townsell, Dr. and Mrs. Craig Ennis, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, Effie Thurston, Vera Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Hildrew Christian.

The 22nd—the Armstrong and Garcia fight. If you have not your tickets already, you had better start thinking about them because they are going fast. They are on sale at the Dunbar hotel.

The 1940 Black and Tan Revue at Los Angeles Orpheum Theatre had the SRO sign hanging. It featured the famous Mills Brothers, Bob Parrish, singer, Floyd Ray's Rug Cutting Maniacs, Little Robert Talamon, tap dancer, who won the Evening Herald Express Better Babies Contest; Pigmeat Markham, comic, and Monte Hawley. Critics are raving over the show as being a 'solid sender.' Sally Rand and her star-studded revue appeared on the same bill.

J. W. Johnson Memorial Project Launched in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A memorial project to erect a statue to the late James Weldon Johnson has been launched by a committee here under the chairmanship of Theodore Roosevelt. Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia is honorary chairman, with Gene Buck as chairman of the executive committee and treasurer. Headquarters of the committee are at 69 Fifth avenue, with Walter White as secretary.

The statue will be executed by Richmond Barthe, young Negro sculptor, and will stand at 110th street and Seventh avenue, facing Central Park. The location is what is generally regarded as the beginning of the "Heart of Harlem."

The statue will be a bronze group commemorating Mr. Johnson's famous poem, "O, Black and Unknown Bards." The group will be raised from the ground on a pedestal of marble, on one side of which will appear the head of the poet in relief, on the other side a stanza from the poem which conjured up the vision of the figures on the monument above.

Morehouse Alumni to Celebrate

ATLANTA (Ga.) Feb. 15—Hundreds of Morehouse alumni throughout the country are making extensive preparations for the celebration of the 73rd anniversary of their alma mater which takes place Sunday.

Founded by William Jefferson White in Augusta, Georgia, in 1867, Morehouse bore three different names before it finally attained its present title in 1913. First known as Augusta Institute, the name was changed in a few years to Atlanta Baptist Seminary, and then later to Atlanta Baptist college. In the 73 years of its existence, the College has grown from a small three-story structure located near Terminal Station to a campus of 12 acres with 9 modern buildings. In this same period of time, approximately 1850 men have been graduated from the Academy, the School of Religon and the College.

PRES. HUBERT IS A PREACHER

Acting President of Morehouse is Dr. Charles DuBois Hubert, a member of the class of 1909, and for many years director of the School of Religion. In addition to these duties, he finds time to serve as pastor of the local Providence Baptist church.

Coincident with the celebration of Founders' Day will be the opening of the Morehouse campaign to raise $400,000 toward the endowment. An offer to match this amount has been made by the General Education Board, depending on the ultimate success of the drive.

Vegetable Laxative Has Important Points

Most people want a laxative to do three things: (1) act punctually, (2) act thoroughly, (3) act gently. Here's one that usually fills all three requirements when the easy directions are followed. It's an all vegetable product whose principal ingredient has medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative."

That's the ingredient which enables BLACK-DRAUGHT to help tone lazy bowel muscles. It is the main reason for the satisfying relief from constipation that generally follows next morning when BLACK-DRAUGHT is taken at bedtime. The millions of packages used are proof of its merit.

effected because of the abolishment of the Los Angeles offices of the organization.

COMMENT STIRRED

Wide comment was stirred last week when Mrs. Miller failed to appear, after an "invitation", before Assemblyman Yorty's "red" investigating committee which held fiery hearings at the State building here. Explaining her absence, a statement from Mrs. Miller contends:

"I first learned through newspapers Tuesday that I was to be subpoenaed before a legislative committee investigating relief because I had 'failed to respond to an invitation to appear' before that committee last Monday.

"The facts are that I was in San Francisco when the 'invitation' was issued Saturday and did not learn of it until my return to Los Angeles Tuesday morning," Mrs. Miller stated.

Continuing, she said: "I deem it my duty to respond to any request made by the legislature and I would certainly have appeared had the 'invitation' reached me. I am glad that I will have the opportunity Friday to tell the committee of the part that I played, as an administrative employe, in the discharge of the two SRA employes whose dismissal has stirred up this controversy."

This statement was issued before Mrs. Miller's own dismissal was made known. She will appear before Yorty's committee Friday.

Classification of relief clients by race was also scored by Mrs. Miller in her statement in which she said that it would be unethical for her to speculate on the type of treatment which Negro clients would obtain from persons having prejudiced attitudes.

LOCAL NAACP OUTLINES WORK FOR YEAR AS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE STARTS

Commemorates Anniversaries of Douglass, NAACP; Hears Noted Chorus at Meeting

Sunday afternoon saw a monster tri-part NAACP meeting at the 28th street branch YMCA delight a large audience that crowded the "Y" gymnasium.

Under the expert direction of Mrs. Hazel Whitaker, program chairman, the afternoon's presentation was divided into three parts: songs by the Carlyle Scott Music Project choir; commemoration of the birth of Frederick Douglass with three speakers discussing various phases of the great leader's life; and a rousing "kick-off" of the 1940 NAACP membership drive.

Expert soloists from the choir group were heard during choral offerings. The WPA singers received a tremendous ovation from the crowd at the completion of their program. Featured in this portion of the entertainment were original arrangements of well known spirituals by Director Scott and one striking creation by one of the chorus members. An effective closing number was Handel's famed "Allelujah," sung with inspiration and deep feeling.

Part two of the program brought forward Mrs. Bessie Burke, principal of the Nevin Street school, to commence the Frederick Douglass memorial program with a short address on "Douglass the Abolitionist." Following were talks by Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, EAGLE editor, and Floyd Covington, executive secretary of the Urban League. Mrs. Bass revealed "Douglass the Journalist," while Mr. Covington devoted his discussion to "Douglas the Statesman."

The three addresses brought interesting information to the audience and represented a fitting tribute, according to observers, to the memory of a great Negro and a great American.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Enthusiastically launched was the 1940 membership campaign of the organization. To take the form of a football competition, the drive will see the Frederick Douglas Warriors, coached by A. J. Williams, do battle with the Kenny Washington All-Stars under the coaching hand of Mrs. A. Hill. Williams is assisted by Clarence O. English, and Mrs. Hill will be aided and abetted by Mrs. Gertrude Hicks. Touchdowns will be scored when either team solicits one thousand new members of the organization.

Headquarters for the monster drive have been established at the 28th street branch of the YMCA. The campaign is under the direction of George Beavers, Jr., of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company.

VICTORY TROPHIES

Winning teams and their leaders will be given beautiful trophies at the termination of the drive. Business firms offering the added incentive are the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, Angelus Funeral Home, and Conner-Johnson Morticians.

1939 ACCOMPLISHMENTS

A strong "talking point" of membership drive agents will be numerous vital activities of the local branch during 1939. It is shown that the past twelve months have been the most significant period in local NAACP history.

Among outstanding accomplishment listed by the organization for 1939:

Investigated charges of discrimination and misconduct in the assistant custodian's department of the Los Angeles Post office. Submitted facts in support of request that the assistant custodian be removed. Results: One postal employe promoted to position of engineer; two head Negro charwomen appointed; an investigation commission from Washington is now investigating conditions here.

Protested the distinction made against non-caucasian students at College of Medical Evangelists at Loma Linda in the matter of internship applications. Secured the placing of all students, regardless of race, on the same basis.

Secured temporary employment for Stewart Phillips, last of the Houston martyrs released from Leavenworth Prison.

Advanced $200.00 to the Pasadena Branch, NAACP, to enable it to pay costs of the Appeal of the Brookside Swimming Pool Case.

Investigated 28 complaints of persons claiming to be unjustly imprisoned because of their color.

Communicated with State legislators and urged them to support legislation protecting domestic workers, to broaden the Social Security Act to include domestic workers, to oppose any attempt to modify the Civil Rights Act.

Had removed from school libraries books which were believed to misrepresent, discredit or injure Negroes.

Secured 2700 sighatures on petitions to Congressmen and Senators to pass anti-lynching legislation.

Sent $1,000.00 for "National Activities for Democracy" to the National offices.

PROPOSED 1940 ACTIVITIES

Among proposed activities for the new year, officials list:

The discovery of a basis for united action between white and colored workers on economic questions in the field of political and social action, such as old-age pensions, unemployment and sickness insurance, etc.

The effort to break down job and pay discriminations, with special attention to City, State and Federal Civil Service.

Educate Negro workers on the benefits to be derived from cooperative enterprises, such as credit unions, cooperative movement, low-cost housing, etc.

Break down property restrictions in the State.

The interpretation, in terms of minority group values, of issues, candidates and problems involved in any given legal or political situation or campaign.

In the public schools, to work for mixed faculties; supply lectures on Negro life; adequate textbook revision; scholarship funds, etc.; present positive educational programs designed to produce a new spirit of understanding between white and colored citizens.

SUCCESS PREDICTED

With the Frederick Douglass Warriors and the Kenny Washington All-Stars already locked in mortal combat, it is predicted that the 1940 NAACP membership drive will ring up an all-time record.

PROF. CHARLES SATCHELL MORRIS II returned to Los Angeles yesterday morning after an extensive speaking tour throughout 10 states. Sojourner Truth Club Cites History

The Sojourner Trouth club was incorporated under the laws of the State of California May 21, 1907.

This interesting group of women purchased a lot, and built a residence of 15 rooms at a cost of $8,000. The building was completed April, 1913 under the capable leadership of Mrs. Margaret D. Scott, who had served triumphantly for three years. During that time, through the loyal cooperation of the club and friends, $5,000 was raised.

Too much praise cannot be given these loyal and faithful women for their dauntless courage in perfecting the plans and raising funds prompted by their great love for young womanhood and for making the home a home indeed—a place of contentment, restfulness and protection.

In this home-like atmosphere the girls are given a nice room for $2.50 a week (two in a room) with the use of the Granada, library, dining room for entertaining their guests, kitchen and laundry privileges.

Throughout the years these energetic women have maintained this beautiful home which is free of all indebtedness and have the vision, faith and courage to enter an expansion program to fulfill the housing need of this fast-growing metropolis.

Tuesday evening, Feb. 13, at the third of the dinner series of the board of directors and advisory council, enthusiastic acclaim through thunderous applause was extended Dr. E. I. Robinson when he presented plans for a colossal entertainment to begin Sojourner's Building Fund campaign March 26, 1940. Those present pledged their support wholeheartedly to plans unanimously received, and are breathlessly awaiting the signal of the business bureau to go, go, go.

Complete plans are expected to be released to the press in next week's issue.

The members and building fund committee take this opportunity to thank the 1233 club, under the efficient leadership of Mrs. Della Williams, the Modern Music and Art club, sponsored by the energetic Mrs. Alberta Joyce, and Mrs. Laura Smitherman, amiable committee chairman of the Rho club, for their generous contribution.

Mr. Chrismas of the Pittsburgh Courier was introduced and gave a short talk pledging the support of the above weekly. Photographs were then made of the group by Mr. C. S. Adair.

JAMES LEONARD LEWIS, prominent Florida attorney, who was recently named chairman of a Republican survey committee to work with Republican organizations throughout the state. Grandson of the founder of the Afro-American Life Insurance company, Mr. Lewis also serves as a company executive. He was lauded by the national committeeman for forceful activity in republican politics. (ANP Photo)

GWTW Gives Race New Mammy of Screen, Says Hattie McDaniels in Talk

Ed's. note: The following is the address delivered by Hattie McDaniels, featured player of "Gone With the Wind" at the Independent Church last Sunday night. Dear Friends:

First, I want to thank Independent Church, and Rev. Clayton Russell, for the honor of appearing here today as guest of honor. Such kindness makes one feel very, very small and very humble. Of course, I am happy for the measure of success that has come to me, but my happiness would be short-lived unless I felt that my race could share in that happiness and success.

As a little child, I learned early to take great pride in my race. My father was a minister and my mother possessed a very lovely voice.

Early in life I heard the stories of the bravery and suffering encountered by our people during the days of slavery and reconstruction. The struggles of our pioneers in the fields of education, religion and business always roused my deepest sympathy. From these stories and from the teachings of my parents, I learned two great truths. The first was, that nothing worth while is attained without struggle. The second, that the world did not owe me a living.

Mimicing other people was as natural to me as eating or singing.

At 17 years of age, I won a gold medal, given by the Women's Christian Temperance Union at Central Baptist church in Denver, Colo., for reciting a piece—"Convict Joe"—that told what evils could come about through drinking. I decided that I would go on the stage. Now that wasn't as easy as my saying it. For at that time, everybody looked down on the stage as a profession for a decent girl. I am sure that the friends who tried to discourage me had my best interests at heart, for maybe they knew better than I the heartbreak, the ups and downs, the average actor or actress encounters before they are accorded a semblance of success.

The years have been both cruel and kind, and from them I have learned a third and very valuable lesson—tolerance. In the face of every down and out trouper I can see a picture of Hattie McDaniel at some stage of her professional career. I learned to know just how much a helping hand could mean, so I have tried to always lend one to another less fortunate than myself. I always like to keep this little piece in mind:

"Jolly the fellow who's down today,
Give him a smile for his sorrow.
Sometimes this world has a funny old way,
And you may be down tomorrow."

So many of our people are ashamed to let the public know that they have struggled. Yet when we read the biographies of the great people of the world we find that no lasting change or fine character has been built without the element of struggle playing a definite part. Many of our wealthiest families and some of the highest paid stars in Hollywood, whose names I could call, are training their children to take care of their house, to cook and manage, so that they will be efficient when the time comes for them to manage their own home. Yet I know many Negro mothers who have almost worn themselves out working, who will not permit their daughters to wash dishes, in order to keep their hands nice.

When I landed in Los Angeles less than 10 years ago, I was almost flat broke. I felt that Hollywood was the place where I might get a hearing, but there were many months of discouragement ahead of me. Maybe I don't look like it now, but there were some days when the meals were scarce—and I wasn't on a diet. I haunted the studios looking for work but didn't make a dent on Hollywood. Then one day I decided that I would take my scrap book which told of the top billings I had in the East in vaudeville, and let Hollywood know that I was a real trouper. I put on a broad smile and went the rounds. Many of the people at the studios have since commented on how cheerful I always appeared to be. I have learned the truth of that old well-known poem—"Laugh and the world laughs with you"—and the profoundness of that beautiful scripture—"Rejoice evermore!"

Step by step I came from the ranks of the extra player to bit parts. The stars, directors and producers were all lovely to me, and I could smile broader, for the bit parts were slowly turning to feature parts.

There is little I can tell you that you do not already know about my being chosen to play the part of Mammy in "Gone With the Wind." Mr. Alan Dinehart at 20th Century-Fox met me on the lot one day and asked had I read the book. I told him I had not. "You'd be great in the role of Mammy in that book," he said. Then Mr. Bing Crosby saw met at Paramount Studios and told me to "Go after that role, Hattie, it's a natural for you."

I purchased the book and read it. To me, Scarlett O'Hara's Mammy was a fine person. True, she lived in the days of slavery and reconstruction, but so did many of our grandmothers. Here was a respectable, loyal, lovable and beloved human being. Those of you who read the book know that she had been with Miss Ellen's family since her girlhood. She had been Miss Ellen's Mammy and was now chastising Gerald and Ellen O'Hara's brood. Having no children of her own, Mammy took this family to her warm heart and worried over their shortcomings and breaches of etiquette.

"Gone With the Wind" has given us a new Mammy of the screen— a Negro woman who was fearless; who cringed before no one; who did not talk in whispers and walk on tiptoe, but had the nerve to tell them all where to "head in."

Everyday letters arrive at the studio, from all parts of the country, telling me of the very human way that I portrayed the characterization. These letters have brought me a great deal of pleasure. There are many interesting things I could tell you about the picture, but time does not permit. Many critics have spoken of the stairway scene with Miss Olivia DeHavilland.

In the midst of entertaining a number of guests one Sunday afternoon, a messenger arrived with four pages of script for me to learn. The director started rehearsing for the scenes the first thing Monday morning. It was a very difficult scene for the entire sequence had to be taken in one shot from the point where I admitted Miss Melanie, our walk up the long stairway together, to where she finally left me to enter the room where Rhett Butler held watch over his child. We all had a time with this particular scene. When I had my lines "letter perfect" something would happen to the camera, or vice versa. We rehearsed far into the night, and were all emotionally and physically exhausted when the director said we would finish the scene the next day.

The next day after the last "take" was made of the stairway scene, someone asked me how could I cry without having menthol in my eyes. I laughed and told them, that all I needed to do do was to think about some of the meals I missed when I was struggling.

• PROPER MAKEUP

By SADIE LOUISE

The care of the scalp and the hair is of much importance as that of the facial skin and the whole body. It should not be neglected but given daily care. The scalp and the hair should be shampooed once every 10 days or two weeks. It depends on the occupation.

If the hair and scalp are dry, hot oil medicated steam treatment should precede the shampooing.

Since all soaps have a tendency to adhere to the scalp and hair quite persistently, it is essential to rinse the hair repeatedly with plain water followed by a diluted acid rinse to neutralize the remains of the soap.

If this is not done carefully, scalp irregularities will ensue.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 22. (ANP)—Alabama's board of pardons and paroles heard pleas Thursday for and against freeing the five remaining Scottsboro boys and took the applications under consideration. It will probably be 30 days before a decision is rendered.

The hearing was conducted quietly in contrast with those of previous years. Several persons opposed paroles, among them Thomas J. Heflin, former senator from Alabama.

MIAMI UNDERTAKER BRINGS BODY TO L. A.; TELLS DRAMATIC STORY

Sam B. Solomon Tells of Monster Funeral and Feeling in City

Returned to Los Angeles this week after a 3,600-mile trip by motor is the body of Richard Johnson, 18, former Polytechnic student and track athlete, who was killed in Miami, Fla., Feb. 8.

A tensely dramatic story, verifying the unconfirmed EAGLE version in last week's edition, was told by Miamians who brought the youth's remains.

Another striking feature was that Undertaker Sam B. Solomon, "Moses of Miami," voted one of ten outstanding Negres for 1939, accompanied the body. With him were Paul W. Cobb and Charles N. Bethune, both residents of the Florida city.

MURDERER REVEALED

Johnson's murderer, unnamed at press time last week, was revealed as Willy Goldstein, proprietor of "The Broadway Taylors," clothing establishment.

The former Polyite had secured a job at a beauty salon in Miami and went to "The Broadway Tavlors" to purchase a shirt matching his uniform. After looking over the stock, he was dissatisfied and started to leave. An altercation with Goldstein followed, Johnson besting the white man. Screaming "Robber!" Goldstein managed to secure his gun and shot the youthful assailant, killing him instantly.

Charged with "manslaughter," the white man was tried and convicted. He was sentenced to six-months' expulsion from Colored Town and a purported $1000 fine.

Goldstein's store was established in the heart of Miami's Negro district and has gone out of business because of a blanket boycott by colored shoppers.

MONSTER FUNERAL

Feeling ran high among colored Miamians after the slaying and through public subscription a monster funeral was arranged for the Los Angeles boy. Chief benefactor was Undertaker Solomon.

A beautiful casket was purchased and at the funeral was banked by flowers from sympathetic residents of the southern city. An estimated five thousand attended the last rites at St. Paul AME church last Thursday evening. Resolutions were read from the Negro Republican club of Dade County, Inc., and the giant Afro-American Life Insurance company. An original poem, dedicated to Johnson's memory, was rendered by Mrs. William E. Adams, a Miami resident. More than one hundred cars took part in the solemn funeral procession.

POEM

Excerpts from Mrs. Adams' poem read:

I left home the other day to find more bread,
Not a season of play.
I found the East-Coast with a climate unusually rare,
Tramping quite a bit, my back almost thread-bare,
. . . I had just found work
So the next thing was for me to buy a new shirt
. . . Aunty's advice was always nice,
Saying, "Be careful, my boy, and don't pick a fight."
I tried and tried until one night,
It happened so quick I couldn't kick,
So I had to fight to protect my right.

I played the game thinking, none to admire,
To my surprise THAT DEATH
GUN FIRED.
No time to think, or tell Aunty
why,
I didn't have time to say
GOOD-BY . . .

Resolution of the Dade County Negro Republican Club, delivered at the services read:

"MOSES OF MIAMI"—Sam B. Solomon, Miami, Fla., undertaker, who brought the body of Richard Johnson, L. A. youth, tragically murdered in the southern city over a 3600 mile route in order that he be buried in his home town. Solomon, who led Negroes to voting polls last year in face of nationally publicized Ku Klux Klan opposition, was selected in a nation-wide poll among ten outstanding American Negroes for 1939. Under sponsorship of the EAGLE, Mr. Solomon will appear Sunday morning at Second Baptist and Sunday night at Independent Church of Christ.

Tell Story to Curious in Palm Springs

To Be Brought to L. A. in Trial of Confessed Slayer

Two Negro boys who led police to the hiding place of Mrs. Betty Hardaker, white, murderer of her own baby, were telling their story over and over to the curious in the little town of Palm Springs today.

The youths will be brought to Los Angeles for the arraignment and subsequent trial of the woman on what is expected to be a first degree murder charge. Mrs. Hardaker confessed, upon capture, to the fantastic bludgeoning to death of her five-year old daughter, "because she was too good to live."

The boys are Emil Bostic and Ben Munesa, residents of Palm Springs. Returning from Los Angeles in an antiquated Ford Monday afternoon, they picked up Mrs. Hardaker at San Bernardino and Colton streets and drove her into Palm Springs. She told them she was going to Texas.

"We saw her trying to hitch a ride," Bostic told police," "and stopped and asked her where she was going.

"We told her we could take her as far as Palm Springs."

Mrs. Hardaker accepted their offer and rode with them into the town where she applied at a hotel for lodging. She had no luggage or money and was clad in riding clothes, so the hotel refused her admission.

"When she came out, we were still around so she told us she had no place to go. We told her we could try and find shelter for her on the Indian reservation," Bostic continued.

"She was talking all kinds of funny gibberish."

INFORMED POLICE

At the reservation, Bostic and his companied found an empty adobe hut. There, the woman stayed all night and was found the next morning by police.

Police acted on the advice of Bostic and Munesa who were curious about the woman they had befriended. Purchasing a newspaper, they saw the published account of the crime, containing a description of the hunted woman and notified police.

Incidentally, Police Psychiatrist Paul De River who has been grilling Mrs. Hardaker, also figured in a simliar murder case in 1937, involving a Negro slayer, Howard Jones Green.

on the sidewalk

By C. A. B.

I FIND it inordinately difficult in discussing race relationships to be understood by the people in whose behalf I speak.

Last week this column devoted itself in part to activities at Newton street police station. It was pointed out that there were police officers of color in the department who have served to the point of retirement, yet would receive none of their well-warranted advancement and recognition; that the men who a few months ago held places of honor at Newton Street had been relegated to the ranks of the traffic cops; that Negroes who were Lieutenant Detectives were now 'just coppers'.

Concerning these statements, I have received several commendatory letters and phone calls during the week past. However, one communication which stands out above the rest made a great impression upon me. For obvious reasons, I withold the name of my correspondent. At any rate, the letter in question held that much of the difficulty at Newton street police sation centered about the fact that there are petty jealousies between Negro officers there. The communication also contended that this condition was largely responsible for a lack of speedy promotion of qualified colored gendarmes.

Whether accurate or not in this particular case, it is true that envy between Negroes has been responsible for much lost opportunity for black advancement in several fields of employment. When confronted with demands for economic justice from black citizens, the stratagem of "divide and conquer" has been used with success frequently by white officials. This is a weakness in Negro Psychology that is fraught with danger—a vicious racial failing that strikes from within.

Honest disagreement among Negroes is healthy and natural. The compromise between two differing view-points often extracts the best of wisdom from each and in the end is far more effective than either extreme sentiment. However, disputes based upon personal dislikes and jealousies are, to twist Shakespeare, "twice damned"—they damn he who gives and he who receives.

There can be no serious antagonism between the views of Negro citizens on basic issues. Economic and social justice for the group is the aim of radical and reactionary alike—each sees it in his own way. So long as disagreements are honest and without malice, the cause is safe; but division on the grounds of personal hate and jealousy must be fought as bitterly as a jim crow street car or a Georgia lynch mob.

IN LOS ANGELES this week is a man who, in the opinion of many competent observers, has stepped into the limelight as America's outstanding young Negro. Sam B. Solomon was heralded throughout national press services during 1939 as "The Moses of Miami", a leader who brought 2300 Negro voters to the polls, despite threats and intimidatoin by Ku Klux Klanners. To those unfamiliar with Miami history, the magnitude of this achievement may be revealed through figures: in 1938 there were NO NEGRO VOTERS.

So important has the work of Sam Solomon become in this southern city that it was reported on high authority a few weeks ago that a "killer" had

SRA Employe Restored to Position

Was Discharged After Controversy Over Public Report

George R. Lane, SRA employe who assertedly told a legislative investigating committee that he had spent many sleepless nights in preparing a public report in which only "small white American families" were listed as "undoubtedly deserving" of the aid they are receiving from the State, is back at his post, according to statements at the Urban District Office of SRA where a large percentage of clients served are Mexicans and Negroes. Thirty-five percent of Urban clients are Negroes, 40 percent Mexicans.

Lane, discharged as the result of a controversy which resulted from the publication of the report, was restored to duty and to his old position by Walter Chambers, state director of the State Relief Administration.

"Doubtfully deserving" of any aid at all, according to Lane, are "semi-skilled or laborer families" who are "ignorant" and who have "larger than average families". Chief racial significance of that statement, it is believed, lies in the fact that a recent SRA survey shows that most Negro unemployed forced to seek assistance fall into the categories of semi-skilled or unskilled workers and that the Negro family receiving relief is, on the average, the largest in the State.

See Success in Local NAACP Member Drive

With over $500 reported to date, general chairman, George A. Beavers, jr., said today that prospects for a successful local NAACP membership drive, now being conducted, look exceedingly bright.

Motivated by the theme, "Citizens' Honor Roll for Democracy," competition between the two divisions in the drive's football contest is especially keen.

With three trophies, donated by Angelus Funeral Home, Conner-Johnson and Golden State Mutual Life, going to the ultimate winners, Mrs. A. Hill's "Kenny Washington's All-Stars" enjoy a slight lead over A. J. Williams' "Fred Douglass Warriors," in the race for division honors.

Dr. H. Claude Hudson's team of the All-Star division has jumped into the lead for team honors. "Captain" Williams heads the race for the individual trophy. All of the trophies are on display at Adair's, 42nd place and Central avenue.

Wild rumors which hinted foul play in the death of Esther Phillips, 20, 3560 S. Budlong avenue, were tersely spiked yesterday by the coroner's office as the girl's demise was ascribed to "natural causes". There will be no inquest.

Miss Phillips died Friday at General hospital from pneumonia. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. L. Phillips, 3560 S. Budlong avenue; two brothers, one an L. A. resident, Calvin; and three sisters, all in Oakland.

Jesse Oden, night watchman at a junkyard at 2500 E. 25th street, was ordered held for trial by a coroner's jury Tuesday morning in the homicidal death of John "Baltimore" Overby of 2542 E. 25th street.

According to Officers Robinson and Murphy of Central Detail, who investigated, Overby tried to break in the junkyard last Saturday night. When he failed to heed the night watchman's warning to stay out, officers said Oden got his gun from under his bed and fired the fatal shots.

Oden's preliminary hearing has been set for Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock on Division 4 of the Municipal Court.

Oscar DePriest Again in Race for Congress

CHICAGO, Feb. 22. (ANP)—Oscar DePriest, veteran Republican leader and former congressman of the United States, serving from the first congressional district for three terms, has formally announced his candidacy on the Republican primary ticket. For several weeks, DePriest has been quietly working and sending out feelers and it is understood he withheld his announcement until a straw ballot had been taken and a general survey of the situation.

In his prepared statement the former congressman said:

"After listening to interviews of many of my former workers and voters, several thousands of whom have signed petitions, and upon the request of the business people and citizens of the first congressional district to the effect that they preferred a candidate with experience during these crucial times, and knowing too that no other candidate on the Republican ticket has that necessary experience, I have finally acceded to the wishes of my friends and voters to again make an effort for congress."

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Feb. 22. (ANP)—J. H. Davis, 43, white is in jail here on a charge of criminal assault preferred by a 16 year old girl, Elizabeth Poole. The girl said Davis visited her house last week on pretext of employment.

'Moses of Miami' Will Speak

Sam B. Solomon, "Moses of Miami", will appear under EAGLE auspices Sunday at two great Los Angeles churches. Sam B. Solomon is nationally known for his leadership in bringing Negroes (2300 strong) to voting polls last year for the first time in Miami history—despite violent Ku Klux Klan demonstrations. Solomon was the sensation of the NAACP convention in Richmond, Va., this summer when he held 5,000 members and delegates spellbound at the great Mosque theatre there.

Two weeks ago he was selected in New York City after a nation-wide poll among 10 outstanding American Negroes for 1939. The EAGLE promises an unforgettable experience. Sam B. Solomon, "Moses of Miami", Sunday morning at Second Baptist church (12:30 p. m.)! Sunday evening at the Independent Church of Christ (7:00 p. m.)!

Federal Agents Seize Bogus Money Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 22. (ANP)—A press and ink used in counterfeiting $10 bills was seized by secret service agents who Sunday raided a Southside flat. Tenant of the flat was Jack Mason, alias Jackson, 35, who was arrested Saturday night in St. Louis with two other Chicago Southsiders, James Williams and Charles Foster, with 74 bogus bills in their possession. Police were to drag a section of Lake Michigan for the plates used in the counterfeiting. Mason threw them into the lake.

Pullman Employe Stabbed to Death By Wife

Andrew Dixon, 885 E. Santa Barbara, was fatally wounded last Tuesday, Feb. 14, at his home by his common-law wife, Catherine Irving as a result of a domestic quarrel.

According to witnesses, Dixon, a Pullman Co. employe, came home in a turbulent mood as a result of drink and began to abuse the woman who sometime during the argument struck at Dixon with an ice pick. Dixon packed his belongings and prepared to move. He was found dead the next morning in the yard.

A coroner's jury recommended that the woman be held on murder charges and the preliminary hearing is set for today. Relatives have retained Attorney Walter L. Gordon jr. to represent the accused.

Fight Against 'Starvation Relief' Urged By Hawkins

Blaming anti-administration forces for personnel cuts in the local S. R. A. and predicting a fifty percent cut in relief load itself if economic measures are passed by the state legislature, Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins this week issued a statement from Sacramento urging a concerted fight against "starvation relief" measures and asserting that he was opening an "immediate fight" to prevent further discharges of local persons from S. R. A.

Hawkins statement was occasioned by the dismissal of four recent Negro appointees from S. R. A. posts and rumors that wholesale discharges on a seniority basis would result in the dismissal of still more. Last week, Juanita Ellsworth (Mrs. Loren Miller), only executive administrative employe of color in the S. R. A., was dismissed when the county organization was abolished.

If seniority is followed in S. R. A. as the result of forced economy Negro appointees will be hardest hit because most of them have been appointed since the change in administrations in 1938, observers state.

"I have fought against and will continue to fight against attempts of reactionaries to starve the unforunate unemployed;" Hawkins said, "there is no real economy in inflicting untold hardships on helpless women and children."

Governors of Two States Denounce Anti-Lynch Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (ANP)—Gov. Bailey of Arkansas and Gov. Hoey of North Carolina condemned the Wagner anti-lynching bill now pending before the senate as vicious and unnecessary in letters to Sen. McKellar (Dem.) who is marshaling the South's forces in another drive to block passage of this legislation.

According to the Arkansas governor antilynching legislation would be a "desecration of the constitution and humiliation of a large section of citizens of the United States" and attempts "to palliate or correct an evil which does not exist".

Gov. Hoey said the measure is a "vicious piece of legislation and wholly unnecessary and undesirable" and declared a federal statute would be "a source of irritation rather than help."

COLUMBUS, O. Feb. 22. NAACP Will Appeal Virginia Judge's Ruling in Teacher Salary Case

NORFOLK, (Va.) Feb. 22—An appeal from United States District Judge Luther B. Way's decision, handed down here Feb. 12, dismissing a suit to restrain the local school board from paying qualified Negro teachers less salary than white teachers doing the same work, will be filed as soon as Judge Way signs the final order, according to Thurgood Marshall, special counsel for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Mr. Marshall heads the group of NAACP attorneys who brought the suit against the local school board in behalf of Melvin O. Alston, a local high school teacher and the Norfolk Teachers Association.

Judge Way handed down the decision following a full day's argument, based solely on the legal questions involved. No evidence was heard.

The court ruled that the facts in the complaint, admitted as true, established an unconstitutional discrimination against Alston solely because of race or color, but ruled finally that since the teacher had signed a contract to accept a stipulated sum of money, he therefore "waived his constitutional rights, and for this reason the case was dismissed.

Attention was drawn to a previous case involving teachers' salary in Virginia, and also fought by the NAACP, when Judge Way sharply criticized the Norfolk School board for firing Miss Aline Black, a local high school teacher who also had sought to have her salary equalized with that of white teachers doing similar work. In the midst of her court fight, Miss Black was fired by the board on June 14, 1939.

Hearing Date In Fatal Stabbing Set

Unable to determine whether or not the stabbing was in self-defense, a coroner's jury Monday morning found the death of William Small, 43, 1117 E. 41st street, WPA worker and World War vet, at the hands of Willis Jones, 36, 1168½ E. 40th place, a homicide.

THREE DIE ON BUILDING PROJECT

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 22. (ANP)—Three colored employes of the Santee-Cooper dam project near here were drowned last week when a raft used to cross the Santee river overturned near Wilson's landing.

The raft, a construction of barrel staves operated along a cable on pulleys, overturned when the river, swollen and whipped by high winds, became very rough. Several occupants of the raft rushed to one side and lost balance when it tipped. Four of the men managed to cling to the raft and two of the other three swam to within 20 feet of shore before they sank. The third, more heavily clothed, went down immediately.

Protests Naming Housing Project

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 22—A protest against the naming of a low rent housing project here for the late James Weldon Johnson, noted Negro poet and author, has been lodged by Charles L. Fluck, white businessman.

Fluck said naming the project after a Negro might give the impression that only Negroes would occupy the 535 homes. He suggested the name of Glenwood Project instead.

Former Hoop Star Killed in New York

Ex-Ren Mistaken for Burglar By Brother Officers

NEW YORK, Feb. 22—Johnny Holt, one-time ace member of the world famous Renaissance professional basketball team, is dead here, killed by two of his brother police officers. Holt died in a hail of bullets directed at nim by the two white policemen, who thought he was a burglar.

The tragedy occurred when a woman shrieked that a burglar was about the apartment house where she is a tenant. Holt, who also lived at the house, heard her, snatched up his revolver and rushed out into the hall where he saw the intruder.

Pursuing the escaping marauder, Holt ran into a nearby apartment building, chased the man up to the fifth floor of the house, firing at him. The intruder escaped. Clad in a white shirt and slacks, Holt was leaving when he heard a command,

"Stop! Or I'll fire."

As Holt swung around, his revolver glinted and the policemen, thinking he was an armed burglar, fired.

Three bullets struck the left side of Holt's chest. He was dead before medical aid could be rendered.

Holt had been a star player on the New York college basketball team from 1927 to 1933.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 22—"I voted for it because I felt the Negroes wanted it, but after it's passed, it won't get him any groceries," said Mayor Maury Maverick, former Texas congressman, in an address here at St. Philip's junior college.

Mayor Maverick had reference to the anti-lynching bill, which he said the "Negro wants rather than needs." The mayor was discussing "Jobs and Problems of the Negro."

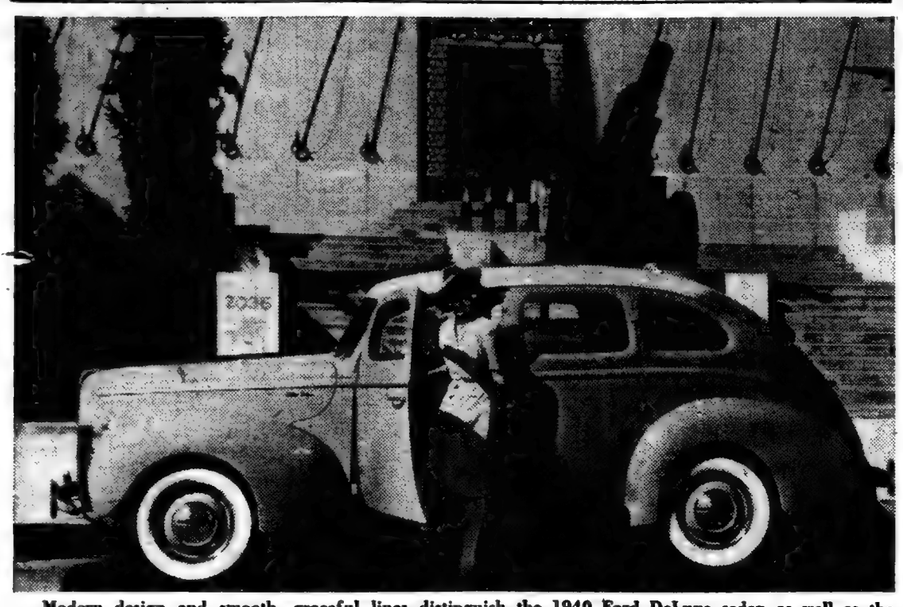
MOTORMAN 1073 Saved a life

EVERY DAY we receive letters commending Los Angeles Railway employees for their courtesy, their thoughtfulness and their service and many times there are letters from riders citing unusual incidents.

Here's an excerpt from a letter from Mr. K.:

". . . A small child ran from the curb directly in front of the car. Owing to the co-ordination of vigilance, quick thinking and action on the part of the motorman, a life was probably saved. It is my pleasure, and, I feel, a duty to commend the action of your motorman. . . . His number was 1073."



(signed) E.R.K.

No. 1073 is Motorman F. R. Brown. He did what motormen must do every day and his steady hand on the safety controls saved the life of a child.

The best brakes in the world couldn't have done the job alone. It was strictly up to Motorman Brown and we're proud of the way he handled it.

LOS ANGELES RAILWAY

Modern Design Increases Motoring Comfort

Modern design and smooth, graceful lines distinguish the 1940 Ford DeLuxe sedan as well as the beautiful American Legion building, Hollywood post number 43, pictured above. Incorporating many new features, the 1940 Ford cars are bigger and roomier, with the longest springbase and the largest hydraulic brakes on any low-priced car. Wider doors permit getting in and out of the car with becoming ease, as demonstrated by the attractive motorist above. The gun in the background is a 210 m.m. German howitzer.

L. A. Railway Intensifies Traffic Safety Campaign

In co-operation with local and national authorities, the Los Angeles Railway this week announced that it will intensify its campaign against mounting traffic deaths through an educational program.

Posters inside and outside of street cars and coaches have carried the slogan "Let's Make 1940 a Safety Year" and, company officials indicated, similar safety suggestions will appear during the year.

"It is the purpose of this campaign to remind not only our own employes but the motoring and pedestrian public as well of the necessity of preserving life and limb," President P. B. Harris, said. "More persons are killed in traffic each year in this state than the entire California death toll during the World War.

"This needless waste of human life has become a major problem. The Los Angeles Railway feels that it is the duty of every public service and every individual to decrease traffic deaths and to this end we are happy to have the opportunity to co-operate."

Harris added that "Los Angeles Railway Topics", a new folder distributed in cars and coaches will also carry safety reading matter for the benefit of passengers.

Census Taking Is Serious Business

Census men hear the funnest stories--but they can't laugh!

Because the 121 enumerators engaged in taking the Business Census in Los Angeles County are engaged in a serious business—accumulating for the Government serious facts.

So when a storekeeper tells an enumerator to go on and chase himself, there was a Census man around last year, it's no joke to the busy enumerator. He first proves--with papers and credentials, that he really is in the Census business, and then he leaves a blank to be filled out for a return call.

Usually the merchant, telephoning his attorney, an associate, or an officer of his trade organization, realizes by the next day that the Census is no laughing matter. He learns that if he persists in refusal, he may have to do business with the United States District Attorney, a gentleman who indeed seldom smiles. And so he has the Census schedule filled out and ready when the enumerator comes back.

All of whch has cost the busy Census man some extra mileage. But the nose-count must go on!

Roominess is New Feature of Ford V-8s, Says Dealer

Smooth, graceful lines, built-in headlamps and a longer hood accentuate the size of the big 1940 Ford V-8, according to J. A. Nadeau, local Ford dealer.

Actual measurements show that both Standard and DeLuxe body types measure 191 inches from front to rear bumper, and have an overall width of 69 inches.

Another feature which has resulted in much favorable comment, according to the local dealer, is the exceptionally long springbase of 123 inches. This contributes to the smooth-riding qualities of new Fords, even passengers in the rear seat being cradled between springs.

CORRECTION!!

In the EAGLE of Thursday, Feb. 8, there appeared a story on page Three-A under the heading "Four Bandits Held for Trial".

In that article it was said that the bandits were captured at 1232 East 20th street, where a quantity of loot was also found.

A check of police records shows that the arrests were made and the loot found at 928 East 47th street.

The house at 1232 East 20th street, owned by A. C. Walker and his wife, Versia Walker, was not involved in the arrests in any way.

The EAGLE regrets the inconvenience and damage caused to Mr. and Mrs. Walker by the publication of these errors and is sincerely desirous of rehabilitating their reputation and character by this correction.

Lazy Insides Answer All-Vegetable Call

You ought to know this easy way to get relief when you're lazy intestinally and it has you headachy, bilious, with sour stomach, no energy. A spicy, aromatic, all-vegetable product taken by simple directions at bedtime, usually allows time for a good night's rest; acts gently, thoroughly next morning.

BLACK DRAUGHT'S satisfying effectiveness is due to a splendid combination of vegetable ingredients, chief of them being an "intestinal tonic-laxative", which helps tone lazy bowel muscles.

All numbers on program were original compositions which ran the gamut of ancestral emotions inspired by the rhythmic beat of the tom-toms in the "A King in Africa" suite, to the supplications of a race in slavery which was vocally portrayed in the Negro spirituals. Miss Heard's repertoire also included "Old London Town" and "Come With Me to London." Anna B. Craig, organist, Lorin Raker, narrator.

Woodruff Beats Borican

Loser Razzed By Crowd; Ellerbe, Herbert Aso Win

NEW YORK, Feb. 22. (ANP)—Long John Woodruff, who forced John Borican to set a new Boston record at 1000 yards a week before, came back to shade the former Virginia Stater in the half mile before 15,000 at the New York A. C. games in Madison Square garden Saturday night. Woodruff's winning time of 1:52.8 ties the meet and garden record.

Borican received a loud chorus of boos in the final stages of this race. Woodruff set the pace for two laps and then gave way to Borican. In the final sprint it looked to spectators that Borican was trying to crowd Long John off the track but the latter came up and the two finished in what seemed a dead heat. While the crowd rendered the Bronx cheer, officials conferred and awarded the race to Woodruff. The spectators then applauded wildly.

Mozel Ellerbee won the 60 yard sprint in 6.2 seconds after Herbert Thompson, nat'l. champion and the favorite, had to withdraw with a pulled muscle after winning the semi-final. Eulace Peacock was a close second. Ben Johnson did not survive the semifials.

Jimmy Herbert, New York U. star, won the Buermeyer 500 in 58 seconds over a fast field of starters.

REPUBLICAN PROGRAM COMMITTEE REPORT HITS RACE DISCRIMINATION

Expect Report to Form Basis for Party Platform at National Confab in June

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (ANP)—Declaring the New Deal relief program has operated to encourage shunting Negroes from private employment to a permanent relief status, the Republican Program committee devoted a chapter to "Discriminations Between Groups of Citizens" in its report presented to the Republican National committee meeting here last week in the Willard hotel.

This committee report is expected to form the basis for writing the party platform at the national convention in Philadelphia next June.

The chapter on discrimination states:

"When faced with the problem of relief on a nation-wide scale, it is an obligation of organized society to see to it that there is no unfair distinction drawn between groups of citizens on economic, racial, or any other grounds. Human need is human need whether the citizen in need is employable or unemployable, whether he belongs to one race or another.

"By the distinction the New Deal leadership has drawn between employables and unemployables, a special concern of the Federal government and leaving the unemployables as a special concern of state and local governments, New Deal relief has resulted in a gross disparity between the relief accorded those two groups.

NEGROES HARD HIT

"The burden of the depression has fallen with an extraordinarily heavy impact upon our Negro citizens. This has been added to the fact that, in their sincere struggle to establish for themselves a rightful and self-respecting place in the productive enterprise of the nation, they have faced and still face the fact of racial discrimination. This is a problem which, in so far as the influence of government can directly affect it, must be frankly faced. The New Deal has purported to give this problem special attention, primarily through the value of its relief program to the Negro. It claims to have extended unprecedented benefits to them. The more enlightened members of the Negro citizenry of the nation, however, have begun to look skeptically at the record of the last seven years.

"They begin to realize that, by confining its concern with Negroes so exclusively to relief and doing little to further their struggle for a rightful place in private employment in the productive enterprise of the nation, the New Deal Program has operated to encourage a progressive shunting of Negroes out of normal productive enterprise into a kind of separate relief economy, leaving them, as it were, on permanent 'reservations' of public relief.

"A just and human relief program will no more give government approval to, or acquiescence in, discriminatory treatment of citizens on racial grounds than it will devise or condone inequitable treatment as between employables and unemployables."

From 1600 recommendations, some 200 representatives were chosen from varied regions, occupations, and interests of the nation. The interests of Colored Republicans were represented by T. G. Nutter, West Virginia; Mrs. Joe S. Brown, Iowa; John Oliver Hopkins, Jr., Michigan; William E. King, Illinois; Joseph S. Mitchell, Massachusetts; Francis E. Rivers, New York; Frederick M. Roberts, Roberts, California; Bishop D. H. Sims, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Sarah Pelham Speaks, New York and Mrs. Lethia Fleming, Ohio

CHICAGO SOUTHSIDE CONDITIONS RAPPED BY RADICAL NEWSPAPER

Writer Says Prostitution is Scourge of District; Youngsters Under 15 "Hustling"

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Another broadside at "conditions" on this city's famed Southside, was delivered here Saturday by The Record Weekly, radical newspaper, which has a mixed staff of white and colored journalists.

Giving it a full-page "spread," illustrated with pictures of dilapidated South Side houses and hungry-looking children, the Record featured an article by Eric Sand, (white), entitled "Jim Crow Loads the Dice."

An indictment of the Jones brothers, three Negro men who allegedly own and control one of the South Side's largest vice rings, was contained in Sand's article.

Prostitution is the scourge of the South Side, Sand wrote, telling of youngsters, "under 15, who are out hustling."

"The competition forces these youngsters to sell themselves for as little as 25 cents . . . I was approached by one whose price was "enough for a loaf of bread and salt pork."

"REEFER" SALES BIG

Marijuana, sold to high school students, nets vice lords thousands of dollars annually, Sand asserted. Marijuana solicitors and prostitutes are permitted to operate with complete impunity, because the police are paid off, he claimed.

Sand cited the report of Dr. Fred Eastman of the Chicago Theological Seminary, who conducted an extensive survey, as follows:

"Approximately 115,000 or 57 per cent of the 200,000 or more Negroes are unemployed. Of these, about 75,000 are receiving direct relief: 20,600 more receive their means of existence through WPA projects. More than one-third of the young people, 15 to 24 years of age, are jobless."

The odds in playing policy, Chicago's most flourishing "business" are 33,500 to 1, against clients, Sand reported.

"There are 52 books, owned by 13 wheels. Each book has a different name. But regardless of where you place the money, it ultimately goes into the same pot."

"The wheels are combined to form a syndicate. They are permitted to operate with the blessing of the powers in the political fix who collect a toll of $250 a week per wheel.

"Southside policy racketeers pay a tribute of $168,000 annually to politicians for the privilege of continuing to operate.

JONES BOYS

"The Jones boys, George, Edard and McKissack, own one of the largest policy wheels on the Southside.

"These same brothers own a number of stores, including the Ben Franklin "five and ten." Their main policy station is a cigar store . . .

"Iley Kelley is another one of the big boys on the South Side. Monte Carlo has nothing that his gambling room hasn't got.

"All of his gambling devices were purchased from Mason and Co., the nation's largest gambling equipment house. Mason and Co., which formerly had factories in three other cities, but consolidated them into one in Chicago because of police pressure, specializes in crooked dice, marked cards and other cheating devices.

"This is a brief picture of the many-sided political and corrupt entanglements which permeate Chicago's South Side.

"But it all boils down to several things: Thousands of respectable Chicago big shots are supported by the proceeds. And these maggots live on the inadequate relief, Jim Crowism, slum and restricted housing, unemployment, police brutality, which run riot on the South Side."

Swims Mile Thru Ice-Choked Delaware River

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 22—A 9-year old youth, fully clothed, swam almost one mile through the ice-choked Delaware River, to safety last week, after falling into the river from an "ice cake raft."

Unable to reach the raft, young Thomas struck out for shore, half stroked and half pulled himself along by clutching at the ice.

NEW TECHNIQUE

We have at hand a few pages from the Congressional Record of Feb. 7, thanks to Bill Smallwood, in which appears correspondence between congressman Arthur W. Mitchell and Dr. Carter G. Woodson.

Dr. Woodson is the founder and director of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History. In his letter to the congressman, Dr. Woodson, at the request of the former, tells of the work of the association, including high points in the history of this minority group.

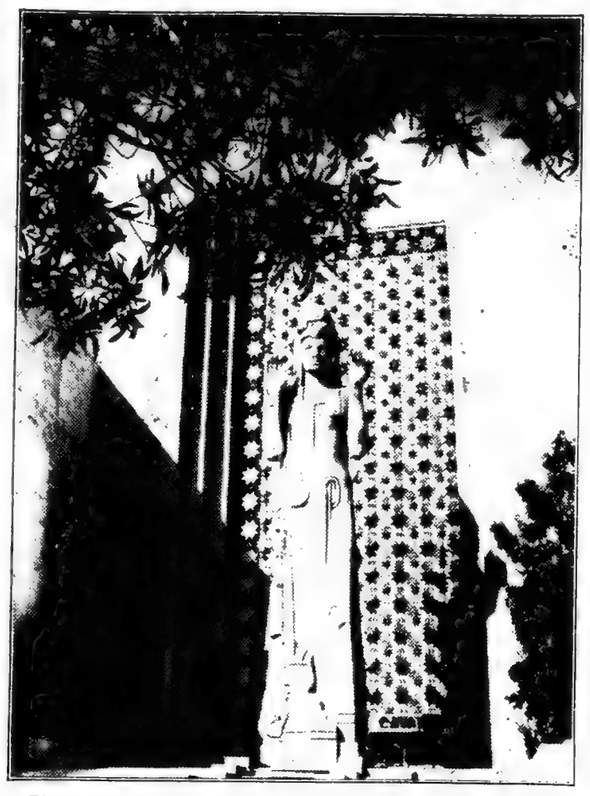
He closes with: "In teaching the history of the Negro, however, we do not mean to dim the lustre of any star in our firmament. We should not learn less of George Washington, 'first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen'; but we should learn something also of the 3,000 Negro soldiers of the American Revolution who helped to make this Father of Our Country possible. We should not fail to appreciate the unusual contribution of Thomas Jefferson to freedom and democracy; but we should invite attention also to one of his outstanding contemporaries, Benjamin Bannaker, the mathematician, astronomer, and advocate of world peace. We should in no way detract from the fame of Perry on Lake Erie or Jackson at New Orleans in the second struggle with England; but we should remember the black men who assisted in winning these victories on land and sea. We should not cease to pay tribute to Abraham Lincoln as the savior of the country; but we should ascribe praise also to the 178,000 Negroes who had to be mustered into the service of the Union before it could be preserved, and who by their heroism demonstrated that they were entitled to freedom and citizenship. We should in no way whatever withhold assistance from the effort to make the world safe for democracy, but we should teach our citizenry history rather than propaganda and thus make this country safe for all elements of the population at home."

This correspondence went into the Congressional Record before the observance of National Negro History Week, Feb. 11-18.

We are of the opinion that Dr. Woodson's ASNLH offers the basis for a new technique designed to bring about the complete infusion of the Negro in the economic, social and political structure of this country.

Emphasis on the nation rather than any particular race appears to be what we call the new approach. The old technique of force to break down barriers to this complete infusion is outmoded. Its resultant antagonism hinders rather than helps his cause.

The heritage of the Negro, in itself, is adequate enough to inspire the respect and thereby, the appreciation of all elements once that heritage has been brought to their attention.



GABBY BITS:

There were 35,800,000 persons employed in the good old U. S. in Jan. And according to Frances Perkins that is 1,500,000 more than had jobs the same period the year before. Madam Secretary of Labor, on a visit here a few days ago, stated too that California wages are slightly above those of the rest of the country . . . Marian Anderson is said to have had a number of treasures during her life-time. Last week it was reported that she now has another. It is a slip of paper upon which are scrawled the words: "When you sang 'Ave Maria' tonight we were as close to heaven as we ever expect to get on this earth." The note was signed "The Balcony" and was written following the diva's concert in St. Louis. Incidentally, she says that besides "Ave Maria", "The Crucifixion" is most requested by her listeners . . .

"Love is only one factor in marriage . . . marriage requires an infinite capacity for adjustment and there is no such thing as an ideal marriage." Credit those words to Dr. Charles B. Congdon, who uttered them on St. Valentine's Day before the student body of the University of Chicago . . . Louis Armstrong, whose trumpet style has never been successfully emulated, to our notion, revealed a little known fact on a recent "Hobby Lobby" broadcast. Louie's hobby, he said, is to present at Christmas time the instrument he uses during the year to the boy who has made most progress in music at a school in New Orleans. It seems that years ago, the great trumpeter himself attended the school. The delight as expressed on the lucky boy's countenance must be a thrill never to be forgotten . . .

Youngsters who look upon "Popeye" as a hero and yet don't subscribe to the strong man's love for spinach really have a good reason. Dr. Roger Truesdail, food chemist, says that only recently science has discovered that the calcium properties of spinach are not available to the human system. "Youngsters have been exactly right in their tearful resistance to the supposed builder of sturdy bodies," the nationally known chemist states . . . We haven't met the lad personally and know nothing of his background, but take it from us, little Thomas A. Green III could be a virtuoso some day. You see, we have heard him play the violin. The two seem to understand one another.

Blossoms Frame Pacifica

Blooming acacia trees form a framework from which the towering statue of Pacifica looks down upon the rebirth of Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay, where the gates of the 1940 season of the Golden Gate International Exposition will swing open with gala ceremonies on May 25.

L. A. Council of Workers Alliance Passes Anti-Lynching Resolution

The Tenth Semi-Annual Convention of the Los Angeles County Council of the Workers Alliance, which convened Feb. 10th and 11th in the Embassy Auditorium passed a strongly worded anti-lynching resolution, directed to the President of the United States, the Senate and California, Sheridan W. Downey and Hiram W. Johnson.

The resolution was introduced by John H. Owens, vice-president of the Southern California District, International Workers Order and Educational Director of the Workers Alliance, and a delegate from Local W-1785. Owens was elected chairman of the resolutions committees by the largest vote given any of the candidates for office. Other important resolutions opposed the return of relief to counties, favored low-cost housing, and the extension of the WPA program.

OLHA Workers to Redouble Efforts

At the weekly report meetnig of captains in the membership drive of the Outdoor Life and Health association last Thursday night, the workers pledged themselves to redouble their efforts to raise funds for the Association.

For the second week of the drive, Unit No. 1, Mrs. Louaida Hunigan, captain brought in the largest number of paid subscriptions. Fidelity Unit, Mrs. Florence Carter, captain, was second; the Assistance League, Mrs. Seth Lee, captain, third; and Hygeia Unit, Mrs. Louella True, captain, fourth.

A quota of $2000 has been set up to advance the work of the Tubercular Rest home at Duarte, to be opened in March. Dr. Leonard Stovall is president of the Association and Mrs. Fannie Williams is general chairman.

Alpha Fraternity Hold Banquet at Val Verde

Saturday night saw Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity in all its glory when Alpha Delta chapter shook the dust of Los Angeles from its heels and motored to the hills of Val Verde to bring two new brothers, William Faulkner and Jack Terry, "across the burning sands."

Initiation ceremonies, and the banquet which climaxed the festivities saw the largest reunion of local Alpha men for quite some time.

The traditionally rigid Alpha probation period had preceded the initiation for two weeks.

High spirits ended the evening with fraters dining before the roaring log fire in the Val Verde Club house.

Deputy City Atty. Bert McDonald, National First vice-president, opened the banquet program with the installation of the 1940 officers. Other speakers for the evening were James Robinson, Jr., local president; Atty. Clarence A. Jones and Edward Strong. Presiding as master of ceremonies was Victor Nickerson.

Noted Singer Enthralls Santa Barbara

Marian Anderson Appears in Fox Arlington Theatre

SANTA BARBARA. (By Phyllis A. Hoxie)—The first lady of the race, Marian Anderson, contralto of international music fame, held music-lovers spellbound with her genuine charm and beautiful voice, singing here Feb. 14. The Fox Arlington Theatre was filled to capacity with many notables of Santa Barbara and Montecito society.

Miss Anderson was dressed in a gown of flowered brocade, its gold flowers catching the light, and wore a single orchid. She was accompanied at the piano by Kosti Vehanen.

She concluded her program with a group of spirituals, sung in a most distinctive manner. They were: "Sinner, Please Doan Let Dis Harves' Pass", "The Gospel Train", both of which were arranged by Burleigh. "Tramping," arranged by Boatner and "Deris No Hidin' Place Down "Dere's No Hidin' Place Down

She willingly obliged her eager audience by singing several encores.

Back stage Miss Anderson answered questions and gave her autograph to admiring autograph seekers. She also said her favorite among her repertory is "Ave Maria" also her mother's favorite.

Program of Local Negro History Club Draws 500

The celebration of Negro History Week in Los Angeles was highlighted last Thursday evening in the auditorium of Jefferson High school where over 500 people attended the program of the Negro History Study club.

Archie Hairston, evening counsellor at Jefferson, and chairman of the Club, opened the program, over which William A. Easter presided as master of ceremonies.

Dr. E. W. Moore of Pasadena gave the gathering an interesting account of the contribution of the Negro to American life and history from 1915 to 1922.

Dr. Broadus Mitchell, an instructor at Occidental College, drew much applause from the gathering when he attacked 'the color line and other menaces to peaceful interracial harmony.' Lynching and lynchers were denounced by the white liberal who branded the recent attempt of a mob of 1000 to lynch two colored women at Snow Hill, Maryland, "a national disgrace".

Attorney Crispus Wright addressed the group on the contribution of the present day Negro to the progress and prosperity of the United States. The Carlyle Scott chorus of the WPA rendered several musical selections.

SUPREME COURT DECISION 'SECOND EMANCIPATION', SAY FLA. CITIZENS

Case Remanded to Florida Supreme Court; Four Youths Still Lodged in 'Death Cells'

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 22.—"The citizens of Florida, who have given freely of their nickels and dimes through their local churches throughout this long six year fight, regard this supreme court victory as a 'Second Emancipation'."

This was the statement issued here today by S. D. McGill in commenting on the unanimous United States supreme court decision handed down Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday, freeing four young Negroes whose death sentence had been affirmed by the Florida supreme court on the basis of "voluntary confessions" secured after a week of torture, the telling of which shocked the members of the highest court in the land.

To McGill, a member of the Nationla Association for the Advancement of Colored People's national legal staff, who carried the case to the Florida high court five times, the decision represented not only the 13 victory of the Association out of 14 cases carried to the United States supreme court, but the culmination of six years of struggle, out of which he receivde only $177 for his own services. McGill and Leon A. Ransom, also of the NAACP national legal staff, argued the case before the High Court.

JUSTICE BLACK READS DECISION

The high court's decision, which was read by Mr. Justice Hugo L. Black, reversed the death sentnece faced by Izell Chambers, Walter Woodard, Charlie Davis and Jack Williamson. They had been charged with the murder of Robert Darcey, a white fish peddler in Pompano, a small town in Broward County, Florida, near Fort Lauderdale on the night of May 13, 1933.

The following is the story, as released by the NAACP, of the victims who were freed:

"Robert Darcey, a white fish dealer, was murdered in Pompano, Florida on May 13, 1933. Some 20 or 30 Negroes in the little town were arrested that same ngiht and the following day put in jail and held on suspicion. All of them were later released, however, except Izell Chambers, Walter Woodard, Charlie Davis and Jack Williamson.

"Feeling among the pepole of the County ran high and there was talk of mob violence. J. T. Williams, an old convict guard from an adjoining county, came to the assistance of Sheriff Clark and helped him round up the suspects and his services were so effective, according to Sheriff Clark, that the Sheriff entrusted him with the duty of fixing the responsibility on somebody for the murder. Two days later Williamson and Woodard were rushed to Miami, Florida, and lodged on the 15th floor of the jail to prevent them from being lynched.

"From the time Darcey was murdered, all efforts were made to force confessions from the many suspects in jail of the crime. The men were brutalized in jail and tortured by this convict guard Williams, Sheriff Clark and his deputies for a week to make them confess. The men finally cracked and on May 21, 1933, confessed to a crime which they now say they never committed. On the same night the Grand Jury indicted the four of them and a few days later sentences of death were pronounced upon all of them by the Cruit Judge of Broward County."

"The boys had come from Georgia and North Carolina only a short time before for the purpose of picking beans.

"The white lawyers who claimed to represent these defendants did nothing for them at the trials, made no objections to the evidence, made no motions to exclude the illegal confessions of guilt offered against the accused made no motions for new trials, took no appeals to the Supreme Court of Florida from the death sentences imposed, nor did they take any of the steps known to lawyers whatsoever, to prevent the sentences of death from being swiftly carried out.

"Shortly after the Trial Judge pronounced sentence upon them, they were carried to Raiford, Florida some 350 miles away, to be electrocuted. Their heads were shaved and their bodies otherwise prepared for the death chamber when public spirited citizens of Duval County, composed of the Ministerial Alliance and the local branch of the NAACP, employed lawyers, who took steps to prevent their electrocution, then set for Aug. 4, 1933. The Florida Supreme Court on Dec. 19, 1933, affirmed the judgments and sentences of death. S. D. McGill of the Jacksonville, Florida Bar, then presented argument to the Florida Supreme Court to reconsider its ruling and after consideration that court reversed itself and the case went back for trial on May 2, 1934. Again the Trial Judge and jury upheld the illegal confessions, but upon appeal to the Supreme Court of Florida, the trial court was again reversed. And so, upon three subsequent trials resulting ni conviction, the judgments of the trial court were reversed by the Supreme Court of Florida until finally, on Mar. 3, 1939, the Supreme Court of Florida upheld the convcitions and sentences of death.

"When the case was tried in Feb., 1935, information was rife in and about Broward County, that upon the return of the defendants for trial, they would be lynched. Added belief in this rumor came when Reuben Stacey, a Negro, was taken from Sheriff Clark and lynched almost in sight of the jail. Great precaution was taken and under the protection of a number of law enforcement officers and machine guns, Attorney McGill alone appearing for the condemned men, the trial went on. A jury again found the men guilty and they were quickly spirited away under heavy guard for safe keeping.

The case was taken to the U. S. Supreme Court on March 3, 1939, after the Florida Supreme Court denied a motion for rehearing in the case. The case was argued in the Supreme Court of the United States on Jan. 4, 1940, by S. D. McGill and Leon A. Ransom.

The Court's decision remands the case to the Florida supreme court. Meantime the four Negro youths continue to occupy "death row" cells at the State Prison farm at Raiford near Fort Lauderdale, where they have spent almost their entire time since 1933.

According to Louis F. Maire, assistant state attorney, no action will be taken to determine whether the victims will be given another trial or set free, until the copy of the high court's opinion has been forwarded.

"If there is enough evidence left without the confessions to warrant it, there is a possibility of a new trial," he said.

NAACP Works on Okla. Murder

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) Feb. 22—Working on an eyewitness' account of the tragedy, the local NAACP is attempting to secure the arrest and trial for murder of a white policeman, responsible for the shooting of a suspect, Thomas Bradley.

According to Ollie Williams, who saw the shooting, the officer, W. C. Elliott, who has a reputation for brutality to Negro prisoners, shot Bradley in cold blood as he held the youth by his clothing and as the youth was holding both hands in the air.

Pasadena NAACP Lincoln-Douglass Fete Successful

Elegant gowns and formal attire marked the Lincoln-Douglas celebration sponsored by the Pasadena NAACP with the cooperation of the churches and civic clubs in Pasadena Feb. 13. The social hall of St. Barnabas church was filled and as over 200 persons were turned away, it was necessary to re-assemble in the main auditorium for the program.

The W. D. Carter chorus, directed by Madame Shortridge, furnished music, with Mr. Horton as soloist. Cecil Davis, Pasadena manager of Golden State Insurance Co., was master of ceremonies, presenting the president of the NAACP, Dr. Edna L. Griffin. She introduced William Levi Mills, Jr., who gave an eloquent evaluation of the life of Frederick Douglass, "the piece of property who dared to become a man and contend for manhood rights for all Americans."

Arthur D. Hilton to Direct 'Darktown Strutters Ball'

George Randol, co-producer with Bert Goldberg and Port, Inc. of "Dark Town Strutters Ball," announced this week that he has secured the services of Arthur David Hilton, English and Hollywood director to direct the special.

Hilton who was for many years an associate of Sol Leesser, has a world of experience in the motion picture industry and Mr. Randol definitely feels that by assigning the directorship of "Dark Town Strutters Ball" to him he will guarantee the theatre going public a perfectly directed picture.

"Dark Town Strutters Ball" will go before the camera next week and it is reported no money has been spared to make the dramatization of this great song hit a smash bang success.

The screen play was written by Shelton Brooks, composer of the song and F. E. Miller, and will have the largest cast ever assembled for an all colored cast picture.

Penny.

The paintings of Lenora Moore, daughter of Father H. Randolph Moore, will be exhibited.

Fay Allen Visits 'Mystery in Swing' Set

Mrs. Fay Allen, member of the Los Angeles Board of Education, was guest of honor at a party given by Bert Goldberg and Port, on the beautiful elaborate special constructed set of "Mystery in Swing", before she left for the East last week.

Mrs. Allen, as secretary of the Colored Musicians Union, thanked the producers and officers of the company on behalf of the Union, for using an all colored orchestra to do the entire underscoring for this fast moving full length feature picture. Cee Pee Johnson scored the film.

"Mystery in Swing", a newspaper yarn starring Monte Hawley and Marguerite Whitten is in the final stages of cutting and will be viewed by the press in a private showing the last of next week.

Godoy Heads New Para Stage Show

Today the Paramount Theatre brings to its stage and screen a novel and unusual program. Headlining the Fanchon and Marco revue, "The South American Way," will be the sensational fighter, Arturo Godoy, who battled champion oJe Louis. On the screen is "Seventeen."

In "Seventeen," Jackie Cooper and Betty Field, the two stars who scored in "What A Life," are reunited. Based on Booth Tarkington's immortal novel of youth in love, the story is ranked as one of the most entertaining to reach the screen in a long time.

Godoy, sensational heavyweight fighter who astounded the sports world with the unique battle he gave Joe Louis recently will give an exhibition of his South American Way, and at the same time do a bit of dancing with his wife. The colorful revue which he heads includes Evers and Delores, Danny Beck, Claude Sweeten and his music and the 30 dancing Fanchonettes.

Pic Breaks Down Musicians Bar

When CeePee Johnson and his all-colored orchestra played the last note of music in the underscoring of the picture, "Mystery in Swing," Friday, history was made in the Hollywood motion picture industry, for after many years of fighting to break down the color bar against a colored orchestra doing the underscoring for a full length feature picture, Aetna Film Corporation and Bert Goldberg & Port, Inc., producers of "Mystery in Swing," annihilated the false belief that a colored orchestra could not score background incidental mood and title music for a motion picture sound track.

Star Studded Casts Promise Film Bargains

Theatre marquees these next few months are gong to look like the ceiling of a planetarium if the exhibitors try to put up in lights all the names in the star-studded casts of current productions.

For 1940, a survey indicated today, promises to be a year of real bargains for movie-goers, as a result of the increasing tendency to toss as many as five topflight stars into productions which heretofore would have presented but one headliner, or two at most.

De Mille's Cast Tops

Outstanding cast of the year, Hollywood is agreed, is that being assembled for "North West Mounted Police," Technicolor film based upon the heroic activities of the mounties in Canada's "Civil War"—the Riel Rebellion of 1885.

Gary Cooper tops the quintet of stars chosen by Cecil B. De Mille for his sixty-fifth production. But in addition to Cooper, De Mille is giving you Madeleine Carroll, Paulettte Goddard, Preston Foster and Robert Preston. Backing up these stars is a strong supporting cast, headed by Akim Tamrioff and Lynne Overman.

Madeleine Carroll, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Tullio Carminati, and Muriel Angelus, British stage and screen star, top the cast of "Safari" at the same studio, which also has on tap numerous films presenting at least a trio of really important names.

Trend Widespread

Chief of these, perhaps, is "Road to Singapore", in which Bing Crosby and Bob Hope compete for the affections of sultry, saronged Dorothy Lamour. Also in preparation by Producer-director Mark Sandrich is a film which will present Jack Benny, Fred Allen and Mary Martin.

This trend is not confined to Paramount.

At Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, for instance, they are whipping up an epic titled 'Boom Town' which which will present Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Claudette Colbert and Hedy Lamarr, no less. Metro also is preparing "The Mortal Storm", a vehicle for Jimmy Stewart, Margaret Sullavan, Robert Young and Frank Morgan.

And "Gone With the Wind" wasn't stingy, either, what with Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland.

'Papa Lew', Old Time Minstrel, Succumbs

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 22—One of the last of the old troupers, who retained a vivid memory of the golden era of stage performers, died here last week. He was Lewis Kenner, 67-years old, known as "Papa Lew." An ace performer in his younger days, "Papa Lew" was an old time minstrel man, who appeared on some of the most famous stages in America.

"Papa Lew" won all prizes offered in cake-walking championships. He was recognized as the greatest cakewalker who ever lived.

Hailed as one of the most popular swing bands, Jimmie and his boys "put out" music that few equal. When he is on the stage, the screen attraction will be, "Adventure in Diamonds."

which has long been debated, passed by an overwhelming majority, and was lauded by campus leaders.

The action was made possible when the national chapter, which has always restricted its membership to "white males," declared itself unable to define the term "white", and thus made it possible for local groups to form their own interpretations.

Allen Griffin, author of the amendment, said: "The chapter action was taken in terms of the realization that many educators, who had much to contribute to Phi Delta Kappa, were being lost to the organization simply because of the color of their skin."

Mrs. Layton and Daughter Take Clipper for England

NEW YORK, Feb. 22—The first Negroes to fly to Europe aboard the Yankee Clipper, Mrs. James Layton and her debutante daughter, A'lelia Turner, left for England Thursday morning.

Clipper passengers lunched in Bermuda, dined in the Azores and Mrs. Layton and daughter disembarked in Lisbon, Portugal the following day.

They are enroute by train thru Spain and France to Paris and from there to England. In England they are awaited by their husband and father, J. Turner Layton, noted composer of Southern melodies.

The Laytons arrived in New York last June for a visit with relatives and friends. Denied passage on the S. S. Normandie, they have had an anxious time being granted visas. Through the help of Attorney Raymond Pace Alexander, noted Philadelphia lawyer, the State Department finally recognized their right of passage.

A'lelia Layton is the goddaughter of the late Madame A'lelia Walker, heiress of the vast hair-dressing estate.

Secret of Success

Harold R. Jones, from up San Francisco way, includes an incident in his report of the recent benefit game in Kezar Stadium, with Kenny Washington's Collegians and Ernie Nevers' Professionals as participants, which shows why Washington is held in such esteem by his fellows and the public at large.

Writes Jones: "On the whole, his (Washington's) short stay in the Bay Area was quite pleasant. The one exception being when one of the downtown San Francisco bars 'soaked' him one buck for a 'coke'. Kenny overlooked the incident, paid the dollar, and quietly retired to the street where he was immediately recognized and acclaimed by a nearby newsboy."

That is just like the Bruin great — no fuss, no kicker-upper about "little" things he has had to face, but rather he has played the game and conducted himself always like a gentleman. Result: Appreciation for his true worth is not on the wane but on the increase.

This incident reminds the pillar of a talk we had recently with Charlie Erb jr., former University of California "Wonder Team" quarterback and captain, whose conversation suggested that it is just such "bigness" in overlooking "little" things, on the part of Kenny, that made Walter Gordon sr. "the Booker T. Washington" of the Bay Region. The latter quotes are those of Erb.

Erb allowed as how Gordon, now a successful attorney, avoided the spotlight to such an extent that he wouldn't recognize the plaudits of the California student body until the day he received his sheepskin. Gordon wouldn't travel with the team, but when the Bears took the field he would be there.

Having just recently written a book to stimulate interest in kicking, Charlie Erb, without hesitancy, says Walter Gordon sr., California's head scout and "Rambler" coach, knows more football than any other one man on this western slope.

On Louis and Crouch

Albert Anderson, Associated Negro Press sports writer, appears to have hit the nail on the head as regards the recent Joe Louis-Arturo Godoy farce. Referee Arthur Donovan might well have stopped the fight and been within his legal rights to do so.

Says Anderson: "That Friday's fight . . . violated the rules was quite evident. The very first rule of the Marquis of Queensbury Boxing Code reads, 'It shall be a fair, stand up fight'. Boxing rules also say that when a fighter's gloves touch the canvas, he is technically 'down'. New York boxing rules state that when a man is 'down' three times in one round, the referee can stop the fight . . . In the 14th round he (Godoy) bent so low his gloves touched the canvas three distinct times . . . "

Had Donovan exercised his prerogative, it is just as Anderson so well states: "There is no telling what the fans would have done".

The fact remains, however, that Godoy's showing against the champion, unimpressive though it may have been, has revived interest in the heavyweight division. And revived interest means more opponents and better gates until another Godoy of a recent Friday night contrives to make it appear that the heavyweight champion is slipping.

"Gorgeous" Georgie Crouch, who left these parts some months ago to campaign in eastern rings, returned some few days ago and was beaten in the Olympic ring by a comparatively unknown fighter who combines ring performances with tutoring Santa Clara university boxing classes.

His name is George Latka, and, as might be expected, he is a boxer of no mean ability. Professor Latka's decision over "Gorgeous" Georgie has caused some to express opinions to the effect that Crouch is not the lad he used to be, that maybe that is why he returned to these shores rather than stay in the East.

On the other hand, there are those who claim, just as vociferously, that "Gorgeous" Georgie is as good if not better than he was before he left the coast for the East, that his showing against Latka was due to the fact that he was rusty and needed work. They say that Latka is due to have the tables turned on him the next time he trades swats with "Gorgeous" Georgie. Not that Crouch can outbox Latka, mind you, but will nevertheless come under the wire first.

This corner agrees with this latter opinion. Crouch, when right, is capable of taking Lou Ambers' lightweight crown. But, with guys like Jackie Wilson around Ambers has a buffer in time of need — said time of need being if boxing moguls think up an elimination tourney to do away with an oversupply of good lightweights.

They Live Up to Their Promise

Hollywood Post No. 43 and its likable and capable matchmaker Charley MacDonald have not been making a lot of hullabaloo about it but Negro fighters and wrestlers are making regular appearances on Legion Stadium wrestling and boxing cards.

No. Hollywood Post No. 43 of the American Legion hasn't "blown off" from the housetops, and neither are we. But we do believe in giving credit where credit is due.

How Hank and Garcia Stack Up

Although publicity man Bill Miller suggests that this is food for a sermon: "An Irishman, Eddie Mead, manages the Aframerican Henry Armstrong, who fights Filipino Ceferino Garcia, managed by the Greek, George Parnassus, at Gilmore stadium March 1 for the world's middleweight title", let's skip that and take a look at both fighters' records.

Garcia, who was born in Manila, P. I., Aug. 26, 1908, has engaged in 105 bouts; won 56 by knockouts; won 23 by decision; drew in six, and was nodded in 20. His bids for the welterweight title in 1937 and 1938 with Barney Ross and Armstrong respectively were lost by decision. He kayoed Fred Apostoli in seven rounds Oct. 2, of last year for the middleweight title he now holds.

The champion was kayoed by four men. In 1932, Tommy Herman TKOd him, and Freddy Steele rocked him to sleep twice. The next year Kid Azteca won over him via a TKO. In 1934, Young Peter Jackson knocked him out in three heats.

Armstrong started his boxing career about 1930. He engaged in 67 amateur bouts, won 52 by kayo, 10 by decision and lost five. His bitterest disappointment came in the spring of 1932 when he lost the right to represent Uncle Sam in the Olympic Games by an unpopular verdict to Johnny Hines in the Southern California Olympic tryouts.

Hustlin' Hank has had 113 bouts in his pro career. His opponents have sniffed resin in 68. He has won 29 fights by decision, lost 10 by the same route; fought five draws and went to one no-decision verdict. His record shows he has never been knocked out.

Armstrong's greatness hinges around the fact that he has held three world boxing championships at one and the same time. He won the featherweight title Oct. 29, 1937; gathered in the welterweight crown May 31, 1938; captured the lightweight title August 17 of the same year. Hank relinquished the featherweight diadem Sept. 13, 1938 and was undefeated as titleholder. He lost the lightweight championship August 20 of last year.

Now the holder of the welterweight crown, Hanks hopes to add his fourth championship to his collection on March 1, even though it is for less than 24 hours, because if he wins he will vacate his rulership over the middleweights of New York and California the very next day.

Says Writer of Heavyweight Champion Joe Lou's

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Bill Corum, International News Service sports writer, revealed another side of heavyweight champion Joe Louis here on the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. The piece speaks for itself.

Wrote Corum:

"'That this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth'.—From Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

"Joe Louis has never told the story that I am going to tell you now.

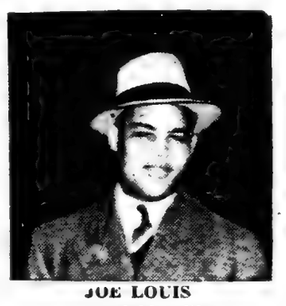
Only through the courtesy of two good friends in Detroit, Bud Shaver and Jack Abernathy, was I fortunate enough to hear about it.

"As you may know, Louis is now a member of the landed gentry, though not on Arturo Godoy's chin. The champion recently bought a farm called 'Spring Hill', near Utica, Mich., on the Clinton river.

"The hundred year old buildings on the farm are being remodeled and modernized and Joe intends using the farm as a training camp as long as he is in the ring, and later as a home. He likes to ride and already has several fine horses at the place.

"On a recent frosty morning just before he came to Pompton Lakes, Joe was riding along the river, inspecting his acres, when he noticed a squatter's lean-to that was almost hidden in the willows along the river bank.

"Smoke was coming from the stovepipe and Louis rode up to the door and called out. An elderly white man and his wife both came to the door.



"'Good morning,' said Joe, 'you folks live here?'

"They told him that they did.

"'Must get pretty cold in there these nights,' said Louis, as he studied the flimsy, make-shift shanty.

"The woman spoke and said it got very cold, but that it was the only home that the farm had now. Adding that they hoped they wouldn't lose it now that the farm had a new owner.

"'Guess there ain't much chance of that', said Joe. 'My name is Louis and I am the one that just bought this farm. What I been setting here thinking is, why don't you folks move into the tenant house up on the hill? It will anyhow be warm and dry there, and maybe we can fix you up with any other things that you requires.'

JOE LOUIS
. vaulable citizen

"So that day the old couple moved into the tenant house. Which would be only a pleasant little story if it ended there. It doesn't.

'It turned out that the name of the man in the squatter's cabin was Wig Lerich, a grandson of the Peter Lerich who cleared and tilled and owned Springhill farm a hundred years ago.

"Indeed, had built the very house into which his grandson and his grandson's wife moved by virtue of Joe's kindly act.

"And still that isn't all. Peter Lerich was a rich man and a great humanitarian during the Civil War. Bitterly opposed to slavery and a staunch supporter of Lincoln, his farm had been one of the last stops in the United States of the historic 'underground railway' by which escaped slaves were smuggled into Canada.

"It is in my mind that Abraham Lincoln would have been pleased with Joe Louis that cold morning on the banks of the Clinton River.

"A simple colored boy, Joe. But there is about him a decency and dignity that cannot be escaped. He is more than the heavyweight champion of the world. He is an example of youth and a valuable citizen of the country that the great and good man from Illinois laid down his life to serve."

Negro Cagers Barred from Tourney?

Ask Promoter to Consider Va. Union in Garden Tourney

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22. (By A. E. White for ANP)—If the words attributed to Clair Bee, Long Island university Athletic mentor, are true, as reported in an interview last week, then Virginia Union university had best shut up shop as far as getting an invitation to the invitational basketball tourney in Madison Square Garden is concerned.

Perhaps Ned Irish, responsible for these tourneys, is a busy man or else he is deaf, dumb and blind and has no intention of being courteous enough to answer a letter. He has had ample time to do the latter as there has been a letter on his desk for the better part of two weeks, suggesting that he give his reaction to inviting Union to participate in the tourney. And then again, Mr. Irish may be on his vacation. Who knows?

It is alleged that there is a sort of gentleman's agreement to NOT invite Negro teams to participate in the tournament in the garden. And when you consider that New York's Negro population is basketball mad, it seems that a ban on the Garden basketball program would be appropriate.

But Mr. Bee himself is of a different stripe. And if it were left to him to promote the game, he would do it with a smile and immediately.

Our recollection o him goes way back to the days when he had the Irvingtown Campbowner professional football team, and then on to the days when he had the Trenton pro team, featuring Ken Robinson, a colored lad who had won some football and track fame at exclusive Alfred college away up New York state. Later, Mr. Bee was identified with the Brooklyn Bay Parkway team as coach. And then again, Mr. Bee was sportsman enough to bring his crack basketball team to Harlem and play the championship Y team at the Renaissance casino when all lookers-on scoffed and said he wouldn't do it.

Those were the days when Dolly King was a freshie with the Beemen. And Bee was game enough to try to play ball with another promoter in Harlem, and in New Jersey, meeting the Virginia Union team at the Renaissance and Morgan at Orange. But this experience soured Bee and since his outfit has not met any New York teams, although he is game enough to try it again if and when the proper opportunity presents itself.

If Mr. Bee has any influence with Mr. Irish, whose sudden spurt to fame as an entrepeneur of basketball to the hoi-polloi of Greater New York has blinded him to absolute possibilities, then Union may be assured of a bid to the Garden to toss baskets against some of the blonde brethren.

Spring is definitely on the way! One look at the sport pages is all that's needed as a convincer, for every baseball team in the country is coming out of winter hibernation to do a little legalized "hit and run" exercise. And if you live in California or Florida, that loud creaking noise is just the sound of a few unused joints being limebared up. Sports writers are culling their craniums to think up new and clever words to describe the national game. Another of their headaches is trying to keep track of the players—for some of them change hands oftener than a hot plate at a buffet dinner. Well, it won't be long now before the sound of bat on ball makes every office boy's grandmother take a sudden turn for the worse.

AN ABSCESS—Has temporarily floored Ceferino Garcia, world's middleweight champion, necessitating a postponement of his scheduled meeting with challenger Henry Armstrong until Friday, March 1.

BOIL FORCES DELAY OF GARCIA - ARMSTRONG BOUT UNTIL MARCH 1

Postponements in Past Lucky for Hank; Challenger Has Had Six and Won All

By J. CULLEN FENTRESS

A boil on the right leg of world's middleweight champion Ceferino Garcia has forced postponement of his title defense against challenger Henry Armstrong until Friday, Mar.. 1.

Originally scheduled for tonight at Gilmore Stadium, the championship natural goes on the day before the running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap.

The California State Athletic commission ordered the setback Sunday when physicians examined the champion and decided that the abcess should be lanced.

Although speculation is rife and rampant about the possible effects of the postponement, Charley MacDonald, speaking for Hollywood Legion Post No. 43, which is promoting the fight, while bemoaning the heavy additional expense involved by the delay, sees a lovely silver lining behind the cloud—in the form of $25,000 to $30,000 additional in gate receipts.

Every hotel in town will be jampacked with visitors on Mar. 1, here for the big handicap. Thousands of those visitors will undoubtedly flock to the fight at Gilmore stadium.

Armstrong doesn't mind the postponement one bit In fact, he's quite happy about it. Not because he needed, or wanted additional time to train. But because he looks upon it as a message from heaven, an augury of good fortune, a prophecy of victory.

DELAY'S LUCKY TO HANK

Like so many fighters, Henry is a wee bit superstitious. He likes to feel that Lady Luck is on his side—and who doesn't? Postponements have always been lucky to Homicide Hank. This is his seventh. He won the other six. Those bouts were with Buzz Brown, Baby Arizmendi, Juan Zurita, Mike Belloise, Aldo Spoldi and Garcia.

Eddie Mead, Armstrong's pilot, isn't crazy about the delay, as might be executed. Never at a loss for words, Mead waxes ebullient in a typical outburst: "Nothing but a "$%†&'()✦ pimple," says he. "They just want to hang onto the title for another week. Like the guy in the death house who craves a stay of execution, huh?"

Garcia's manager, George Parnassus, crushingly counters: "So pop-off Mead is at it again? Does he forget the pratfall Henry Armstrong took back in '38, the day before our first fight. Iron-man Armstrong became Tissue-Paper Henry that time. And that postponement cost Garcia the welterweight title. It was tough enough for him to make 147—and after working like a beaver to make the weight, the day before the fight he's told that it has been postponed for 23 days—Nov. 2 to Nov. 25. That's what cost us the fight. Four doctors inspected Garcia's abscess—but no, that's not enough for belching Eddie Mead! He knows more about it than the doctors".

LOUIS EXPECTED

Garcia is expected to resume work again today. Aside from the abscess, the Filipino is in splendid condition.

Armstrong, who is in the pink, has laid off since the delay was granted. He, too, is expected to resume his training routine today.

World's heavyweight champion Joe Louis and his party is expected in the city most any day. He may take out a second's license and appear in his friend Hank's corner next Friday night. The other principle in the recent heavyweight farce, Arturo Godoy, arrived here Monday night for a theatrical engagement.

Strode Victor in Mat Debut

His attack featuring some of the tactics he learned on the gridiron, Woodrow Wilson Strode former UCLA star wingman, made his mat debut last Wednesday night at the Olympic auditorium an impressive one.

After sparring around a few moments, Strode set up Vic Bruel with a series of flying tackles and pinned him with a body press in 10:06.

The Strode-Bruel match was an added attraction to the regular wrestling tournament being conducted at the downtown matatorium.

FAIR CATCHES FOR DEEP SEA ANGLERS

Winter deep sea anglers are managing to get fair catches of bass, halibut, sculpin and an occasional white sea bass, according to surveys made by the outing bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Live bait is plentiful, although murky water is retarding best fishing. Boats are leaving Malibu, Ocean Park and Long Beach daily, and Balboa on Sundays.

Progressive Life Insurance Co. Thanks Policyholders

Mr. T. A. Greene, Manager
Douglass Agency,
2514¼ South Central Avenue,
Los Angeles, California.

Dear Mr. Greene:

The Progressive Life Insurance Company, which includes the former members of the Douglass Mutual Life Association and the Consolidated Life Insurance Company, desires to thank its policyholders for the fine cooperation it has received from them during 1939. In writing this letter to you, I am referring particularly, of course, to the former members of the Douglass Mutual Life Association who were subsequently insured with, and are still policyholders in, the Progressive Life Insurance Company. With the continuance of this same fine spirit, even greater results may be expected during 1940 and succeeding years.

The Douglass Mutual Life Association in its first five years of operation, during the presidency of Messrs. A. Hartley Jones and T. A. Greene, had a very envious claim paying record. You may be sure you will continue to receive the best possible service and attention in the Progressive Life Insurance Company, whose policyholders are protected by qualified management, the full Statutory Deposit as required by law and the maintenance of the required policy reserves at all times.

In December 1939 the Progressive Life received claims on account of the death of two of your prominent citizens—Dr. Charles S. Diggs, a physician well known locally and nationally, and Mrs. Melvina Rector, wife of Mr. John E. Rector of the American Woodmen, both of whom were members of the Douglass Mutual Life Association since its organization in 1933. The Progressive Life is proud to have been of at least some small service to the beneficiaries of these policyholders, by paying both of these claims promptly and in full.

We have recently received a latter from Mr. John E. Rector, husband of Mrs. Rector, which we appreciate very much, and as it to some extent concerns you, too, I am glad to quote this letter below:

"This is to thank your company for the prompt and courteous treatment I received in the settlement of the claim against the policy of my wife, Mrs. Melvina Rector, who recently passed away.

My wife and I took out memberships in the Douglass Mutual Life Association when it was first organized and had always been satisfied with our policies and the service rendered by them. I am more than pleased to know that, in their consolidation with the Progressive, they have become a part of an organization whose ideals and purposes are equally as high.

I am proud to be a member of your company and sincerely appreciate the attention given me in my bereavement. You are at liberty to use this letter in any way that will be of benefit to you."

With best regards, I remain
Very sincerely,
M. C. Hendershot,
Secretary.

Walter Sullivan and Jane Bolin Among Insurance Firm Visitors

Walter Sullivan, commander of the Hollywood Post of the American Legion which is sponsoring the Armstrong-Garcia title bout on March 1, visited the home office of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company last week.

Commander Sullivan was taken on a tour of the entire home office plant by the secretary-treasurer of the Company, Norman O. Houston, and expressed appreciation for the soundness and evident progress Golden State is making.

Judge Jane Bolden of New York City together with her husband, Ralph Mizzell, assistant solicitor general of Washington, D. C., was also a visitor to the Golden State home office during her brief stay in Los Angeles last week.

Local Police Search For 3 'Gang War' Suspects Still On

Funeral services for Walter Peniger, 20-year old victim of a boys' "gang war," were held Saturday from Roberts' Mortuary. Peniger, who lived at 1350 E. 17th street, died on the sidewalk at 2227 Central avenue, following an argument between rival gangs Feb. 9.

Interment was in Lincoln Memorial cemetery.

Local police were still searching for Ernest Waters, alias Goldie Waters, 18; his brother, Edward, 19, and Frank Ferguson, 20, suspects in the fatal stabbing and shooting of two others—William Mells Watson, jr., 19, and Jimmy Dabney.

At the coroner's inquest last Thursday morning, the jury found Peniger had met his death as a result of a stab wound above the heart "inflicted by some person or persons yet unknown, with homicidal intent" and recommended that the three suspects be apprehended and held to answer.

ATHLETE'S REMAINS RETURNED TO L. A.

call from labor to rest, this young man: Richard Johnson, Who after a short time in this city, borne with Christian fortitude, entered into rest, February 8, 1940. Whereas he was peaceful and law abiding, be it therefore: Resolved that we his fellow citizens mourn his death with deepest sympathy: Resolved that we feel that the city and members of our group have suffered a loss; be it further resolved that we extend to the bereaved family our sincere expressions of Fraternal Condolence."

Resolution of the Afro-American Life Insurance Company read:

"Whereas the colored citizens of Miami were subjected to a sad and severe shock last Thursday, February 8, at the fatal shooting and hitherto unprecedented murder of one Mr. Richard Johnson, allegedly by a white storeman doing business here; Whereas, current sentiment throughout the city and adjacent communities has crystalized into a general protest of such willful slaughtering of innocent individuals regardless of race, color or creed, be it: Resolved, that the Afro-American Life Insurance Company's entire agency, force and management of the Miami District go on record as deploring this sad event, and be it further: Resolved, that the Miami District heartily extend its profound sympathy to the relatives and friends of the deceased in these hours of untimely and deep bereavement."

Sam B. Solomon, principal sponsor of th Miami citizens move to honor Johnson's memory is nationally known as leader of 2300 black citizens of that community who voted in city elections last year despite violent Ku Klux Klan warnings.

BODY AT ANGELUS

Remains of the young man are at Angelus Funeral Home. Probably there will be no second funeral here; burial place has not been announced.

Johnson was born in Los Angeles at 3558 S. Normandie, the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Hannah Washington. He lived there until the time of his fatal trip to Florida. He was raised by this grandparent, now 95-years old and blind, and an aunt, Mrs. Willie Dean. He is also survived by his father, Isaiah Johnson, a well known figure at Trinity Baptist church; and a sister, Sara Johnson, student.

been imported into Miami to take his life. It was opined that only widespread publicity given the plan brought about its failure.

On February 13th, after a nation-wide poll sponsored by the Schomburg Collection of Negro Literature of New York Public Library and the New York branch of the Association for the study of Negro Life and History, Dr. L. D. Reddick, curator, named Solomon among ten outstanding American Negroes for 1939. Selections were made on a basis of "sheer merit of achievement in terms of social value to the Race and humanity". Others honored at this time were Marian Anderson, Jane M. Bolin, domestic court judge of New York City who visited here last week; Dr. Franklin Frazier, of Howard University; Joe Louis, Dr. George Washington Carver, Rev. Glenn T. Settles, Cleveland's pastor of the "Wings Over Jordan" radio program; Dr. Carter G. Woodson, Owen Whitfield, mid-west sharecropper leader; and Richard Wright, WPA author whose writings received national attention.

It is interesting to note that Dr. Reddick also disclosed names of white persons who had been outstanding during 1939 in "interracial betterment". Those selected included Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Secretary of the Interior Harold F. Ickes, Maury Maverick, ex-congressman and Mayor of San Antonio, Texas; Fiorello H. LaGuardia, mayor of New York City; and Benny Goodman, purported "King of Swing."

Also of outstanding benefit to the Race during last year, according to the poll, were the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and, tersely, "the Negro press".

... One of the grandest memories I brought home with me from the NAACP National Conference last summer in Richmond, Virginia, was the guest address by Sam B. Solomon before a packed auditorium in the southern metropolis' swank Mosque theatre. As Solomon rose to face his audience, there was a thunderous boom of applause. Very quietly he told of conditions of squalor and misery in his home city. He told us of how, four years ago, he found 40,000 Negroes living in an unsanitary jam-packed neighborhood which could not comfortably accomodate half such a number. Garbage disposal was blithely ignored by city fathers. Negroes did not vote. Solomon said he decided that something must be done. A "Negro Citizens Service League" was formed and an immediate campaign instituted to bring Negroes to the voting polls. For years, such a move had been discussed. For years, nothing had been done. It was left for the Moses of Miami to lead the way for colored citizens into the exercise of their fundamental constitutional right.

City elections were soon to be held and Solomon's young organization faced Zero Hour. Candidates backed by the League had promised sweeping reforms throughout the black belt,—but more still was at stake. All Miami knew that this election would either uphold an old tradition or give birth to a new one.

Night before election Ku Klux Klanners put on their most violent perfromance in years. Scores of automobiles bearing white robed Knights of the Klan passed in a wild parade through the Negro section. Negroes were defied to vote. But, on the following day, 2300 black heroes filed in solemn procession to the polls and Solomon-supported candidates swept the field.

In addition to this striking victory, the Klan exhibition, featured with photos and news stories over the nation, inspired the bitterest reaction against Ku Kluxers since the New York World revealtions almost twenty years ago. Westbrook Pegler, America's formeost columnist, levelled a potent discharge of literary venom at the Miami Klan which was synldicated over the length and breadth of the United States.

... The Moses of Miami had led his people to the borders of the Promised Land.

Liberty Building-Loan Ass'n Is Safe Place to Put Savings

There is no savings institution in the nation better qualified than the Liberty Building-Loan Association, it was pointed out this week by local financial observers.

The Liberty Building-Loan is insured up to an investment of $5000, by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. In other words, your savings, placed in this well-known local firm, are safeguarded by the United States government. Nothing short of a revolution can render insecure your account at Liberty Building-Loan Association.

It is significant td note that Building-Loan Companies lead field as financiers of homes. The liberal loan policy of such institutions in general have contributed to a large degree to the rebuilding of many American communities—and in particular the Liberty has been a financial Rock of Gibraltar to the local small home investor.

TRAINING FOR NEGROES

Another important fact which experts agree will attract many new savings accounts to this Eastside firm during 1940 is the increased interest in economic and social progress by the average Negro citizen. A definite appeal to such awakened investors can be made in favor of the Liberty Building-Loan when it is pointed out that nowhere West of the Rockies are young Negroes gaining experience in modern banking methods. Savings accounts there are not only safe and secure but are vital assets to the local colored group as a whole. Financial power of the Race is increased, young Negroes are are given employment of a highly technical and specialized nature which they could find nowhere else.

Yes, 1940 looks like a banner year for Los Angeles' Liberty Building-Loan Association!

(b) Treatment cases, such as insulin or other hypodermic injections, bladder irrigations, colonic irrigations, etc.

(c) Surgical dressings for postoperative or accident cases.

(d) Maternity cases, either those delivered in the home, or those newly discharged from the hospital.

(e) Convalescent patients who still require some nursing care, but no longer need the full-time service of a special nurse.

The fee for this service is $1.25 for the first hour. 50 cents for each succeeding one-half hour.

McDonough Okays Street, Sidewalk Improvements

Three major street improvements and one important sidewalk project received the official approval of Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough yesterday when he instructed the County Road commissioner to place funds in the preliminary budget for the next fiscal year.

The Supervisor asked for these specific projects:

$22,500 for the improvement of Graham avenue between Florence avenue and Nadeau street.

$142,231 for the widening and improvement of Compton avenue from Slauson avenue to Nadeau street.

$200,683 for the widening and improvement of Nadeau street, east from Central avenue to Alameda street.

$24,104 for the installation of necessary sidewalks on San Pedro street from Manchester avenue south to 120th street.

Orders have also been issued to the Road commissioner by Supervisor McDonough to proceed to obtain and accept deeds and easements dedicating the right-of-way for a five-foot sidewalk on the east side of Hooper avenue south of Florence avenue, where a widening project is now under way by the County and the WPA.

Last Rites Said For Mother of Lorenza Cole

Last rites for Mrs. Amanda Jordan, mother of the pianist, Lorenza Jordan-Cole, were held yesterday morning from the church chapel of Angelus Funeral Home.

Mrs. Jordan, a pioneer resident, died suddenly last Sunday afternoon of a heart ailment while enroute home from a meeting of the Delta Mothers. At her side in the automobile when she succumbed was her pianist-daughter, Mrs. Cole.

Apparently in good health, Mrs. Jordan was active in community and social affairs, had attended church in the morning and a wedding earlier in the afternoon. Her passing was a distinct shock to family and friends.

Throngs attended the simple Christian Science service, presided over by Edmond Bussy. Interment was in Lincoln Memorial cemetery.

Born in Manor, Texas, Mrs. Jordan had lived in Los Angeles 32 years. Surviving her, in addition to her daughter, are her husband, Edward Jordan, a granddaughter, son-in-law and other relatives.

Hold Last Rites for Hoover's One-Time Employe

Funeral services were held last Friday at Conner-Johnson chapel for Joe Lindsey, 42, one-time cook for Herbert Hoover when the ex-president made his goodwill tour to South America. Lindsey died at Sawtelle Government home Feb. 12. He had been confined there since Feb. 9 and had previously been ill of a heart ailment at his home, 4507 Long Beach avenue.

Lindsey was retired from active naval service in 1938 after 22 years of shipping. In that time he had only been on three ships, considered a record in naval circles. Those he had shipped on were, the Kentucky, the U. S. S. Sherman nad the U. S. S. Maryland. On the latter, Lindsey, an officer's cook, remained 12 years, until his retirement.

Following his retirement from the navy, Lindsey worked until his death for the Woolworth company in the bakery department. Born in Overton, Ky., Feb. 2, 1898, he is survived by a wife, Cecil, one sister and four brothers.

rcy unto you, and peace, and love be multiplied. Jude 1:2.

n Open Letter to Supreme urt Justice Hugo Black ear Mr. Black,

Last week the president of the nited States asked for an apology you from the press of the nation. Mr. Roosevelt based this request on your general behavior since ur appointment to the Supreme urt and your particular performance last Monday in reading the urt unanimous opinion, freeing ur Florida Negroes from a death nalty. "Confessions" of the men d been scured through third-dee methods.

Here is what you said: "Today, in ages past, we are not with- t tragic proof that the exalted pow- of some governments to punish nufactured crime dictatorially is e mandmaid of tyranny.

"Under our constitutional system, urts stand against any winds that w as havens of refuge for those o might otherwise suffer because ey are helpless, weak, outnumber- or because they are nonconform- victims of prejudice and public citement.

"Due process of law, preserved for by our Constitution, commands at no such practice as that disclos- by this record shall send any ac- sed to his death. No higher duty, more solemn responsibility, rests on this court than that of translat- into living law and maintaining s constitutional shield deliberate- lanned and inscribed for the ben- of every human being subject to Constitution—of whatever race, ed, or persuasion."

As Mr. Roosevelt hinted, the read- of this glowing document was not r only evidence of tolerance and erality during your period of em- yment in the High Court.

Mr. Black, you have been a credit the Court, your native Southland d the nation as a whole. We are y too glad to extend to you a per- al apology for attacks made upon r character in this paper when were first appointed.

However, we wish to make it clear t the apology is directed to you sonally and is not to be construed a denunciation of our own stand the time of your nomination. Due your former and admitted associa- n with the Ku Klux Klan, we felt t you would make an intolerant preme Court Justice. In this, of rse, we were mistaken.

But if a man boasting a similar ckground to yours at that time re nominated for some high of- e today or tomorrow, it would be r duty to attack that candidacy h all the vigor and determination ich was launched against you.

You see, Mr. Black, we can only dge a man's future actions with e measuring stick of his past ac- ns. In your case, the rule was vio- ed. But one exception does not ak the rule. We had every reason believe that black America would faced with an enemy in high ces when you, a former Klan mber, were nominated for the Su- me Court.

Despite the fact that you have ned out so well, the Negro press uld feel a great deal more at ease in the future Mr. Roosevelt were recruit his appointees elsewhere an from the ranks of the Ku Klux an.

With sincere regards,
THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

oses of Miami' Here

Voted one of 10 outstanding American Ne- s in the nation-wide poll conducted by the omburg Collection of Negro Literature of York Library and the New York branch he Association for the Study of Negro Life History, Sam B. Solomon, "Moses of Mi- ', is in Los Angeles.

Solomon, a business man in the southern led the nationally publicized march to the s of 2300 Miami Negro voters last year in teeth of violent Ku Klux Klan demonstra- s. Just a year before there had been NO GROES VOTING IN MIAMI. To those who w the South, the greatness of this young 's achievement is a vindication of faith in courage of the American Negro.

More Appreciation for the 'Black Press'

One of the greatest racial liabilities with which Negroes are faced in this country is their frequent lack of appreciation for their own institutions. Chief on this unwarranted "black list" is the Negro press, the greatest single force for the advancement of colored people operating in America.

It is strange to note that black citizens often glory in denouncing their own most powerful champion. But, perhaps, colored papers themselves are responsible. While we have been over-zealous in "selling" the anti-lynching bill, social service reform, employment for Negroes, etc., we have forgotten ourselves. And, after all, charity begins at home.

If it were not for a vociferous black press--a black press that yaps, yells, howls and screams throughout the nation whenever racial advancement is threatened or an injustice brought to light, progress of Negro Americans would never have reached the point it has today. Let Senator Bilbo hoist himself to his pondedrous feet in the U. S. Senate and propose sending black Americans "back to Africa", and a howling Negro press has tossed him out of bounds before he has registered a one yard gain. Let your favorite congressman deliver the anti-lynching bill a nasty kick in Washington, D. C., and your neighborhood Negro paper has instantly advised you of the fact. Let a Civil Aeronautics bill find its way into the House of Representatives without a clause barring racial discrimination, and the black press has pounced upon the measure's sponsors with all the vengeance of a woman scorned. Let your local police station attempt certain suspicious performances, and the Negro Newspaper has waded into battle with banners high and pens flying. Let a vicious 'rezoning' ordinance attempt to stifle black business enterprise in your community, and the colored journal launches a bitter and determined attack.

Certainly, then, a racial institution of this calibre is worthy of support from those whom it serves with such vigilance. It is quite true that composition, photo engraving, and general appearance of a Negro paper cannot equal that of the average metropolitan daily. Equally incomparable, however, are the bank accounts of the two enterprises. It is important that colored citizens realize the tremendous financial chasm between white and black journalism. Absolute comparison between the two is unfair and impossible. It is remarkable that Negro papers so nearly approximate the best in journalism with their limited revenues.

So, the next time you hear a Negro critic blasting a Negro paper, point out certain difficulties in their path.

If your crtic bellows "Why don't the photographs look better?", advise him to contribute a $200,000 photo engravng plant to the journal in question. Whereafter, assure him, photos will satisfy his most aesthetic standards.

A similar argument might well be employed in refuting most arguments against colored papers. It is not fair criticism. Due to limitation of funds, there are certain physical shortcomings in Negro papers which cannot be helped and which are equally evident to pubishers. There are other fields, however, in which constructive criticism is an inspiration and an asset. Inaccurate story treatment, improper or antagonistic racial attitudes,--these are the things which are subject to legitimate criticism.

However, the greatest single contribution that an average reader can make in the interest of his Negro newspaper is active support of its advertisers. When you shop, tell the clerk: "I saw it in a Negro newspaper."

Justice Black Stands the Test

From The Topeka Plaindealer

When Justice Hugo Black read the opinion that caused the United States Supreme Court to set aside the death sentences of four Florida Negroes this week, he clearly demonstrated to the American people that his critics were wrong when they pointed out that a man could not be converted. Black was at one time a member of the Ku Klux Klan, a rebel organization of white people who are un-American in their practice and don't believe that Negroes should in any way be respected as citizens. According to reports at the time, Black was appointed to the bench, it was revealed that he held a life membership in the rebel organization. At the time of his appointment ,the newspapers of the nation spoke out loud and wide against the selection of President Roosevelt. Black rushed home from Europe and made his statement over a nation-wide radio hook-up.

The American people have watched Justice Black since his appointment to see if he could stand the test. He has stood the test thus far and is to be commended for his fair and honest decisions on the law. Several other decisions where our group is directly concerned also are credited to Justice Black's fairness and recognition of the Constitution of the United States.

Justice Black's attitude and actions on great issues not only attract the attention of Negroes, but there are millions of white people attracted by his broad visions and his profound judgement on equal right questions. The Kansas City Star in its Tuesday, February 13 issue, commented editorially on the decision under the caption of "Black on Equal Rights."

The Star said:

"No higher duty, no more solemn responsibility, rests upon this court than that of translating into living law and maintaining this constitutional shield deliberately planned and inscribed for the benefit of every human subject to our Constitution—of whatever race, creed or persuasion.

"These are the words of Justice Black, speaking for the United States Supreme court yesterday, when it set aside death sentences of four Florida Negroes charged with the murder of a white man. The nation's highest tribunal held that the confessions upon which the conviction was based had been obtained by intimidation, and in his opinion, Justice Black wrote bitterly of the power of some government, among which he placed by inference that of the State of Florida, to punish "manufactured" crime.

Way to Stop Lynchings

(From the Dayton Herald Feb. 15)

After lynching has been finally suppressed in these United States and historians get around to debating whether mob murder was ended by enlightened public opinion in the South or by a national anti-lynch law ultimately forced through congress by congressmen from the North, we suspect the answer will be that state troopers really put an end to this hideous mess.

At Snow Hill, Md., it was four state troopers who waded into a mob of 1000 armed men to rescue two Negro women who had been seized because mob members thought they might know the whereabouts of the man wanted for an atrocious crime. These four men would have been legally and morally justified had they plunged into the fray with guns blazing; but the chances are they would never have saved the two women by that method. Instead, they let their revolvers stay in their holsters and, to all intents and purposes, were unarmed when they marched, four men against a thousand, into the midst of a screaming, maddened mob to take those two women away from their captors. And they got them!

There is no need to melodramatize their exploit. It could be pointed out that here were four southern white men risking their lives to save two Negro women; but we doubt that they thought of it. It could be pointed out that here were four officers of the law who were going to stop violence without precipating more violence; but we doubt that even the trooper knocked to the ground and kicked and beaten thought of pulling his gun and shooting. No, there is drama enough in the bare facts. Four carefully chosen and well-trained state troopers saw their duty and they did it—with uncommon hard sense, with powerful fists and with a courage that belongs in men, not story books.

As the long struggle to wipe out lynching near victory in these United States, there should be no let-up on the part of any of the forces trying to eradicate this stain of mob murder. Enlightened public opinion in the South must go further and deeper until justice not only permeates the minds of men but controls their passions. The fight for a national anti-lynch law must go on until the law is passed or until lynchings end.

But we suspect the victory will be won sooner if those who scoff at the "chivalry" of "the gallant gentlemen of the East Shore," who may or may not have intended to hang two Negro women, will remember that the four state troopers who ripped into the mob with uncommon hard sense, with powerful fists, and with the courage that belongs in men were also gallant gentlemen of Maryland—chivalrous or not.

GRAND SCRAMBLERS

Dear Editor:

Mrs. Lovell and the children and myself have one grand scramble each week when the California EAGLE arrives. But besides the spicey news, the bristling editorials and other interesting columns, we always read with added interest the "On the Sidewalk" items with the realization they are from your own heart to the hearts of the readers of your great paper.

Thanking you again for the excellent contribution you are making to journalism and the uncompromising fight for justice, I am

THANK YOU NOTE

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the many thousands of children, men and women who are receiving urgently-needed health and welfare services through the 88 Community Chest agencies, permit me to express gratefulness for the splendid support given the campaign by the California EAGLE.

Highly appreciative also are the men and women volunteers, who felt their work was made easier by the news your paper carried regarding the agencies' services and the progress of the campaign in your district. We greatly value the support of the community press and the high esteem in which the publications are held throughout the city.

Will you be kind enough to extend our sincere appreciation to the members of your staff.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 22—Magistrate Edward W. Henry, who recently underwent an operation at Hot Springs, Ark., where he and Mrs. Henry are vacationing, is reported recovering.

• THE WORLD THIS WEEK

AID TO THE FINNS

Neither heads nor hearts triumphed in the Senate in granting Finland $20 million worth of credit to buy non-military supplies in this country. What that beleagured republic needs is military supplies. Sympathy for her plight, checked by fear of involvement in the European war and of setting a dangerous precedent for other nations, led to this compromise loan, proffering partial aid. However, if this country has not granted Finland direct access to the arms she seeks, neither has it remained a coldly indifferent spectator to her plight. Far more affected by the outcome of the struggle being waged in the shadow of the Artic Circle are Britain and France. Sentiment on Capitol Hill that it is to them, Finland should turn for her military loan, rather than to us, played an important part, if unpublicized part in earmarking that $20 million loan for strictly non-miltary purchases.

NEW ROADS TO RECOVERY

If roads to recovery can be found in roads—speeding up transportation, widening the farmers' market, bringing new communities into being and strengthening the life-lines of trade into isolated areas—then the future looks more than cheerful. "The United States," says Rep. Wilburn Cartwright, "is approaching an era of road building unequalled in the nation's history. The steadily growing demands of peace-time traffic, no less than potential national defense needs will provide the mainsprings of this vast construction program," he declared. Expenditures for public roads of $79 million in 1914, of $200 million in 1923, of more than $918 million in 1937—last recorded year—gauge the enormous expanse in roadbuilding activities in the last quarter century. The true builders, of course have been the motorist and the motor carrier. Between them last year, they poured 1,335,000,000 tax dollars into national and state coffers, with the highway carriers bearing nearly a third of the cost. The new and greater era in roadbuilding forecast last week, will not open, however, while the Federal government fails to return the full amount of Federal road aid funds to which each is entitled. That remains one stumbling block on the road to recovery through roads that must be speedily removed!

EMPLOYER DE LUXE

Meet one person who has forged steadily ahead throughout the depression, adding to his payroll at the rate of 60,000 persons a year—Uncle Sam! Though the news will not be calculated to cause widespread joy, a dispatch the other day from Washington, D. C. makes important reading. Exclusive of employees in military, legislative and judicial establishments, the total number of employees under civil service has now reached 987,538—topping by 50,000 the previous all-time high of 939,876 reached last September. Seven years ago the Federal payroll stood at 563,847. In the intervening period the number has almost doubled. The Reorganization Plan, passed by Congress in the interests of economy and efficiency, has resulted in the addition of 101,772 employees. This accounting of Uncle Sam's record progress as an employer, made by the United States Civil Service Commission is a telling indication of the growth of governmental power, and the multiplication of agencies, bureaus and commissions, that so far, shows no sign of abating.

NEW WINGS FOR CALIFORNIA

Already the hub of the nation's aircraft industry, California may soon be due to receive additional aclaim in that field. Negotiations have already begun, it was announced last week, to bring the huge $3 million plant of the Boeing aircraft company from Seattle, and re-establish it on the 2200 acres available at San Francisco airport. Adding to California's zooming airplane manufacturing industry which is now keeping 36,000 men at work on a backlog of $238,600,000 worth of orders, the $3 million Boeing plant and its 6000 employees, would make this State not only the hub of the industry but virtually the whole works. And that's an honor with rich rewards with its $4 million monthly payroll!

"CIVILIZATION" AGAIN

Echoes of pre-World War days sounded through the chambers of a House Appropriations committee the other day when Chairman Scrugham urged his co-members to approve a history making $966,772,878 appropriations for the Navy. Why ought it be granted? "Because", cried Rep. Scrugham warningly, "civilization itself may be at stake in the European war!" If, in addition to providing for our own essential national defense, we are preparing to defend civilization in Europe, Rep. Scrugham should inform the country of it.

• LIBRARY BOOK NOTES

(Courtesy the Vernon Branch Library)

Almost any day in the Vernon Branch Library (4504 S. Central) or in the Helen Hunt Jackson Branch (2330 Naomi) some youngster will exclaim on returning a biography, "But it reads just like a story!" He has discovered for himself, something that no one could argue him into believing, that a biography need no longer be associated with school assignments. Here are no dull accounts of men and women, but real people whose lives seem touched with wonder and magic.

Boys and girls, and adults too, need heroes to inspire them and where can they find them any better than in the lives of men and women whose character and achievements make them stand out among their fellow man?

Such a one is the "Runner of the Mountain Tops." In this book, Mabel Robinson tells the story of Louis Agassiz, that gifted naturalist whose eternal "Why?" and "How?" led him along exciting paths before his curiosity could be satisfied. Everyone who came in contact with him was kindled with the spark of enthusiasm for nature, and never was life quite the same for them afterwards.

A kindred spirit of Louis Agassiz was John James Audubon, naturalist, artist and woodsman, whose unflagging energy drove him from Pennsylvania to Texas, from Florida to Labrador in search of birds. Courage and independence armed him against the dangers of the frontier and his singleness of purpose never faltered from his boyhood to the end of his life.

DAVY CROCKETT

Constance Rourke, author of "Audubon," has written also a book about "Davy Crockett," who knew wild life as few have known it. He was the most noted hunter of his time. The legends about his bold exploits and the circumstances of his adventures emphasize his importance in the history of American frontier life. These three men were famous in the early part of the 19th century. Their contributions to the growth and development of America were recognized as great even in their own time. The books about them are only a few of the many biographies on the Library Shelves waiting to be explored, to stimulate different interests and to touch the heart and mind.

RULING THE SHORT WAVES

The following article was chosen from Hygeia.

"You'd better get a shot of shortwave," said a friend to mine when I complained of racking sinue pains in my face.

"Short wave?" I objected, wondering what radio had to do with sinus trouble.

"It's a wonderful treatment for sinus," my friend insisted.

And he gave me the name of a prominent nose and throat specialist. I went. The doctor examined me, found the sinus draining, then sat me down in front of a polished box that looked something like a radio set. Two long metal arms were pivoted on each side of the box. Each arm ended in a round flat pad. The doctor carefully adjusted a pad to each side of my temples and turned a switch. There was a low humming. After a minute or so, I felt a gentle warmth begin to creep through my tortured face. At the end of five minutes, the doctor turned off the apparatus. My face still ached. "Come back tomorrow if you still have that pain," he said "and I'll give you another treatment."

"I'll be back," I answered grimly. I had tried all sorts of things for my blasted sinus—sun lamps, hot applications, cleanings out, and nothing had ever been much good. I had to grin and bear the torture till it wore off. That this five minute treatment could have any real effect seemed fantastic.

Yet an hour after I left the doctor's office, the racking pain had vanished. Next morning I woke with the first clear head I had had in weeks.

How long, I asked myself, had this been going on? When I began to look into this healing apparatus that I had never heard of before, I found a radio program advertised a home shortwave diathermy machine, and I ran across newspaper advertisements of these machines. I sent for information and was deluged with booklets. Evidently there was a sizable industry in shortwave machines for use at home.

"Short wave burns up the accumulated poisons in your system," said one booklet, startlingly. "The inhuman agonies of rheumatism—the stiffening deformities of arthritis, the wrenching stabs of sciatica, the smothering tortures of asthma—the lightning jabs of lumbago—Science has found a proven way of relieving their victims, a remedy so simple and effective as to seem a miracle," said another.

How pleasant, I thought, to have one of these home machines on hand whenever the pain recurred. I called up the doctor who had given me the treatment and asked his opinion.

"I'd steer clear of them," said the doctor. As we talked further I discovered that I had run into a controversy of considerable current interest in medical circles, with the doctors generally agreeing that short-wave treatment ought not to be self administered.

As I investigated further, I discovered that the medical profession has recently begun to use short wave diathermy on a large scale. Practically all of the 2,200 American hospitals with physical therapy departments own one or more short-wave machines. There are from 30,000 to 40,000 short wave machines in use, either by hospitals or by physicians in private practice. The Mayo Clinic has six diathermy machines constantly at work. Denver General hospital treats 2,500 patients a year with short wave. Last year a large Indiana hospital gave 60,000 physical therapy treatments most of which included short wave. One physician at the Mayo Clinic told me that American physicians give short wave treatments every year to 3,000,000 persons!

This article will be continued next week.

The LAUNDRY MAN

By Caldwell Jones

I was privileged to listen to a truly great speech yesterday. It was made by none other than Mrs. Charlotta Bass, editor of the California Eagle. The occasion was the cornerstone laying celebration at Bishop Sara L. Butler's strikingly beautiful Zion Temple, at 1315 E. Vernon avenue, Los Angeles. The speech was simply a tribute paid by a woman who HAS achieved, to a younger sister who is now achieving; but its depth of thought, its forthright directness, and the effortless eloquence with which it was delivered, stamps Mrs. Charlotta Bass as one of the truly great speakers of our Race. Any community or group, white or black, could well be proud to be represented by such a gifted speaker.

YOUTH ORGANIZATIONS

I was reading the other day of a newly launched Youth Organization called "We Who Are To Be Called Upon To Die," or something to that effect. Its membership was limited to those whose age makes them eligible for drafting into the army. Their platform was undeniably interesting because it presents a new angle or slant to this business of war conscription.

The substance of their platform is that since they are the ones who will be called upon to fight and die, in the event of war—or better perhaps—in considering and weighing the alleged provocations which may be considered as a cause for war. I confess it is hard to find anything wrong with their attitude from the standpoint of hard common sense. True, it may be a radical departure from the established traditions that the masses "are not to reason why, but to obey and die," but nevertheless it is undeniably a wholly rational viewpoint.

THE HON. HUGO BLACK

Tall, lanky, ex-klansman by rumor, Hugo L. Black made history in the Supreme Court of this nation last week. His pronouncement made in reversing the decision of the Supreme Court of Florida in the case of four Negroes convicted of murder was an undeniably an wholly rational epic appeal in the cause of Justice and human rights.

It also shattered a long-cherished delusion of sundry narrow-minded, shallow-thinking leaders of our group; namely, that all Southern-bred white men are our traditional enemies and that we should bellow to high heaven against the appointment of any one of them to high National office. They fail to realize that this sort of Lump judgement is the identical thing we resent so bitterly in the attitude of many whites in regard to ourselves. We, of all people, should assiduously cultivate the capacity for intelligent, unbiased judgement, for by so doing we will create in the other group greater respect for, and greater attention to our complaints when we do make them.

When Hugo Black was nominated for the Supreme Court bench, in spite of the adverse hue and cry set up by a great portion of the Negro press, your humble servant dared to speak out in his defense, and ask that hasty judgement be withheld Events have now fully justified that defense. Alabama is a great state and has produced some great men.

Carver's Earnings Go to Foundation

CHICAGO, Feb. 22—Dr. Geo. Washington Carver, Tuskegee Institute, (Alabama) scientist, has donated his life savings, $33,000 in cash and government bonds to a foundation to perpetuate research in creative chemistry, it was reported here this week.

Dr. Carver was reported as saying he was willing to give his life savings, depleted through a bank failure some years ago, to the perpetuation of the work because he believed the answer to the South's economic ills might be found in it.

I hope I shall always possess firmness and virtue enough to maintain what I consider the most enviable of all titles, the character of an honest man.—Washington.

As an additional aid to the officers, a church officers' convention will be held March 9, when conference officials and others will instruct the incoming officials.

A corp of workers, under the direction of Benjamin MacAdoo, expert floor man, laid a hardwood floor in the main auditorium during the past week. The work was made possible through the $500 Improvement Fund which the church is raising under its new pastor.

Last Sunday at the morning worship, a large audience filled the auditorium of Wesley Methodist church and was inspired by a very interesting service. Zeta Phi Beta sorority was the special guest and the service centered around their motto, "Finer Womanhood." Dr. Rakestraw, pastor inspired the sorority and the large audience with a sermon on "Finer Womanhood."

The Great Fruit Rally is showing much progress. Great interest is being manifested by the membership and indications are that our goal will be attained.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

These words of the Psalmist "Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite," are the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Mind" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

A Bible citation in the Lesson Sermon includes these verses from Job: "I will teach you by the hand of God: that which is with the Almighty will I not conceal. . . . He bindeth the floods from overflowing; and the thing that is hid bringeth he forth to light. But where shall wisdom be found? and where is the place of understanding? . . . The depth saith, It is not in me: and the sea saith, It is not with me. . . . God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof. . . . And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom, and to depart from evil is understanding."

Selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, present the statements: "Belief in a material basis, from which may be deduced all rationality, is slowly yielding to the idea of a metaphysical basis, looking away from matter to Mind as the cause of every effect." "Only by understanding that there is but one power,—not two powers, matter and Mind,—are scientific and logical conclusions reached."

Outlook for Collins as Bishop Bright

Local Minister Enjoys Favor of Bishops Council

By BAXTER LEACH

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 22—It is conceded here by a majority of delegates and visitors to the Bishops Council and Connectional Council that California will be represented on the Board of Bishops after the General Conference by the Rev. H. Mansfield Collins, pastor of Eighth and Towne AME church of Los Angeles, Calif. REV. H. MANSFIELD COLLINS necessary at this time for Bishop in the African Methodist Episcopal Church.

Eastern Delegates Favor Him

Delegates to the General Conference from the East are almost a unit for him, especially among veterans of the World War which number more than half of the delegation. Dr. Collins was a lieutenant in the World War and served 15 months overseas.

Dr. Collins is a native of Missouri and was educated in the public schools of Kansas City, Fisk and Wilberforce Universities and Payne Theological Seminary. He is also a former president of Bethel College, Montgomery, Ala. and has pastored some of the largest churches in the connection.

Providence Baptist Ass'n in Second Quarterly Meeting

The doors of the Bethel Temple Baptist church were thrown open to the members and friends of the Providence Baptist Association, when this body was called to order in its second Quarterly Board Meeting, Wednesday, February 14, 1940.

Rev. B. W. Wade, Moderator, presiding. The attendance was great and the business transacted proved to be interesting and helpful to all present.

One of the outstanding features of Wednesday evening's program was the discussions by the Youth Movement. Taking for their theme "The Divine Touch," one could quickly see from the expressions of the Youth, that much thought and study had been given to the subject presented for discussion. The musical numbers prove also to add much to the enjoyment of those present.

The reports from the Sunday School and BTU Conventions, which Rev. E. D. Payne and Rev. A. T. Hines, respectively, are heading, were indeed inspiring.

The Women's Convention over which Mrs. C. R. Pius presides, as usual took lead over all others represented. Among some of the many outstanding features of the work of the Convention, was creating and organizing a Ministers' Wives' Council. This Council is to consist of the wives of the ministers of the Association.

The most outstanding features of the next Board will be the dramatizing of "The Seven Churches of Asia." The parent body of the Association convened with Moderator B. W. Wade presiding. All reports were interesting, which show that progress is being made in spite of hindrance and obstacles and increased work in local churches. Plans were completed for the organization of a S. S. and BTU Congress.

WPSC Units Hold Joint Celebration

Hold Negro History Week Observance at Bethel Church

The Theodore Roosevelt and Ida B. Wells unites of the Woman's Political Study club have joined in a four day celebration of National Negro History Week at Bethel church, Westside.

Sunday night Chalmers Gaithers gave a resume of the founding and activities of the Baptists and Mrs. Anna B. Fields presented a similar history of the A. M. E Zion Church. Rev. J. C. White explained Methodism in its entirety. The program was interspersed with music by Negro composers and spirituals, selected and presented under the supervision of Mrs. Mabel Shepherd, who also introduced the mistress of ceremonies, Mrs. Ethel Prioleau. Mrs. Prioleau's explanation of the song "Steal Away" was enlightening. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Addie Speights, president of Ida B. Wells unit.

Monday ngiht's program was equally interesting with Mrs Speights presenting Mrs. Mabel Shepherd, first vice-president of the Roosevelt Unit, as mistress of ceremonies. Miss Manilla Smith summarized the achievements of Negro educators. Hope Speights introduced Joseph Sides of the Carver Club who gave a most complete sketch of the life and works of the scientist, George Carver for whom the club is named.

The status of the race in the field of athletics was reviewed through an interview of Jackie Robinson by Maude Luke Wilson, and Roy Speights, manager of a basketball team for girls at Manual Arts. She also interpreted one of the poems of Dunbar creditably. Langston Hughes' life and works was presented by Gwendolyn Dusuau.

MUSE SPEAKS

Clarence Muse and other outstanding artists in the theatrical field drew back the curtains, giving glimpses into their world. This made Tuesday night's program interesting as well as entertaining.

Wednesday night which was set aside as military night was the consummation of the series of programs with the American Legion as honored guests. Speakers for the evening were Norman Houston and Dennis Mathews and music was furnished by Lieutenant King.

Green, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Collins, L. Foster, R. Rays, G. A. Howard, J. C. Watts, Mrs. M. L. Flakes and Hub Warren.

Mrs. Ida Mae Robinson was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Russell while in the city. Mrs. Russell is Grand Matron of the Order of Eastern Star, making her official visit to San Joaquin chapter. Mrs. Bessie Russell, worthy matron, presided.

Life of Douglass Reviewed By Study Club Unit

The Frederick Douglass Unit of the Women's Political Study club observed the birthday of Frederick Douglass, with the most outstanding program given during the unit's life. The chairman of Public Affairs, Mrs. Elenor Hoke, and of current events, Mrs. Willie Mae Bracken, are due credit for the program. Participants included a quartet: Mesdames Josie Llewellyn, Belle Riley, W. Johnson, Elenor Hoke, with Ernestine Royal at the piano. Mrs. Pearl Roberts gave an interesting club history. Titus Alexander gave a history of Douglass, and he also read from the book of "Letters to Douglass," a letter he wrote to Mrs. Douglass at the time of Mr. Douglass' death.

Other numbers included a reading by Charles Weaver of UCLA of the Gettysburg address; piano solo by Mrs. Royal. Emory Douglass, also of UCLA, compared the lives of Lincoln and Douglass. A reading by Elenor Hoke, current events of the club by Willie Mae Bracken, a one act play, "The Collect Speaks," were also presented. Participants in the play were Dorothy McDonald, De Lois Huffman and Elenor Hoke. Selection by the quartet, remarks by the Unit's president, Mrs. Echo Stanton Robinson and a delicious colation served by the Youth Inner Circle, closed the affair.

Townsend to Oppose Arthur W. Mitchell for Congress

CHICAGO, Feb. 22—Willard S. Townsend, president of the International Brotherhood of Red Caps, recently changed to the United Transport Service Employes of America, this week, announced his candidacy for Congress in the first Congressional District of Illinois.

Townsend, who will oppose the present incumbent, Congressman Arthur Mitchell, will make the race in the Democratic Primary, April 9. His candidacy is sponsored by the 1940 Second Ward Regular Democratic Organization and endorsed by the Southside Division of Labor's Non-Partisan League.

NEPHEW OF SENATOR REVELS

Townsend, considered one of the most able Negro trade unionists in America, was born in Cincinnati, Ohio and educated in the public schools of Cincinnati, Wilberforce university and the Royal College of Science, Toronto, Canada. He is the great grand nephew of Hiram V. Revels of Mississippi, first and only Negro United States Senator.

As president of the International Brotherhood of Red Caps, Townsend successfully conducted the historic fight of the red caps for employe status before the Interstate Commerce Commission. His most recent fight has been before the Wage and Hour Division of the U. S. Department of Labor against employers' use of tips to meet federal minimum wage requirements. The outcome of this has resulted in the $3,000,000 civil suit instituted in behalf of 2500 employes.

BRIDGE POINTS

BY M. L. MILLIGAN

"Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise." In bridge, it is suicide—Since Bridge is first, last and always a partnership game, it is folly to apply advanced technique in bidding situations where it is necessary to vary within the flexibility of the written rules, when your partner is an amateur or strictly orthodox player. Because the percentage of points lost is too great since your Bridge goal is always points, it is necessary to consider the relative values of equations, time factors, etc., before going into strategy that must be understood by both partners to be successful. (C) 5 S	Pass	Pass	(B) 4 N T

EXPLANATION

(A) This response ean be made with one H. T. and any five card suit headed by A, K or QJ; or one plus H. T. with any biddable suit headed thus; to bid any other type of biddable suit, the responding hand must contain 1½ H. T.

(B) Adhering to the above response, he knew that game was assured and a little Slam postive, if the hand contained 1½ H. T. This rebid unalterably set the spade suit as the agreed trump suit.

(C) A positive response, since five in the lowest previous bid suit would have been a sign off.

(D)A strategcial bid designed to draw the opponents into a dbl. (Since the responding hand had not shown more tha 1½ H. T.) and betray the outlying strength.

North and South were playing the last rubber of the evening and were 2160 points behind—hence the deliberate overbid of one trick—the bidding thus far showed a 7½ H. T. in the combined hands and this is equal to a small slam. A grand slam is possible with a successful finesse or other distributional breaks and is permissible within the flexibility of the Law, providing the percentage is in your favor. So with the above situation staring you in the face, why not?

(F) North should not have ever permitted the contract to be played in hearts since South had set the spade suit. The bid forced him to bid the agreed suit. Naturally, South was down one trick and seven spades could be made against any defense. doubled and rebid and they would have won by 180 joints.

Anti-Lynch Bill Foes to Be Heard March 5

GEN'L HOSPITAL NURSES ABUSE TOLD BY WOMAN

on the sidewalk

by c. a. b.

I READ with grave interest Westbrook Pegler, Times columnist, on "Picket Line" in the Wednesday morning edition of that metropolitan sheet.

Mr. Pegler sited the case of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt breaking the picket line when she entered a Washington D. C. movie theatre to attend the capital premier of "Abe Lincoln in Illinois." Pegler stated "With the merits of htis case I will not tangle."

Because of his previous fair treatment of such matters where race or color prejudice formed basis for injustices, I am inclined to think that Westbrook Pegler feels that the First Lady should have refrained from entering the motion picture palace.

Pegler's hesitancy in condemning Mrs. Roosevelt on this score--such leniency not being one of his usual virtues--can be found in his recent judgement of the president's wife as "the greatest American woman". Aftsuch a broad and glowing tribute, it would be hardly consistent for him to blast the good lady. However, I believe the Pegler mention of her picket line transgression may be viewed as a gentle warning from the natoin's leading columnist.

Mrs. Roosevelt's failure to respond to supplications from pickets on this occasion was particularly remarkable in that she has become known as an ardent supporter of labor and one of America's greatest picket advocates. It was not long ago that the First Lady openly encouraged the picketing activities of striking Chicago garment workers.

In Washington, Negro and white pickets drew attention to the fact that colored citizens of the community were unable to attend this film, itself a story of the Great Emancipator. A tremendous irony was made evident in the very fact that people whom "Honest Abe" liberated are not permitted to view a cinematic portrayal of his life seventy-five years after "liberation".

In crossing that Washington picket line Mrs. Roosevelt detracted hugely from her extensive reputation as a liberal American, a friend of the weak and oppressed. Her refusal to enter that premiere, many believe would have been a death blow to such discrmiination in the capital.

While still on the subject of picketing, it occurs to me that Negroes in the East have been far more succesful in its use as a labor medium than black people of Western shores.

Recently, when I visited New York City, I found that merchants who were in the throes of a picketing campaigns were avoided consistently by colored shoppers. During my short stay, there were several gains made in the employment of black workers via the picket method. 125th St., central business artery in Harlem and comparable to our Central Avenue, was particularly blessed with an army of determined pickets. Day by day, recognition for white-color Negro workers is being secured on this business thoroughfare which once proudly boasted of being "lily white".

In the West, howover, I have failed to find lasting benefits accrue to black pickets. With a few notable exceptions, picketing especially in Los Angeles, has descended to the rank of sheer racketeering in this section. Since the local ordinance against the practice, of course, we have not had opportunity to experiment with this medium further. But it is well for us to review our previous "picket experience" in anticipation of the inevitable return of this great Labor weapon.

Among Negroes, the chief difficulty encountered in successful picketing was the fake leadership which grew with the practice. As a businesswoman, I know of several cases in which merchants were victimized by innocent picket mobs under the control of political leaders who later accepted a "fix". This is no careless accusation; I know it for a fact. Toward the end, there actually developed a group of semi-professoinal pickets who were commandeered by political small fry who, in most cases, were on the payroll of some

SEN. VAN NUYS SETS DATE AFTER CONFAB WITH SEN. CONNALLY

Senate Hearings Will Then Close; Report By Judiciary Committee to Senate Follows

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 29.—Following a conference with Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, here Thursday, Senator Frederick Van Nuys, of Indiana, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee's sub-committee holding hearings on the Wagner-Van Nuys-Capper Federal Anti-Lynching bill, announced that final hearings on the bill will be held Mar. 5.

Seator Van Nuys set the date after a conversation with Senator Tom Connally, of Texas, arch foe of federal anti-lynching legislation, had requested that he be given a week's notice as to the time when final hearings would be held in order to permit him to introduce testimony from Texas witnesses, against the bill. Connally is still in a hospital, suffering from a heart ailment. In a statement on the closing of the hearings Senator Van Nuys said:

"These will be absolutely the final hearings on the bill. When Senator Connally's witnesses have finished on the fifth or sixth of March the sub-committee will make a full report to the full Senate Judiciary Committee. This should be accomplished no later than March 7 or 8.

Senator Henry F. Ashurst, of Arizona, chairman of the Senate judiciary committee, in whose hands the bill is placed, has promised that as soon as the sub-committee has made its report to the full committee, the bill will be reported out to the Senate. Senator Ashurst, as an active proponent for the bill, has insisted that it be brought to the floor of the Senate for a vote.

Governor Burnet R. Maybank, of South Carolina, it was learned, has asked Senator Van Nuys for permission to testify before the sub-committee against passage of the bill.

White, announced today that the NAACP is gathering information about recent activities of the Ku Klux Klan in South Carolina, and specific information on other mob violence in the state. The Association is also gathering information on statements attributed to Governor Maybank, alleged to have been made when he ran for Mayor of Charleston, and also for governor of the state.

N. C. Race Riot Tension Eases

BADLY INJURED WOMAN ACCUSED OF BEING DRUNK BY NURSE, CLAIM

"Never Touched a Drop of Liquor" in Her Life, She Says; Plan Protests to Officials

Flagrant mistreatment by nurses at Georgia Street Receiving hospital was charged this week by Mrs. Josephine Morgan, 1462½ E. 23rd street, sewing project worker.

Mrs. Morgan fell on a wet floor in the Douglas building, 257 S. Spring street, February 3, with bruises about the back and a swollen face. She was rushed to Georgia Street hospital in semi-conscious state where she was assertedly accused of being drunk. The woman claims she has "never touched a drop of liquor" in her life.

Loss of her sewing project job because of the accident resulted, and Mrs. Morgan stated that she has received no aid or assistance of any kind in the past three weeks.

NAACP officials and the Civil Liberties Committee of Daughter Elks have swung into action with revelations of Mrs. Morgan disclosed this week. A suit against the Douglas Bldg. management is also hinted.

Mrs. Morgan went to the downtown center to pay her insurance, she stated, and upon entering the building found its floors wet. She slipped and fell backwards and rose unsteadily only to fall forward, inflicting painful bruises upon her face. She was unconscious and a Receiving Hospital ambulance soon arrived.

On the seventh floor of the hospital, a "large, heavy-set" nurse accosted Mrs. Morgan, commanding her to take off her clothes. According to statements, the nurse roughly grabbed the woman and shook her, saying, "Take those clothes off, you drunken woman! You had enough money to buy yourself liquor; you can take off your clothes."

"I was too weak to lift up my arms," Mrs. Morgan has reported.

Leaving her, the nurse returned with seven aides who assertedly caught her up and threw her on a bed. The woman screamed, after which she was allegedly gagged and chloroformed.

At this point a doctor entered, demanding to know what was causing the disturbance. "This nigger woman came here drunk and wants us to take her clothes off; and we won't do it," assertedly replied the nurse.

The unnamed physician examined Mrs. Morgan's chart and tested her heart. Growing angry, he flared at the nurse and her assistants, "This patient has terrible palpitation of the heart! She is not drunk!" according to statements. He then ordered that liniment be applied to her bruises and "left the room very angry."

Later that afternoon, the woman's 13-year old daughter and friends called to take her home.

Mrs. Morgan is a member of Zion Hill Baptist church, active in religious affairs. British by birth, she is an American citizen.

Protests to hospital officials are planned.

MRS. JOSEPHINE MORGAN and her young daughter. Mrs. Morgan was assertedly mistreated at Georgia Street Receiving hospital after an accident February 3. The woman fell on wet floors of Douglas Bldg., 2nd and Spring streets. National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and other organizations are investigating Mrs. Morgan's charges this week.

Races Clash When White Cop Slain

Except for Officer No Fatalities After Riot in N. C. Town

DUNN, N. C., Feb. 29. (ANP) — This small North Carolina town was returning to normal this week following racial clashes caused by the slaying of a white policeman in a riot a week ago Sunday night and the burning of the cafe where the killing took place.

All last week, special police patrolled the town and were stationed at strategic points in readiness after mob threats were heard and organized bands of white hoodlums attacked and chased Negroes from the streets. However, except for the officer, there were no fatalities reported.

The trouble began when officers were called to the little colored cafe to quell a disturbance. Policemen D. W. Smith and Martin Underwood responded. When they sought to make an arrest, an argument developed in which the patrolmen were rushed. Underwood was hit on the head with a blunt instrument and slain. Smith escaped and returned with reinforcements who arrested 7 persons.

Held as principals were Dave Lilly, Bud Grady and Buster Hargrove. The other four, held as material witnesses, were Hazel Lewis, John Chance, James Williams and Buster Williams. They have not been permitted bond in the belief they would be safer inside jail than out.

MOB FORMS

When news of Underwood's death was circulated, a group of whites from the notorious and rough "Easy street" section of Sampson county, the officer's home, came to town to take matters in their own hands. They attacked and beat up many Negroes. The cafe, scene of the slaying, was burned to the ground by "unknown parties."

Some of the Negroes molested fought back. So many calls came in to police headquarters that officials said they feared lives would be lost unless this condition was remedied. Officers from nearby towns, deputy sheriffs and state highway patrolmen were rushed here. Orders were given that no officer was to answer a call alone, and patrol cars were parked in strategic points along the street and plainclothesmen secreted in the various "trouble spots."

Police prevented gatherings of any kind in the streets. Mayor Taylor and Police Commissioner Hood instructed the force to use every precaution and discretion "but don't take any chances"

The mayor also said that the city would not stand for the molestation of any citizen, regardless of color, and declared any offender caught would be dealt with severely.

Haroldine Browning One of Most Traveled Children

One of the most widely traveled children in the world, if not the most widely traveled Negro child, is little Miss Haroldine Browning, 13-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Harold Browning.

Haroldine's daddy is the famous concert parsonage, Harold Browning, tenor. His recent concert here was a highlight of the musical season.

The Brownings came home to Los Angeles last October to live for a spell, at least until the war in Europe is over. Mr. and Mrs. Browning (Maureen) have made California their home for many years. Haroldine is ready to call it home and likes it very much, although she is a true Continental and was born in London. This isn't her first visit to the States, however. She was here at the age of three.

Haroldine finds John Adams Junior High school quite a change from the convent school she has always attended. But she likes it. She also likes making the acquaintance of boys and girls of her own race. Previously, the only racial compatriot of her own age in her parent's circle in England was young Paul Robeson, Jr., son of the famous baritone-actor.

EXTRA STUDIES

Mr. and Mrs. Browning consider the English educational standard higher than ours, a viewpoint that is shared by many in authority. So, on the side Haroldine must study piano with Lorenzo Jordan Cole, and dramatics. She has to find time to practice her French too, for she is an excellent conversationalist in the language and doesn't want to grow rusty.

The dramatics undoubtedly are preparation for a stage or screen career, begun when Haroldine played in a British made movie, "Who's My Father," with Lupino Lane.

Haroldine shares her globe

trotting honors with someone else. It's her doll, which is undoubtedly the most traveled brownskin dolly in the world. Jimmie is its name and it has accompanied her on all of her jaunts.

The Brownings are living in the family home on the Eastside. Haroldine's grandfather, the late William Henry Browning, was a pioneer Californian.

White Texas Lawyer Who Voted for Connally Supports Anti-Lynch Bill

NEW YORK, Feb. 29—Not all of Senator Tom Connally's white constituents in Texas agree with his tactics in trying to kill the federal anti-lynching bill. James Davis, prominent white attorney, of Dallas, who has always voted for Connally, is one of them.

Davis sent Connally a long letter recently pointing out to the Texas Senator that the old arguments against a federal anti-lynching bill can no longer hold weight because " . . . economic conditions, the changes in transportation and communications, or the processes thereof, taking place within recent years, have removed all the supports and arguments that I and mine have been clinging to for more than a century, and we find that the United States of America, whether we wish it and will it or not, is one community governed by the laws enacted by the national congress, even to the smallest detail in many avenues of life . . ."

Louisianan Gives Lie to Sen. Connally on Anti-Mob Bill

NEW YORK, Feb. 29—Although more than a score of organizations throughout the country have advised the NAACP that they have written letters to Senator Frederick Van Nuys and the senators of their states, calling for passage of the anti-lynching bill, a letter received by the NAACP recently, stands out for its eloquence.

The letter, which comes from a citizen of Louisiana, is a direct answer to Southern senators who claim that the people of the South are opposed to passage of the bill because southern states are able to solve the crime of lynching through state controlled agencies of the law. It gives the direct lie to Senator Tom Connally, who has said that he will bring witnesses from Texas to Washington to prove that there is no necessity for passage of an Anti-Lynching bill", a spokesman for the NAACP said.

"I am writing this in behalf of the anti-lynching bill. I was reading in the paper where they was trying to get it through the Senate. I am praying this anti-lynching bill will pass because its, the only help the Negro has to develop himself to the high stage of life in the South.

"I was reading in the paper where a senator in the South was saying that he was going to bring some colored people to prove that we don't need a anti-lynching bill in the South, but God knows that we need a bill like that ir the South because we have no rights at all. They kill us like a chiken raiser kills his chiken, when he get ready. They do us the same way down here in the south."

The letter, despite the fact that it was addressed simply to the NAACP, New York, arrived at the Association's national office here without difficulty.

Pickets Urge Discharge of Prejudiced SRA Employe

While George R. Lane, Urban District SRA employe, was telling reporters that he was not ashamed of a report in which he proclaimed that the only "undoubtedly deserving" persons on relief were members of small white families, more than 200 Negro and Mexican pickets were parading around his office Tuesday morning urging his discharge on the ground of prejudice.

Headed by Robert B. Strather, president of the United Democratic Luncheon Club, which sponsored the picket line, a committee called on John Whitten, district director, who was quoted by Strather as saying that Lane's restoration to duty after having been discharged once was done on the order of Walter Chambers and that Lane would be kept there unless further orders from Chambers were forthcoming.

Signs carried by pickets read "George R. Lane Must Go," "Cut Relief Cost by Cutting Off Prejudiced Employes," "Taxpayers Don't Pay Salaries to un-American Employes" and "Mexicans and Negroes Starve While SRA Wastes Money on Lane's Salary."

INCONCLUSIVE

"Our conference with Mr. Whitten was distinctly inconclusive," Strather said, "and we have no alternative except to lay the entire matter before Walter Chambers and urge action upon him. Despite the weasel words by which Lane seeks to crawl out from under the charge of prejudice we are satisfied that one who holds his point of view is not qualified to serve as a public official, much less to be stationed at an office whose clientele is composed of 40 per cent Mexican and 35 per cent Negro persons."

The report around which the controversy revolves was one prepared by the California State Employes Association and in the preparation of which Lane had boasted of having a prominent part in dividing those getting relief into three categories: "undoubtedly deserving, doubtfully deserving and undoubtedly undeserving." Only group listed in the first category was that of "small white American families former-

Divine Assailed as Menace to Family Life

NEW YORK, Feb. 29. (CNA)—Father Divine, cult leader, was denounced this week by Justice Jacob Panken in Domestic Relations Court as "a menace to the community" and particularly to the welfare of the children of his followers. In a decision commiting Roy Ferris, 15 year old youth, to the State Training School at Warwick, N. Y., Panken blamed the cult leader for breaking up the child's home by instructing the parents to live apart.

Panken declared that the child had been forced to live in filthy unheated rooms and without adult guidance as a result of Divine's ban on marital relations by his followers. He ordered psychiatric treatment for the boy, who previously had spent another term at the school, "to nullify the harm which has already been done by the man Divine's influence over his parents."

Boy, Beaten By Schoolmates, Succumbs

CHICAGO, Feb. 29. (ANP)—James Brantley, a 15 year old student of Dunbar vocational school here was arrested Monday in connection with the death of Bert Williams, 13, 7th grade pupil, who died from injuries received in a fight between the two boys the previous week.

Mrs. Velma Williams, mother of Bert, told a coroner's jury that Brantley had "picked on" her son for more than a month previous to the fight that caused his death. On Feb. 16, she said, Bert went to school in perfect health, but returned home that evening bruised and ill, with a temperature of 102.

He told her, the mother continued, that Brantley had knocked him down in the school woodshop, kicked him, and stamped on him. She took him to the County hospital where he died the next day.

Labor Unites to Fight Against Poll Tax

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (CNA)—The CIO and the A. F. of L. have joined with a number of important progressive groups in a campaign to wipe out the poll tax system in the South.

Both labor organizations have pledged their support to a bill introduced by Rep. Lee Geyer of California which would outlaw the poll tax in 8 Southern states where it is still in effect.

Supporters of the Geyer measure hoped to be able to force the House to act on the bill at this session.

They won their first victory with an anouncement that the House Judiciary Committee has appointed a subcommittee headed by Rep. Francis Walter of Pennsylvania to hold hearings on the bill.

SCOTTSBORO BOY ASKS DAMAGES FOR INJURY

MONTGOMERY, Feb. 29. Norris is asking damages under workmen's compensation laws.

Virginia Adopts Bland's Song

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (ANP)—The long debated subject of a state song for Virginia came to an end in the state legislature Thursday night, when it was voted to accept James Bland's song, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny" as the state anthem. Only one change was made and that was a change of the word "Virginny" to "Virginia" in deference to demands made by objectors.

The song written by a Negro becomes the state anthem of one of the original 13 colonies, the Old Dominion state.

Helen M. Werner Out of Jail

Released from County Jail at 9 a. m. Monday was Mrs. Helen M. Werner, veteran political figure, who was imprisoned as a condition of three years' probation following her conviction with her husband, Erwin P. Werner, of attempted theft of $2500 from William McNeil, mining promoter now in San Quentin prison.

Characteristically, Mrs. Werner's first words to newsmen were "I have no apologies to make to anyone".

Continuing, the well known politico said, "I know lots of people believe I was wrong but I know personally that I did nothing wrong. Regardless of what anyone else believes, therefore, I am standing by my guns and offer no apologies to anyone".

NOW DE SCRIPTURE SEZ:

"I shall not be moved." So My Aunt just kept on threatening that if Uncle Zeke didn't move she'd be "blessed" if she wouldn't pack her own bag and baggage by and last!

Yours until my Aunt will cool down and not be quite so rambunctious,

EUGENE HENRY HUFFMAN.

President of Hampton Resigns

Dr. Arthur Howe's Resignation Takes Effect on June 30

HAMPTON, Va., Feb. 29. (ANP)—The resignation of Dr. Arthur Howe, as president of Hampton institute, was announced to more than 1,000 students, alumni and faculty members at chapel services in Ogden Hill Sunday night by J. Henry Scattergood of Philadelphia, chairman of the board of trustees. The resignation is to take effect June 30.

"President Howe had tendered his resignation on several occasions," Scattergood said, "on ground that a new president, not involved with the serious measures of the retrenchment program, would be in a better position to make a fresh start on building up the Hampton of the future. Now that the retrenchment program has been virtually completed," he said, "the trustees have accepted his resignation."

"During the administration of President Howe, Hampton has made notable strides forward. Hampton's college standing has advanced to class 'A'. The Phenix school, whose cornerstone was laid the first year of Dr. Howe's administration, has risen as a land-mark for secondary education and the training of teachers. The trade school, always pre-eminent, has risen to the college level, has modernized its curricula, and has entered additional fields with new equipment valued at $100,000 or more. The nursing school was founded in 1931, and just recently has been transferred to the Dixie hospital.

FORCED TO CUT BUDGET

"It has fallen to President Howe's lot to be obliged to cut the Hampton budget by over $125,000. But we may recall that during this same difficult decade, Hampton has received $815,000 in bequests, and has been able to make additions and improvement to its buildings and plant."

President Howe came to Hampton in January, 1931, from Dartmouth college, Hanover, N. H. Previous to that he had been teacher and chaplain at the Loomis school, Windsor, Conn., and assistant headmaster and chaplain at the Taft school, Watertown, Conn.

He is a graduate of the Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Conn., Yale university and Union Theological seminary, New York City, and is an ordained minister of the Presbyterian church. In 1911 he was captain of the Yale football team and head coach the following year.

Scott Writes on Economic Plight of Chicago Negroes

By EMMETT J. SCOTT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 29—"More than half of the Chicago Negro population is jobless", is the conclusion announced by the Hyde Park-Kenwood Council of Churches of that city after a survey conducted under its auspices.

The facts revealed indicate a shameless, disgraceful condition of affairs in America's second largest city. The study was made by Dr. Fred Eastman of the Chicago Theological Seminary.

The facts and figures so far revealed expose in a startling way one of the most serious social and economic situations in the country. The tragedy of it is that, —probably in some less degree, it is the story of the Plight of the Negro population in most of the large industrialized cities of the nation.

According to the investigation, conditions are becoming worse, with opportunities for the employment of Negroes diminshing. The report also reveals that race discrimination is on the increase, and that approximately 115,000 or 57 per cent of the 200,000 or more Negroes on the South Side of Chicago are unemployed. Of these about 75,000 are receiving direct relief; 20,000 or more receive their means of existence through WPA projects. More than one-third of the young people 15 to 24 years old are jobless.

38,000 Employed

Employed Negroes number 38,000, of whom 12,000 to 14,000 are hired by the steel farm implement packing and Pullman car industries. The weekly wage of this group runs $25 to $30.

From 10,000 to 12,000 Negroes work as porters, garage helpers, car-washers laborers and laundry employees. Average pay is $18 or less. Between 5,000 and 6,000 women have domestic jobs averaging $7 weekly each.

About 2,500 have independent businesses, owners averaging $30 a week, employees $15. Approximately 3,000 are in the professional class with weekly earnings up to $50 a week.

In general, the opportunities for employment of Negroes seem to be diminishing. They have to struggle against much race discrimination.

They are given the hardest and most dangerous jobs, receive the lowest wages and are most likely to be dismissed in times of slackness.

What mainly is the Cause of and the Remedy for such conditions? The cause is to be found in the general inefficiency and breakdown of the City administration, the Kelly-Nash machine which has used destitution and distress as a political leverage in debasing the people, while the Federal Government keeps heat on industry thereby preventing expansion and the creation of jobs for those willing and eager to work.

Relief as administered on the South Side, Chicago, where these 200,000 Colored people mainly reside has long been a scandal setting a new low in the history of American politics.

Similarly, Democratic machines in Philadelphia and throughout Pennsylvania, Kansas City, St. Louis, and other parts of Missouri, Massachusetts, Kentucky, and dozens of other states have mixed politics with relief, keeping unfortunate people on relief that they more readily may be subject to political pressure and vassalage, coercion and general intimidation.

The Remedy: More efficiency in City administration, the end of exploitation of persons in need, an honest, sincere effort by City administrations to actively see to it that no part of the City's population is discriminated against in securing that proportionate share of current employment to the end that the plight of the Negro population of Chicago, may not permanently become the fixed status of all underprivileged groups of American cities.

NBC Airing in Tribute to Dunbar

Ted Malone Will Broadcast Sunday from Poet's Home

NEW YORK, Feb. 29. (ANP)—Ted Malone's "Pilgrimage of Poetry" which is taking radio listeners into the actual homes of the 32 poets chosen by the university and college English departments as America's most outstanding, starts west this Sunday at 1:00 P. M. EST with a nation-wide broadcast from the home of Paul Laurence Dunbar, "poet laureate" of the Negro race, at 219 N. Summit street in Dayton.

Dunbar, son of a one-time slave mother, fought poverty and illness to write poetry and battle for Negro rights. He wrote his first poem at the age of 7 and his first job as an elevator boy earned him only $4 a week. But with the publication of his second book, "Majors and Minors" in 1896 he achieved wide recognition and before he died his "Lyrics of the Lowly Life", "Lyrics of the Hearthside", and "Lyrics of Love and Laughter" genuinely expressing the spirit of his race won him an unquestioned place in the literary world. He numbered among his friends Theodore Roosevelt, William Dean Howells, William McKinley, Robert G. Ingersoll and many other outstanding figures of the day. A position in the Library of Congress which eased the financial strain and marriage to his boyhood sweetheart, Alice Ruth Moore, should have meant a life of happiness, but overwork had wrecked Dunbar's health and his efforts to recover were futile. He died on Feb. 9, 1906 in the modest two-story house on Summit street which Ted Malone will visit this Sunday on his pilgrimage to one of the few shrines in America devoted to the colored race.

Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio authorized the purchase of the Dunbar home as a shrine in July, 1936, and the property was purchased in 1937 by the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society for the preservation of Dunbar's manuscripts and other personal momentos of the poet. When Ted Malone takes the NBC microphone there he will endeavor by word pictures to bring the radio audience into the actual rooms where the poet lived, showing them his typewriter, his desk, his library, his basket of pipes, and the bicycle he rode down the streets of Dayton.

This is the 21st in the series of 32 programs from the homes of the poets. Malone who originated and conducts the series also has a daily program called Between the Bookends heard over the Blue eNtwork of NBC at 3:45 E. S. T.

"Build-Up" Good News For Suffering Women

Much of women's periodic distress may be unnecessary!

Many who suffer from headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain, other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by CARDUI.

Main way it helps relieve periodic distress is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juice. Thus it often aids digestion; helps build strength, energy, resistance to periodic disturbances.

Others find help for periodic discomfort this way: Start a few days before and take CARDUI until "the time" has passed. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years.

ROBERT (Bob) CHURCH, who filed papers of bankruptcy himself several weeks ago, tossed an unexpected bombshell into the Republican Program committee meeting in Washington recently, by introducing a resolution demanding that the Republicans spend $100,000 to win Negroes back to the G. O. P. fold.

As Church, a Tennessee committeeman, read his resolution, Chairman John Hamilton rapped for order with the words. . . "You'd better listen to this. Do you realize this resolution is voting away $100,000 of your money.

The motion was tabled when Perry Howard and Committeewoman Mary Booze, Negroes, offered no second. Questioned afterwards as to why they had not seconded Church's resolution, Mrs. Booze said. . .

"Don't ask me now. I have a bad headache"

Howard said, "I am in favor of anything that helps my people".

Grace of Marian Anderson Rare Gift, Says S. F. Reporter

SA NFRANCISCO, (By Anna Foster)—"No news is good news" a statement, often used, surely does not inspire this columnist.

San Francisco (Not "Frisco") is like the heavens that possesses a new star, one that outshines, in her beauty and splendor, all other of its mates. With the great star, Miss Marian Anderson, in our midst we are somewhat in awe and wonderment. It was amusing, however, during one of Miss Anderson's concerts to note the undisciplined audience who didn't even possess the common courtesy given fighters in the pugilistic ring. They gave the artist no real rest period with their continued sickly applause.

The artist graciously answered call after call. . . no. . . no didn't please them. Over heard were the words, "Gee, I know why she is so great, she's a Negro and can sing German so good." Our artist was a picture of beauty as she gracefully arranged her many flowers and such a twinkle in her eye as one of her overjoyed listeners gave the customary foreign "Bravo!" And the autograph seekers, so sweetly received, a word, a smile, a hearty handshake for all. . . Oh, that some of the two by four local sopranos could copy some of the graces of the truly great Marian Anderson. She even shook my hand and smiled into my eyes, and I didn't dream that she did either.

New Names for Housing Projects

New names for the Ann Street and Utah Street Housing projects were announced today by Nicola Giulii, chairman of the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles.

Honoring the name of the "father of public housing in Los Angeles", William G. Mead, the Ann Street project will henceforth be known as "William G. Mead Homes", and when completed will house 449 low-income families.

Mr. Mead, now deceased, toured European countries imediately after the world war to study public housing on the other side of the Atlantic. It was due to his efforts while a member of the Board of Freeholders that drew up the Los Angeles City Charter in 1925, that provisions were made in the Charter permitting establishment of the first Housing Comission in the United States, Giulii said.

"Aliso Village" the new name for the "Utah Street" project is associated with the earliest history of Los Angeles. Aliso Street may be traced back to 1855 when the Los Angeles Pueblo Lands were surveyed by George Hansen at which time the street was "but a winding road going northwest towards San Gabriel."

The first bridge over the Los Angeles River was constructed in 1870 on Aliso Road at a point now known as Macy street. According to historians of Southern California the river bottom at this point was full of alders and sycamores. Aliso being the Spanish name for alder, the "wandering country road was named Aliso."

"Aliso Village" will have safe, sanitary and comfortable living quarters for 800 families.

Ineze Cordelia Smith Weds Rev. J. L. Caston in Riverside's First Methodist Church; 500 Attend

At the First Methodist church in Riverside Sunday afternoon Miss Ineze Cordelia Smith, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William Thomas, was married to Rev. J. L. Caston, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, Los Angeles.

The ceremony was performed by the Revs. W. D. Carter of Pasadena and W. A. Jones, of Louisville, Ky.

Approximately 500 friends of the popular couple braved a downpour of rain to attend the wedding. They came from as far away as Needles, El Centro, Santa Monica, Los Angeles, Pasadena, San Bernardino, Redlands and Ontario.

The church was beautifully decorated with enormous baskets of gladiolas, stocks, peach blossoms and potted palms. Four candleabras stood on the altar and the entire ceremony was conducted by candle light. Huge bouquets of stock, tied with white satin bows decorated the aisles.

The bride wore a white satin gown trimmed with silver lace and a tulle veil fastened with seeded pearls. She carried a bouquet of gardenias, lillies of the valley and white orchids and was attended by Miss Frankie Harris, maid of honor, who wore white taffeta gown and picture hat and carried pink roses.

Bridesmaids were Mesdames Helen Jones, Riverside; John Etta Jackson, San Bernardino; Henrietta Banks, San Bernardino; and Miss Corrie Davis, of Needles. They wore white taffeta bustle back gowns, white satin sandals, double stringed pearls, white taffeta picture hajts and carried bouquets of pink and orchid delphiniums, larkspur and sweet peas built around gardenia centerpieces.

The little flower girls were Beverly John Jackson and Eloise Savage, of San Bernardino. Their dresses were the same as the bridesmaids.

Mesdames Bernice Ware, Belle Felix, Mildred Gover and Rowena Muckleroy Savage were the bridesmaids' attendants.

Groomsmen were the Revs. Grant Harris, A. Moten, W. P. Carter, and A. W. Ross while Rev. L. M. Curtis acted as best man. They wore formal afternoon attire with gardenia buttonieres.

The bride was given away in marriage by her father, Rev. Br. Thomas. Mrs. Thomas was a lovely figure in blue crepe off set by a gardenia corsage.

Credited with having arranged the entire ceremony was Mrs. Rowena Muckleroy-Savage, who also served as soloist in the rendition of "You're Just a Lovely Garden." Denis Black, Riverside violinist, played "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Sing Me to Sleep." Miss Dorothy Ingram played the wedding march on the organ and accompanied the soloists.

Messrs McCormick Alves, Arthur Beal, Orvitt Hillsman and John Scotland were the ushers. Attendant of the groomsmen was David A. Jones.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the bride's home at 2911 9th street.

Dr. Caston and his bride went into seclusion until Wednesday morning when they left for a short honeymoon on the ranch of friends near Los Angeles. Extensive honeymon plans were delayed because of serious illnesses in Dr. Caston's church which required that he be on call.

The bride and groom will return to Los Angeles March 15 when a grand reception will be sponsored by the Trinity Baptist church.

Hundreds of beautiful and useful gifts completely filled one large room and many more are being received from all parts of the country where the couple is widely known.

Dr. Caston is esteemed by his colleagues in California as one of the most brilliant and progressive leaders of the Baptist denomination. Youthful and attractive Mrs. Caston is an accomplished leader in social and religious circles of Orange County. They will make their home at 2906 St. Andrews Place in Los Angeles.

THE BIDDING

North	South
1 S	3 H (A)
(B) 3 S	5 N-T (C)
7 S	Pass

EXPLANATION

(A) By far the best response, since a 2 N-T bid would show from 2½ to a maximum of 3½ H. T. and 3 N-T would limit the hand to not more than H. T. So without over average support for partner's suit and 5 plus H. T., it is the only bid that will pave the way to show this additional Honor Strength later.

(B) A very sensible and true rebid since the hand contains no additional Honor Strength and has a rebiddable suit, which may mean everything to your partner, as he has made a game force—and neither side can pass until game has been reached, or a satisfactory penalty double acquired.

(C) This bid is a Grand Slam force (a wee bit optimistic. But not without valu- since the combined hands had a minimum of 7½ plus H. T.) Setting spades as the agreed trump suit; if he holds the AK AQ or KQ he must bid a Grand Slam in the agreed suit regardless. Liking either one of the above Honor Combinations, he signs off by bidding six in the agreed suit. Very masterful bidding. Mr. and Mrs., for 99 players out of 100 would have raised the heart and out the window would have gone a perfect Grand-Slam in Spades, where the raise in Heart would have died at Six.

NOTE

In last week's hand, the opponents were 2260 points in the lead. A Grand Slam by North and South would have netted them a margin of a 150 point lead. Many were the calls and cards, asking why didn't South, after the double by West, bid 7 Spades. Because North was placed in a straight-jacket and was compelled to bid 7 Spades, regardless of the subsequent action of South. After a suit is agreed on, it is unalterable by either partner. Remember this, because it is very important.

This hand was bid six spades, but should be played for four spades.

Monday night, 7 tables of duplicate were played in the Contract Club sanctorium. Dr. Irving, (Mrs. Al Matthews) paired with M. E. Tucker, were tied by Mrs. Beulah Marshall and Dumas Watson for high, with 49 match points. John Waller and E. Brown won East-West with 51 match points on board, No. 12, 6 or 7. JEFFERSON HI SCHOOL TO BENEFIT FROM TUBERCULOSIS SURVEY

L. A. Tuberculosis and Health Ass'n, L. A. City Health Service, WPA Program Mar. 5

Through the efforts of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health association, the Los Angeles City Health Service, and the WPA, Thomas Jefferson High school is to be one of the schools to benefit from a tuberculosis survey.

These agencies try to reach every young person of high school age during the three years of high school. Mar. 5, Dr. Reginald Smart, or Frank Mayer of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Association, will speak to the faculty and instruct them as to the procedure to be followed. Mar. 12, Mayer, who is the educational director of the association, will present a motion picture, "Behind the Shadows," to the students at a double assembly.

By March 19, all of the students of the school are expected to have returned permit slips signed by their parents or guardians.

On March 25, 27, and 29, doctors and nurses to do the testing will be at school. On March 25, every student who is present will be given the test. March 27, the students who were tested on the previous Monday, will be examined for signs of reaction and those students who were absent on Monday will be tested. On March 29, there will be a final check.

X-Rays To Be Given

All students who show a positive reaction will be given x-rays of the chest which will be taken at school. There will be a fee of one dollar for the x-rays. However, no student who is in need of the picture will be deprived of it because of the lack of money. A positive reaction does not necessarily mean that the person is suffering from an active case of tuberculosis. It may mean that the person has been infected sometime in the past and that the case has been arrested.

The test is painless and, as there is no tuberculin in the inoculation, there is absolutely no danger involved. The chemical is injected between the layers of the skin.

In 1936, when the test was given at Jefferson, about 83 per cent of the students were tested. Forty-three per cent of those showed a positive reaction. This was the highest percentage of any school in the city. There were 8 active cases which were sent to institutions. Of these, one was in a very advanced stage and is now in the General hospital. The other 7 have been discharged as arrested cases.

The Community Night Youth program with over 300 boys and girls of many nationalities participating was the highlight of the three day activities.

The work of a coordinating council is primarily to coordinate every agency interested in child welfare in a concerted effort to decrease juvenile delinquency by providing the proper educational and recreational projects for all youths in the district. Zelma Watson Duke has been chairman of the South Central Council and general chairman of the day's activities for the past two years.

Miss Helen Reynolds, general chairman for the program, was assisted by Ben Ellison, who acted as msater of ceremonies and who was general coordinator for the entire project. Groups participating were: students from McKinley who conducted the Flag Ceremony; Glee Clubs of McKinley; Group 37 of Troop 77 Boy Scout in drum and bugle corp drill; dramatic skit from Outdoor Life and Health Assn., and the Temple Health Institute; ski by Girl Reserves; High school Girl's choir from Avalon Christian church; Spanish Dance by Adelena Gallegos from the El Santa Nino Community Center; Spanish folk dances by group from Santa Fe and Staunton street schools under the supervision of Rudolph Riveria; chorus from 49th street, Ascot and Hooper Avenue schools; accordion duet by Andrew Sacino and Johnnie Spezzano from 28th Street school; Girls' Trio and Boys' Glee club from Jefferson High under the direction of Samuel Brown; Mayfield Brothers Quartette from Lafayette Junior high. The program ended with musical selections by Alma Hightower's Melodic Dots from Ross Snyder playground. Moving pictures of the work of the CCC boys in the forestry and fire department preceeded the program.

...Marie Downing BEAUTY AND ROMANCE

SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION

The Larieuse Beauty Foundation was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

With the March winds howling around the corners of buildings and the last traces of winter in the air, most of us are a bit run down from a long hard winter, and it's a lucky girl who can step into spring without at least one bad cold to her credit—or discredit. Because colds are sworn enemies of beauty and romance. A man would have to be pretty much in love to look with pleasure at a girl with bloodshot eyes, a red, sniffly nose and a hacking cough. We all instinctively draw away from a person with a bad cold so the logical solution is to avoid a cold in the first place.

Keep Fit

Here are some common-sense suggestions for avoiding the start of a cold: Keep in the best physical condition possible; don't allow yourself to become over-tired nor expose yourself unduly to temperature changes. Get plenty of sleep, fresh air and exercise and maintain a sensible, balanced diet. Lack of sleep and proper food at this time of year leaves you a ready prey to colds. And if, in spite of taking all possible precautions, you find yourself with a heavy head and a feverish feeling, do something about it immediately. If possible, go to bed and stay there for a day or two. If you can't stay there all the time, get as much extra sleep as possible, drink lots of water and fruit juices and avoid unnecessary fatigue.

Make-Up Helps Disguise A Cold

When you have a cold it is impossible to look as well as you do when you are in the pink, but with a little time and care you can manage to look somewhat less drugged. First of all, a cold has a tendency to dry out the skin. Keep a good night cream handy and apply it as often as is reasonably possible—not just at night. Foundation cream will help to keep the powder in place in spite of constant wheezing and blowing. Pads of cotton dipped in iced skin tonic and placed over the eyes will soothe the smarting and remove the bloodshot look. Apply your make-up more carefully than ever if you feel that you look wan and pasty. The shade of your powder alone can make a tremendous difference. Use a slightly warmer shade if you feel a bit washed out. A little more rouge, if properly applied, will give you a brighter look and distract attention from your chapped and peeling nose.

Above all, don't give the whole thing up just because you are feeling miserable. A little time and trouble can work wonders toward making you look almost human and, when you see how much better you look, you'll find that you feel better too.

What are your beauty problems? Write Marie Downing, Larieuse Beauty Foundation, Room 521—319 North Fourth St., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

'Lip Service' Patriots Real Danger, Says N. O. Houston

Speaking at the Temple Israel for the observation of National Brotherhood Week, on Feb. 21, Norman O. Houston, prominent insurance executive and civic leader, told his hearers that the danger to American democracy lies in the "lip service" patriots.

Said Houston: "We hear great talks on Americanism ;it is truly the fashionable subject of the day. But let me tell you this: We are in greater danger of having our democratic institutions fall by the actions and deeds of many of these "lip service" patriots than from all of the Communists, Nazis and Fascists in America."

Houston presented the Negro as America's greatest minority who has within it all the cultural and literate levels that any other race has . . . The problem arises out of only one type of Negro, the illiterate, being kept as the model rather than the leaders of the race.

Other speakers included Lal Chand Mehra of India who was technical adviser for "The Rains Came," and Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., of the First Baptist church of Glendale. Houston was selected as one of the "pioneers for his people in the business and social life of the West, and a leader in the movement for the advancement of colored people.

Patterson, $33,000 of his life's savings, in cash and in government bonds, the nucleus for the establishment of the George Washington Carver Foundation. The purpose of this foundation is to perpetuate research in creative chemistry to which Dr. Carver has devoted a lifetime.

Speaking of the gift, President Patterson said, "Dr. Carver's action registers emphatically his conviction that an important part Lloyd Isaacs, Institute Treasurer, Vice-Chairman; Austin W. Curtis, Assistant to Dr. Carver, of the solution of the nation's economic ills lies in the conversion of otherwise wasted materials to practical uses."

Officers of the George Washington Carver Foundation are: Dr. F. D Patterson, President, Tuskegee Institute. Chairman; Secretary; Dr. George W. Carver, (sitting); R. H. Powell, Attorney, Tuskegee, Ala. Benjamin H. Russell, Alexander City, Ala., and J. R. USHA Watches Fight Over Negroes on Louisiana Board

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (ANP)—Housing officials are watching the result of the feud raging in Louisiana, where local authorities are conducting a bitter campaign against the naming of Negroes to the management board.

As in other cities, the federal housing authority maintains a hands-off policy, but it has been generally accepted that wherever possible, Negro maintenance staffs should operate the dwelling erected for Negroes.

Commenting on the situation, one of the authorities remarked that in Louisiana, especially New Orleans, where there are 8 housing units going up, four of which are for Negroes, there was a wholehearted cooperation on the part of labor organizations in furnishing Negro laborers, skilled and unskilled, for the erection of those houses, but when it comes to naming of a management staff, they do not want to place Negroes in charge of the houses.

White Texan Is Convicted in Murder

McKINNEY, Tex., Feb. 29. (CNA)—Melvin Johnson, white, was sentenced to a term of 15 years in prison for the brutal murder last summer of Delmar Holt, Negro youth. The conviction of Johnson in this case is surprising, for this is a sharecropping region where a number of lynchings have taken place in the past The jury, which remained out for five hours and 40 minutes, likewise assessed the punishment.

Holt, his body riddled with bullets, was found dead in a lonely creek bottom.

Lincoln U. Grad Chosen as Air Line Hostess

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 29—Miss Fay Tull, a graduate student in home economics at Columbia university in New York, was recently selected as one of 30 young women to serve as hostesses in the service of the American Air Lines, Inc. No colored person has been previously admitted to this service and 125 applicants were considered before the decision was made. Hostesses were chosen on the basis of personality, academic training, home economics work and the ability to pass a rigid physical examination. Miss Tull is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Tull of Jefferson City, Mo. Mr. Tull is business manager for Lincoln University.

CCC Awaits Its Fate in Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. (ANP)—Under the direction of the labor department, the civilian conservation camps eagerly await the decision on the appropriations for their continuance and hope that budget pruning will not seriously affect the continuance of the camps. Although the president has asked for a reduced budget for this particular part of New Deal legislation, it has been generally felt that the 150 Negro camps now under the supervision of the department, will feel no ill effects of the proposed budget cut.

Marian Wants to Do Ballet

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 29. (ANP)—Marian Anderson, world's foremost contralto, has a suppressed desire to be a ballet dancer, she revealed here recently.

"But it's all so silly," she said. "I suppose everyone wants to be something he isn't . . . something that's quite impossible."

Because her European and Australian tour was cancelled by the war, she plans to sail for Honolulu June 22. Her Hawaiian vacation, Miss Anderson added, may include some study of hula dancing.

RALEIGH, S. C., Feb. 29. (ANP)—Suit for $10,000 against the Royal Theatre Corporation of Tennessee for injuries suffered as result of a theatre door being slammed in her face, was filed here last week by Mrs. Ada Dark. Milton Starr, owner of the East Hargett Street theatre where the action is alleged to have taken place, also was named in the suit.

Mrs. Dark, charging that she was permanently injured on Feb. 8, 1939, when an attendant at the theatre slammed a door against her as she attempted to enter, said she was pregnant at the time, and the accident caused her to lose her unborn child.

Suit Against Howard Argued

WASHINGTON, (D. C.), Feb. 29.—The suit of Albert I. Cassell, local architect, against Howard university for $26,250 is being argued in court here. Defense set up by the University is that Cassell was on the regular payroll of the university and the amount he claims was paid him in his salary.

The University also contends that if the amount was due as alleged, because he failed to file suit within the three years prior, the statute of limitations bars his right to recover.

Covington Back on USC Social Work Committee

Floyd C. Covington, executive director of the Los Angeles Urban League, recently received word of his appointment to the advisory committee of the newly organized School of Social work of the University of Southern California. This is the second time that he has been named to serve in this capacity in the last three years.

"The League's industrial relations and employment department has been concentrating heavily on openings for Negroes in the field of construction engineering relative to the housing projects and census enumerators and employment for Negroes in the rubber and aviation industries," Covington said in announcing the appointment.

'No Time for Drinking, Reefers' -- Lionel

BALTIMORE, Feb. 29.—Lionel Hampton, vibraharpist and drummer in the famous Benny Goodman outfit, knocked into a cocked hat the traditional idea that "all musicians are hop-heads and liquor hounds."

"Nothing is farther from the truth in 90 per cent of the cases. "We're like any other group of hard-worning, conscientious men," Hampton continued.

"The hard life we lead doesn't tolerate much drinking and reefer smoking. You've got to be a trained athlete to keep up."

At the same time, the President approved loan contracts for the development of 150 dwelling units for Negro occupancy in Montgomery, Ala., and for 120 in Marietta, Ga. Of the 133,834 homes to be developed in projects to date, approximately one third will be for Negro occupancy in large cities and small throughout the country.

3 HUSBANDS, 1 WIFE

We heard Baxter Scruggs, executive secretary of the 28th Street Branch YMCA, tell an audience which had come to pay tribute to Bessie Bruington Burke, only Negro principal in the city school system, of new frontiers for women.

The occasion was the observance of "Finer Womanhood Week" by the local chapter of Zeta Phi Beta sorority.

During his discourse, the YMCA secretary threw a bombshell into the group when he intimated that the woman of tomorrow might well have three husbands — (1) a business man; (2) a handy man; and (3) a lover.

The suggestion caused a loud outburst of amused laughter. In fact, the speaker was bombarded with good-natured jests and serious queries following the banquet.

The thought is not new, according to Scruggs, having been discussed in "Designs for Marriage" and Reader's Digest.

Classifying the duties of each, Scruggs said that the business-husband would make the living; the handy-husband would have charge of the upkeep of the home; and the lover-husband, obviously, would supply the romance.

BUNCHES

Those who follow the horses will tell you that it's a good idea to follow your bunches, if you have any, about the chances of a likely or unlikely looking nag in a race.

Thursday we went out to watch the running of the $50,000 Santa Anita Derby at the picturesque oval in Arcadia. Milling around with some 30,000 or so people, we first noted the consistency with which long-shot hosses were getting under the wire first. It was a bad day for handicappers, all of whom were taking a beating.

One elated hunch hoss-player, following the fourth race, asked us if we had played "Blackbread". We told him, rather dejectedly, that we weren't so lucky, hadn't given him a thought. Whereupon he told us that being what we are (a Negro) we shouldn't have overlooked the opportunity. "Blackbread" roared down the stretch to place and pay off $67.40 and $23.60.

If we had kept in mind what this hunch player had said, we would have put our two-buck show bet on "Negra Mia" in the eighth and collected. But we didn't!

"TIRED OF MAMMY!"

Believe it or not (pardon us, Ripley) Hollywood, your limitation of roles for the Negro actor and actress is coming in for increasing comment which may well lead to concerted action to change your policy.

Diverse opinions have greeted the release of "Gone With the Wind", just as diverse opinions greeted the release of "Imitation of Life", just as diverse opinions greet any "super colossal" productions in which Negroes are pictured in the "accepted" roles.

Sitting in on a Book Club meeting attended predominantly by women the other night, we were privileged to hear a woman, Juanita Ellsworth Miller, emphatically state that she for one is "tired of mammy".

Her views did not censor the Negro actor or actress for playing the role for, as she said, they must make a living just as anyone else. They did indicate, however, that the rich background of the Negro race offered material for potent motion picture entertainment, material which would cease to limit the Negro actor and actress to the perennial clown, buffoon and mammy role.

One thought especially stuck with us and it shows what a successful job you have done, Hollywood, with this race in the past. It is that a Negro romantic team would appear ludicrous in a major production, not only to white audiences but to Negroes themselves. Obviously, the reason for this is that motion pictures have not allowed the Negro an opportunity to run the gamut of human emotions.

We have heard it said that when a woman gets behind a thing it will be carried to its logical conclusion. If that be true, look for Negro women who share the views of this woman to tell you they are "tired of mammy".

JAYSEE STUFF

Our Girl Friday reports the wags of L. A. City College are on the rampage again. Their latest panicker is this:

The playful one phones you, states peremptorily:

"This is the telephone company. We're checking the line. Will you hum a tune please . . . any tune?"

Innocently, you comply. Then . . .

"Will you whistle, please?"

A bit pained, but doggedly obliging, you whistle. Then . . .

"Will you BELCH, please?"

By the time you summon a belch up from your abdominal recesses, the waggish one is, himself, convulsed, and said belch is met with the sharp click of the receiver.

The remainder of the day you walk around in a daze, wondering at the instruments' reception to a BELCH.

AFTERTHOUGHT

There is something about the Negro which is uncanny. It appears that whenever something out of the ordinary turns up in the news, a Negro has had a hand in it — usually to his credit.

Witness last week when two Negro boys led police to the mother who killed the baby who was "too good to live". Finder of the Lindbergh baby was a Negro.

SPURLARK JR. FREED OF CHARGES BROUGHT BY ALBERTINE PICKENS

Chicago Judge Dismisses Case Against Step-son of Prominent Former Actress

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—Albertine Pickens, well known former actress, was defeated in the court skirmish with her step-son, Royal Spurlark jr., with young Spurlark's vindication here last week of charges of threatened assault.

Miss Pickens had accused the young law student, of threatening her and making violent gestures toward her during an argument last January 18. The two were disputing over Spurlark's wish to see his father and Miss Pickens' husband, the late Royal Spurlark, Sr., who was ill at the Provident hospital. Spurlark, Sr. died the next day.

Miss Pickens had married Spurlark, Sr. several weeks before his death. Well known in Chicago fraternal circles, Spurlark, a Pullman Porter, was the winner of a $75,000 sweepstakes prize in 1938. He and the mother of his son were divorced.

APPEARS ON STAND

Miss Pickens, attractively and modishly garbed, appeared as a witness for the prosecution in young Spurlark's trial.

Her voice choked with emotion and she cried out loud as she enacted the scene in the hospital lobby which she said caused her to have Spurlark, Jr. arrested. She became so overcome with emotion that the presiding judge stopped her testimony to request that she control herself or leave the courtroom. Just before she left, the defendant's attorney asked her occupation before her marriage to Spurlark, Sr.

"I was married", Miss Pickens retorted. Her attorney objected and Spurlark, Jr.'s counsel explained.

"I was trying to show that she had a reputation as an accomplished actress".

Witnesses for Spurlark testified that they were present during the scene but saw nothing threatening in the youth's manner.

Hot debate in which attorneys for both sides accused each other's clients of having an eye "on the $40,000 reportedly left Miss Pickens in the late Spurlark's will, was silenced by the judge who said the court was only concerned with whether or not young Spurlark threatened Miss Pickens. The case was dismissed.

Georgia Solons Hold Up Negro Girls' School

MACON, Feb. 29—Unless the legislature makes available the necessary funds, the State of Georgia cannot operate the WPA built Training School for Negro Girls, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the president was told last week.

Mrs. Roosevelt had addressed an inquiry to Governor E. D. Rivers, concerning the beautiful structure. Her letter was turned over to the State Department of Public Welfare, from which she received an answer. Thus far the state legislature has refused to appropriate the money.

If there is any thing that keeps the mind open to angel visits, and repels the ministry of evil, it is a pure human love. —N. P. Willis.

Urban League Gets Grant for Equipment

The Los Angeles Urban League has received a third grant from an outstanding local foundation for the purchase of new equipment for its offices, it was announced today.

This year the grant included money for the payment of 50 special transfer files, a most unique file project being completed at the League by its office secretary, 10 new folding chairs for the League's increasing clientele, and two small typewriter tables for the use of special Telephonian and NYA in-service training projects. The League is the only service organization in the community that has been nominated by the Foundation for equipment grants.

Press Confab to Open Today

NEW YORK, Feb. 29. (CNA) —John H. Sengestacke, of the Robert S. Abbott Publishing Co., Chicago, Illinois, has announced that more than seventy-five editors and publishers of Negro newspapers, magazines and press syndicates would convene in that city in the first annual convention of a national press body of race journalists.

The object of the conference will be to develop a definite set of recommendations and policies that will be of benefit to Negroes and Negro newspapers throughout the country.

Students in Drive to Ban Race Bias

BERKELEY, Feb. 29. (CNA) —The full weight of official student opinion this week has been thrown behind renewed efforts completely to eliminate racial discrimination in the University of California community.

The last meeting of the executive committee of the Associated Students of the U. C., after heated discussion passed a resolution urging increased participation of racial minorities in student activities and endorsing committee activity directed toward the elimination of race bias.

The discussion centered around a motion by ASUC Secretary James Taylor that the university committee on housing make racial equality a criterion for approving lodgings. This and other moves are energetically supported by the American Student Union, the Student Workers Federation, the ASUC welfare council, and other organizations.

The welfare council has requested the ASUC executive committee to prohibit establishments practicing racial discrimination from advertising in AS UC publications.

THEATRE DENIES RACE RIGHT TO HEAR BENNY

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 29—Although a Negro arranged the music played by the band, which also featured two Negro members, the Race was denied admission to the Lyric theatre here last week when Benny Goodman's band was presented. Negro members of Goodman's band are: Fletcher Henderson, arranger; Lionel Hampton, vibraharpist, and Charlie Christian, guitarist.

Negro Best Unionist, Says Author of Book on South

NEW YORK, Feb. 29. (CNA) —A strong plea for trade union unity and the abolition of color bars in the labor movement is made by Dr. Katherine D. Lumpin in her new book, "The South in Progress," just completed in collaboration with the Labor Research Association. Dr. Lumpkin is a native white southerner and the co-author with Dorothy Douglass of the standard work on child labor, "Child Workers in America."

In a chapter on "Problems of Trade Unionism" Dr. Lumpkin reviews the special features of southern trade union developments and especially the importance of the Negro as a union man. Her book gives concrete examples of the ways in which color lines have recently been broken down in the fires of the trade union battle. She quotes white southern organizer of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee, CIO, as saying: "When a Negro joins a union, he means it. . . the best unionist I have ever seen is the Negro union man."

"The South," Dr. Lumpkin concludes, " is the last place in the world where there should be division in labor's ranks. The magnitude of southern problems demands the broadest popular attack upon them. Skilled and unskilled workers, manual and profession, Negro and white, conservative, liberal and left-wing, trade unionists of long experience and fresh new recruits —if southern people are to make real progress they cannot afford to have any left out."

Dr. Morris Retains Chair at Tennessee State College

After covering more than 10,000 miles, speaking at thirty colleges in fifteen states, and addressing a total of more than 100,000 persons of both races, Dr. Charles Satchell Morris, II, who has served for the past several years as professor of English, director of publicity and chaplain at Tennessee A. and I State College, Nashville, returned to Los Angeles last Wednesday morning. The famous orator and popular teacher was given a touching farewell by members of the faculty and the 1200 students who jammed the spacious auditorium on Friday morning, February 2, at exercises held in his honor. A petition signed by virtually the entire student body was presented him urging that he resume his professorship at the Nashville institution. During the course of his brief yet dynamic address, Dr. Morris declared publicly that he was not resigning his chair, rather he wished to be known as "Sometime Professor at Tennessee State College." He further asserted that he would return annually to conduct a graduate seminar or forum and that he would be the institution's representative while on the Pacific Coast. When he maintained in closing that for "six years I have been seeking the hand of some coy, demure, ingratiating, and pulchritudinous damsel to cheer the cockles of the heart of a poor widower," and that if "King Edward VIII of Great Britain the ruler of an Empire upon which the sun never sets could renounce that sovereignity he could go no further. The students literally rocked the building and went into a frenzy of applause forcing the popular professor to bare his acknowledgment again and again.

He and Mrs. Morris (nee Irene Anita Freeman) were guests Thursday night at the Western Baptist State convention, Santa Monica; at the YWCA annual dinner Friday night; of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Williams at dinner Sunday evening; at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios on Tuesday along with Frank Edwards, noted Chicago mortician, where they saw Vivien Leigh (star of "Gone With the Wind") and Robert Taylor in action.

They were also invited guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Garner of Pasadena at dinner Wednesday evening at their palatial Pasadena home honoring Marian Anderson. It is understood that after a brief rest. Dr. Morris will speak throughout California before going to the Pacific Northwest and thence East and South for a series of important public engagements.

Moore was arrested Jan. 25 when he walked into a police station, laid a loaded pistol on the desk and said he was going to kill his whole family.

Hattie McDaniel in Running for Academy Award for '39

Hattie McDaniel's portrayal of "Mammy" in "Gone With the Wind" has placed the actress definitely in the running for an Academy Award for giving the greatest supporting role of any actress in Hollywood for 1939.

Actresses in the lead for the award in this division are Hattie McDaniel, Olivia De Havilland, for her role of Melanie in the same film; Maria Ouspensakaya, for the role of Charles Boyer's grandmother in "Love Affair," and Edna Mae Oliver in "Drums Along the Mohawk."

Awards will be made tonight at the annual banquet, to be held in Hollywood. Miss McDaniel will be present.

Hollywood columnists, led by Jimmy Fiddler and Hedda Hopper, have declared that Miss McDaniel turned in the most finished piece of acting in the Selznick super-production.

Paul Robeson, Marian Anderson Among Favorites of UCLA Students

In a poll taken by the Daily Bruin, student publication of UCLA, last week, collegians in favor of classical concerts won over the college jitterbugs, voting among their concert favorites, Paul Robeson and Marian Anderson.

The poll, taken to determine the type music students wished to hear at the bi-monthly campus concerts at Royce Hall, revealed 688 favoring classical concerts, while 672 wanted jazz-jitterbug sessions. Other choices among outstanding concert stars were: Fritz Kreisler, Lawrence Tibbett, Sergei Rachmaninoff, Gladys Swarthout and the Ballet Russe.

Lionel Hampton Earned $32,000 During 1939

Lionel Hampton, star vibraharpist and drummer with Benny Goodman's band, refused to confirm to reporters in Indianapolis last week, where he appeared, that it was authentic he earned $32,000 salary in 1939.

Hampton, who is from Los Angeles, is supposed to have made $23,000 working for Goodman, and $9000 from other work, a higher salary than that received by any musician, who is not a band leader. Hampton only smiled noncommittedly when asked if it was true he was leaving Goodman in Hollywood, in March, and striking out for himself.

Three commercial programs are said to be waiting for his decision, which will be the first time a Race band landed a weekly commercial spot for a long-term contract.

Hampton is supposed to have bought a downtown cafe in NY in December.

Lunceford to Appear at Vogue Mar. 10

In his last scheduled appearance here, Jimmie Lunceford will be presented with his band in another great pbulic dance March 10 at the Vogue, Leon Heflin local booker announced today.

Lunceford opens an engagement at the Paramount theatre today and will appear on the stage there for one week.

Jitterbugs who find his tunes irresistable and the aisles too narrow to really "kick out" are advised of a repeat of the maestros successful appearance at the Shrine Feb. 11.

Hattie McDaniel in 'Maryland'

The first Hollywood producer to follow up the success which the Negro actress, Hattie McDaniel, made in "Gone With the Wind" was Darryl F. Zanuck.

THE NICHOLAS BROTHERS, vaudeville headliners, appeared on the Chick Webb Memorial Benefit in Baltimore last week.

Lunceford at Paramount Today

Today is the big day at the Paramount theatre. Lunceford and his orchestra open a week's engagement. Local fans have been waiting a long time for the personal appearance of this "Sepia King of Swing" and his stay at the Paramount will be a record-breaking one.

The screen attraction will be the thrilling romantic hit, "Adventure in Diamonds," with George Brent, Isa Miranda and John Loder in the leading roles. The action for the most part takes place in South Africa and the famous diamond mines.

Collectively and individually, the Lunceford band is a versatile and dynamic group. The saxophone section is comprised of Willie Smith, Earl Carruthers, Joe Thomas, Ted Buckner and Dan Grissom. Russell Bowles, Elmer Crumbley, and James Young are the trombonists. Trumpeters are Eugene Yeung, Paul Webster and Gerald Wilson. At the piano is Edwin F. Wilcox; Moses Allen, bass; James Crawford, drums; and Albert Norris on the guitar, completes the crew.

The style of Willie Smith's variations and his intonations are different from any other alto saxophone. They have a fullness—a bite—shown up by a tone which is amazing for its terrific volume and its full beauty. Willie is also a clarinetist equal in class if not better than most clarinet specialists. He uses the same style on the clarinet. Willie is also a vocalist of high calibre, and as his arranging of "Tain't What You Do," introduced by the Lunceford band and written by one of its members proves, he rates a high place as one of the greatest hot musicians in the world.

Actor Who Won't Talk

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—A reticent actor. Sounds like a gag, but no better authority than the wife of John Marriot, colored trouper who has won praise in the part of "Cal" in Lillian Hellman's hit, "The Little Foxes", now on tour, swears that it was two years after she and John were married before she learned of some of his achievements.

Right now Marriott is having a hard time keeping his secrets. He and the veteran Abbie Mitchell do one of the best bits of team work in a vehicle boasting no less than the twinkling of Tallulah Bankhead in starring role. For two years previous Marriott toiled conspicuously in Kaufman and Hart's "You Can't Take It With You" and George Abbott's "Three Men on A Horse". The papers have been more than nice to him, but the guy won't talk.

BORN IN BOLEY

Referring to his life, Beatrice, who worked in the Public Relations Bureau of Fisk University, however, Marriott's dark past has come to light. Born in the all-Negro town of Boley, Oklahoma Marriott distinguished himself in football and baseball, and captained the latter team at Wilberforce University, in Ohio, which granted him a Bachelor of Science degree. Came the War, and Marriott proved so expert a machine gunner that he was commissioned lieutenant, transferred from the chemical warfare division, and kept over here as instructor.

A desire to become an industrial chemist led him to Ohio State University for a Master's degree. Ceramics were his thesis theme, and the center of his interest. Semi-pro baseball helped the income. But before long he found himself in Cleveland, selling insurance, and finally a printer in a printing shop.

There the theatre bug bit him, and he became a member of the Gilpin Players, oldest Negro little theatre in America. For 12 years he learned his craft, finally graduating to leads in such plays as "All God's Chillun Got Wings", "Porgy", "Emperor Jones", and others. Still reticent, he went his way with a minimum of chin-music.

Inconspicuously he entered New York City and, ironically, first worked as cook for another actor who ran a midnight supper rendezvous called "Aunt Dinah's Kitchen". He played the number three road companies of the Hart and Abbott plays, then Herman Shumlin a very astute producer, selected from the mob to create the part of "Cal" in the Broadway company of "Little Foxes". (Note: his former employer is still in the kitchen.) Pressed hard, he will talk a little about his twins, Mona and David, but the guy won't talk.

MGM Seeks Paul Robeson, Report

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is reported trying to sign Paul Robeson, distinguished actor and singer, to sing "Ballad for Americans" in one of their projected musical films.

Robeson caused a nation-wide sensation by his rendition of the ballad several months ago over the Columbia Broadcasting System. The CBS studios were flooded with so many letters and telegrams praising Robeson's artistry that the radio chain had the performance repeated several weeks later.

Stepin Fetchit Punched By Ex-Valet

250 Lb. 6 Ft., 6 In. Ex-Valet Loser in Suit for Back Wages

CHICAGO, Feb. 29. (ANP)—Losing a suit for back wages against Stepin Fetchit, professional "lazybones," William (Tiny) Baskin, the comedian's 6-foot-6, 250 pound ex-valet, last Friday planted a solid sock against Stepin's jaw in the corridor, just outside the courtroom after the hearing. An ouslaught of blows was stopped by Fetchit's bodyguard, Gus Ivory, a Chicagoan.

Baskin, who charged that Stepin owed him $84.75 in back wagesc as butler, valet, press agent, chauffeur and mollifier, said:

"He advanced me about a dollar a day, and February 12 he borrowed two from me. Every time I asked him for money, he would say his mind wasn't on that. One of my duties was to quiet him whenever he had spells of temperament. Once he refused to go on with his act because Mitzi Green called him 'Seabiscuit.' I had to talk him into it."

Stepin, wearing black glasses "because of eye trouble," drawled that he had no use for a valet or a press agent.

Actress to Open Drama School on Eastside

Lillian Castle, (white), character actress of stage, screen and radio, is planning the establishment of a dramatic school on the Eastside, she revealed today. Miss Castle will train persons of all ages for picture work,

Date of the opening of the school, she said, will depend on the response of the community to her suggestion. Reaction is invited.

The theatrical career of Miss Castle dates back to the covered wagon days in show business. She was the original Ruth in Hal Reed's "Human Hearts" and played Ilda Baroski in "Darkest Russia."

She played in New York with the late Willard Mack and Lowell Sherman. She was in stock in Chicago with Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Baine; with the old Essenay Pictures in Chicago and has been in pictures in Hollywood since 1925.

She will now devote her time to training others for stage and screen and will present her pupils to talent scouts, directors and producers.

New Negro Soprano Returns from Italy; Sings in Brooklyn

BROOKLYN, Feb. 29. (By Carl Diton for ANP)—Christine Caldwell, soprano, after six years of study in Milan, Italy, made a musical return home Thursday night in a fine concert appearance at the Brooklyn Academy of Music.

The singer despite her high D flat is, as she was advertised, a dramatic soprano. The voice is fairly large, of good quality, even tho' slightly metallic and is projected with a lovely legato, further enhanced with a gift for fine dramatic feeling. It was a joy to hear Mrs. Caldwell's clean-cut enunciation, even though at times when caught off guard, she changed vowels in identical words. And, of course, it was as true of her as with other Negro singers that the top most notes were somewhat constrained, as tho' out of place. This shortcoming was none the less compensated by her splendid use of messa di voce.

In the middle section of Schumann's "Widmung," Mrs. Caldwell's persistence in going off key might have been less noticeable had her husband-accompanist been more emphatic at the keyboard at that particular point.

In Caucasion circles, the thought prevails that all Negroes can sing Negro spirituals, whereas southern Negroes are more gifted in this art than northern Negroes. The gist of the matter is that all southern cannot and some northern Negroes can sing them with adequate pathos. Christine Caldwell belongs to the latter category. She sang Fisher's "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child," H. T. Burleigh's "I've Been in the Storm So Long" and "Sinner, Please Don't Let Dis Harves' Pass," and La Forge's "Hills."

The artist's concert stage presence is not strong. This may be due to the fact that grand opera is her field. And the time periods between groups were far too long for American audiences. Nevertheless, we would welcome an appearance in Town Hall or in Grand Opera, which we are sure would meet with success, as she is one of the foremost of Negro sopranos.

Town Hall Sold Out for Maynor

NEW YORK, Feb. 29—A sell-out-house greeted Dorothy Maynor, soprano, who replaced Georges Enesco, famous Roumanian conductor-composer-violinist, on the Town Hall Endowment Series last night.

Miss Maynor, who gives promise of being as great as Marian Anderson, famous contralto, came to Town Hall for her second appearance. Every available seat in the auditorium was occupied. Standing room was sold to the limit set by the Fire department. Many were turned away.

A mixture of Negro and Cherokee Indian blood, Miss Maynor has a voice that is dark and lustrous in quality. She sings the great airs of Handel with a nobility of style that compares with the great Kirsten Flagstad. Her finished performances of the lieder of the great German's Schumann, Schubert, Brahms, and Strauss, stand beside the best of the contemporary singers.

Scorers of admirers crowded back stage last night to congratulate the new artist among them Roland Hayes, tenor, Paul Robeson and Harry Burleigh, baritones.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29. (ANP)—Dorothy Maynor, talented young soprano, last week became the third winner of the Town Hall Endowment Series Award by unanimous vote of the Town Hall committee. The award is made each year to the artist under 30 years of age whom the New York music critics and the committee consider to have given the outstanding performance of the year at Town Hall.

Miss Maynor, unknown until her discovery by Serge Koussevitzky, leader of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, under the new honor, will be granted an appearance in recital on the Town Hall Endowment Series next season. She is also appearing on the series this year, replacing Gorges Enesco, Rumanian violinist, who was forced to cancel his American tour because of illness.

There is so little to redeem the dry mass of follies and errors that make up so much of life, that anything to love or reverence becomes, as it were, a sabbath to the soul.—Bulwer.

A university professor comes up with the argument that while we're wasting a lot of worry on deaths in Europe we forget the list of traffic fatalities in our own land. If you're on the receiving end, it doesn't make much difference if an automobile or a gun lands you in the obituary column. We don't need more laws—if we'll only stop treating our present laws like poor relatives. If our accident rate continues, drivers will have to trade their operator's licenses for hunting licenses.

Jeff Davis, King of the Hoboes, wants railroads to put benches in box cars so the 'gentlemen of the road' may travel more comfortably. They could also put in a band to play that popular melody, "Hallelujah I'm a Bum!"

Even a hobo can afford good liquor now. I don't see how the distilleries can make such good liquor so cheap. Drop into the House of Morgan, 2719 Central Avenue and let me show you the new "best buys" in liquor. I can save you money—and now you can aafford to drink better quality liquor wines, beers.

No Stopping An Avalanche

We like to compare Henry Armstrong, the current welterweight champion of the world, with a snowball which, getting bigger and bigger as it gathers momentum, turns into a veritable avalanche by the time it has spent itself.

At this moment, "Hustlin' Hank" is that veritable avalanche and nothing outside of retirement will probably stop him — not even Ceferino Garcia, recognized in New York and California as champion of all of the middleweights in the world, whose title goes on the block tomorrow evening along about 10:00 in a tiff with this same "Homicide Hank", more recently termed "Mr. Perpetual Motion".

Which brings us up to the subject of our discourse for today.

When the resin settles on the canvas of the Gilmore stadium ring, we envision Hank with his fourth world's title, altho he may keep it only 24 hours. To capture boxing crown No. 4, which is three more than most boxers ever dream of holding, Henry will outpoint Garcia. Which means, of course, that we figure the 10-round championship battle to go the distance.

There is no sentiment whatsoever attached to this conclusion. We arrive at this result on the basis of having seen both of these gladiators swap leather any number of times against worthy opponents and opponents not so worthy.

We are aware of the fact that Garcia, at this stage of the game, is just about at his peak — strong, a sharp and dangerous puncher. On the other hand, we believe Hank is that avalanche who has just about reached the bottom of the hill where its force is greatest.

Charley MacDonald has carded a battle which may easily out ding-dong all ding-dong battles. And Armstrong, stronger than ever, and throwing more punches than his worthy foe, will set a mark that may stand for all time—four world's boxing championships held at one time or another by the same fighter.

City College Star to Become Bruin

Francis Garland, lanky Los Angeles City College Negro center who captured the Metropolitan Conference scoring race with 155 digits to his credit, will be scintillating on tip-ins and backboard play for the UCLA Bruins next year.

He has an average of 15.5 points per game for 10 games this season and is responsible in large measure for the fact that City College is rated the best quintet in jaysee ranks. Garland will join Jackie "Jitterbug" Robinson and an experienced Bruin club next year on a scholarship.

Angel Outlook Rosy

What with the Chicago Cubs, the Chicago White Sox, the Philadelphia Athletics, the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Hollywood Stars, the Los Angeles Angels and other clubs training hereabouts for the coming season, we turn our attention to the national pastime.

The Los Angeles Angels look as good or better than last year when they finished a good third and fully expected to win the pennant. That's the gist of the info from Matt Gallagher, press agent of the Los Angeles baseball club of the Pacific Coast league.

Yep, to let Gallagher tell it, President David P. (Ripper) Fleming and Manager Arnold (Jigger) Statz are back to normalcy again, and at Ontario where they are training the Seraphs are boasting promising additions in all departments — pitching, catching, infield and outfield.

Jess Sandoval Flores, the La Habra hero, and Salvadore Jose Hernandez, from Milwaukee, give the locals the only battery of Spanish extraction extant. Flores, a pitcher, was born in Mexico, and backstop Hernandez hails from the Canary Islands.

A Salutation Calculated to Flabbergast

We wouldn't be a bit surprised if Don "Angel" Blackman hasn't said at one time or another during the past few weeks, "Peace"! Especially when the "Angel" is declared the winner of his wrestling engagements.

You see, Blackman (who has been known as "Father" and "Lion of Judah") claims his holds are obtained and executed entirely different from those of other matmen. In fact, he says they are derived from the extinct Seventh Book of Judah, and he wrestles in the name of the "great father" (whoever that is).

Training Blackman, a former New Yorker who has been wrestling at Hollywood Legion and Olympic auditorium, is Tiger Jack Nelson, holder of the colored heavyweight wrestling belt for 12 years.

We can imagine "Angel" Blackman pinning an opponent with one of those punishing ancient holds and then saying to him, "Peace. It's wonderful"! The referee and the fallen wrestler would probably be flabbergasted no end.

UCLA's Track and Field Chances

Although Woodrow Wilson Strode's loss will be felt, Coach Harry Trotter is said to be optimistic over the outlook for UCLA's track and field squad this year. It is expected that Jackie Robinson, the athlete of the year in every sense of the word, will compete in the broadjump, taking time off when necessary from his duties as Bruin shortstop.

Bill Lacefield and Pat Turner (white) complete the best broadjumping trio in the world. Bill has taken the 120-yard high sticks in 14.7 and it is possible he may do better. Hal Sinclair, who Tom Berkeley, former UCLA star, thinks might go places this year, is being counted on in the sprints and quartermile. The Bruins will pin their hopes on Tom Bradley in the 880.

Of course, IF Robinson consents to go in for the century and 220 and IF Strode was on hand to compete in the discus and shot, the Bruins would have a potential threat to the nation's best track and field teams. But even with the above lineup, excluding Strode, and Robinson, in all but one event, the Uclans showing the form expected will have a pretty fair outfit.

Shorts in Sports:

Edwin Bancroft Henderson, Washington, D. C. physical education department head, whose book "The Negro in Sports" has stirred up so much interest, says the first edition has been exhausted and a slightly revised edition is now on the press . . . From William G. (Bill) Lopez, ass't supervisor of physical education of the L. A. City School district, comes news: The gymnastic schedule has gotten underway; the baseball sked functions tomorrow; softball has already started, and the track season is slated to open March 29 with practice meets and the all-city prelims, finals and relays due the first three weeks in June . . . According to Seth F. Van Patten, commissioner of athletics, California Interscholastic Federation basketball playoffs between league champions, in some groups, have already begun. He also announces a new CIF activity, ski jumping, with an invitational meet already sanctioned.

Jack Johnson, recovered from the effects of a punch by Kid Pneumonia, plans a jaunt to Australia this Spring. It was at Rushcutters Bay there Dec. 23, 1908 that he won the heavyweight championship from Tommy Burns. . . . E. V. Durling, L. A. Examiner columnist, in a column of recent date, writes: "Louis can't hit like Dempsey. Sportscribes keep repeating this. All right, gentlemen, how hard could Dempsey hit? Didn't Jack hit Luis Firpo seven times right on the button? Didn't Luis get up six times? One time he got up didn't the pet of the Pampas have so much vim, vigor and vitality left he hauled off and knocked J. Dempsey out of the ring? Don't tell me Jack fell over the ropes. I was there, Charlie. Firpo really won that fight. Dempsey enjoyed a count of at least 20."

Borican Again Beats John Woodruff; Disqualify Ewell

NEW YORK, Feb. 29. (ANP)—Long John Borican and Longer John Woodruff, staged another of their exciting duels before 15,000 fans at Madison Square garden Saturday night in the national AAU championships with Borican again triumphing, this time at 1000 yards in the fine time of 2:13. However, the former Pitt star was handicapped by an internal ailment that almost forced him to scratch his entry.

Barney Ewell, Penn State sophmore, who was the favorite in the 60-yard dash, qualified for the finals with a 6.2 performance which equaled the recognized world record but was disqualified for two false starts, the title going to Mozelle Ellerbe of Tuskegee in the same time with Eulace Peacock a close second. Herbert Thompson, defending champion, was handicapped by a muscle injury. Ed Gordon, still going strong despite the years, was second in the broadjump, beating out Bill Watson, former Michigan star, who was third. Watson was also fifth in the shot put. Joe Batiste, outdoor champion, was third in the 70 yard high hurdles.

In second place is Ralph Vaughn, USC's great forward, who relinquished his lead to Robinson. Vaughn's total is 128 points.

Friday night "The Jitterbug" sank 11 digits as UCLA lost a lopsided 48 to 26 tussle with the California Bears. He came back Saturday night, however, to pace the Bruins' 35 to 33 triumph with 18 points.

University of Southern California's Trojans clinched the southern division title when they broke even with Stanford at Palo Alto.

Oregon State is favored to cop the northern division hoop title this week, playing Washington at Seattle.

Jordan Hi Plays Bell Eagles at Bell

Jordan High school's Nine will meet the Bell Eagles tomorrow (Friday) on the Bell diamond.

In the batting department Jordan's hopes will rest on Tony Serrato, Kid Martinez, Claude Loudd, Norman Mears, Phillip Cota, Ernest Green, Johnnie Mendoza and Kenneth Johnson. The last four batted 1000 in last week's meeting with Garfield.

Jordan's best chances in the field are Oki at first, Hernandez at third, Andrade at second, Nare at left field and Clemons at center field.

The Bulldog pitching staff has been greatly strengthened with the addition of Bob Graves. Bob has plenty of speed and control. With him, Jordan should smash out a victory over the Eagles tomorrow.

NOT EASY

But Jordan will not have such an easy time defeating Bell because of the Eagle infield, one of the speediest in the league. Bell will have an advantage over the Bulldogs because of their pitching staff.

Jackie Back on Top in Scoring Race

Jackie "Jitterbug" Robinson, star UCLA forward, regained the leadership of the Pacific Coast conference, southern division, basketball scorers over the weekend chalking up 29 tallies in two games last weekend. Robinson has scored 135 points to date.

ON EVE OF BATTLE—This generation's "Miracle Man of Boxing", Henry Armstrong, has his gloves laced on by manager Eddie Mead. The welterweight titleholder will seek his fourth world's championship tomorrow night at Gilmore stadium when he faces Ceferino Garcia for the latter's middleweight bauble.

So. Calif. Open Cage Tourney Date Set

The fifth annual Southern California Open Basketball Tournament will open March 12 and will continue for approximately two weeks thereafter, it was announced today by the Los Angeles Basketball Association under whose auspices the event is held annually.

Entry blanks have gone out to teams all over Southern California and more than 100 casaba squads are expected to enter the tournament which is the biggest event of its kind held west of the Mississippi River.

Handsome trophies will be awarded winning and runner-up team in each class and individual gold basketballs will go to players of those teams. An All-Tournament team will also be selected to receive a special award at the conclusion of the tournament.

NEGRO IN MAJORS—J. M. Burr, veteran newspaperman, is shown here in an interview with the great Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, $185,000 baseball puzzle of the Chicago Cubs.

Dean is sufferme from a slight cold and is shown in his room at the Morrison hotel in downtown Chicago. He was in Chicago preparatory to taking a group of young baseball players to Jackson, Mississippi for the Dean Baseball School where he is an instructor.

During the interview Dean told Burr that he was confident Negroes would be admitted to the big leagues. "Why popular demand is going to force the owner to accede," he said.

In answer to a question "Do you think any Negroes now playing are capable of playing in the big show? he replied, "Yes, I know a score of them. Take that fellow Satchel Paige. He is the greatest pitcher I have ever seen. Then too, I played against the Kansas City Monarchs. Well those boys know what it is all about when it comes to playing baseball."

Burr was formerly editor of the Houston, Texas and Galveston, Texas Sentinel and more recently editor-manager of the Illinois Sentinel, Chicago. He is now attached to the editorial department of The Chicago Herald American, white daily (Hearst paper) the first Negro to hold such a position in Chicago.

CLASS PREPARES FOR CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS

The bookkeeping class of Jefferson Evening High school is giving special attention to students interested in obtaining clerical positions through civil service examinations. According to Mr. Ford, the teacher, this instruction is especially valuable for those who have had some bookkeeping training but wish a rapid brush-up course before the next examination. The elementary class in bookkeeping is still available to beginners and is proving very popular with owners and managers of small business establishments. Classes meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

DEATH IN CLOSED CARS, SAYS AUTO CLUB

Avoid driving with all windows closed, suggests the emergency service department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Lack of air may cause drowsiness, leading to accidents and deaths. There is also the danger of carbon monoxide gas, which may enter the car if the exhaust system has leaks.

Angelus One of Show Places on Eastside

One of the show places of the Eastside for winter visitors to Los Angeles is the Angelus Funeral Home, it was revealed this week by a check on the larger number of vacationists who have included the beautifully appointed establishment among the places of interest they wished to see.

The general opinion expressed by all who are taken on a tour of inspection of the building is that the Angelus is the most attractively appointed and modernly equipped institution of its kind in the country.

By its unusually high class of service that is placed within the reach of all, the Angelus continues to increase in popularity with the entire community. Among the many services rendered to the general public is the weekly broadcast from People's Independent Church of Christ every Sunday morning over KFOX at 10:15, with Rev. Clayton D. Russell, minister, as visitor.

DAMAGE TO MOTOR LIKELY WHEN RACED

Serious damage may occur when a motor is raced to warm it up in cold weather, according to the emergency service department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Chilled oil in the crankcase will not thin out to normal consistency until thoroughly warmed. If the motor is raced during this warming-up period, all points where friction occurs are subjected to severe treatment. Even in warm weather it is a bad practice to race the motor.

Gets Medal for Averting Rail Disaster

MARKS (Miss.) Feb. 22. (AN P)—Wednesday, the Illinois Central railroad presented a bronze medal to Leroy Fletcher, 30, farmer and laborer of this city for discovering and reporting a broken rail just north of Coldwater river bridge one mile north of Hinchcliff and two miles north of here on Oct. 1.

When Fletcher discovered the broken rail, he immediately notified W. D. Hoff, agent at Marks, Miss., who hurried to the scene in his auto and flagged the south bound passenger train No. 33 out of Memphis, enroute to Greenwood, Miss., and took necessary steps to protect traffic and have the track repaired. There were about 60 or 65 passengers aboard the passenger train at the time and Fletcher's prompt and intelligent handling of the situation probably precluded a serious derailment and saved many lives.

IF BULBS BURN OUT CHECK TERMINALS

If you are kept busy replacing headlight globes, check the terminals of your battery. Loose or corroded battery terminals cause globes to burn out frequently, advises the emergency service department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Opening Bid 4-4 1-2 Naturals

7½ To 9 Is The Game Zone
9½ or More Is The Slam Zone
Any Four Card Suit Is A Biddable Suit

As stated in article three, every additional Natural requires a different opening in order that the strength held may be disclosed to partner. The chief objective of this discussion however is to further instill into the player the necessity of relying upon the Rule of Five (R5) for the level at which the hand should be played.

3 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Pass

With 5-5½ Naturals, South opens with 2 Clubs. (Rule A). N sees Co-Natural 8½ which sets the N.T. level of the hand at 3½ odd—a game contract if proper fit is found within the Level. South rebids Clubs showing at least 5 Clubs in the suit. With a sterile distribution, North takes the contract to 3 N.T. Four odd are made at N.T.

The location of Naturals precludes the making of five Clubs which is beyond the Level.

Prof. Herman The ASTROLOGER

To Assist You In Making Wise Decisions

Specialized Study of Your Personal Problems

ARE YOU SHACKLED?

The scheme of life is simple, but it is the individual, who makes it so complicated and difficult oftimes.

Are you a victim of circumstances? Are you afraid of an unseen force? Do you indulge in worry? Is some loved-one breaking your heart? Are these things destroying your happiness?

If so, you are sensitive to your emotional nature. This condition is not merely imagination, but a fear, trying to build a solid foundation within yourself.

The proper mental attitude, however can change ones' entire outlook on life. The same powers that others have used to win success and happiness, lies within each human. Desire, and the proper initiative can bring about the satisfaction of a reharmonized future, and a ray of hope to a discouraged soul.

E. W.—Dear Prof. Herman: I want to thank you for what you have done for me. May God bless you and ever keep you. I feel so much better since I have been wearing my Charm Bag, and I have been able to pay some of my bills. Thanks for everything you have done.

J. L. B.—I lost some money sometime ago, can you tell me whether it was stolen or not?

Ans.—It appears to me that you lost the money Christmas Eve, and you are still wondering how you lost it. During the course of that day you were completing your Xmas shopping, and in your haste you pulled too much money out of your purse, it dropped to the floor of the store, it was picked up soon after, as a stranger saw you drop it.

Mrs. S. L. H.—Will I obtain a job in the city that I have in view?

Ans. — My Psycho-Mentallst Crystal reveals your finding employment in the place you have in mind. You have the ability to succeed if you make the most of your talents.

M. F. B.—How did my boyfriend lose his pistol?

Ans.—Concentrating upon this question the answer I find is that your friend lost the gun while engaging in a fight with some other boys. They took the gun from him. It is a very bad habit to carry concealed weapons as he has been doing, caution him about this.

V. L. D.—Will I marry the man that I am now keeping company with?

Ans.—It comes to me that you think a lot of this boy, and he has brought a lote of pleasure into your life. You will marry him and be very happy.

B. Z.—Kind Sir: Sometime ago I sent for a box of Prof. Herman's Prayer and Meditation, and I must say I am grateful to you for it. It has done wonders fore me, bringing me happiness and a certain peace of mind that is unbelieveable.

T. B. G.—Who keeps taking money out of my pocketbook?

Ans.—The answer I find in regards to your question is that your friend has a habit of going thru your pocketbook and when he finds money just helps himself. You should place your purse in a drawer or take the money out of it.

F. J.—Will I be able to go home on a vacation soon?

Ans.—It comes to me that this has been your desire for a long time and I vision your being able to do so, within the next two months.

C. H.—Will this man ever stop drinking and act as a father should?

Ans.—A careful analysis of your case indicates that your husband is a habitual drinker, and when he is in this condition he loses all respect for you and his family. He knows he is doing wrong and if you would talk to him and let him know that you still have faith and confidence in his being able to stop drinking he will try to get hold of himself.

CONNUBIAL BLISS

Marriage is a sacred institution, which should be given serious thought before embarking on the sea of matrimony. In recent years it seems as though this idea has been entirely disregarded. Marriage today, has become a farce, and, an outlet to vanity and financial security.

Most girls and boys seem to think it merely a lark to set sail on that good ship of marriage. But seven out of every ten passengers are ship-wrecked within a period of one year. Innocent children have their lives ruined by their parents' incompatability. If folks would only stop to realize what they are getting into, there would be fewer divorces and more permanent partnerships.

Remember that faith and trust are the connecting links toward connubial bliss. Let Prof. Herman aid you in finding the mate that is suitable for you, according to your lucky stars ad guiding planet. Your personal horoscope may aid you in making a successful voyage and prevent your dream cruise from being wrecked on the rocks of jealousy, misfortune and unhappiness.

M. A.—Dear Sir: I received your wonderful Charm Bag and started wearing it just as soon as it arrived. One week after wearing it I went back to my same job, after a 7 weeks lay off. I certainly want to thank you for advising me to get it.

L. C.—Why doesn't my friend wish to get married?

Ans.—It appears to me that you have been going with this friend for 3 years and he has avoided the subject of marriage every time you mention it. It isn't because he does not love you enough but he feels that he is unable to support you as you have been used to a very nice home. Explain just how you feel about this to him and he will surprise you.

Mrs. L. P. B.—Will my husband sell his patent?

Ans.—It comes to me that your husband has a good invention in his patent, and the outcome will be better than he anticipated. It will take just a little time for him to realize benefits from it.

B. D.—Will things ever change thus enabling me to enjoy the happiness and love I desire?

Ans.—According to your Zodiacal sign there will be a great change in your life within the next 3 weeks. Although you have had many disappointments, there will be happiness in its place, and where there has been rain there will be sunshine.

Mrs. G. M. J.—Some clothing was lost from our shop, can you tell me what happened to it?

Ans.—The answer I find in regards to your question is that the brown pants and one pair of gray pants were lost when they were taken to the cleaning plant. As the driver can be held responsible I advise you to check this matter with him.

B. B.—Dear Prof. Herman: I am very much pleased with the Prayer and Meditation and hope that others are taking advantage of this wonderful product. Your advice is also one of the greatest sources of consultation I get. May God help you to keep up your good work.

L. E. M.—Would you please tell me if I will ever get married?

Ans.—According to your lucky stars and guiding planets you will marry within the next year. You are already acquainted with a very nice man, and he would make you a good husband.

F. McC.—What does my life hold in store for me?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question I find that you have passed up several opportunities that might have made you happy. However, you are only 36 years old and at the age where you can appreciate the coming success and happiness that is in store for you.

J. L. B.—Can you tell me anything concerning the whereabouts of my uncle?

Ans.—It appears that your uncle has been in a camp for construction work for quite sometime. But the contract is almost finished and when it is he will get in touch with you.

The story is this: ored citizens had never voted e city of Miami, consequently section had become a civic hild, ignored and disrespected. n an area of fifteen blocks by orty thousand Negroes lived. ation was restricted to the e" part of Miami. Garbage laid e streets for a period of six , rubbish for six months. There o paving and streets of the belt became a muddy morass in iny season and a Dust Bowl in mmer.

important city election was ng and was an effective chal- to Solomon's determination to Negroes to voting polls. Seven ter mass meetings were held at thousands of Negro citizens d to exercise a fundamental itutional right that long had wed before their eyes. After the f registration cleared, it was re- d that thirty-three hundred Ne- were registered where previous- ere had been twenty.

, night before election, the Ku Klan in Miami, Florida, present- ne of the greatest demonstra- in the history of that erstwhile nization for the benefit of pro- tive colored ballot-casters. That , evening, however, Negroes nselves had planned entertain- ment. The election campaign in Colored Town was climaxing in a mammoth mass meeting. As a multitude of Negroes left their meeting place, Ku Klux Klan cars poured into the black belt over a hundred strong. Signs bearing awful threats were exhibited as the autos passed. At each intersection a burning cross was erected.

Calculated reaction of black spectors did not materialize. In all due respect for southern tradition, they should have scurried home, bolted their doors and supplicated a merciful God for deliverance. They did none of these things. Colored citizens flanked sidewalks of the Klan procession like a sullen, split, black ocean. There was no sound or demonstration. Through the middle of this inaudible mass howling Klanners passed.

Finally, the hundred cars were gone from Colored Town. At each corner a fiery cross stood, but not for long. A black mass swirled about them for an instant and they, too, were gone.

Sam B. Solomon returned to his office, where he found fifty men waiting for him. They wanted to know what he was going to do. He said "I am going to vote tomorrow."

"If you live that long. The Klan says it's going to come here and get you tonight!"

Mr. Solomon reached in his desk drawer; brought out his gun. He laid it on the table and filled it with cartridges. The phone rang--a prominent white daily. Mr. Solomon listened for a moment and answered "Yes, I am going to vote tomorrow." The white daily published an extra.

That night the leader left the front door of his home wide open, but no one came.

Before two hours had elapsed after voting polls were opened, three hundred Negroes had cast ballots. The white daily published another extra. Before nightfall, twenty-three hundred Negroes voted--where previously there had been not one. The three city commissioners backed by colored voters were elected overwhelmingly.

Since that time, the vast slum area of Miami's colored section has been removed to make way for a giant housing project which will accomodate one thousand families. Paving of streets already has commenced, and efficient garbage disposal executed. The Negro ball park has just completed a $3,000 shower and dressing room along with the installation of modern rest rooms. Storm sewage for Colored Town will be equipt shortly.

Solomon isn't an inappropriate name for the Moses of Miami

What About Eastside Housing?

News release:

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29—New names for the Ann street and Utah Street Housing projects were announced today by Nicola Giulii, chairman of the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles

Honoring the name of the "father of public housing in Los Angeles", William G. Mead, the Ann Street project will henceforth be known as "Wiliam G. Mead Homes", and when completed will house 49 low-income families.

"Aliso Village" the new name for the "Utah street" project is associated with the earliest history of Los Angeles. "Aliso Village" will have safe, sanitary and comfortable living quarters for 800 families."

Very neat. But, dear reader, do you find anywhere mention of a project with or without name changes in the Negro section of our great city? No, you do not.

If you have read the newspapers and attended local political meetings for the past two years, you will have been thoroughly reassured that housing projects for the Eastside have been going up "immediately" throughout the entire period. To date, nothing has gone up but the dreams of ill-housed Negro residents.

It is freely admitted in most quarters that colored residents of slum areas in Los Angeles are victims of the worst housing conditions in the city. Negroes are rock bottom on the economic scale, a position tragically reflected by the environment in which they are forced to live.

A great weariness on the part of colored Angelenos with regards repeated and unfulfilled promises of better housing was voiced by the Monday evening meeting of the Civil Liberties Committee of Daughter Elks. It was pointed out that politicians who pledged support of a housing project on the Eastside have failed. Patience is a beautiful virtue, but one which Central Avenue is fast shedding in this matter.

A tour by City Councilmen through certain Negro slums in our city would be very edifying. Perhaps such a journey might result in some action. Certainly, if the gentlemen are sensitive to the suffering of fellow human beings, they will respond. It would be regrettable indeed if it were necessary for Negro voters to remove some of them via the next election and find replacements with tenderer sensibilities.

"But One Thing Is Needful"

From The Star of Zion

Wherever two or more ministers of the church are together, the problems of the Church are the natural topic of conversation. Like Martha of old we are "careful and troubled about many things." And, strangely enough we are "cumbered about much serving;" that is, of purely temporal concerns.

We hear so much about "economic security" that one may easily fall into the error of thinking this is some new philosophy of life that has just been discovered; that all the generations before were unmindful of such an important thing.

In the turmoil of confused social planning, we need to be constantly reminded that "man liveth not by bread alone." And that invariably he cannot think of bread and the spiritual values at one and the sametime. A bishop once said: "I must have an economic foundation on which to stand in order to do my best work," which sounds very plausible in the light of present day life situations. But is it not true that such an orientation of one's life is calculated to hinder the performance of the best work rather than to increase it?

It is a sad and serious matter for people to be hungry, naked and shelterless, but the absence of character and the desire for the enrichment of one's soul life is disastrous indeed. And what is happening to men's characters is of far greater conctrn than what happens to their bodies. It is still true that a man is not profited if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul.

Eliza Harris, Heroine

(From the Chicago Bee)

We have just finished celebrating Negro History Week. During that period feats of many outstanding Negroes of history were recalled, which was altogether fitting and proper for the occasion. But it is doubtful that any of the celebrants recalled the heroism of the slave mother who braved death in the icy waters of the Ohio river in order to save her baby from being torn from her arms by slave traders. Greater heroism and a greater display of mother love has not been recorded than that which this unfortunate Negro woman exhibited in escaping her pursuers by leaping from ice block to ice block drifting sluggishly in the frigid waters of the deep Ohio. She was a heroine of the first magnitude, and the memory of her feat should always be recalled upon occasions such as the one we have been engaged in.

There may be many of us who think that, because Eliza Harris was a story book character, her feat was more fiction than reality. But this is not the case. This Negro slave mother really lived and actually performed the noble and heroic deeds attributed to her in the thrilling and graphic account of the incident recorded in the famous Harriet Beecher Stowe book, "Uncle Tom's Cabin." And as graphically as the story records her heroism, yet it could not record the anguish of the mother heart, nor depict accurately the great degree of fortitude and self-reliance that welled up in the soul of this fleeing slave woman that made possible the ultimate success of her hazardous undertaking. Truly a heroine, Eliza Harris' name stands out as the epitome of mother love and devotion, courage and self-reliance, and should occupy an important place in our history.

A leavening force in our group life would be the reciting of the stories of the deeds of our heroes and heroines to our children. Eliza Harris, as a character study, would exalt the quality of mother love in our young girls and women whose God given right it is to aspire to motherhood sometime during their matured years. The reading of the story of her life would be far more beneficial as an elevating and ennobling influence than the reading of silly love stories that now occupy the attention of too many of our young women and girls.

CRITICIZING & COMMENTING

Dear Editor:

Sunday I visited Second Baptist church, where Mr. Samuel B. Solomon delivered a splendid address on "Negro Progress in Miami, Fla." Mr. Solomon is doing great work in his home town. He really deserved the name bestowed upon him by our beloved paper, the California Eagle, "the Moses of Miami."

Mr. Solomon's work is a splendid example of what the Negroes can and will do with a competent leader. Leading Negroes to the polls is something that isn't being done in many Southern states: In fact, they are so few that I can almost say there are no Southern states where Negro votes really count. So much for the comment, now for the criticism, or you may call it a suggestion.

If I were in Mr. Solomon's place, I would not encourage or teach segregation. For instance, he spoke of not supporting "white places" in the "Negro sections." I think Negroes should support white places in their sections, but they also should be permitted to open business places in the "white sections," also be supported by the whites. Matter of fact, I think the idea of "Negro sections" and "white sections" should be completely abolished. This may sound strange, but what are we fighting for, segregation or equality?

If we want segregation, that's playing right up the whites' alley. They would gladly segregate all Negroes in every city into one section and restrict them from the rest of it.

Suppose we ran separate "trolley cars," lived in separate sections, went to separate movies, traded in separate stores, had separate police, separate banks. Would we have equality? No! We would have a slight case of "Free Slavery." What we want is equality. We want our men to be trolley car operators; aviators for large airlines. We want to see our men work with the white men. We don't want segregation,

We want our girls to hold positions right along wiith whites. We want our race and the white race to be just an American race. Why not abolish this calling people "Negroes" or "whites," and just say Americans. Not that we of the "Negro race' ar ashamed of being 'Negroes," but we are tired of hearing the name Negro used for contemptible reasons.

I hope you readers will not mistake my point of view, for I can solemnly swear that I admire Sam B. Solomon with all my heart. In my honest opinion, he is greater than Lincoln and to merit credit like this in anyone's opinion, is meriting a lot, but I will quote the woman whom I think is the greatest friend to her race in this city, Mrs. C. A. Bass, "honest disagreement among Negroes is healthy and natural."

JIM CROWISM IN THE CAA

Dear Editor:

For sometime I have been interested in the field of flying, and during the past two years I have been fortunate enough to experience actual flying but not fortunate enough to enjoy the companionship of my race in the field. Although I have grown up in that part of California which is scarce of the Negro I have always maintained a race consciousness and have always felt the need of race companionship to promote inspiration and the feeling of concretness from my activities.

Well, a short while ago, Charles Jamerson, another Negro youth who seemed equally as interested in aviation as I and who attended the same school as I (San Jose State College), succeeded in passing the CAA examination and got a few hours of flying instructions. I was very interested in his progress since he was a personal friend of mine, and was looking forward to the day when he would complete his CAA Cadet Course which would give him his private license and when he would finally join the flying club I was in so that we two could do cross-country together.

Well, Charles didn't get to first base. It seemed as though his instructor did everything to discourage him. He hollored and frequently cussed which caused Charles to remain at a standstill.

Since Charles got nowhere with his first instructor, he was transferred to another with whom he got along fine—but that only lasted for two hours of instruction when he was transferred back to his former instructor. Charles complained that the nervous tension he received when flying with his former instructor hindered him from correct coordination so essential for flying, but his complaint was disregarded and he was unable to continue his lessons from the instructor he had done so well under.

When Charles 8 hours of instruction rolled around and he was not ready to solo, he was called before the board meeting which included his instructor, the CAA inspector, the vice president of the college, the professor in charge of the ground school, and a few others.

They first questioned Charles about his correct age, and being unable to convince themselves that he was over the age limit they questioned him about his progress in flying. They asked him if he thought he should be given a chance to go on.

Although there were many others (white), who were far from being able to solo at 8 hours of duel and I know were much worse than my friend, although they received more consideration than he, they ousted my friend. They paid little attention to the petition of the CAA students in sympathy with Charles declaring that the action was unfair, and they refused to refund him any of his money which would have helped him to get into a flying club such as that I am in.

A STUDENT.

EMANCIPATE THE BLIND

Dear Editor:

My home is there. (Little Rock, Ark.). I am south trying to improve part of the nation with safety ordinances such as attached. (ordinances reserving use of white canes to the blind only).

Analysis of these ordinances show them ADDED FREE insurance for all, rather than mere courtesy to Blind. Motorist may tell a blind person a block away by the white cane. And, watching for the white cane, motorists must see sighted pedestrians who are daring. Cars are kept under better control at intersections.

After I get an ordinance enacted, I must demonstrate, being totally blind I take my white cane and nose in slowly on the traffic. In a month, even the motorist knows the meanlng of the white cane, and he is quite courteous. A blind man need not stand in the rain on a busy corner. Sighted persons offer aid in crossing.

I have had the matter up with Mr. Wingom of the license tax department of L. A. There is no tap or license or money raised for this worthy cause.

I wonder if your paper would be interested in explaining the program and trying to secure additional finances for it. I think the paper would be entitled to half of the cash raised, sending me the remaining half. President Lincoln fought for emancipation in the south. I am fighting for emancipation of the Blind in the south.

After a few months, I must come home to rest. I would therefore be interested in contacting a lady, colored or white, who would operate some small business. Say rooming house, boarding house, oil station, or even an introduction club. Last two would require a lady not over 35 in my opinion.

If colored lady should answer this proposition, I suggest that she do not mention whether colored or white. You know the prejudice that would be created should a southerner get hold of a letter to me from a colored lady.

• THE WORLD THIS WEEK

WOMEN IN POLITICS

"Here's to the ladies—but not as politicians!" No mere male proposes so brash a toast. The sentiments are strictly those of the fairer sex.

Giving a clue of the decrease in the number of women legislators during recent years, the 700 women students of Russell Sage college last week voted overwhelmingly against women holding any high public office.

Reasons given: They lack the required physical and emotional stability. They have not yet acquired sufficient experience in public affairs. They cannot "escape the pettiness of life". Another reason for the notable absence of career women in politics was not explicitly mentioned in this poll. It may, however, have been in their minds. And this is the fact that women, despite the hopes held by the early crusaders in the fight for women's suffrage, simply do not like to vote for women candidates for office! As a great bloc comprising nearly half the nation's voters, American women could easily double or triple the number of their sex holding office, if they so desired. But apparently they do not.

Women as breadwinners, America enthusiastically supports. Wage-earning women, in fact, today number about 14,500,000, or nearly one-third the country's total working population. But women as politicians—that's a story which has yet scarcely begun and, to tell the truth, the ladies themselves seem in no hurry to begin it!

CLIPPERS AND COLUMBUS

Page Mr. Jules Verne! Less than 70 years since this French romancer sent Phineas Fogg whirling 'round the globe in the then dizzying time of 90 days, the ingenuity of American aviation has so cut travel time by air it is now possible to speed from the United States to Europe in 24 hours.

Cutting three hours from its previous schedules on trans-Atlantic crossings, a Pan-American clipper last week took off at dawn from Miami, Fla., and reached Lisbon, Portugal, the following morning. Pan-American officials plan to maintain that 24-hour schedule across the Atlantic as a result of eliminating Horta, in the Azores, as a port of call.

In point of time, the Old World and the New are now no further apart than one full turn of the earth's axis. Columbus, pioneering a route to the New World four and a half centuries ago, took approximately 1,680 hours to traverse a similar course. America's flying clippers, pioneering a route to the Old World on a new schedule last week, covered the route in 24.

There's a measure of what man's inventive genius has accomplished in the last few hundred years. How long, we wonder, will it be before men and nations can show equal progress in their dealings with one another?

HERE'S TO HEALTH

Even in a winter marked by wars, famines and blizzards, there's good news—thanks to the healing balm of medical science!

Contrary to what a handful of alarmists predicted when war broke out in Europe, no backwash of a flu epidemic has appeared in this country.

Reports from all sections of the country reaching the U. S. Public Health Service bring the good tidings that this winter's flu germs are of low virulence. This means that the threat of a serious epidemic is remote, and within a few weeks that threat will be gone altogether. Even in the areas most affected, such as the South Atlantic states, no increases in the number of pneumonia cases have occurred.

So here's to health! And may its allies, medical science and common-sense living, continue to keep epidemics away from our shores!

THEY LIKE IT HERE!

The 512 members of the scuttled German liner, "Columbus", held on Angel Island in San Francisco Bay, have paid America a straight-from-the-heart compliment. Informed the other day by Immigration Commissioner John J. McGrath that new developments indicated they might have to remain on the island till the end of the war, the faces of the crew members broke into smiles. In fact, reports Commissioner McGrath, "they seemed joyfully content just to be on an island in the United States, where they can eat well, sleep well, and live a life of ease at the expense of their German steamship company". Having until recently enjoyed "shore leave" to visit the mainland, meet American people, look at our stores, shops, and movies, and sample American beer, they found this country far from the wretched place it had been painted to be. If they liked it better here, who can blame them? But don't tell Mr. Hitler. He'd be awfully mad!

HERE'S THRIFT!

Refuting the canard that to be a WPA worker is to be a waster, Thomas J. Wilson, caught in the toils of the law at Greeley, Col., last week on a bigamy charge, reveals he has been supporting two wives and three daughters on a WPA wage of $61.10 a month. He admitted, however, "It kept me scratching!" Here is a real monument to thrift on WPA, if not to common sense!

The LAUNDRY MAN

By Caldwell Jones

It is an old maxim that "It's an ill wind that blows nobody good". The recent action of Great Britain in removing the ban against Negro army officers illustrates that Britain's danger, is spelling "Opportunity" for her darker subjects in big, bold letters.

For several centuries, dating from the time when the roar of the British Lion first came to be feared around the world, her darker subjects have been considered as fit only for pack-animals, cannon-fodder, and comics. Comics because she gave them good literary training--often Oxfordian accents--but kept them bare-footed, economically enslaved; presenting the ludicrous appearance of a man garbed in a full-dress coat and top-hat, over weatherbeaten overalls.

Now, under the threat of a really big war--which may shear away some of her shaggy name before it's over--she must graciously snatch down the "For White Only" sign, and admits Arundel Moody a young Jamaican Negro to an officer's training camp. Truly, Hard times will make a monkey (or a Lion) eat Red Pepper.

No one recent action of the British Government demonstrates more clearly the fact that she realizes that she is in a tough spot, and that she needs all the support she can wheedle, coax, or bluster. In appointing young Moody, Colonial Secretary McDonald assured the Society of the League of Colored People which made the fight for him, that the British Government had decided to abolish the color-ban in its armed forces at home and abroad.

JIMMY BOYD TAKES SUICIDE ROUTE

Jimmy Boyd, one of the most picturesque, most daring Negro sporting characters of the Pacific Northwest, committed suicide in Seattle, Washington last week. The reason, his brooding over the possibility of having to do a stretch in Federal prison for narcotic peddling--a penalty which he had successfully evaded for over 30 years.

Twenty-five years ago his name was a byword in every gambling joint on the Pacific coast. Countless tales were told of his high-stake gambling, of the money he made and spent. I remember some years ago hearing a Pullman porter relate how he once stood next to Jimmy Boyd in a Seattle gambling hall and saw him shoot $6000 and a nickel. He said Jimmy caught the dice expertly as the stick-man tossed them over, rattled them quickly and cast them out. Like two sprinting thoro-breds they galloped the entire length of the green felted table and crashed against the far-end border. He remarked that Jimmy Boyd's face never changed expression, not by the twitch of a muscle, or the flicker of an eyelash even, as the taut stick-man relaxed and shouted exultantly, "Crap-Po Dan." Without a word, Jimmy turned and walked out.

It was this kind of steel nerve and superb control which enabled Jimmy Boyd to successfully buck the law for many years, and gained for him the reputation of the Number One narcotic man of the Northwest. But like all law-breakers he finally stumped his toe, and at the late age of 67 years fell into the toils of the F. B. I. The thought of spending his few remaining years in prison was more than he could stomach, so he chose the other way out. He took care, however, to wind up his business affairs, and send $6000.00 to his mother and sister.

Somewhat ironical and a sermon in itself—in view of the large sums of money he had spent so lavishly during his fat years, wining and dining his friends—were the closing lines of the newspaper report of his death: "Less than a dozen people attended the last funeral rites".

THE YELLOW SHADOW MENACES JAVA

Three weeks ago in this column I wrote about the Dutch East Indies where 65,000,000 brown people are held in abject economic slavery by three hundred thousand whites who live in luxury. Last week a prominent newspaper announced that Japan had abrogated a treaty made with the Dutch in 1911, whereby all disputes between the two countries were to be submitted to arbitration.

Cause: the Dutch contemplate erecting two naval bases there, and the building of two big battleships, to which the Japs strenuously object. Look out for smoke from the Dutch East Indies in the not too distant future. For oil, in which these islands are rich, is a matter of life and death for Japan. And if her import of it from this country is cut off, necessity will force her to secure it from the most accessible source.

Annual Report of St. Paul Baptist Church Clerk for '39

To the Pastor, Officers and members of the Official Board of the St. Paul Baptist church:

The following is the Annual Report of your church clerk for the year 1939.

First, I want to state how deeply appreciative I am of the high and noble privilege of serving this great church as its Clerk, and especially am I proud to serve with, and under such an honest, square, God-fearing and progressive leader as we have in our Pastor.

From my position, I've observed him closely and I know these things to be true. Though he has had plenty of opportunities, he hasn't mis-appropriated one penny of the church's money; a terribly hard temptation for progressive and popular preachers to refrain from doing.

Next, he has been honest, upright, square and decent with our mothers, wives and daughters; we've never had reason to fear or distrust him in the smallest degree, on the contrary, we feel highly honored and proud whenever he converses with, or calls them into conferences, or comes into our homes whether we are home from our various occupations or not. This is another seemingly irresistible temptation confronting popular and well-liked ministers, many of whom fall to rise no more.

And last and greatest of all traits ,this God-man teaches by precept and example—he actually and sincerely strives each day to live what he preaches and because of his tenacious devotion to Christ, and his Job-like faith in God, he actually gets joy out of his trials and sacrifices and disappointments in this life; he stands steadfast proclaiming God's searching truths, against much opposition and often misunderstood, and yet contented and satisfied in that supreme belief that victory, peace and life await at the end of this journey —and not in giving up along its pathway.

And who wouldn't be proud to live, and work, and grow spiritually and develop one's soul into a stalwart and intelligent agent for God under the tutorship of one, not only learned of books, but one who is in touch with God and God deals thru him?

Oh, we may call it man worship or lip worship or whatever we may—but as far as I can understand it, God has always an agent or representative or leader for any specific group of people he had any dealing with. Of course, we know it's God's work thru man, true enough, but any man who allows himself to be used of God daily and whom God can trust and does trust to successfully lead over 1½ thousand people—that man has paid dearly for that honor and is deserving from us high tribute for his extreme love for and his complete faith in God. Do you have it?—that faith and love? Ask yourself that question and answer honestly.

God did not descend down on St. Paul hill, as he did on Mount Sinai and renovate and remodel this beautiful church edifice as an overnight miracle—No! No! He worked through some man's mind. A man who dared to borrow the money from his members, in the name of the church, and paid it back every dime.

God did not send this grand pipe organ whose melodies soar us heavenward, as a free-will Christmas gift and place it on the doorstep of St. Paul. No! No! He worked thru the mind of a man who dared to go to the white banker and borrow $2400 for 2 years, and thru prayerful maneuvering of drives and movements—dared to pay it back in 10 months time and save the interest for the church.

God did not descend in our midst in a visible way, as he did in the midst of the Hebrew children in the fiery furnace, and preside over a meeting and organize our great church of 1600 members into 30 distinct organizations, each functioning separately and yet collectively to make up one unanimous unit for His glory, No.; No!

As in the building of Solomon's Temple—God so arranged that the idea was born into the mind or was given thru inspiration or divine revelation into the mind of one whom he could depend on to cultivate and carry out and devise plans and means and work, sacrifice, pray and constantly consult him and seek his help and guidance each step he progressed until the thing be finished according to God's blueprint. God, the overseer and instructor—man, the workman to put into effect God's plan.

Thru the help of God, who is it that is mainly responsible for:

1. The harmony, sweet fellowship and love that marks the work of our Deacon and Deaconess Boards meeting jointly each Friday last year? This was not accomplished overnight—not without a tearing down and complete reorganization.

2. Our famous Official Board, composed of some 50 or 60 judicial men and women, including Deacons, Trustees and heads of all auxiliaries; one of the first of its kind, was organized by the Pastor to transact business for the church, every dime being paid out thru this body where satisfactory explanation of all bills must be given before they are allowed.

3. Our great Evangelical Bible Study Movement, where as many as 200 or 300 have attended with Bible in hand, prayerfully and carefully studying; seemingly to have meant so much to the people and rectified their lives.

4. Our Emergency Fund—In the Emergency Fund lies the secret of our success. Inaugurated, nursed and cherished by the Pastor since its incipiency, it provides for the poor and needy, the down and out, the decrepit and less fortunate who fall a victim of circumstance.

5. Our Mission Movement—It is the only one of its kind—has members belonging to various denominations. Have 3 divisions and 1 Traveling Prayer Band who go out into the highways and hedges, jails and the hospitals, visiting the sick, serving nourishing soup, and seeking lost souls

6. Our Departmental Churches, so systematized and organized, operating independently with individual pastors and a full staff of officers—not only serve to develop young preachers along pastorial lines, but also as a medium thru which the parent church is able to utilize and develop the talent of its 1600 members, facilitating also the financial and spiritual status of the mother church.

7. And our singing units comprising 4 choirs and an orchestra; our front line Usher Board; our Publication Bureau with its better than $350.00 worth of equipment all paid for; our Pall Bearers Bureau; our Condolence, Resolution and Courtesy Bureau; our systematic Contribution Bureau and many others and above all, God is yet sanctioning, approving and blessing this program and Pastor and all its policies.

Now with all these facts, and they are facts, why wouldn't we be proud of our pastor, his program and our church? None but the foolish, the blind and the illiterate would allow themselves to even be thought of as knockers, disgruntles or complainers. And the great comfort—God sanctions it all—It's enough to shout over for one to have God's sanction and approval of a thing he or she is endeavoring heart and soul to put over; Victory and success then is certain, but not without a deal of vital energy and life itself having been expended in the fostering of God's plan, His cause and His kingdom.

The following statistics are given for your consideration:

Total enrolled membership over ---------- 1600
New members added during 1939 ---------- 282
Includes:
25—By Baptism
14—By Letter
243—By Christian Experience
19—Have answered the call of God by death.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK R. BAKER,
Church Clerk

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. Paul's words to the Corinthians, "God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ," constitute the Golden Text.

Among the Scriptural selections are these passages about Jesus from Mark: "And he said, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? . . . It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth: But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it. And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it. But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples."

This statement from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is also presented: "Our Master taught spirituality by similitudes and parables. As a divine student he unfolded God to man, illustrating and demonstrating Life and Truth in himself and by his power over the sick and sinning."

In spite of the inclement weather, an appreciable attendance greeted the pastor of Parks Memorial church Sunday.

The discussion on Sunday evening will be led by Mrs. Myrtle Franklin. She will deal with Christianity from the layman's point of view.

Clarence English will discuss "The Idea of Service" at the Lenten Service on Tuesday night, followed by an open discussion.

Rev. A. Wayman Ward of Chicago, prominently mentioned for the Bishopric at the forthcoming General Conference of the AME Church, will worship with his friend, the Rev. J. B. Isaacs, pastor of Parks Memorial, on Sunday.

Services will be conducted at Parks Memorial church at noon each day for 45 minutes during Holy Week, beginning on Palm Sunday.

At Central Baptist church, 1209 E. Vernon avenue, Rev. L. B. Brown minister will hand over his pulpit for Sunday morning's services to Rev. Jones, who will preach the sermon. Fellowship and Holy Communion will follow.

Last Tuesday night's Lenten musical was a great success. The Easter program is the next event.

A number of visitor were registered at First AME church, No. Vernon and Kensington avenue, Pasadena, Sunday. Among them were: Mrs. Ruth Campbell and Robert Campbell, Mrs. Chestina Davis and William Shaw of Los Angeles and Rev. F. C. Red of Duarte; Joseph Baker of New York City and Mrs. Katherine S. Gaines of Chicago.

"Life's Greatest Gift" was the subject of the sermon delivered by Rev. Jonathan A. Dames, pastor of the church. The services centered around the general theme, "Heart Songs of a Race". Fireside Memories Program Unique and Entertaining

The Fireside Memories program, rendered by the Kansas City Boosters club of 8th and Towne AME church Sunday afternoon, was very unique and entertaining. A very appreciative audience enjoyed the informal chats by members of the club, which took place around a beautifully improvised fireplace, which was as real as one in the home.

Highlights of the program were eulogies, delivered for the following Kansas Citians: Prof. R. G. Jackson, dean of music of Western university; Rev. J. Frank McDonald of the Western Christian Recorder; Mmes. Louise McDonald, Pinkie Osborne Williams; Hon. Nelson C. Crews, Prof. N. Clark Smith, famous bandmaster; and Prof. Joseph E. Herriford, principal in the schools there for 50 years. Mrs. Mildred Mott, president of the club, paid glowing tribute to their memory and related instances of the service they rendered.

Tributes were also paid to Roy Wilkins of the Crisis; William Dawson, Tuskegee Institute music director; Prof. J. R. E. Lee, principal of Agriculture and Mechanical college of Tallahassee, Fla.; Hon. Wm. J. Thompkins, recorder of deeds in Washington; Bishop W. T. Vernon, former registrar of the treasury, now retired AME bishop.

Mrs. Belle Riley gave a reading, "The Preacher in Love," which was well received. The guest artist, Ernest Whitman, star of stage and screen, sang himself into the hearts of his audience with songs of yesteryears and of the present. Mrs. Edna Hammett Porter, wife of Rev. R. B. Porter of Progressive Baptist church, and one of Kansas City's own, furnished music for the occasion and was accompanist for Whitman.

Ushers for the occasion were Kansas City women. The Ladies' Quartet sang, under the direction of Mrs. J. O. Kingsberry, Jr. Mrs. Mildred Mott is president; Mrs. Belle Riley, chairman and Rev. H. Mansfield Collins, pastor.

Outdoor Life and Health Ass'n Membership Drive in Third Week

At the last report meeting of the workers in the annual membership drive of the Outdoor Life and Health Association, it was found that the membership is growing rapidly, with many new names added daily.

The workers are redoubling their efforts to gain members as they go from door to door and tell of the work of the Association.

For the third week of the drive, the Assistance League, Mrs. Seth Lee, captain, brought in the largest number of paid memberships. Fidelity Unit, Mrs. Florence Carter, captain, was second. Unit No. 1, Mrs. Louaida Hunigan, captain, was third and Mrs. Louella True, captain of Hygeia unit, fourth.

Dr. Leonard Stovall is president of the association and Mrs. Fannie Williams, general chairman of the drive. They are urging every person to take out a membership in the worthy project, at $1.00 per year.

Their goal is $2,000, needed in order that the Tubercular Rest Home at Duarte can be opened.

● ON THE POLITICAL HORIZON

It is an old hackneyed phrase and should be relegated to the political dump, but I find no more apt one to emphasize what I have to say: Politics makes strange bed fellows. So closely associated were the names of Olson and Kenny that one could not conceive a wedge powerful enough to separate them. Now something has happened. Gov. Olson is threatened with Recall and from what I glean former Superior Judge Robert W. Kenny is perfectly willing to oppose him.

But you've go tto hand it to that Olson. No other governor in the history of the great state of California has found THAT many ways to park behind the eight-ball.

2000 Missouri Republicans recently met to elect a GOP governor of that Mason-Dixie state. Their choice seems to be Forest C. Donnell, who is considered the most logical candidate regardless of partv.

Incidentally, Mrs. Eunice Carter, prominent young Negro aide to New York's Racket Busting District Attorney Dewey says 1940 is a Republican year. I bet she and her boss get along well!

No politics was attashed to the visit of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt to eBthune-Cookman College in Florida last week where the First Lady spoke before 10,000 and posed for pictures with Hon. Mary M. B. Of course, it is true that Florida's Republicans are organizing for the first time an dare incorporating young Negro leaders into the ranks. But that's coincidence.

A slate of uninstructed delegates to the Republican National Convention in Philadelphia June 24 was selected Saturday at an all-day conference of the Statewide delegation committee meeting in the Biltmore.

A committee, with Republican National Committeeman William F. Knowland of Oakland, presiding, announced that the delegation will be nominally pledged to State Senator Jerrold Seawell, president pro tem of the Senate, who will head the ticket in compliance with the California primary law. Seawell will release the delegation the day folloing the election, as was done in 1936 when Atty. Gen. Earl Warren headed the delegation slate.

Representing the Fourteenth Congressional District will be William D. Campbell, Republican nominee for Congress in 1940, and John G. Mott, former president of the Los Angeles County Bar Association.

Mrs. Betty Hill will go along as a representative of the Fifteenth Congressional District with Mrs. H. G. Redwine, president of the Southern California Republican Women. Mrs. Hill heads Women's Political Study Club.

Ex-Governor Merriam, remaining in the political picture, will function as delegate from the Sixteenth District.

Ham Fish, New Yorker who backed anti-lynch bill to the hilt (he sponsored one of them), is officially listed as a dark horse at the GOP confab. However, one nationally syndicated political commenator lists his chances at 100,000 to 1. Sounds Fishy.

Favors Hank to Cop 4th World Title

By J. CULLEN FENTRESS

Determined to capture his fourth world's championshpi boxing crown in four years, Henry Armstrong will enter the ring at Gilmore stadium tomorrow night to lift the two-state recognized middleweight bauble from the scarred brow of Filipino Ceferino Garcia.

Postponed from Feb. 22 because of a boil on the right leg of the champion, a heavy advance sale has been reported by Charley MacDonald, matchmaker for Hollywood Legion stadium, promoters of the titular bout.

Both boxers completed their conditioning routines in good shape. Final drills were held yesterday following appearance of both Garcia and Armstrong in State Athletic Commission offices at noon for physical checkups and renewal of boxing licenses. Six ounce gloves will be used in tomorrow night's battle. And in all probability, George V. Blake, will be third man in the ring.

Tomorrow night's championship battle will be the first for both principals since Garcia successfully defended his title against Glen Lee at Manila, and Armstrong, his welterweight toga against Pedro Montanez in New York.

If Armstrong is the victor tomorrow night it will be his fourth world's title in four years, an all-time mark and one which may never be broken.

Armstrong won the featherweight crown Oct. 29, 1937; the welterweight title May 31, 1938; and the lightweight championship Aug. 17, the same year, holding all three concurrently. Hank was undefeated as a featherweight, relinquishing the title Sept. 13, 1938. He lost the lightweight crown Aug. 20, last year, and still holds the welterweight diadem.

Garcia won the middleweight championship by hanging a 7-round knockout on Fred Apostoli Oct. 2 last year in New York City.

YANCEY ON CARD

Betting odds tomorrow night will probably be even-stephen take your pick although this writer favors "Hustlin' Hank" to make a success of his title bid.

The supporting card, announced today, will see Yancey Henry in one of the feature spots. The former Boston heavyweight was a Golden Gloves champion in 1937 and boasts decisions over Chuck Crowell and a TKO over Lee Ramage. Heavyweight kingpin Joe Louis used him as a sparring partner when he was preparing to defend his title against "Blackjack" Roper last April.

The complete supporting card follows:

Georgie Hansford vs. Red Green, 142 lbs., 10 rds.; Yancey Henry vs. Dave Johnson, heavyweights, six rounds; Babe Brandelli vs. Irwin Kaye, six rounds, 147 lbs.; Eddie Fadda vs. Nat Bon, four rounds, 165 lbs.; Frankie Valdez vs. Ollie Nichols, four rounds, 165 lbs.

Wilson Polishes Off Gamiere in One Round

Jackie Wilson wasted little time in polishing off Mike Gamiere, mid-westerner, at the Olympic Tuesday night, stopping his foe in 1 minute and 45 secons of the opening round of what was supposed to have been a 10-round main event.

Referee Jack Kennedy went thru the motions of counting 10 but it was no use as Gamiere was listening to the birdies sing.

Aright cross set Gamiere up for the finishing punches all of which were of the same variety as the first.

Next Tuesday night, Matchmaker Jimmy Murray features a rematch between Georgie Crouch and George Latka who staged a boxing duel a few weeks ago with the latter coming out on top.

The six-round feature bout saw Carlos Miranda decision Elmer Lewis. In the fours: Chief Crazy Horse (Frankie Martin) nodded soldier Eddie Stanley; William Metcalf TKO'ed Jackie Reed in two; Clyde Alexander shaded Babe Antuna but received a draw verdict; and Cesar Romero outpointed Red Shannon in the opener.

Kappas, Omegas Open Inter-Frat Hoop Series

With interest at fever pitch, the annual inter-fraternity basketball series will open at Patriotic Hall, 18th and Figueroa, Saturday night with the Omega Psi Phi cagers meeting Kappa Alpha Psi.

It's the first time in several years that locals have been treated to the spectacle of seeing three fraternity fives vie for series honors. Alpha Phi Alpha puintet will take the court next week.

Both the Omegas and Kappas boast impressive lineups. In the starting lineup Saturday night for the "Q's" will be Howard Williams and Marsden Thomson, forwards; Albert Chism, center; Lloyd Courtney and John Shackleford, guards.

Maryland to Protect Mob Victims

Every Precaution to Be Taken Says Governor to NAACP

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 22.—"You may be sure that in conjunction with law-enforcing officials, I am determined to see that the law is respected and the orderly processes are followed."

This was the statement made by Maryland's Governor Herbert R. O'Connor in a letter to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People yesterday and made public by the Association in protecting 31 year old Mrs. Martha Blake Collick and her fourteen year old daughter, Lillian, from a Stockton, Md., lynch mob.

Mrs. Collick, her daughter, her husband, Dave Collick, and Geo. Selby are all held in the death of Harvey Pilchard, white well-to-do farmer, on Sunday, February 13. Pilchard's wife is said to have identified Collick as one of two Negro men who entered her home Sunday night, shot and killed her husband and and then shot her.

PITCHED BATTLE

Unable to find Collick, who was said to be hiding in a swamp a mob of 1,000 whites converged on Snow Hill, Maryland, and dragged Mrs. Blake and her daughter from the jail, where they had been held. The mob placed the mother and child in an automobile and took them out of town. Followed closely by state troopers sent out by Governor O'Connor, the mob was forced to give up their prisoners, who were uninjured, after a pitched battle with the troops. The mother and daughter screamed repeatedly throughout their ordeal with the mob, witnesses to the kidnapping said.

The Association's telegram advised the governor that W. A. C. Hughes, Baltimore attorney had been asked to interview the victims of the lynch mob.

The telegram, which praised him for his prompt action in saving the mother and daughter, also urged him to protect Collick when he is found.

● LIBRARY BOOK NOTES

(Courtesy Vernon Branch Public Library, 4504 S. Vernon)

Many new books of great interest are appearing each week on the shelves of the Vernon Branch Library. The following are some we thought you would especially like. "AMERICA IN OUR DAY" by Joseph Peck is that new textbook on recent American history which has been so needed for several years. This survey of the most important developments in our national economy and the most pressing contemporary problems is up-to-date in every way and will be useful to the thinking citizens as well as to the student and teacher. Some of the phases of American life covered are: Laws regulating business both prior to and during the New Deal; Tariffs and foreign trade; The federal budget and its corresponding tax problems; Public utilities and the public interest; The struggle of labor and security.

Though the Virgin Islands were for many years the least known of our far-flung possessions, they have recently sprung into news prominence with the turning of the United States interests southward. Puerto Rico is a logical link in the good neighbor chain, while the Virgins will soon be buttresses of defense. "PUERTO RICO AND THE VIRGIN ISLANDS" by Daisy Rech, is not so much a guide book as an interesting attempt to show how two million comparatively unknown Americans live.

WASHINGTON STORIES

"Adventure in Washington" by Leonard Ross, is an amusing and exciting story of the Washington Press Corps and the part which one member played in a political scandal that rocked the Capitol. Jeffrey Breet, one of the toughest and fairest of Washington correspondents, was known for his loyalty to Senator Jonathan Morley. When the Senator confided that he was licked in his fight to put a powerful lobbyist behind bars, Jeffrey promptly deserted the Senator for the lobbyist. The fantastic events which take place as Jeffrey strives to find evidence to present to Morley are colored by the presence of Washington's loviest debutante. This is a fast-moving novel with authentic background. The author is the same Leo Rosten who wrote historically several years ago of Wash. correspondents.

"New Adventures of Ellery Queen." An old favorite comes out in a series of new adventures as Ellery Queen again applies deductive logic to the solution of mysteries which have baffled the police. The book includes a short novel "The Lamp of God" which is one of the best stories so far by this top notch thriller.

PHILANDER SMITH DONATED PARK PLOT

LITTLE ROCK, Feb. 29. (ANP)—Fifteen acres of ground in southwest Little Rock donated to the city by Philander Smith college will be used as a recreational park for colored citizens, according to announcement by the City Council Parks committee last week. Development of the area will be started with funds remaining from a bond issue voted for the conversion of a 500 acre tract near Granite mountain into a park. Approximately $3,000 is now available from the original sum.

Jim Crow Eliminated from Mississippi Textbook Bill

JACKSON, Feb. 22. (ANP)—After a fiery discussion on the proposed Free Textbook bill amendment, providing separate warehouses for books to be used by white and Negro students because of "the prevalence of syphilis and tuberculosis among Negroes," the Mississippi legislature last week vetoed the proposal by accepting the conference committee's report, which questioned the feasibility of such a move. This action, termed "knuckling under the Negro" by several members of the senate, came after considerable debate on the matter.

Th introduction of threatening letters, reportedly written by New York and New Jersey Negroes to Sen. Henry Lee Davis, brought a climax to the day's proceedings, and the Senator asked that remarks about Negroes not be quoted in the press. He said:

"I wish to keep my record straight. It is best not to air this thing any further, but I want you know how I feel". To this Senator Richardson of Philadelphia responded:

"Senator Davis, we all feel about this like you do. But sir, why write something in this bill we know will be done without being written? They (the textbook board) have all authority to do these things e want them to do. Why write them into the bill and seriously affect its constitutionality?"

Representative E. Denham, De Stoto, opposed elimination of the amendment because he said such a move would put on public record "the social equality of whites and Negroes."

'Y' Varsity Five Trips Downtown

After having victory snatched from them in the last minute of the Hollywood game last week, the 2Y8 Varsity basketball team, came back to wallop Downtown "Y" 36-21 last Saturday.

John Randolph, Chapman college star returned to 2Y8 team and distinguished himself as high point man with 13 points. Richie of 2Y8 was runner up with nine points.

The local team's defense was much improved over last week when they allowed Hollywood to make three quick set-ups in a last minute thrust. Downtown was able to amass only 8 field goals all evening. The remainder of the score was attributed to free throws.

The Varsity and 145 pounders will play at the Pasadena Muir Tech tomorrow night.

DO GERMS DESTROY LIFE?

Microbes are the killers and destroyers of life; yet the stuff that makes it possible for life to go on issues from the death and destruction in which they flourish. We think of them as our enemies. They get into our skin and make us itch; they burrow deeper and make us ache and sweat; they crowd our blood and kill us. They breed in filth and thrive on decay. By the standard of human prejudice they are things of disgust or horror. But they also bring forth the friendly smell of fertile soil, the warm aroma of the stable, the bouquet of old wine. More important, they cause decomposition and make food for plants and in turn for animals. Germs, in fact, are parts of a vast scheme, the most important parts, if you must, but neither less dependent nor less quarrelsome than the others.

Our human prejudice may lead us astray. In the elaborately balanced community of life on the earth, few members fail to earn their rightful place. Certain streptococci—are past masters of homicide. We condemn them unreservedly. Yet a judgment larger than ours might consider even the murderous microbes useful citizens of the living world. Killing us, they return our substance to the sail and serve the potato. Millions of streptococci die with their victim, martyred so that one of us may become grist for nature's mill and new life stem from our remains.

Other bacteria in the rpots of peas and alfalfa, feeding on plant sugar, turn the nitrogen of the air into nitrates, food for the plants. Plants and microbes live by an arrangement of direct benefit to both; this is something we can approve of unlike microbe homicide. But that larger judgment might not discriminate against the streptococci. When those germs set up housekeeping in a cut finger and run through a job of blood poisoning and die in droves with their unwilling host. They deal out death without malice, as other microbes manufacture cheese without pride, in keeping with an arrangement ultimately of benefit to all and larger than any of us.

If we could find a way to rid the world of all its microbes we should be wise not to use it. The better to picture our dependence on them. Suppose all the world's microbes were destroyed suddenly—in the course of a night, say—in such a way that nothing else were directly altered. Suppose we were to wake up tomorrow in a germ-free world. What would life be like?

Things would begin to happen immediately In the beginning they would be bad, and they would get worse, until—but let us look at them in sequence.

The first effects would make us think a dream of paradise had come true. Larger numbers of the sick would begin at once definitely to get well. Even many of the hopelessly doomed would mend miraculously and recover quickly, incredibly. Infection would have vanished.

Infection is a destructive war waged by an invading army of microbes on the territory of our own bodies. Now the enemy would be exterminated, and the siege would instantly be raised. The sick would pass from prostration directly into convalescence and go on serenely to uncomplicated recovery. Coughs would disappear, fevers would subside, sores would heal, aches would vanish—think of it! A child with diphtheria, choked by virulent bacilli, racked with fever, weakened in every limb by the toxin in his blood, grows calm and strong and breathes and takes food with blissful surcease from pain. An old man losing a long fight against tuberculosis—hollow cheeked, pallid, coughing up his substance with every breath—puts the heavy load off his weary chest and begins to rebuild his wasted body. All over the world these things would happen. Despair would give way to hope, agony to tranquility, war to peace.

The sick would get well and stay well, and none would take their places. Hospitals would soon empty most of their wards, and before long, some of them would close their doors for lack of patients. And many who remained sick would nevertheless be benefited. Those injured in accidents would not see their wounds turned into villainous stews of gangrene; deep wounds would no longer lead to blood poisoning or lockjaw, even if unattended. Disinfectants could be thrown into the sea. The priestly ritual of surgical asepsis, although superfluous, would probably not be abandoned at once, but lingering, would arm itself against empty air with quixotic absurdity. There would still be serious disease, of course; but even cancer and diabetes would become less destructive. Their victims would not fall prey to infection; and extensive surgical operations, hitherto dangerous or impossible because of risk of infection, would save many persons otherwise beyond hope.

Miss Yarbo of "You Can't Take It With You" tops the column this week. Last Thursday was a big day for her. In the Dunbar Lounge she had two Coco-Cola's at the table and when she returned from the beauty parlor, she had four more at the bar. That's really drinking Coc's.

Monte Hawley is quite an actor where the school kids are concerned. He was swamped last Friday outside the Dunbar Hotel signing autograph books.

With Jimmy Lunceford back we can look forward to another dance to be given. Where, I am not sure. He arrived Monday at 1:30 p. m. and is stopping at the Dunbar Hotel. Thursday (today) is the day he will start at the Paramount theatre. Be on hand.

John Girby's piano player Billy Giles bought himself a new camera so he can take back pictures of our sun-kissed city. You must be sure to take one of the downpours we have here also Billy.

Since the Mills Bros. left, Nettie Parks and Alice Keys have gone into hiding. What's the matter girls? They don't affect you that way do they? Well, then that is something.

Mantan, you are a real pickle. You are clowning all the time. But remember, there are some people that you make laugh, where ordinarily they would give you a frown.

Stuff Smith has gone Hollywood I am sure. Because he has not made an appearance for over two weeks on the Avenue. Well, we will still be waiting with open arms whenever he decides to go Harlem again. That's friends for you.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper of Cleveland entertained last Saturday evening with a supper for twelve in the Dunbar Cocktail Lounge. The centerpiece of dahlias, yellow roses, poppys, etc., made by Ralph Porter, was beautiful. They started the evening off with cocktails.

Cee Pee Johnson, orchestra leader, is around the Dunbar Grill often having his meals. The girls like to wait on him because he is so easy to please. Must be something in that.

Pigmeat Markham: Hope we see you at the Paramount next week with Lunceford. You are very deserving. One of the best acts we've had out this way in a long time. Keep it up.

This is to the Bud Morris everybody's shadow. But when do you intend to retire and pass this particular profession on to some one younger than yourself? Let us know when you decide, there's nothing like being hipped.

It's about time we give a real big hand to Floyd Ray, the next band sensation of the west. You will never know how hard he is really trying. In the near future, give him all the support he needs.

At the close of this column, let me inform you that the writer has taken ill but hopes to be able to continue telling you about the different events going on about town.

The woman, who makes herself a feast to the eye, may help herself to anything in the banquet of life.

On the canvas of flesh, one may create a masterpiece of visual impressiveness, by deft touches here and there.

Love may be blind, but its nose knows.

Man ya rouged lip has left its mark on maps of importance.

It is so much easier to say it with perfume.

The woman of charm changes with the wind of her temperament and never ceases to maintain her scented breeziness.

Many a modern girl just lives to kiss and make-up.

Some people's material possessions can evaporate, but the quality of their original atmosphere still lingers on.

Woman! Thy face is thy fortune and thy body thy treasure.

God gave flowers their odor so that near sighted bees might find them.

Beware of the depredations of time! Perfume.

Rail Workers Win Pay-Hour Test

FAYETEVILLE (N. C.) Feb. 29—Federal Judge Isaac M. Meekins this week upheld the Wages and Hours Law and ordered the Atlantic Coast line railroad to reimburse employes who have been receiving less than the minimum wage of 25 cents an hour.

The road was ordered specifically to pay five Negro section hands a total of $79.20.

The Court ruled that the Wage-Hour Law "is a valid regulation of interstate commerce" and it is not in violation of the due process clause of the Constitution as charged by the company.

The ruling said the railroad had illegally charged its section hands rent for houses that did not exist, for water pumps that did not pump, for sanitary facilities where none existed, and for unprovided special police protection against "white hoodlums."

"Representatives shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective number counting the whole number of persons in each state."

"The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or any state on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude."

Although these "amendments" have been in effect since 1865-70, the "American whites" in all Southern states, and some of the states outside of the South, completely ignore them. They look upon them as merely a scrap of paper, drawn up to satisfy the highest "Anthropoid" (higher apes) as the American Negro is called, among narrow-minded whites. I suppose the whites should not be totally blamed for not giving us equal rights, as long as we are willing to take the unequality and discrimination some of them place upon us. If we will not stand together and fight for our own equality. I know that we have been fighting, but not hard enough. What we must fight for is "National Negro Unity," before we can start to fight for "National Equality."

I realize the work we are carrying on is magnificent, out, we will have to get closer to all types of our people, learn their opinion of "National Equality," form "National Unity," not just parties that will talk, and not act, but parties that stand for freedom, equality and recognition. Parties that will write their names for it, give their moral, financial, spiritual and physical support. Parties that cannot be discouraged by any low, unjust treatment given. Men like the men of old, men who will stand together through danger, and if necessary, shed their blood for "National Equality." Parties who will present our problem to our United States Government, and force them to consider them. Force them to see the light no matter what the circumstance.

For instance, it was a Negro who fired the first shot at Manila Bay, from the flagship Olympia, from which the late Admiral Dewey commanded the American forces in the Asiatic station. He was John Christopher Jordan. His career is an example of the Negro's ability. In the World War on November 4, 1917, there was a certain vessel torpedoed, an American vessel. On this ship as well as all others that were sunk, the Negroes served, bled and died side by side with white men in a desperate struggle to subdue the German U-boat.

Let us not forget the mighty, and tireless work of those in the great World War. In this sacrificing peril, Negro men and Negro women worked side by side, never wavering, working for those forgotten equalities. Shall we stop thinking about it, just as the whites? We must make our government listen to us. After going through each war with them as well as in peace times, when freedom and equality, (which has never been granted us) is at stake.

I was listening to a radio program a few nights ago, upon which the European situation was being discussed among some of the most prominent citizens. There was a splendid debate on economic, social and world affairs in general. While listening to it, I was very much amazed to hear Americans discussing Europe's problems, when a far greater problem confronts them. I am in favor of American sympathizing with other countries, but not until our problems are solved here at home.

The greatest "American" problem is the problem of the American Negro. They have never had a problem as great as this. Equality for the Negroes She can never criticize what other countries are doing until she does something about her own. If she wants to wear a suit of armor, she must clean up at home. It has about worn the Negro down, when this is supposed to be the land of the free and equal and the civil rights of the Negro people are not granted. If the world free was defined by everyone, I'm sure they would tl. t it means being at liberty.

If our Negro children must be taught that this is the land of the free and to pledge allegiance to our flag, and to our country, it is only fair that we should be recognized as free citizens, from coast to coast, in all territory owned and governed by our United States Government. The Negro people should not have to leave the South to escape the abuse from our fellow citizens, the whites. Suppose we like to live in the southern states? Aren't we free American citizens? Don't we have the rights, according to our Constitution, to make our home on any soil governed by our government? We should have the same equal rights in the deepest southern states, as well as in the states that are fartherest North.

We must wake up, wake up to facts that we have been trying to avoid facing, the fact that we have not yet received our Constitutional rights as citizens of the United States of America, until we have achieved equality, and freedom, real freedom, freedom from discrimination, freedom from race prejudice. Why should we have to tolerate this? We respect our government, pay our taxes, and do our duty as loyal citizens, as well as people of the opposite race.

When they call this the land of the free, and we respect it as being the same, we should have the same equal rights as any other American citizen. We cannot stand being barred from jobs and other equal privileges, because of the color of our skin. We must have complete equality, freedom to do anything we're qualified to do. Freedom to direct the power of our activities, freely exempted from racial and social contempt.

Insurance Co. Gets Millions Out of Sharecroppers, Claim

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—(CNA)—A picture of one of the nation's richest and most powerful financial institutions, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., taking in millions of dollars of profits annually in the form of 30 to 40 per cent of the crops raised by thousands of tenant farmers on land which it owns was unfolded this week by Glenn D. Rogers, an official of the insurance firm.

Rogers admitted that in 1939 rentals taken from the company's sharecroppers amounted to $5,000,000 and for the threeed as one of the nation's largest years before that it has never fallen below $4,000,000 annually.

Rogers said that the company can make more profit operating farms on a share crop basis than by selling the huge tracts of farmland it has secured by foreclosure. Tenants on Metropolitan Life land have a one-year lease.

In the South the sharecroppers pay the company one-fourth of their cotton crop.

Metropolitan Life, now testifying before the Federal Monopoly Committee, has been revealed landowners through a policy of acquiring farms by foreclosing on mortgages. Its total holdings are valued at $83,290,000.

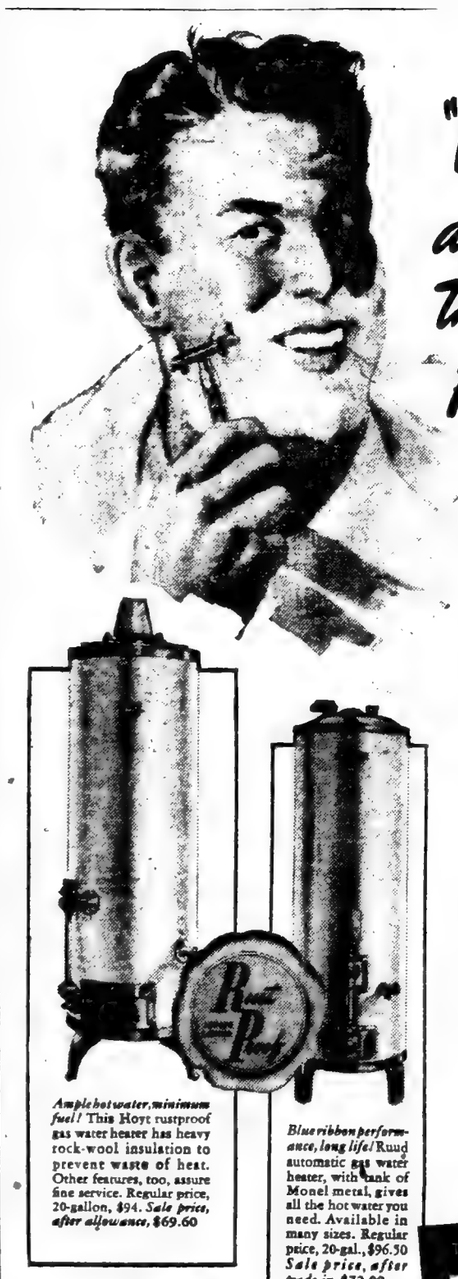
Don't Have to Serve Negroes Sitting With White Friends



NEW YORK, Feb. 29—A restaurant owner doesn't have to serve Negroes if they are sitting with white friends, that's the ruling handed down last week by the Manhattan Municipal court.

Two Negroes, Conrad Lynn and Elsie Jackson, went to a restaurant last November to eat with two white friends The proprietor wouldn't serve them.

In court, the proprietor testified that he would have served the Negroes if they had sat apart, but would not serve them with their friends in a "mixed party."

Under the State Civil Rights law, penalties are provided against restaurant owners who refuse to serve Negroes.

The court ruled, however, that a restaurant owner may rightfully refuse to serve Negroes whenever they are in the company of white friends! As long as the owner is willing to serve Negroes in a segregated corner of his place, the court ruled, he is within the law.

TUESDAY EVENING a nine-year old child was kidnapped by a fiend. The crime has been called "the most shocking in Eastside history".

However, there are facts related to police inefficiency with regard to this case which will prove to be even more disturbing than the kidnapping itself. For, although the crime was committed Tuesday afternoon, police only found time to visit the East 22nd street home of the child's parents for an investigation yesterday at eleven in the morning. A lapse of almost 24 hours, while the child was, and is, in the hands of a fiend.

It is easy for us to recall the great fuss and furore which accompanied various nationally publicized kidnappings of wealthy children of the other group. We know that all the forces of organized police detection were operating within minutes after these crimes were reported. We know that instantly the homes of monied parents were flooded by detectives, fingerprint experts and sundry representatives of police officialdom.

Yet, under absolutely similar criminal circumstances, local policemen had not even visited the home of Eastside parents until almost 24 hours after their child had been missing!

Something smells and not in Denmark.

UNDER THE promotional supervision of young Wendell Franklin and his aide de camp, James Reese, the program presented last Thursday night at the People's Independent Church as a part of that institution's Homecoming Week was an important musical triumph.

Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew and the Hall Johnson Choir are to be congratulated for splendid contributions. I don't know when I was so stirred by such a program. Not only was the music of magnificent quality, but the entire program was conducted and arranged with professional skill.

The "numbers" followed one another apparently in order of excellence, since it appeared that each performance capped its predecessor. Such a unique musical extravaganza has not blessed Los Angeles in many a season. I cannot but repeat congratulations to all involved!

A GREAT document has come to my attention via the United States Congressional Record of Feb. 21. Speaking on "The Brotherhood of America", Hon. George H. Bender, congressman from Ohio, in the House of Representatives, said:

"Mr. Speaker, no weeks in the American calendar offer the people of our Nation a greater opportunity to emphasize the universal brotherhood of our land than the month of February. This is a month of heroes, when the youth of the United States turns its eyes back upon the history of our country to glory in its traditions. No nation on the face of the earth can boast of men more devoted to the needs of their people than America's Abraham Lincoln and George Washington. Their very names conjure up pictures of loyalty to and love for the principles of liberty which were the cornerstone of their lives.

"It is fitting indeed that we should dedicate this month to the brotherhood of man. Consider the two men whose birthdays we remember with undying affection this month. The differences in their own lives, the disparity in their background, their training, their experience, are far less significant than the similarities in their goals. They provide in themselves a demonstration of brotherhood. Lincoln, born in poverty, self-educated, raised himself to the ranks of immortal greatness by the burning zeal of his cause—the preservation of the Union and the freedom of its people. Washington, reared in comfort,

Claim Davis Hurt Lynch Bill Cause

Hearings Brought to Close After Stormy Session

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7—Senate judiciary subcommittee hearings on the anit-lynching bill were brought to a close here Monday evening after a stormy session in which Senate sponsors of the measure protested that Benjamin Davis, Negro Communist, had hurt their cause.

Davis, son of one-time Republican chieftain, Benjamin Davis, Sr., upset the Senate committee before which he appeared as a witness for the bill by hurling charges against President Roosevelt, Vice President Garner, and southern members of Congress.

He said Garner is an "evil old labor baiter;" charged President Roosevelt with joining hands with the vice president to "scuttle" the lynch bill and called the Southern congressmen "stooges for the landlords and mill owners who degrade white womanhood by refusing to pay them a living wage."

Ordering Davis' remarks stricken from the hearing records, Chairman Frederick Van Nuys, who is one of the bill's sponsors, threatened to have Capital police eject Davis from the hearing.

"You crashed the gates of this committee just to try and send out Communist propaganda," Van Nuys declared. "You have done more harm to prevent passage of this bill than anyone who has ever appeared."

Davis appeared at the insistance fo Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party and the suggestion of Senator Wiley, Wisconsin Republican, that he be granted 15 minutes. Davis identified himself as an associate editor of the Daily worker, Communist newspaper.

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Jones Brothers

CHICAGO, Mar. 7—The fabulous career of the Jones Brothers, reputed leaders in Chicago's $16,000,000 policy racket, appeared headed for the rocks today with their indictment Tuesday by a federal grand jury on charges of income tax evasion.

The three are Edward P. Jones, often referred to as the king of the policy ring; McKissack Jones and George P. Jones. Indicted with them on a charge of aiding and abetting the evasion was Thomas R. Gilson, former deputy collector of internal revenues.

Edward Jones is charged with evading taxes of $803,650.33 for the years 1933 to 1938, inclusive. McKissack's alleged evasion totals $123,497.77 and George's $93,306.40, for the same period of years.

The indictments returned today climax many months of investigation by agents of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

The investigators found that 60,000 persons, mostly on the south side of the city, play the policy game.

Hold Final Rites for Editor

Chicago Defender Editor's Death a Shock to Country

CHICAGO, Mar. 7.—In a church filled with notables from every walk of life, funeral services were held Monday for Robert Sengstacke Abbott, pioneer Chicago journalist, who for 35 years guided the columns of the world's best known Negro newspaper, The Chicago Defender.

No church in Chicago would have been large enough to hold the crowds which sought entrance. Although Abbott was a lifelong Presbyterian, a member of the

ROBERT S. ABBOTT

Grace Presbyterian church here, relatives chose a larger church, one which he had especially loved, the Metropolitan Community church in the heart of Chicago's great southside. It was packed to capacity and crowds thronged the street outside.

Too late to make the deadline on his own national edition, and most of the Negro newspapers of the Nation, Abbott died in his South Parkway mansion last Thursday morning at 7 o'clock. He was 69. He had been ill 7 years.

Death of the great journalist came as a shock to the Nation, although rumors of it had been circulated three weeks ago. He had been failing rapidly for the past two months.

BORN IN GEORGIA

Abbott was born Nov. 24, 1870 at St. Simon's island, Ga. His parents were freshly freed Georgia slaves. Educated at Clafin college and in the printing trades at Hampton Institute, he came to Chicago in 1895 at the age of 25. He founded the Defender 9 years later.

Police Spur Hunt for Girl, Kidnapper

Girl Abducted As on Her Way Home from Church

An aroused Eastside community joined Newton Street police yesterday in a frantic search for a middle-aged white man, who late Tuesday afternoon kidnapped 9-year old Dorothy Lee Gordon as she hurried home from Easter pageant practice.

Dorothy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gordon, 1458 E. 23rd street, was enticed into the kidnapper's automobile at 16th and Hooper avenue at about five o'clock Tuesday. Sole known witness to the abduction is 7-year old Christina Pollard, Dorothy's chum. Christina eluded the strange man and reported Dorothy's abduction to her own mother, Mrs. C. Pollard of 1455 E. 18th street, who notified Dorothy's parents.

Out of Christina's account, police late yesterday broadcast a description of the hunted man as follows: "male, white, middle-aged, brown hair, streaked with grey, bareheaded".

The car was a sedan of late model, dull grey in color. It had a "spotlight on the left side of the cowl, a trunk bulge in the rear, dirty wheels, large black steering wheel and a yellow rear license plate, indicating that it was issued in California".

NO PHOTO

The missing child was described by her mother as 9½ years old, four feet, six inches tall, weighing about 85 lbs. She has noticeably plump legs. Dark of complexion, her skin is "very smooth"; her front, upper teeth large with spaces in between.

Her hair, which is long, the little girl wore in three braids, one down her back and one on top of her head. When she left home, she was wearing a green, white and red print dress with brown stripes, trimmed in white with a white collar; blue wool coat with red flannel lining, black oxfords with a flap covering the laces, yellow and green bobby socks, pink slip and panties.

No photograph of the missing youngster was available, either from her parents or authorities at the 20th street school which

"Negroes will return to the Republican party in 1940." Thus prophesied Frank Gannett, above, New York publisher and candidate for GOP presidential nomination, when he was queried by Mrs. C. A. Bass, EAGLE editor, Tuesday morning at the Biltmore hotel. Gannett is campaigning thruout the nation in his drive to wrest Republican favor from Thomas E. Dewey and other candidates. Owner of nineteen Eastern newspapers, Gannett has instituted an employee-stockholder system that makes every workman part owner of the business.

County Board of Registrars Face Suit

Victory Will Mean 125,000 Negroes Vote for 1st Time

BIRMINGHAM, Mar. 7. (ANP)—The Jefferson County Board of Registrars this week faced the second stage in the attempts on the part of Birmingham Negroes to gain the right to vote, when Atty. Arthur D. Shores filed charges in court against the board for violation of the 14th and 15th amendments. The court petition, filed in the name of 9 local citizens, all qualified to become registered voters, charges that it has become a practice in the county to discriminate against all Negro applicants, and that this continued practice constitutes a "conspiracy," a crime punishable by a fine and imprisonment.

Birmingham voting officials have continually been accused by Negroes in the city of refusing to register them. The first time that the practice was challenged in court occurred last summer when Atty. Shores, working with the NAACP, filed petitions in the name of five local school teachers whom the board of registrars had ruled were unqualified to vote. The case, however, was not allowed to come to a trial, for the certificates were hastily put into the mails by the registrars as soon as it became known that the teachers had filed suits against them.

The present case pending against the board represents the first time that an actual conspiracy to prevent Negroes from voting has even been charged against public officials in the history of Alabama. Proof of the charges will undoubtedly be based upon the treatment received by all Negro applicants summoned to appear before the board during the registration period ending Jan. 31. Negroes were sent notices to report before a closed session of the three man board, and were questioned on their knowledge of the constitution, the Alabama code, certain legal questions, their ownership of property and other matters unrelated to their qualifications as voters. No protests were listened to, although legally an applicant to vote is supposed to prove only his ability to read and write any designated section of of the constitution. These applicants who pointed out that he procedure was contrary to law were told to either come back at another registration period or to go to court about it.

A. F. Hawkins Explains Housing Bill

Assemblyman Gives Reasons for State Relief Disorders

A simple, significant report of his activities was addressed to the EAGLE this week by Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins. It reads:

"The State Housing Bill which I introduced at the recent session is designed to broaden the program of slum clearance and low rent housing. It will permit this state to receive at last $80,000,000 of federal money to provide housing for low income families, work for our citizens and will stimulate business in general.

"Housing 'projects' as contemplated under the bill consists of rental houses which may range as low as $10 or $12 a month for families who earn less than $1000 or $1200 a year.

"In addition to the direct benefits this program will also reduce our crime rate, lessen the danger of disease, help protect our children and improve our neighborhoods. As a result property values will be helped and the burden of the taxpayers made lighter.

"The Bill has passed the Assembly and is soon to be acted upon by the Senate. It is being strongly backed by labor, taxpayers, home owners, social service agencies and civic organizations throughout the state.

MRS. BETTY HILL

At a recent state wide Republican Committee meeting held at Fresno, Mrs. Betty Hill, was elected as a delegate to the Republican National Convention that is to be held in Philadelphia during the month of June.

This gesture is not only a manifestation of the accomplishments of Mrs. Hill's work through the WPSC, Woman's Political Study Club, but also that she is the first Negro woman west of the Rocky Mountains that has had such an honor.

MAYOR ON EASTSIDE!!

Mayor Fletcher Bowron delivered his own precedent a sharp thrust last Thursday evening when he appeared in the E. Adams blvd. home of Mrs. Jessie Terry to confer with leaders of the local community.

Thursday night's appearance was chalked up among politically wise as the first important visit of the civic chief executive to this area. On several previous occasions scheduled appearances did not materialize.

Eagle Editor Praised Hattie's Work

Only Coast Editor to Praise Picture, Work of Actress

Beneath the star-spangled canopy of the Ambassador hotel's swank Cocoanut Grove, Hattie McDaniel was acclaimed as one of the finest actresses in Hollywood when she won the coveted award from the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences for the best work as a supporting actress for 1939.

The golden trophy was given Miss McDaniel for her role of Mammy in the Selznick superproduction "Gone With the Wind." Strangely enough, the role that won for the actress the highest honor Hollywood could bestow upon a supporting player was condemned by many Negro columnists. Mrs. C. A. Bass, editor-publisher of the California Eagle, was the first and only western publisher to praise the picture and Miss McDaniel's work.

Miss Fay Bainter, winner of a similar trophy for 1938, presented

Father of Chicago Bee Editor Dead

CHICAGO, Mar. 7. (ANP)—Major James Davis, of Fort Wayne, Ind., father of Miss Olive Myrl Diggs, managing editor of the Chicago Bee, died Saturday night in Chicago. He was stricken with pneumonia on Christmas day.

The body was shipped to his home in Fort Wayne, Monday morning where funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the family residence. Burial was in Fort Wayne.

Despondent, Man, Woman Fail in Suicide Attempts

Despondency caused two persons to attempt to take their own lives during the past week.

Losing her job, under-nourished and unable to meet her obligations, Mrs. Florence Hoskins, 20-year old housewife, living at 1540½ E. 21st street, took bichloride of potash last Friday night in a suicide try.

Newton Street officers C. S. Broady and E. L. Conway learned that the woman had been separated from her husband for some time, he being ordered to stay away from the house.

A few days ago, it is asserted, the man returned to the house where Mrs. Hoskins and her two-year old baby have been living and stated he was going to 'stay there regardless of what was done or said by anyone.

Police inevstigation disclosed that Mrs. Hopkins' husband has been on probation for non-support and he was scheduled to appear in court yesterday to show cause why his probation should not be revoked.

Mrs. Hopkins was taken to Georgia Street Receiving hospital where it was found her condition is not serious. She was released in care of her mother and sister.

"DISGUSTED," HE WRITES

"I am so disgusted with life, I prefer death. Tell Catherine and Esther I will never leave them. Samuel L. Myles."

Writing this note, Myles, 23-year old porter, 1193 E. 42nd street, attempted suicide early Monday morning, Newton Street officers J. W. Clark and R. Dunn reported today.

It was Myles second attempt to take his life.

Mrs. Mary Woods, with whom Myles rooms, awoke noticing gas. She awoke her husband, Robert Woods, who went to the door of Myles' room and knocked. Getting no response, he broke the door open, found Myles unconscious and all the windows closed and two gas jets open.

Given first aid treatment by Newton Street ambulance, Myles remained at his home.

Now De Scripture Sez:

Hold Formal Dedication of New Church in El Centro

EL CENTRO, (By W. A. Payne)—The opening and dedicatory services of the Second Baptist church closed with the formal dedication exercises last Sunday.

Dr. W. D. Carter, pastor of the Friendship Baptist church, Pasadena, was the speaker at the morning services. Using as his subject "Fill the House," he pleaded with the members of the church and congregation to meet the needs of the church in the Christ way. The music for this and the other services was rendered by the church choir under the efficient direction of Mr. James Robinson, Mrs. Lucille Culberson, organist.

The dedicatory sermon was preached by the Rev. C. H. Hampton, pastor of the Bethel Baptist church, San Diego. Rev. Hampton who is also the President of the Western Baptist State Convention, began his pastoral career with this church, serving it efficiently for three years. A number of the members of the Bethel Church were former members of the organization here. They accompanied the pastor and joined in the services of the afternoon. Mrs. Hampton was a member of the faculty of Douglass High school for several years. His message was one of splendid advice, especially admonishing the church to rise above the level of racial prejudice and indifference and pave the way for better racial understanding and good will. Dr. W. R. Carter, General Missionary to Negroes, was the Master of Ceremonies and directed the financial campaign. Very enjoyable was the vocal solo, "Open the Gates," rendered by Mr. F. Brown of San Diego. He was accompanied by Miss Octavia Payne, an El Centro product and formerly organist of the church here. There were representatives from the local churches of the city and valley and also from the Yuma Baptist church. The services closed with the coronation sermon preached by the pastor of the church, the Rev. I. N. Whitten. Among the visitors present were Mrs. Susie M. Payne of Pasadena; W. W. Gay, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, Mesdames Davis, Lorena Beasley and Lucas of San Diego; Rev. Matthew Merritt of Yuma; Mrs. Davis of Somerton.

Mrs. Ida M. Robertson, Grand Matron of the Order of Eastern Star, paid an official visit to the local chapter, Omega, last Monday evening. She was accompanied by Grand Associate Patron, T. B. Norman; Mesdames LaGuila Shaw, Beatrice McCarrol, Matrons of their respective chapters. Mr. Norman and the visiting ladies brought messages of good will and encouragement. The Grand Matron delivered a splendid address, inspected the work of the organization and congratulated the chapter on its continued progress. While here, the officers were guests of Mrs. Izora Yoakum, Matron of Omega Chapter.

The Telephone Building Service men of the local office of the Southern California Telephone Company spent an enjoyable social evening in the club room of the building last Thursday evening. They had as their guests their wives and lady friends. Mr. E. G. Jones of San Diego, the head building service man, was the guest speaker and brought to the employees and their friends a helpful message. A turkey dinner was served and the remainder of the evening spent playing social games. Those attending were Messrs. E. P. Peure, Simuel Hall, Webster Jackson and their wives; Mr. Charles De Morst, Miss Grace Washington; Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Jones of San Diego.

Members of the Missionary societies of the Johnson's Chapel AME church and the Second Baptist church were guests of the Missionary society of the Presbyterian church last Monday evening. During the month of April, the ladies of the Second Baptist church will entertain the members of the other organizations.

Mrs. A. C. Austin left last Saturday morning for Greensboro, North Carolina to attend the funeral services of her brother who died after a short illness.

Citizens of the community were greatly shocked when on last Sunday they received the news of the death of Mrs. Drucilla Fair killed in an automobile accident. Full information of the accident had not been received at the time of going to press. Mrs. Fair was a member of Phyllis Wheatley Temple of Daughter Elks.

The Girl Reserves of Douglas high entertained the Girl Reserves from Central Union last Wednesday evening. Both groups of girls discussed freely and frankly the topic of the evening "How Can I as a Girl Reserve Face Racial Intolerance in my Community?" A social hour of games and amusements followed the serving of refreshments.

Fifteen girls from Douglass joined the Valley delegation which attended the second annual conference of Imperial and San Diego counties held in San Diego last Saturday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Ruth P. McGregor, advisor, Mrs. Alice Gier and Miss Regenia Payne who acted as chaperones. The trip was made by train and the sights of the famous Carriso Gorge were enjoyed by the excursionists. The girls from Douglass were given definite recognition at the meeting. Miss Ophelia Walked led one of the discussion groups; Miss Margaret Prince played a piano solo and was also the conference accompanist; the Douglass Girl Reserves' group sang the benediction song.

Imperial County's mid-winter fair is now in progress. The fair this year is positively the best yet. The attendance is large and with the continuance of the perfect winter weather, all records of attendance will be broken. Prominent among the exhibits is that of the Boy Scouts, Troop No. 72, John R. Allen, Scoutmaster. The Helping Hand occupies a conspicuous place in the Scouts' tent.

Mrs. Annie Jackson has on display in the art department a beautifully corcheted quilt.

Mills Brothers Disc Rene Tunes

Otis Rene, co-author of the famed hit tune, "Sleepy Time Down South", announced early this week the following numbers from his pen being waxed for phonograph discs by the Mills Bros. The numbers, "Dixie Goes Hi-Hat", "Haste Makes Waste", and "Sweetheart Susie Divine", will be ready next week with release from Decca Recording Co. Another tune by Rene, "Sweet Lucy Brown", was featured by the famed 4-tet while appearing at the local Orepheum theatre.

Girl Ork Being Formed Here

If Miss Delphine Goodwin has her way not only will young women musicians have an outlet for their instrumental talent but a very profitable future will be their reward. Assured of work in motion pictures, stage, cabaret and dance pavilions, Miss Goodwin has announced the formation of a six-piece all girl orchestra.

ASQUITH JOKES AT ASQUITH

Anthony Asquith who directed Ellen Drew and Ray Milland in an Anglo-Franco-American cast in Paramount's British made "French Without Tears", is a son of the former premier of Great Britain, and brother of Princess Bibesco. The sly digs at Britain's training of its youthful diplomats, which were introduced into "French Without Tears", were due to Asquith's vivid recollection of the years in which he thought he would follow in his famous father's footsteps as a statesman.

LAMOUR ROMANCE

The real-life romance of Dorothy Lamour and Robert Preston started while they were co-starring in Paramount's Technicolor saga of the tropics, "Typhoon."

Florida's Reaction to High Court Decision Is Silence

GALVESTON, Tex., Mar. 7. (By John Henry Adams for ANP)—Florida's reaction to the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court reversing the conviction of four colored men for the murder of a white man at Pompano, Fla., more than 7 years ago, after several trials in Broward county courts and several appeals to the state supreme court, shows itself strikingly in the general silence of the newspapers of Florida.

While leading newspapers of the nation have reviewed the decision and commented editorially on the questions raised and the participation of Justice Black, only two Florida papers talked up and and talked back.

The Miami Herald and the Jacksonville Journal are the two. The Herald published in the judicial district in which the murder and the trial took place, said: "The opinion—will come as a shock to residents of Pompano, who had regarded the verdict as just in the first instance" and "The present ruling is the first opportunity he (Black) has had to write an opinion that is diametrically opposed to the tenets of the Ku Klux Klan."

GOLDEN STATE MUTUAL HEAD IN MESSAGE TO POLICYHOLDERS

A streamlined version of the progress and work of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company during 1939 was released this week following the annual meeting of directors by the president, William Nickerson, Jr., in his annual message to policyholders.

At the meeting which was held in the home office in Los Angeles on Monday, March 4, a resolution was unanimously passed commending and expressing appreciation to the officers for the efficient management and splendid progress of the Company during 1939.

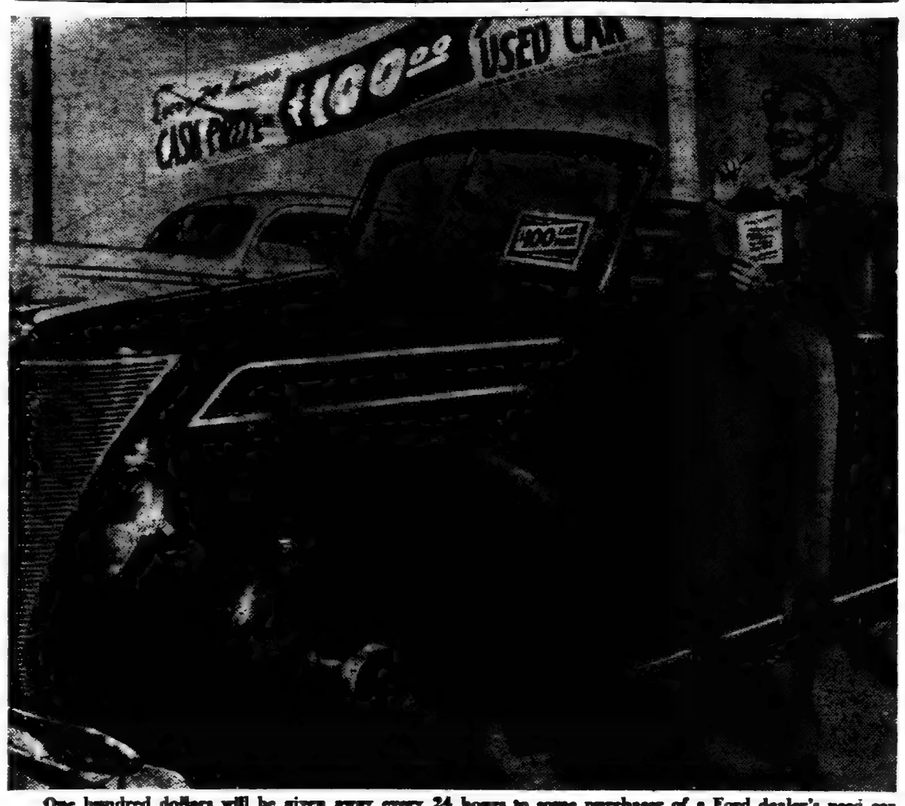
In his message, Mr. Nickerson contrasted the income of $407,645.52 for 1939 against $34,131.60 in 1925 to show the extent to which the Company has steadily grown since its organization fifteen years ago.

CITES NEW BUSINESS INCREASE, RESERVES

The executive further pointed out: "There was more than two million dollars' new insurance written in 1939 by your Company. The entire amount of insurance in force was $5,780,891.17" Increase in surplus has brought surplus funds from $66,088.31 in 1938 to $108,194.32 in 1939. Mr. Nickerson stated and added that reserves on life policies for protection of policyholders had increased to $290,717.00.

Attention was called to the fact that bonds and stocks total $233,360.24. "This represents more than 50% of Company assets," the report continued. "Naturally, all these securities are interest-bearing. In connection with our bond investments, it is the policy of your Company to invest only in Grade "A" bonds and-as far as possible--when it can be done to advantage, invest in "AA" and "AAA" bonds. As for real estate investment, it may be well to inform you that every loan made on real estate must be supported by an appraisal from the State Insurance Department. You will observe we have increased our lending on real estate (property appraised by the state) by more than $20,000 during the year."

INTEREST ON INVESTMENTS NOTED



Before concluding his concise and succinct report, Mr. Nickerson recounted the issuance of "Refunding Certificates and Certificates of Advancement" under the California Insurance Code late in 1938 and during 1939 and the fact that the second dividend on the latter was paid on March 1. The payment of interest on units since organization mounted to $26,723.93 with the March 1 dividends.

EXPLAINS DELAY IN ENTERING TEXAS

Recalling tha entering the state of Texas was a part of the expansion program, Mr. Nickerson said: "You will also recall another step in our expansion program was to open a district office in the state of Illinois. Further, that we deposited with the state of California $100,000 to meet the requirements for entry into Illinois. We were advised by our lawyer in Texas we would be licensed in that state when our Unit Sales program for 1938 and 1939 was completed. But, due to political shifts and uncertainties in Texas, we found it would be unwise to enter amid such conditions. We are continuing our original plan, which--when carried out--will not only enable us to enter Texas, but any other state in the union." Definite announcement of the next step in the execution of this plan will be made later.

In conclusion, Mr. Nickerson thanked policyholders for cooperation and reminded them that "Cooperative contributions in the way of premiums paid are busy dollars not only in building up a future security for you but rendering services and furnishing mortgage money for many of your homes, to say nothing of furnishing employment for and tomorrow."

Novel Used Car Contest Launched

One hundred dollars will be given away every 24 hours to some purchaser of a Ford dealer's used car during March. This attractive young purchaser is filling out the entry blank with the hope of winning one of the big daily $100 cash prizes. Many used cars, all makes and models, will be offered at rock-bottom prices during the contest month. The car above is a 1937 Ford cabriolet. A used car purchase from any Ford dealer in Southern California enters the purchaser in the unusual automotive event.

• ON THE POLITICAL HORIZON

There is nothing authentic in this column—it is purely gossip, political and otherwise.

Is this true or untrue? It has been called to our attention by the newsmongers that our boy, Carl Johnson, who is Vice President of the young Republicans, shifted positions last week at a Republican feast held in Alhambra, when instead of being a part of the party, he was waiter to his fellow Republicans.

The Los Angeles Republican Central Committee was on dress parade last Monday night at the Los Angeles Breakfast Club when it entertained Hon. Frank Gannett at dinner. The grand old New Yorker went over in a big way and in no uncertain fashion undressed the New Deal.

It looks as if our Governor is in a bad way. His luck apparently has been changing since he and Eggers". With many of his turned on his first love, "Ham props at Sacramento removed. it appears that Mr. Olson is rapidly becoming the man without a party.

The general order of the day seems to be investigation of all kinds and brands. So steady and rapid has been the growth of this order of business that the investigated are now investigating the investigators. Did Olson get the $150,000 from the Turf Club as a contribution to the Democratic Central Committee in exchange for assistance in obtaining preferred winter dates for horse racing in California? This is the big question of the mom-

When a galaxy of newspaper people gathered in a conference at the Biltmore hotel last Tuesday morning, someone asked the Hon. Frank Gannett if he thought he would get the nomination for president, he answered, "I am not so much interested in whether I become a presidential nominee as I am in saving this nation from ruin toward which it seems to be headed under the present administration." This sounded like Lincoln when he said, "if I can free the slaves and save the Union, I will do that; or if I can save the Union without freeing the slaves, I will do that."

The County Central Committee of the 62nd Assembly District held what might be classed as a revival meeting dinner last Monday evening at the Golden Rod Cafe. The doors of the Republican party were swung open and in walked disillusioned Negro Democrats to the tune of "We Are Coming Home", demonstrating that they were returning to the grand old Ship of State, acclaiming they were tired of S. R. A., N. Y. A. and W. P. A. They declared that what they want is jobs—more jobs for they have faith in the productiveness of our country and believe that it can bring forth just as it did before the days of depression. They expressed by their actions that they are tired of foodstuffs being destroyed and wealth of the land plowed under while folks go hungry.

Music Ass'n to Form Negro Symphony

CHICAGO, Mar. 7. (ANP)—Asking that ministers throughout the country further the cause by observing March 31 as National Music Scholarship day, Mary Caldwell Dawson last week announced National Association of Negro Musicians' plans to organize a Negro symphony orchestra, composed of Negro musicians to play symphonic music written by Negro musicians.

"Such artists as Jean Stor, Florence B. Price, William Dawson and many others specializing in symphonic works, find it difficult to have their music played by creditable orchestras of the other race," said Mrs. Dawson. "Also there is little chance for a Negro instrumentalist interested in more serious music to find a place for himself in the symphonic world."

It's gonna be for the books, according to all indications. The Champ of Swing will send the lid off L. A. show 'nuff. William Lawson Surprised on Natal Day

William Lawson, 1337½ Newton street, was very pleasantly surprised last Sunday evening when a score or more persons gathered at his home at the invitation of his wife, Mrs. Kittie Lawson, to celebrate his birthday.

Bill didn't announce the years but a jolly time was had.

Turkey with all the trimmings, cocktails, ice cream and cake were served in copious quantities. Whist and bridge were the past-times.

Golden West Bridge Ass'n Notes

By ELLIS L. VEIL

Two teams of Los Angeles' best contractors and two alternates, 10 men in all, were safely chauffeured to San Diego Sunday for a match of duplicate contract against the Border City's Paramount club. Said chauffeur was that globe-trotting, ex-fire captain, J. L. Taylor, and the natty postman, F. L. Richie.

Space will not permit expression of our gratitude to our worthy and friendly opponents for their sumptuous entertainment. We say to San Diego "as you sow, so shall you reap". The time cannot come too soone for your visit to our city.

Players and their pairings making the trip were: Capt. J. L. Taylor and Gene Robinson; J. D. Dunn and Louis Beal; Louis Woods and Jimie Lawson, Clyde Maddox and Ellis Veil for the first set of 16 boards versus Landers and White, Patterson and Glover, Shelton and Wooden, Johnson and Hollomon, which ended with a plus for the G. W. B. A. of 4440 points.

At this juncture, time was taken out for a delicious turkey dinner.

Holmes replaced Beal and Richie replaced Maddox. At the stroke of five, we had played 32 boards. After the final tabulation, the G. W. B. A. had a plus 7570.

Fred Johnson, a master point player, is president of the Paramount club. Wooden is secretary. Your columnist was appointed a bridge to Finland games captain by that international bridge authority, Tom Stoddard. He also advertised our party over the radio last Thursday. The Contract club raised $5 00, which it is hoped will bring comfort to someone in distress.

Correction for last week's duplicate play: J. D. Dunn and A. C. Morgan won East-West with 55 match points and not Robinson and Taylor as reported. Bidding for last week's hand should be 1H by North, 3 hearts by South, 4 clubs by North, 4 diamonds by South, 4 N. T. by North, 5 diamonds Blackwood or Culbertson by South, 6 hearts by North. The playing is easy. North deals both sides. How should this hand be bid?

Girls Are Advised To Build-Up For Relief

Lack of knowledge causes many a weak, undernourished girl a lot of suffering!

Many others, however, know how the headaches, nervousness, cramplike pain of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by the proper use of CARDUI.

Some take it a few days before and during "the time" to help ease periodic distress. But CARDUI'S principal use is to help increase appetite; stimulate the flow of gastric juice; so aid digestion; assist in building up physical resistance and thus help reduce periodical distress. Women have used CARDUI for over 50 years.

"The abundance of peace and truth"

PEACE is not a surface condition. Whether considered in relation to the individual or to society, peace is deep-founded, fundamental. It is not negative; it does not result from indifference. In fact, peace can be found only in clear thinking, humbly maintaining an ideal even in the face of odds; it is not found in merely drifting with the tide of contemporaneous beliefs. The characteristic of peace is co-operation. Thus is national as well as individual character developed.

True character is expressive of spiritual verities. It furnishes evidence that real existence is not, as unenlightened materialism pretends, the sport of forces divided between good and evil. Spiritual truth proclaims that the achieving, conquering, sustaining laws of being are entirely spiritual, that man is spiritual, and that real existence is governed by divine law. . . .

Christianly scientific thinking proves man's divinely bestowed dominion. This is the opposite of personal domination, for domination comes from that faith in matter which breeds fear and selfishness. Dominion, on the other hand, is found in knowing God's infinitude. . . . It would not be convincing to pray that God's will be "done in earth, as it is in heaven," unless it were understood that God's bountiful provision for His idea, man in His likeness, is humanly available in terms of health, goodness, joy, and opportunity. Jesus' great healing work, done in accord with the divine will, clearly proved that the Christly understanding of spiritual being can dispel the effects of disturbing fears and theories.

Amid world-wide turmoil, or when pressed by difficulties of a more personal nature, we often find it hard to behold God's supremacy and man's likeness to Him. Then, however, we can learn that the five physical senses see nothing accurately, and prove that the safe way involves a denial of frightening sense impressions and a sure use of hope and faith, based upon an understanding of God as Love, divine Principle. Jesus rebuked some because they could "discern the face of the sky," but could not "discern the signs of the times" (Matthew 16:3). When customary reliances fail, the "signs of the times" indicate our need to know God aright and to prove our relationship to Him more humbly and consistently. . . .

The shortcomings of ourselves or others should not discourage us, but rather should rouse us to rely upon the truth stated by Mary Baker Eddy where she writes (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 6), "Divine Love corrects and governs man." If we doubt this and are troubled by the apparent activity of evil, we need to gain a more vivid understanding of divine Love, for the divine is ever unconfined, universal, all-embracing. Knowing this, we protect ourselves from the temptation to become dictatorial or to assume a false sense of responsibility.

It is spiritual peace that we all need, and as we find this by realizing that man is God's inseparable image and likeness, we learn to dwell harmoniously with others. Mrs. Eddy writes (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 277), "The characters and lives of men determine the peace, prosperity, and life of nations." Character based on spiritual strength includes humility and generosity, readiness to praise and reluctance to condemn, patience and hope. True character minds its own business, and finds in expressing spiritual ideas a satisfying activity, rich in promise for society and in reward for the individual.

Belief in materiality incites men to greed, hatred, fear, and other promoters of discord. This false impulsion is the seeming opposite of the inspiration of Spirit, God, who endows creation with the love and intelligence which perpetuate harmony. Speaking to the houses of Israel, in captivity, Jeremiah voiced God's promise as universally available (33:6): "Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth." — The Christian Science Monitor.

St. Paul Baptist Church Issues Annual Report

The Annual Business Meeting of the St. Paul Baptist church was held on Sunday, Feb. 25, 1940, with a large number of the members present, despite the inclement weather. The meeting, held each first of the year is for the purpose of reorganizing all departments, the reading of their annual reports, the delivery of the Pastor's Annual Address, and the election of all officers. So many unusual events have occurred we are pleased to call it the "most outstanding year in the history of the church."

One of the outstanding reports given is that of our Highway and Hedge work of our Missionary Movement, reporting: Total Converts, 102; Contacts in Hospitals, 683; Sick Visits in Homes, 8443; Hospital Visits, 10, 457; Jail Contacts, 1265; Garments Given Out, 390; Hats Given out, 10; Pairs of Shoes, 25; Baskets of Food Given Out, 7; Total Amount of Money Given Out, $195.73. These workers also visited the dives and slum districts.

Our Emergency Fund Bureau, through which medium we help the poor, the needy, the decrepit, and those who fall a victim of circumstances, has given out during the year, a total of $1223.73 cash.

In Pastor Williams' Annual Address, he emphasized two facts—Inhalation and Elimination, their importance and necessity to Church Life as well as to Physical Life. It follows in part:

"My Annual Message this year is to be quite different to what it has been during the past 9 years. Heretofore, I have endeavored to stress and emphasize our achievements and accomplishments. The rule of inhalation implies taking into the body. If the body fails to take in air, water, food, etc., it will have just so long to live. So we have stressed the importance of taking into our church body. But this year we are stressing and emphasizing the importance of eradicating those things that are injurious to the church body under health rule No. 2, Elimination. Elimination in Physical health is just as important as the rule Inhalation. There must be the elimination of the kidneys, the lungs, the intestines and the skin. If the body fails to eliminate, there will be a "clogging up," of poisonous waste matter which will enter the pure blood stream and ultimately poison the whole body, thereby causing a gradual death. What is true in the case of the physical body, is equally true in the "Church Body." If corrupt practices, Corrupt Members, Corrupt preachers and Choir members and leaders are left in the church, they will clog the spiritual stream, thereby causing death to the entire body finally.

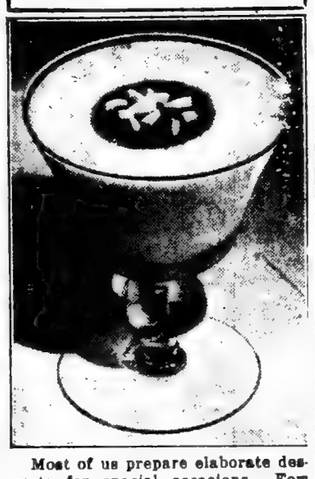
Among the Recommendations, presented by the pastor, in the form of Resolutions, number 3 is extraordinary, in that it depicts belief, courage and fortitude. It reads: "Whereas, the following doctrines are advocated by the Administration as fundamental and Biblical: A. The Doctrine of the New Birth. B. The Doctrine of Holiness. C. The Doctrine of Eternal Salvation. D. The Doctrine of Baptism by Emersion, and whereas, we believe any preacher opposing the above doctrines disqualifies himself to preach in our pulpit; Therefore: be it resolved that it becomes the sense and sentiment of this church to disapprove of said preachers or preaching in our pulpit."

The church unanimously agreed to accept the Pastor's Annual Address and recommendations in its entirety, and received all reports and elected all officers as recommended, without one dissenting vote.

Preceeding the regular Official Board Meeting, Pastor Williams and the Assistant Pastor, Rev. Taylor, in a conference, drew up one of the finest documents ever drawn up between a Pastor and his Assistant.

It follows:

Los Angeles, California
February 26, 1940



Now Ledger:

I am planning to do something that no other two preachers have ever done in the nation possibly.

I have some sentiments to express to you in the form of a resolution. Now, whereas it has developed and I've made discoveries which show that you are up to the place where you are as much qualified to pastor and direct a church as well as anyone I know of, in the city or out, and whereas it would be a mistake and possibly a calamity for you to be tied, handicapped and kept from exercising your own individual views by being an assistant Pastor to anyone; and whereas it is conclusive and I have seen and understood definitely that your views are altogether differuallyTAOI H H MHMH FRF ent from mine, which would naturally be very detrimental to the progress of the program; Notwithstanding, you have desired to cooperate with our program and policies, and yet, you have found it impossible to do so wholeheartedly; and whereas you have a great personal interest in me, however the cause and program of the Lord must be first and foremost, therefore be it resolved that our Pastorial relationship be dissolved, and your resignation is requested to take effect April 1, 1940, with the understanding that our friendship and our love for each other will continue even to the judgement and beyond the judgement.

FRANK R. BAKER,
Church Clerk

Simple Desserts Most Popular

Most of us prepare elaborate desserts for special occasions. Few make this a regular practice as the days and weeks come and go. We prefer the simple dessert, particularly if it is easy to prepare, economical and delicious.

Here is a dessert that does not call for eggs. No baking or boiling is needed. The ingredients should be in every home at all times — with the possible exception of the toasted almonds for which you can easily find a substitute. Mothers of children who refuse to drink milk will find it particularly beneficial.

Apricot Vanilla Rennet-Custard

½ cup dried apricots
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon sugar
2 cups milk (not canned or soft curd)
1 package vanilla rennet powder
Chocolate sauce
Chopped toasted almonds

Wash dried apricots thoroughly, add water, cover, and simmer for ½ to 1 hour, or until soft, adding more water if necessary to prevent scorching. Drain off excess liquid and rub apricots through a strainer, stir in the sugar, and cool. Divide cooled puree among 4 or 5 sherbet glasses or custard cups. Make rennet-custard according to directions on package. Pour over apricot puree. Do not move until firm — about 10 minutes. Then chill. Just before serving, garnish with a pool of thick chocolate sauce and a sprinkling of chopped toasted almonds.

Makes 4 to 5 servings, depending on size of sherbets

Over 1,000 on "Citizens' Honor Roll for Democracy"

Over 1,000 Los Angeles men and women have put their names on the "Citizens' Honor Roll for Democracy" by joining the local branch of the NAACP.

This fact was made known this week by Geo. A. Beavers, Jr., general chairman of the branch's current membership drive.

At the report meeting Wednesday of last week, campaign workers accounted for a total of $781.00. Mrs. A. Hill and A. J. Williams, division leaders, guaranteed an additional $500.00 report would be made at the meeting last night at the 28th Street YMCA headquarters.

Although Mrs. Hill's "Kenny Washington All-Stars" continue to lead in the race for division honors, Williams is out in front in both the team and individual race Trophies will go to the final winners.

Los Angeles ministers making reports last week in support of the drive were Rev. S. M. Beane, Hamilton Methodist church; Rev. E. E. Lightner, Lincoln Memorial Congregational church; and Rev. J. Cincinnatus White, Bethel AME church.

Agencies Search for 'TB' Cases at Jefferson High

Because tuberculosis often gains its first foothold in boys and girls of high school age, the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Association, in cooperation with the Board of Education, the Parent Teacher Association and the WPA, is conducting a search for early tuberculosis among the 2161 students of Jefferson Senior High school.

This coming week sound motion pictures will be shown and talks given on the nature, cause, discovery, prevention and treatment of tuberculosis.

Starting Monday, Mar. 25 students will be given the opportunity of having the tuberculin test, a harmless, safe skin test which reveals whether the germs which have caused tuberculosis have entered the body. Those who react to the test will be X-rayed to determine what damage, if any, the germs have done.

FEW DEATHS

"At high school age, deaths from tuberculosis are relatively few," the Association declared. "But this is the age when tuberculosis often gains its first foothold."

The Association's participation in this program to protect Los Angele's young people is made possible by the annual sale of Christmas Seals.

Outdoor Life and Health Drive Nearing Its Goal

At the report meeting Monday night of workers in the membership drive of the Outdoor Life and Health association, it was reported that the drive is nearing its goal.

The Assistance League, Mrs. Seth Lee, captain, brought in the largest number of paid memberships. Fidelity unit, Mrs. Florence Carter captain, was second. Unit No. 1, Mrs. Louaida Hunigan, captain, was third; Hygia unit, Mrs. True captain fourth; and Unit No. 2, Mrs. Frieda Taft, captain, fifth.

Final report meeting of the drive will be held Friday night at the YMCA. Workers on the various teams are re-doubling their efforts to bring in the quota by that time.

The comittee urges everyone to take out a membership in this worthy Race enterprise in order that the Tubercular Rest home at Duarte may be opened to Negro women. Dr. Leonard Stovall is president and Mrs. Fannie Williams, general chairman of the membership drive.

UCLA Director Visits Jefferson

Dr. Hiram W. Edwards, director of relations with schools from UCLA visited Jefferson High School last week in the interests of the scholarship of the academic students.

Dr. Edwards expressed interest in seeing what can be done to help students who attend UCLA make higher grades.

Principal G. A. Dickison, vice-principals, Mrs. Ella May Smith and Harold N. Greenwood and the counselor, Mrs. Adeline Richardson, will visit UCLA this week to interview students from Jefferson who are now on the campus and secure first hand information about troublesome points. This may bring about changes in the high school curriculum which may improve the adaptability of students to university work.

Fashion Expert Interviews Singer

Grace Fisher Atkins, Los Angeles fashion expert, interviewed Marian Anderson in the home of famed Noel Sullivan, in San Francisco last week end. Though Miss Anderson has worn clothes designed by the celebrated Chanel and Schiaperelli, Mrs. Atkins reportedly is to design and fashion the contralto's clothes by the scientific couturstatic method, of her own invention, now being used by the James Oviatt Company, famous tailors, called by them 'Photo-Finess'.

Mrs. Betty Hill state organizer of the Women's Political Study clubs, spoke Tuesday, Feb. 27 at Tillie's Funeral Home to a very appreciative audience. Her subject for discussion was "Organizations". She spoke at length on how one representing a group, organization, club, etc., held his own. "When you attempt to put over a program alone you remained alone, but when you came, properly representing a body, you had voice. "We as a race ---- had voice.

"We as a race should awake some day and view the situation around about us. The doors of opportunity are slowly closing for us. If we continue to remain asleep, when we do awake it will probably be too late, then what," said Mrs. Hill in her stirring address.

TRAIGHT THINKING

A striking example of the pe of thinking now coming the fore is that which con- onted Senator Tom Co... Texas recently.

Senator Connally is one of e current Federal Anti- nching Bill's bitterest ene- es and last week was con- ed to a hospital suffering m a heart ailment.

The good Senator from the ne Star state was confront- with a letter from James vis, a prominent white at- rney of Dallas. Lawyer Dav- is one of Connally's constit- nts, one who has always vot- for him in his campaigns for fice.

Connally has been using var- us and sundry tactics in try- g to kill the bill, going so as to bring witnesses from xas to introduce testimony ainst the bill. Said tactics clude arguments that the uth can take care of the oblem itself, without Federal , that lynchings have been nimized to such an extent at a Federal law is unneces- ry, etc.

Lawyer Davis, in his letter, wever, points out that the l arguments against a Fed- al Anti-Lynching Bill can no nger hold weight because ". economic conditions, the anges in transportation and nmunications, or the process- thereof, taking place within cent years, have removed all e supports and arguments at I and mine have been nging to for more than a ntury, and we find that the ited States of America, whe- er we wish it and will it or t, is ONE COMMUNITY verned by the laws enacted the national congress, even the smallest detail in many enues of life . . ."

The caps are ours in the ove excerpt from Attorney vis' letter.

IE POLL TAX

It was interesting to note om two fronts last week news the poll tax system in the uth.

Rev. A. Clayton Powell jr., litant young pastor of New rk City's Abyssinian Baptist urch, speaking to an Atlan- audience, said: "The Negro an alien until he goes to the lls on election day and votes . If you let one dollar stand tween you and the ballot, u are lynching yourself . . ."

From the nation's capital, e Crusader News Agency re- rted that both the CIO and FL have joined with progres- ve groups in a campaign to pe out the poll tax system the 8 southern states in hich it is still in effect.

Both of these organizations, e CNA said, have pledged eir support to a bill intro- uced by California's Rep. Lee eyer which would abolish the stem.

Intelligent use of the ballot, democracy's most effective qualizer, can do much to ring about those political, conomic and social rights we ear so much about these days.

EWSPAPER WEEK

Sunday marks the beginning the second annual Bigger nd Better Negro Newspaper Week.

Conducted by Delta Phi Del- a national intercollegiate ournalistic society, the week as as its theme: "The role of he Negro press in the strug- le to preserve American de- nocracy".

Too much attention cannot e placed on the part the Ne- ro newspaper has played in he struggle for human rights. The message of the Negro press hould be carried from every ulpit and school in the na- ion.

Only thru such efforts as hat of Delta Phi Delta can his important part of the na- ion's journalism reach its just nd rightful place in the peo- le's thinking for the Negro ress of today is that race's greatest spokesman. Unap- preciated in some instances, it nevertheless remains as his most potent weapon for good.

GABBY BITS:

"Local boy who made good" (one of any number) came back to town this week. He, in this instance, is Lionel Hampton. Some years ago, Lionel was one of Les Hite's famous Sebastian Cotton Club orchestra aces. He performed on the drums. Then Benny Goodman, who came on to be recognized as the king of swing, added him to his celebrated band. Lionel has since gained fame as a vibraharpist, newspaper columnist, expert on swing and any number of other things . . . Prince Modupe, native African, affiliated with Paramount studios, is currently rehearsing a show to go behind the footlights in the near future.

State Council of WPSC Holds Meeting

The State Council of the WPSC met at the YWCA, Thursday, Feb 29, 1940.

The meeting opened at 1:00 p. m. with 21 presidents and 28 delegates, answering the roll call.

One of the outstanding features of the meeting was the attitude of those present when they incorporated the Betty Hill Scholarship Foundation. The WPSC has in former years given a yearly scholarship to some worthy student.

Mrs. Hill, Ex Secy., brought to the council-body a letter from Mrs. Arthur J. Will, Ex. Supt. of Olive View Sanitarium, in answer to acts of discrimination that were being practiced at the institution. Mr. Will stated that during the past month some five Negroes had been interviewed for porters, and at the present time there were namely Wm. G. Nolte and Roy L. Hall employed two porters. Also, Mrs. Lois Ashbury who was denied employment at Olive View, has been placed at the General hospital. Mr. Will went on to say that during the past two months, approximately 100 people had been called and of that number he judged that some were Negroes, but that he had no way of telling, as never was race mentioned. Or did his files show anything as to race classification. Mr. Will stated that nothing has ever been said about race. "Except applicants have mentioned it themselves." All this explanation comes from the contact made by Mrs. Hill, concerning a report of discrimination. Much time and discussion was given to the budget. The ways and means of financing the oncoming campaign. All units are to be congratulated on their splendid work.

The Riverside unit had a very outstanding Mass Meeting on the 26th. Also very gratifying to note that all units celebrated Negro History Week.

The contest area includes Imperial, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego, Santa Barbara and Ventura counties.

Bureau of Power and Light 'Ad' Wins Prize

New proof that Los Angeles electric appliance dealers are among the nation's leaders in the promotion of new business ideas and ever alert to the many tie-in ramifications of newspaper advertising, has just been provided in a prize award by the Modern Kitchen Bureau conducted under auspices of the National Manufacturers Association.

A window display based on the theme of safety in the home as emphasized in Bureau of Power and Light newspaper advertising of electric water heaters, won third prize in a national contest for the Wallich Radio Service and Refrigeration Company of this city.

The award made marks the second time recently a prize has been bestowed on a Los Angeles establishment by the Modern Kitchen Bureau.

Local Council of NNC Plans for National Meet

The Los Angeles Council of the National Negro Congress in concert with other Congress groups throughout the country this week began preparations for the third national meeting of the organization, scheduled for Washington, D. C. from April 26 to 28.

Special invitations have been extended to organizations in this city to attend the Los Angeles Congress meeting next Friday, March 15th, at Wesley Center, 1029 E. Vernon avenue, where detailed plans will be outlined regarding participation of Los Angeles groups in this important national meeting.

Stimulus for the local Council's plans for sending delegates to the Washington meeting came with the receipt here of the "Call to the Third National Negro Congress." Around a four point program the Third National Congress will consider ways and means of further securing for American Negroes 1) Economic Security; 2) Citizenship Rights; 3) Cultural Freedom and 4) Social Security.

SENIOR TECHNOLOGIST IN LARGE BALL-BEARING PLANT IN MOSCOW

Robert Robinson, American Negro, Has Many Valuable Inventions to His Credit

MOSCOW, USSR, Mar. 7. (By Chatwood Hall for ANP)—If you should walk into the central tool-room of the huge ball-bearing plant which sprawls over many blocks in south-east Moscow and ask for the senior technologist, you would be introduced to a be-spectacled, 32-year old brown skin American Negro of about five feet 10 inches in height. And if you chanced into the office of the superintendent, you would find on the decorated "board of honor" on the wall, together with the photos of other out-standing and highly valuable workers, a photo bearing this inscription: "Robert Robinson, senior technologist, instructor and Stakhanovite." (Stakhanovites are the very best workers on any job in Soviet Russie.)

Back in 1929, Bob Robinson was the sole Negro toolmaker in one of the tool-rooms at Ford's plant in Detroit. He relates an interesting story of those days which throws light on American race prejudice. Some of the white workers did not like the idea of a Negro tool-maker, so they often short-circuited Robinson's machine in the shop, with the result that Robinson was often shocked when he touched his machine. On other occasions, they spattered grease and dirt on his machine.

He was invited 10 years ago to come and work in Soviet Russia and has been here since, with the exception of several trips abroad during his annual vacations. In 1935 he was elected a deputy to the Moscow Soviet (city council), highest governing body of Moscow, where he served a five year term as a member of the heavy industry section.

WORKS OUT NEW METHOD

They were making exact measuring guages by hand when Mr. Robinson began work at the ball-bearing plant, which is one of the largest in the world. He burnt the midnight oil and worked out a mechanical method of doing this work. The very first month's experiment with his method gave an economy of 13,000 roubles over the old hand process. He was awarded a premium of 2,300 roubles, and his mechanical method has replaced and proved far superior to the hand method.

Guage instruments in which Robinson specializes, are fine measuring instruments for checking ball and roller bearings and sets. Some idea of the exactness demanded may be gained from the fact that the guages must measure to a fineness of two-thousandths of a millimetre, or the equivalent of one-half of one thousandth of an inch. This closeness may further be realized by considering that an ordinary cigarette paper is two one-hundredths of a millimetre in thickness.

L. A. Railway Policy Benefits Riders, Prexy Says

"The stand-by charge is a system of service guarantee employed by most utility companies in which users of the utility are required to pay certain minimum costs whether they use the service or not", P. B. Harris, Los Angeles Railway president, told a group of Taxpayers Association delegates this week.

"The Los Angeles Railway never has had a stand-by charge although practically every other utility makes use of it", Harris continued. "It is undoubtedly economically sound and assures a definite income on which companies may base expenditures for extensions and improvements. However, it has never been the policy of privately owned transprotation companies to make the change although, through taxation, municipal street railways often do."

Harris further said that in his belief, the public will continue to enjoy a "pay only when you use it" transportation system without stand-by charges.

Senate Group Told Plight of Negro Farmer

Air Charges of Discrimination By AAA Officials

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7. (ANP)—Many Negro farmers find it almost impossible to get information from county AAA committeemen in the South and are victims of rank discrimination, a senate agriculture subcommittee heard Friday from spokesmen for the Southern Tenant Farmers union.

F. A. Betton of Cotton Plant, Ark., union vice president, gave most of the testimony on discrimination, J. R. Butler, white, Memphis, union president, also spoke of the plight of the Negro farmer in detailing conditions among tenant farmers in general.

"It's an insult for the people of my race to ask any questions," Betton said. "The Negro is very much discriminated against, and in some places he can't even ask his landlord about the AAA law. The landlord says, 'Bill, go back to the field and get to work,' and off he goes."

When Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin asked if the Negroes could read, Betton replied, "A great many of them can, but they can't understand why they read and sign things without knowing what it's all about."

HOLLYWOOD APPLAUDS HATTIE McDANIEL AS SHE RECEIVES AWARD

First Negro Actress to Receive Coveted Award for Best Supporting Performance

History was made Friday at the Cocoanut Grove in the Ambassador hotel when Hattie McDaniel became the first Negro actress to receive the coveted award for giving the best supporting performance of any actress in Hollywood for 1939.

The winning of this award was no small feat when one considers the actresses in the running. Olivia DeHavilland, who has starred for several years; Geraldine Fitzgerald, Edna Mae Oliver, and the grandest actress of the Russian stage, Madame Maria Ouspenskaya, who heads a very exclusive school of drama in Hollywood, were all considered for the award.

As Hattie McDaniel ascended the stairway, decorated by ropes of gardenias, the 1170 top flight actors, actresses, directors, executives and technicians broke into a thunderous applause. Metropolitan paper reviewers who covered the event say that her entrance was the big moment of the evening. Becomingly gowned in aqua blue, her wrap was ermine. She carried a rhinestone bag and wore a gardenia corsage and gardenias in her hair. She and her escort, F. P. Yober, were guests of the David O. Selznicks.

PRESENTED

Miss McDaniel was presented with her award by Miss Fay Bainter who won a similar award last year. In making the presentation, Miss Bainter said that the motion picture industry was proud to give the award to Miss McDaniel since it was dedicated to the perfection of art. "True merit is the lone factor in determining each year's selections for the Academy Award winners and your work in "Gone With the Wind" has rightfully won you a definite place among the great actresses in Hollywood," Miss Bainter stated.

As the lights dimmed and the crowd danced to the music of Guy Lombardo's orchestra, the manager of the Ambassador asked Miss McDaniel to come with him out on the mezzanine floor where hundreds of private guests of the hotel stood to catch a glimpse of the smiling Negro actress.

Before the actress arrived home, telegrams of congratulations were pouring in from as far east as New York. At present the actress is working at 20th Century-Fox in a Henry King picture, "Maryland."

Apollo Theatre Chorines Win 24-Hour Strike

NEW YORK, Mar. 7. (ANP)—One of the quickest strikes in Harlem and the first ever staged here by chorus girls, was won within the short space of 24 hours last week, when 22 out of 32 girls at Harlem's famed Apollo theatre brought Frank Schiffman, owner, to terms after walking out on his Saturday show and picketing the theatre.

The girls have long complained of working conditions and small pay, but it was only after secretly joining the American Guild of Variety Artists that they secured the courage to walk out. The Saturday show usually fills the theatre to capacity (2000) but Harlem refused to cross the picket line. By actual count only 150 persons were at the midnight show.

STRIKE SETTLED

The strike was settled at 7 p. m. Sunday night with Schiffman agreeing to nearly all terms of a contract which runs until December 31, 1940. Some of the points covered by the agreement call for an increase in pay, shorter working hours, less shows per week; extra pay for doubling in the line; four out of every five weeks work; no discharge without the union's consent; and no cancellations of contracts.

The owner of the theatre refused to negotiate at first but lack of a full house all day Sunday quickly brought him to terms. Union members have as a matter of record on their minutes, a statement attributed to Schiffman saying "No Negro was worth over $15 per week," but he is now paying his chorus girls $30 minimum.

The Negro Labor Committee, composed of every colored union in Harlem, endorsed the strike and aided in the picketing. According to the chorus girls, before winning the strike, they were sometime compelled to work 92 hours per week.

New Film Co. to Produce Negro Pics

Dixie National Pictures Inc to Enter Negro Field

A newly incorporated picture producing organization, headed by Ted Toddy of Atlanta, Ga., has entered the Negro picture field to produce eight feature pictures with all Negro casts. Toddy, who is an exchange operator, arrived in Hollywood by plane from Atlanta this week to complete details of the production and distribution set-up.

The company is called Dixie National Pictures, Inc. It will distribute through its own exchanges which operate the banner of Dixie National Films, Inc. Distribution offices will be maintained in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Charlotte and Dallas.

Toddy will be president of the newly formed company. Other officers are, Jed Buell, vice-president Norman Stephenson, secretary-treasurer. Jack Coyle will be on the board of directors.

RECORD HOLDER

The pictures will be produced by Jed Buell who pioneered the Negro market with his all-Negro western, "Harlem on the Prairie" which still holds the box office record established two years ago for grossing larger returns than any other all-Negro picture.

Production of the first of the new series is already under way with the purchase of an original story from Walter Weems, who wrote the famous "Hearts In Dixie", and who was the chief writer for Moran and Mack during their success on the stage and in pictures. The title of this first production will be announced within the nxet 10 days. Details of the story are being worked out now by producer Buell and writer Walter Weems. Actual filming start early in March.

Awards $40 for Title to Kenny's Pic

Cameras will start rolling very shortly on Million Dollar Production's new football feature, starring the noted football ace, Kenny Washington. The role of "Myra," sweetheart of Kenny and leading lady in the story, has not yet been alloted.

Interviews will start today, so girls who have made application by mail, may call at once and make engagements with Producer Clifford Sanforth.

With the plot hinging on the attempt of unscrupulous gamblers to corrupt college football, the film has been given the working or tentative title of "Gridiron Graft." But as an innovation, Producer Sanforth is offering $40 in prizes for the best permanent title. Both the football and "battle against wrong" idea must be impounded in the title. The winner gets $25, with $10 for next best, and $5 for third. Mail titles with address, name and phone number at once to Clifford Sanforth, Million Dollar Productions, 6040 Sunset.

Cullen's 'The Medea' to Have Premiere in Atlanta College

ATLANTA, Mar. 7—Countee Cullen's modern version of the famous Greek tragedy "The Medea," will have its premiere on Friday and Saturday evenings, March 15 and 16, in Howe Memorial Hall, on the campus of Spelman College. It will be performed by the University Players, leading collegiate dramatic organization of the Southeast, under the direction of Owen Dodson.

The author, considered by many the leading Negro poet in America, presents in this play a trenchant modern version of Euripides tragedy. Thus far this season the players have brought two widely different dramas to the campus theatre and now, for their third presentation, they will delve into tragedy.

Cullen wrote this version of "The Medea" several years ago especially for Rose McClendon, talented Negro actress, who at that time was appearing on Broadway in Langston Hughes' play "Mulatto." Miss McClendon's untimely death, however, halted these plans, and up until now, it has never been performed on any stage.

Need Change in State Boxing Laws

The so-called world's middleweight championship fight staged here the other night showed up a number of things—only two of which we will consider in this corner.

First out of the box it would appear that California is badly in need of a change in the system of judging championship contests. At present it is permissable to use a referee and his word is final. In other parts of the country, New York in particular, two judges are also used. Usually this method of determining the winner of a championship bout has proven quite satisfactory.

Besides, it serves to take some of the "load" off the referee.

Take the recent Joe Louis-Arturo Godoy championship bout. The referee and one of the judges voted for the champion. The other judge voted in no uncertain manner for the Chilean challenger, which serves to emphasize the fact that no two people see a thing in the same way.

The other night, George Blake, referee of the Garcia-Armstrong titular scrap, declared in favor of a draw. Few people present were inclined to agree with him. But that was his ruling and that is that. However, the fact remains that it leaves an unsatisfactory taste in the mouths of the public.

Had two judges assisted Blake the result may have been different. Which brings this column up to Point No. Two.

Suppose Hank had been successful in his quest for a fourth world's title? He would have been middleweight champion in the eyes of this State. Garcia would still be ruler of all the world's middleweights as far as New York is concerned. And, by the great Horn spoon, the National Boxing Association still has its middleweight king—Al Hostak of Seattle. Now, wouldn't that have been a pretty kettle of fish?

You see New York recognizes only matches of 15 rounds for titles. California does not allow 15-round fights and by not doing so would have complicated an already muddled situation had Armstrong won.

With as able a group of boxing commissioners as any state in the Union can boast, the California State Athletic Commission—chairman Jerry Giesler, Jules Covey, Archie Closson, Everett Sanders and John Rustigan—could do a service to the boxing fan, in this column's humble opinion, if it put in motion the machinery for the two-judge system at championship fights and 15-round title matches.

Fraternity Cagers Excite Interest

The annual inter-fraternity basketball series opened in Los Angeles last Saturday night at Patriotic Hall. This Greek-letter competition always brings out a lot of interest and enthusiasm. This year will be no exception, judging from the attendance Saturday. The Greeks play against each other like the devil on the court and then fraternize at a dance afterwards.

Of the two teams so far put on the floor, the Kappa Alpha Psi entry impresses most. A veteran outfit, the club has an addition in Francis Garland, former Jefferson High and LACC star now matriculating at UCLA, which puts it in the running for the championship.

Not to be counted out of the picture, however, is a potentially strong Omega Psi Phi quintet, back in the series after several years of inactivity. Their play of last week shows that before the series is over, they are capable of giving the favored entries a tough battle for inter-frat honors.

Alpha Phi Alpha and Phi Beta Sigma have yet to make their appearance in the current tournament. Jackie Robinson, all-southern division forward of the Pacific Coast conference and conference scoring leader, is expected to play with the Alphas. This column hasn't been informed of Sigma intentions. Maybe the fraternity will field a team and maybe it won't.

Shorts in Sports:

Carl Gross, associated in an official capacity at Ross Snyder Playground on the Eastside, tells the pillar of a 7-foot kite entered in a kite-flying contest there during Kite Week which began last Saturday. The kite is made to look like Uncle Sam, with tails on both legs and flew off with second honors in highest flying competition . . . Jackie Wilson, clean-cut, hard-working and hard-punching coast lightweight sensation, is scheduled to go into a main event at Hollywood Legion Mar. 15 against Jimmy Garrison, flicker city favorite. Wilson will appear a week later on a benefit card for Sojourner Truth Home . . . Yancey Henri, Aljack Adams' heavyweight who appeared on the Armstrong-Garcia card, is attempting to get back into the boxing fans' good graces. A dull scrap with Big Boy Bray sometime ago, has handicapped him. His manager says that hereafter, Henri is meeting only boys who figure to give his charge a scrap . . . Tony Doram, one-time Xavier university ambidexterous football ace, is managing the gasoline station owned by another famed footballer, Woodrow Wilson Strode.

Latka Again Nods Crouch; "Blimp" to Fight Nestell

Georgie Crouch was again decisioned by George Latka at the Olympic auditorium Tuesday night in the 10-round main event.

Putting up a better showing than he did several weeks ago against the San Jose boxing instructor, Crouch faltered in the later rounds. Latka came on to win the 8th, 9th and 10th rounds by convincing margins and finish strongest.

Both boxers, in both of their bouts, put on as marvelous a boxing performance as the downtown swatatorium will ever see. Neither are devastating punchers but their boxing skill is faultless. Crouch lost both times because Latka broke thru his defense more often.

In the prelims: Billy Latka pounded out a six-round decision over Nat Bor in the six-round semi. In the fours, Johnny Grady nodded Nick Castor; Jimmy Brooks decisively outpointed Everett Simmington; Archie Grant and Eddie Rivera, and Felix Gomez and Joe Torres fought draws.

Next Tuesday night Matchmaker Jimmy Murray shows Blimp Williams versus Bob Nestell in the main event. Young Polite will make his appearance in one of the two six-round semi-windups.

Baseball Club at Jefferson High Shows Promise

Jefferson High school has one of the few baseball teams in the city school system it was pointed out today. Lack of school support for the sport has led to the dropping of baseball from the schedules of the majority of the schools.

Jefferson made a good showing in the Dorsey tournament, played before the conference games. Other teams in the Jefferson conference are: Bell, Huntington Park, Riis, and Fremont. Jefferson will play its first conference game against Fremont on March 5.

Augustus Green, David Gonzales, Bob Fisher Eugene Pinto, Pat Poli, Albert Smyles, Joe Sciarra, "Dutch" Skilliter and Sergio Hernandez make up the first team.

ARMSTRONG - GARCIA GO FOR MIDDLEWEIGHT TITLE CALLED DRAW

"From Here to Helsinki" Way Hank Won Crown, Says Writer Anent Serio-Comic Go

By J. CULLEN FENTRESS

A serio-comic world's middleweight championship battle was staged at Gilmore stadium last Friday night with champion Ceferino Garcia and challenger Henry Armstrong as principals.

Armstrong, the welterweight champion who was seeking his fourth world's championship, was the victor in the eyes of experts and the fans but, rather comically, referee George Blake declared the 10-round bout a draw.

The verdict so stunned the crowd that at ringside there was hardly an audible protest until some few minutes had passed. Blake merely held up both his hands. The crowd didn't know how the battle ended. There was no announcement of the result over the public address system, even though such a worthy as announcer Dan Tobey was on hand.

But back to the fight, unsatisfactory though it was.

The challenger, outweighed 11½ pounds, at 142, fought a typical Armstrong fight, always on top of his opponent and crowding Garcia from rope to rope throughout the 10 rounds of bruising milling.

LOW BLOWS HURT

From where we were sitting in row K (a ringside seat but actually 10 rows away) Hank was the victor from here to Helsinki. Consensus was that the challenger won 7 rounds, Garcia 2 and one was even.

Refreee Blake took two rounds away from Hank for low blows. Even so, Armstrong had a one-round margin notwithstanding the fact that the champion, too was guilty on several occasions of hitting below the belt.

As the ringside seats sloped upward we had difficulty in seeing the participants whenever they were on the ropes farthest from us. And, maybe, Armstrong was guilty of a lot of things which we did not and could not see.

Both battlers were marked when the going was over. Armstrong's left shoulder and side were sore and his left eye closed. Garcia suffered cuts over his right eye and his right duke was swollen. He appeared the worse for wear at the end of the 10th.

The challenger had used his shoulder, as he always does, to force Garcia away to allow him (Armstrong) to throw his left. In fact, he was warned several times by Blake for using his head and shoulders. But Armstrong's style, always boring in, left no alternative. At the beginning of each round, the challenger would come into Garcia with lowered head and rest it on Garcia's chest and start winging away. Once in a while, the champion would step back and throw right and left uppercuts, all of which were telling when they landed. Hank landed from four to 10 punches, seemingly, to Ceferino's one.

NO MORE GARCIA

Eddie Mead, Armstrong's manager who has piloted him to three world's championships, told newspapermen following the fight that his charge would not fight Garcia any more.

Armstrong was successful in his quest for a fourth world's title but the catch is—the record books won't show it.

In the scheduled six-round heavyweight crowd chaser, Yancey Henry TKO'ed Dave Johnson in four rounds of uninteresting leather tossing and bicycling on the part of the latter.

Georgie Hasford, 134, and Les (Red) Green, 140½, battled to a 10 round draw in the semi-windup. The former finished fast to catch the dead heat eye of referee Charley Randolph.

Irwin Kaye, Boyle Heights Hebrew, decisioned Babe Brandelli in the six round feature which was the best bout on the supporting card. Eddie Fadda, 163, went to a draw with Nat Bor, 159½, when referee Mushy Callahan decided to halt it because the former came out of a clinch with a cut optic. Ollie Nichols, 161, nodded Frankie Valdez, 160, in the curtain raiser.

Ball Leagues Hold Joint Meet

Negro National, American Leagues Gather in Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 29. (ANP)—The Negro National League and the Negro American league met in a joint session here Saturday at the Hotel Grant. Dr. J. B. Martin, president of the western body, acted as chairman.

Robert H. Jackson, former president of the Negro American league who was defeated by Martin for the presidency in the December meeting, was present in his newly created role of commissioner of the western circuit, but was without power in the eastern body which went on record as "not being ready" to act on a commissioner. The action by the Negro National league came after Cum Posey, in a heated moment, nominated Jackson for the commissioner of both leagues. Later Jackson left the meeting.

The two leagues decided for a world series this year. The annual East vs. West classic in Chicago this year will again be played at Comiskey park. The date was set for Sunday, August 18, and in case of rain, the game will be postponed until Sunday, Aug. 25.

The rule passed in the Philadelphia meeting of the Negro National league this month on ball players who had jumped to foreign countries during the playing season was ordered sent to all ball players of both leagues, to the players who had either violated their contracts by jumping or failed to report to their respective clubs at the start of the playing season, and to the owners of these foreign teams.

The Negro National league went into a two-day session on Friday. Efforts to elect a new president which was blocked by the Manleys-Pompez-Semler group in the Philadelphia meeting, ended in a deadlock, three votes to three. The Abe Manleys, owners of the Newark club, nominated Dr. C. B. Powell of New York, a newspaper publisher, for the presidency. Alex Pompez, owner of the Cuban Stars, and Bill Semler, owner of the Black Yanks, voted for Powell.

Opposed to Powell, solely on the grounds that he was from the New York area, were Tom Wilson, president of the league; Cum Posey, league secretary and owner of the Homestead Grays, and Ed Gottlieb, owner of the Philadelphia Stars. Posey and Gottlieb favored Tom Wilson and Wilson voted for himself.

Since no one could be elected, the league agreed to go along with the same officers as last year "since these officers couldn't be put out." Tom Wilson remains president; Posey, secretary and Abe Manley, treasurer.

Effort on the part of the Manleys-Pompez-Posey group to elect a new secretary was also blocked.

Attending the Negro National league meeting were Cum Posey, Homestead Grays; Abe and Effa Manley, Newark Eagles; Semler, New York Black Yanks; S. H. Posey, Homestead Grays; Tom Wilson, Baltimore Elites; Ed Gottlieb and Ed Bolden, Philadelphia Stars; Alex Pompez, Cuban Stars.

The Negro American league met in a two-day session on Saturday and Sunday. The appointment of Tom Baird of Kansas City, Mo., as booking official agent for clubs in the league was announced. He succeeds Abe Saperstein who has had the sole booking of the league clubs for exhibition games.

Jackie Wins Hoop Scoring Title, All-Southern Berth

Jackie Robinson cops southern division scoring honors!

Notwithstanding the fact that the UCLA Bruins dropped two games to USC's mighty Trojan quintet by scores of 32-26 and 47-35 last Friday and Saturday nights in the UCLA gymnasium, the Uclans saw their sharpshooting forward finish the season as leader of all the point-getters in the southern division of the Pacific Coast conference.

The Bruin cagers find themselves in the conference cellar following the finale of last weekend.

MAKES ALL-SOUTHERN

Robinson nosed out Ralph Vaughn, last year's titlist of USC, by 10 points with a total of 148 points. The total was made from 56 field goals and 36 free throws in conference competition.

The Trojan and the Bruin aces staged a see-saw battle for most of the season. Both were placed at the forward positions on the all-Southern five.

USC plays the Oregon State Beavers, northern division winners, tomorrow Saturday (and maybe Monday) at Shrine auditorium in a best two-out-of-three series for the Pacific coast title.

Clark Wins SIAC Tournament

Dixie Cage Classic Goes to Atlantans; Xavier Eliminated

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Feb. 29. (ANP)—The most successful exposition of collegiate basketball Dixie has seen was completed here Saturday night before 3,500 excited fans as the record breaking seventh annual SIAC basketball tournament came to an end. Fully 10,000 fans saw the three round session which commenced Thursday afternoon at 2:00 P. M.

Clark University, Florida A. and M. College, Tuskegee Institute and Knoxville college seeded 1, 2, 3, 4 in the gala tri-day parade—finished exactly in that order after proving their right to the rank of the elect by eliminating 7 other formidable SIAC opponents.

In the finale it was the magic of a wonderfully coordinated Clark team that swept Florida dismally down, 42 to 22, after the orange-clad team from Tallahassee had become a tournament sensation, bowling over mighty Xavier, Morris Brown and Knoxville in neat fashion. Xavier came to Tuskegee with only two losses in 45 games and had a streak of 29 straight at one time.

Following Mrs. Dillon are: E. Buie, 2; F. Morroh, 3; S. Hunter, 4; L. Ward, 5; G. Davis, 6; M. Downey, 7; T. Morroh, 8 and B. Alford, 9.

Globe Trotters May Put Up Battle for Pro Cage Title

CHICAGO, Mar. 7. (ANP)—Seven teams have been accepted to compete in the world's professional basketball championship tournament which will feature the New York Rens defending the title they won in last year's meet.

When play gets under way at Madison Armory Mar. 17, one of the featured teams will be the Harlem Globe Trotters, sensational Negro traveling quintet which has played the best teams in the country and defeated them regularly.

Abe Saperstein, manager and coach of the Trotters, has one of the greatest quintets in the United States. They have played teams from Western Pennsylvania to British Columbia and, over a 13-year span, have won 1710 games and lost 128, for a winning percentage of .930. That's not perfect, but you can canvass any neighborhood and find you'll have a tough time equalling that record.

In addition to the Rens and Trotters, the Chicago Bruins, Clarksburg (W. Va.) Oilers, Oshkosh Stars, House of Davis of Benton Harbor, Mich., and Rochester (N. Y.) Seagram's, are assured bracket spots. The other seven or nine teams which will compete will be chosen out of 30 teams wishing for the opportunity to compete for the title and cash awards.

ERSKINE HAWKINS BAND AT PRINCETON

NEW YORK, Mar. 7. (C)—Erskine Hawkins, the Twentieth Century Gabriel, played a prom at Princeton University Mar. 1.

Ellington at Purdue U.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Mar. 7 (C)—Duke Ellington and his orchestra appeared here at Purdue University Saturday.

FRANCIS GARLAND, former Jefferson High and L. A. City College star center, and leading scorer of the Metropolitan conference this season, is being counted on by the local Kappa Alpha Psi five to play a large part in halting the win streak of the powerful Oakland Y.M.C.A. quintet in the game here Saturday night at Patriotic Hall.

Jordan Splits Doubleheader

Jordan split a doubleheader with Bell last Friday, winning the first game 10-1 and losing the night-cap 1-0.

Loudd opened the first inning by knocking a 3-bagger. Gloria sacrificed to score Loudd for the first run. Oki scored on Duarte's double after being walked to second.

Oki brought in three more runs in the second inning when he knocked a home run with Cota, Loudd and Gloria on base. Lawrence and Diaz scored later in the inning to make the score 8-0.

Remaining quiet until the fifth inning Jordan scored again when Norman Mears bagged a double and was knocked in by Clemons. Villereal scored another run on a walk in the sixth inning.

Bell scored its lone tally in the last inning when Gloria's pitching arm went haywire.

'Y' to Organize Baseball Team

Plans are under way to start a baseball team to represent the 28th street branch in the YMCA Baseball league of Southern California.

The "Y" wants all boys and young men who play baseball to contact the physical department of the YMCA at AD-7193.

Kappas Down Omegas in Frat Opener

Garland, Courtney Stage Even Battle for Scoring Honors

Before a fairly large crowd, Kappa Alpha Psi decisively defeated Omega Psi Phi at Patriotic Hall Saturday night to open the annual inter-fraternity basketball series.

The score was 41-25.

The veteran Kappa quintet wasted little time in getting out in front and at half time enjoyed a 16 to 5 lead.

In the second half the game took on the aspects of a real contest with Lloyd Courtney, Omega guard, hitting the hoop for 14 points most of which were garnered from long, looping shots from mid-court.

Magellan Mars and Al Brewer, Kappa forwards, and Francis Garland, center, offset the Omega star's efforts however to pull away with an additional 25 digits. Mars especially, scintillated under the basket, his work being exceeded only by that of Garland.

High point honors were equally divided between Courtney Garland, each accounting for 14 points. Mars was runner-up with 12.

TO MEET OAKLAND Y

The "Kats" are not expecting such an easy time this Saturday night. They meet the Oakland Y. M. C. A., which team beat them in a local game last week.

In 38 starts the Oaklanders have been beaten only once, and that time by the Kappas. The "Kats" took their revenge in a return match at Oakland late last season. The Northerners have played 13 games already this season and have won all of them.

The preliminary will field a fast Post Office squad versus the Y varsity at 7:00 p. m.

Woman Dies of Rabbit Fever

CHICAGO, Mar. 7—A slight cut on the finger, considered of little consequence, caused the death here of Mrs. Maggie Reid. Police are hunting the butcher shop where the diseased rabbit was purchased.

3 Lose Lives in Elevator Fire

CHICAGO, Mar. 7. ANP)—Three men were killed and four injured Friday when they were trapped on an elevator in a burning building as they sought to flee the flames.

The 7 men were working in a basement dressing turkeys for A. Feldstein company when the fire started on the first floor. Finding the stairs blocked by flames, the men rushed to the elevator which stuck just above the first floor, preventing their escape.

AS THE TWIG IS BENT

Parental love for their offspring is the predominating characteristic upon which a baby's life is built. The child, no matter how old it gets, will always refer back to its early memory of Mother-love and guidance. Children will copy and mimic grown-ups, and, if the proper attitude and environment surrounds them, they govern themselves accordingly. "As the twig is bent, so will it grow," quoting an old proverb.

Parents when chastizing their children should never be vicious. Let the child understand that you are only trying to prevent them from committing greater wrongs, later on in life. Thus the love is shown and the child can more readily appreciate your efforts.

Understanding is another contributing factor upon which a young life is moulded, gradually shaping it into a fine, intelligent adulthood. Thus the parents will be rewarded for their patience and love. Blessed is the home with a child therein.

E. M.—Since receiving your Prayer and Meditation Combination my husband has taken on new hope it seems. Thanks for the information given in your letters and I shall continue to tell my friends how you have helped me.

E. S.—Will I be successful in my attempts?

Ans.—It comes to me that you will be successful at your attempts at marriage and happiness, if you set your mind down to it and do everything you can to make it just what it should be. Have no fear, I vision a beautiful life ahead for you.

Mrs. A. S.—Will I receive the postion?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question I find that you are first on the list list for this job, and as soon as the vacancy occurs you will be called.

F. L. F.—Will the piece of money I have in my possession bring me any luck?

Ans.—According to your lucky stars and guiding planet you are destined to be exceptionally lucky for the next few months but the piece of money will not effect this streak of good fortune one way or another.

L. W.—Will I get out of this trouble which seems to be ruining my life?

Ans.—A careful analysis of your case indicates that you have been having a lot of unnecessary trouble that might have been avoided if careful thought had been given the problem at hand. However, I vision a distinct change coming into your life and your being happy and successful again.

M. M. B.—I am writing you to thank you for the joy and happiness I have derived from wearing your lucky charm bag. It caused my husband and I to get together again and we are now very happy. May you ever continue your wonderful work.

J. B. G.—Will I ever see him again?

Ans. According to your Zodiacal sign, you will marry again within the next two years. You will be much happier with your second wife.

D. E. McG.—Will I be more successful if I move to another town?

Ans.—Often a change of places is good for a person. And in your case I strongly recommend it. New contacts and friends will also prove beneficial, and working conditions will be better.

L. A. K.—When can I go to make good at my occupation?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question it comes to me that if you were to go to a larger city you would find more opportunity for you to expand in your painting and drawing. I suggest that you try some place like Chicago, or New York.

Nation's Great in Tribute to Abbott

newsboy to a vigorous paper with a quarter million circulation throughout the land, were climaxed by a tribute paid by Edward J. Kelley, mayor of Chicago. Mayor Kelly praised the humility and great racial love Abbott had for his people. He said:

"As Ed Kelly today, I want to say I am honored to have a last say for my personal and dear friend, Robert S. Abbott. He was a great American citizen, one whom people of the entire world might take lessons from. I was first stirred by his very real love and concern for his people. May his spirit live on in the hearts of those whose rights he championed."

Lucius Harper, managing editor of the Defender, who worked with Abbott since the paper's infancy, told of the early beginnings and struggles endured by his chief. Graduating from Hampton, Abbott came to Chicago where he began his paper amidst the jeers of fellow citizens. From these struggles he emergd victorious though battle-scarred, Harper said, and ever contended for social justice, political rights and equality for his race. He exploded the theory that Negroes will not support a Negro-owned institution," Harper concluded.

The brief sermon of the Rev. Archibald Carey, whose father the late Bishop Carey was for many years a friend and neighbor of Mr. Abbott, fittingly finished the impressive ceremonies, describing the late editor as "a man sent from God to show the world what to do with handicaps."

The $5,000 steel casket was surrounded by a profusion of floral offerings which transformed the altar into a veritable flower garden and spread to the farthest corners of the church. Notable among these offerings were: the empty chair, composed of lilies and red roses, sent by the Jones brothers, southside merchants; the widow's heart of carnations and purple orchids; a bleeding cross, from nephew John Sengstacke; and a broken wheel of pink and white carnations given by the Royal Coterie of Snakes, prominent Chicago club.

Police Scour City for Kidnapper and Girl

she attended. Mrs. Gordon said she had visited a photographer to have some pictures made Sunday, but had changed her mind at the last moment about taking Dorothy along.

DISTRICT AROUSED

The case caused a furore in the entire Eastside district, following enlistment of community aid by Rev. D. C. Austin, pastor of the Cornerstone Baptist church from which Dorothy was returning when abducted.

The public is asked to be on the lookout for an automobile, man or child fitting the above descriptions and to report any information to the police.

As the story got about yesterday additional information leading to the kidnapper's activities earlier Tuesday was brought to the police. Two youngsters who are students at Lafayette Junior High school told Policewoman Juanita Edwards that a man fitting the description of Dorothy's abductor had accosted them earlier in the day.

Mrs. Edwards, who with Officers Dwight and Fremont of the Homicide squad, Brown and Roseborough of the Juvenile bureau, are conducting the investigation, said she considered the case an outgrowth of a rapidly growing condition on the Eastside where white men patrol the district, accosting young girls. Parents are urged to caution their children to take the license number of any men thus approaching them and report it to police.

Dorothy is the stepchild of Willie Gordon, to whom her mother was married in Arkansas in 1932. Her own father, whose name is Denham, is believed working on a government project in Louisiana or Mississippi.

Hawkins Explains Housing Bill

abolished. Governor Olson has already signed the bill.

"In addition, Assemblyman Gilbert and I sponsored a bill to lower the age limit to 60 years. We have not yet been able to withdraw this bill from committee, but will fight to do so again in May when the Legislature reconvenes.

RELIEF

"The present disorder in state relief is caused by the passage of Senate Bill No. 81 at the recent session of the Legislature. This Bill was sponsored by the reactionary forces which are attempting to destroy work relief and substitute the old dole or charity system.

"The sum appropriated by this bill ($12,000,000) is 20% less than was allowed for the unemployed for the same period last year. In the meantime WPA employment has been reduced, As a consequence relief budgets are being cut and the rolls purged of the so-called chiselers. Many severe provisions were written into the bill setting up a "three year residence requirement," fixing a maximum on the family budget of $58, etc.

"I fought against the passage of such a Bill and will continue that fight. I do not believe that we can solve the unemployment problem by starving people and robbing them of their civil and political rights. For six years, ever since I have been in the Assembly, I have sought for more adequate budgets, sound constructive work relief, and an extension of the self-help cooperative program.

"There is plenty of work to be done in this state such as slum clearance and low rent housing and other public projects. Why should not the unemployed be put to work on useful and needed public improvements which otherwise would not be done at this time? This would also be a great saving to the taxpayer and of great social benefit to the community.

"Something must be done at once for the people now facing starvation, disorder and actual bloodshed as a result of this so-called economy. I make an open appeal to everyone in our District regardless of station of life to join in a mass protest against this famine bill. Especially do I urge the churches and business interests to join with home owners and the unemployed in saving our state."

BOB ABBOTT -- EMANCIPATOR

By WILLIAM FOSTER

(Editor's Note: On Robert S. Abbott's arrival in Chicago, the writer was one of the few to lend a willing ear in listening to his story of "freedom thru the press". In later years, after the establishment of The Defender, he was among the first employes at a salary of 75c a week.)

Although bed-ridden for several years, word of the passing of Robert "Bob" Abbott, founder, published and sole owner of the Chicago Defender, was a shock to all who knew him. With his passing, memories of my first meeting with him, of his struggle for recognition, his "dreams come thru", are refreshed.

Fresh from Hampton, where he graduated with honors, Bob arrived in Chicago shortly after the turn of the century, embued with a spirit to do something for a race, who although freed by a proclamation, was still enslaved to custom. His first observations were disappointing. In a city where freedom had always exited, he found members of his race discriminated against; found color rather than ability, counted. How was this condition to be corrected? How could he gain recognition for his group. He remembered the life of Benj. Franklin and what he had been able to accomplish thru the "power of the press". If Franklin could accomplish so much thru the printed page, why couldn't the same be done to gain recognition for the Negro? The Chicago Defender was his answer.

On May 6th, 1905, The Chicago Defender appeared on the streets of Chicago. Its first issue, just a hand-bill, carried in its mast-head the line, "The World's Greatest Weekly". Its editor, published and circulation manager were one, Robert "Bob" Abbott.

At that time there were several publications being printed, some at regular intervals, others "tri-weeklies". But none carried news of injustices done to Negroes, of their fight for recognition. There columns were devoted to local happenings; to news of Mrs. Smith entertaining Mrs. Brown.

It was with pride that "Bob" carried his first edition up and down State street. His knockers were many, his well-wishers few. Among these few was J. Hockley Smiley, son of Chicago's pioneer caterer. Like "Bob", he too was tired of catering to others wants and desired to do something for his race. Without thought of remuneration, Smiley joined hands with Bob and together they began the task of making "The World's Greatest Weekly" a fact rather than a name.

LEAN MONTHS

The first few months of the Defender were indeed lean ones. Daytime found Bob calling on the merchants on State street, attempting to sell hem the value of the Defender as an advertising medium; nite time would be spent gathering news for "The World's Greatest". Many a laugh, many a taunt greeted him. But with it all, his ever pleasant smile never left him. He had a goal to reach and nothing, none could stop him. With each issue of his hand-bill, new friends were made. Those that laughed when the Defender made its first appearance began to take this "young buck" just out of Hampton seriously. Maybe he will revolutionize Negro publications; perhaps he will make it possible for us to be proud to read of our accomplishments; possibly thru him we will be able to secure publicity of the many injustices heaped upon us and secure the rights that were ours, were some of the comments heard. And with them came the beginning of the realization of "Bob's" "World's Greatest Weekly".

Soon, subscriptions from various parts of the country were being received and with them news of injustices. These Bob printed and with them editorials condoning conditions as regarded the Negro. Bob kept fighting; more friends were made and also, more enemies.

That his fight was not in vain, that what he started in 1905 did become "The World's Greatest Weekly," is proven by concrete evidence better than in any words I may write. From an humble beginning consisting of a broken down chair, kitchen table, plenty of grit and a capital of $1.00, and a staff of one, he leaves a half-million dollar plant, a staff of more than two thousand writers, office workers and agents thruout the world.

Truly, his name should be chiseled in the Hall of Fame along with two other great emancipators, Frederick Douglass and Booker T. Washington.

In closing let me answer a few questions asked me numerous times. 1—Ownership? At no time has anyone but Robert S. Abbott had any financial interest in the Chicago Defender. When it was first started, the trade mark was that of an eagle with wings spread. After the Defender became widely known, Wm. Randolph Hearst started suit against Abbott, claiming similarity of trade-marks, stating that the public was confused and often bought a Defender, thinking they were purchasing one of his publications. Rather than fight the case, Abbott changed his Eagle to a Sphinx which since that time has been the Defender's recognized trade-mark.

2—The Pullman Porter—Contrary to many rumors, Abbott always thought of the Pullman porter as his friend, never forgetting that it was this group that carried early editions of the Defender thruout the country and made his dream a reality.

New York Manufacturer Includes NAACP in Will

NEW YORK, Mar. 7. —M. L. Adler, manufacturer of bowling alley equipment, who died February 19, remembered the Nat'l. Association for the Advancement of Colored People in his will, it was revealed here yesterday.

The exact amount which will go to the NAACP is not known, however, since it is to share with four other organization in the income from the residuary estate. The amount of the residuary estate or the rate of income, are not known.

The association, however, is to receive one-twelfth of the net income from the residuary estate, which will be divided and paid out annually. The official announcement said the residuary estate was "more than $10,000."

Adler's will revealed him to be concerned with the welfare of all races and religious. He wrote: "My dear wife—during her lifetime—and I reached the belief that a testator renders scant honor to his own church or his own relatives if he makes them his sole beneficiaries and neglects the general public from which wealth really came."

Five-twelfths of the income from the estate will go to the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies; two-twelfths each to the Charity Organization Society of New York, the United Hospital Fund of New York, and the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York; the remaining twelfth to the NAACP.

Mrs. Adler, who died about two years ago, began contributing to the NAACP in 1929 and gave regularly each year until her death. In 1938 Mr. Adler sent a contribution in her memory.

The Post Office official told the committee that he expected the first United States postage stamp to honor a Negro to break all records for the 10 cent denomination during the issuance of the current "Famous American" series in which the Booker T. GOOD HEALTH

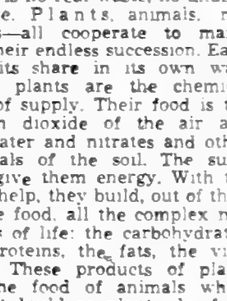
The healthy might find a new perfection of health. Each of us supports a private menagerie of petty parasites—our intestinal bacteria. Nobody has ever been without them, and nobody knows for certain what they do to us while we have power to keep them at bay. When our resistance is at a very low ebb they may break through the intestinal wall and begin the work of destruction that is their specialty. Usually they wait until life has stopped. But even while we are healthy, they are a resident army billeted in our house, eating our food, breaking our furniture, inflicting trifling damage in untold ways and places taxing our energies in a continuous struggle. If they were eliminated, our reserves of strength, released, might lend us overflowing vitality, electrify us with superbly abundant health.

So much for the major gains. A few smaller ones would appear, but they would be doubtful blessings, tinged with foreboding. Food would not spoil. There would be no need to refrigerate it or to preserve it artificially. For a while the food supply of the world might increase sharply as losses due to spoilage were eliminated. Many of the world's worst smells would disappear. Our lives would seem cleaner, sweeter, more kindly. With our best health better and much of our sickness gone—with no more colds, no devastating epidemics, no venereal disease, no wretched infections aftermaths of childbirth; with fresher food, less dirt, more fragrant air—we might think the millennium had arrived. We would be wrong. The ominous clouds of retribution would even then be gathering.

The storm would come on gradually, stealthily but relentlessly. Probably it would break around our ears before all the possible benefits of freedom from infection could be realized. At the start there would be only minor disturbances. Milk would not sour cheese would not ripen. Yeasts, destroyed with other microbes, would not be on hand for making bread and liquor could not be made. But these are trifles. We might be bewildered by them, but we could adjust ourselves to them. So far we would have purchased freedom from contagion cheaply. There would be a larger price to pay, and the bills would soon be rendered.

Without microbes, decomposition of the dead and of the products of the living would stop, and a link in the continuous chain of life on the earth would be broken. Unless artificial means could be found to join the ends, we and all other living things would follow the microbes, swept by starvation into limbo.



The substance of the living world is used again and again. There is no real waste, no unused reserve. Plants, animals, microbes—all cooperate to maintain their endless succession. Each does its share in its own way. Green plants are the chemical base of supply. Their food is the carbon dioxide of the air and the water and nitrates and other minerals of the soil. The sun's rays give them energy. With the sun's help, they build, out of their simple food, all the complex materials of life: the carbohydrates, the proteins, the fats, the vitamins. These products of plants are the food of animals which cannot build as plants do, from the ground up. Animals must have ready-made living tissue to construct and repair their own bodies, and they depend on plants to supply it. So animals eat plants, or else they eat other animals that have eaten plants.

Like all animals we are built entirely of materials which plants originally made and which we borrowed from them. Ultimately we must give them back; that is our share in the general plan. New plants will use them and the cycle will be repeated, again and again. But plants cannot digest the complex substance of animal matter. Their specialty is building, not wrecking. Microbes undertake the wrecking, the digestion, in their place. Microbes, in other words, make it possible for us to repay our debt to the plants.

This article will be continued next week.

Not since "The Birth of A n" has so much protest been d among colored newspaper s as was exhibited when GW was released. From coast to Negro columnists blasted and ved against the film. In New City, communists discharged f the party critics because he to praise even the magnificent photography of the picture.

Hence, with double rejoicing we find Hat-tie McDaniel signed to a long term contract with Selznick International, producers of "Gone". She has already been cast in a new picture, "Maryland" which offers her the opportunities of a full fledged feature player.

In her success, Miss McDaniel retains the simple dignity, the down to earth friendliness that distinguished her when she was just another Hollywood "bit" player. With the world at her feet, Hattie McDaniel has kept her head.

The Great Day a-Coming

Hurrying closer each day are the national conventions of both the Republican and Democratic parties. The Republicans will go to Philadelphia while the Democrats will fight it out in Chicago. Both parties, it seems are bestirring themselves in producing presidential timber for the two grand occasions. The political checker board has spread itself across the Nation and the entrants are striving vigorously to make the king's row.

On the Democratic side, however, President Roosevelt has stimead the play by refusing to move or be jumped.

Frank Gannett, New York publisher of nineteen newspapers flew to Los Angeles this week to tell Republicans, if he is elected president, how to bring back prosperity. This man Gannett is a pretty good sample of party unity. Without any equivication he states on all occasions whether speaking privately or to the populace that he is not interested in personalities but the principles of the Republican party.

"If mine is the task of leadership I will lead to the very best of my ability. If it is to follow, to fight in the ranks as I have fought, there you will find me fighting."

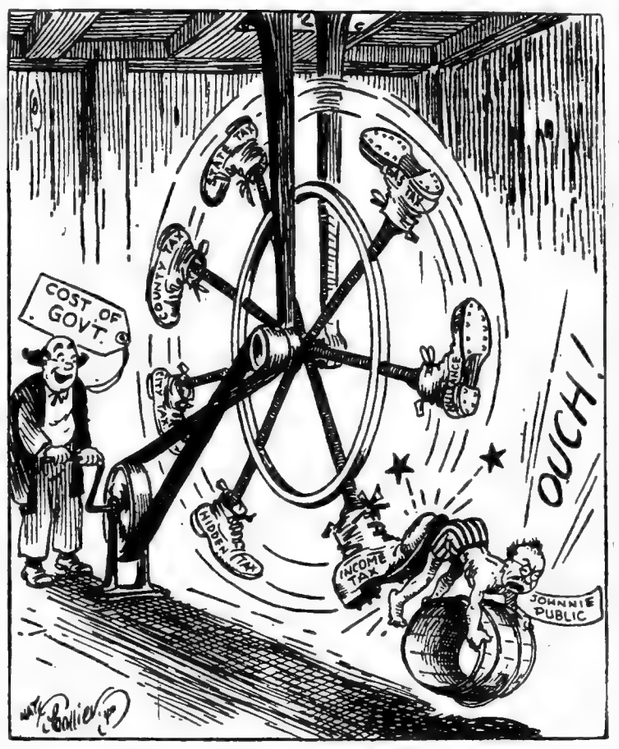
Mr. Gannett who has been in the newspaper business for forty years not only talks his interests in the working people but acts it. On his nineteen newspapers every employee is stockholder and a syndicate is to be left in trust, in order that those who work and help to build, will share in the profits accumulated by their labor. It looks like this man Gannett has one move ahead of many of the other candidates for president on the Republican ticket due to the fact that he is winging it across the nation and dropping his messages in strategc places where he hopes they will be fruitful.

Passing of Robt. S. Abbott

Among Negro newspapers conversation is today a matter of who will fill the breach caused by the passing of Robert S. Abbott, noted editor of the world famed Chicago Defender.

—Shedding of tears and wringing of hands is just so much time wasted. Standing here on the brink of the Pacific ocean that marks the end of the trail of this country, with a tightening of the throat and an inevitable dampening of the eyes, we raise our voice to ask the question: Who shall take his place?

Not only who shall carry on where Abbott left off, but others, viz: Nick Chiles of Topeka; Kelly Miller of Washington, and Joseph Blackburn Bass of Los Angeles.



These giants in the journalistic field believed not so much in the art of journalism as in the duty involved upon them in securing civil liberties for themselves and their posterity.

Mar. 15 Last Day

Failure to square accounts by Mar. 15 will result in that red letter day putting the procrastinating taxpayer really in the red! Back in the halcyon days of the 'twenties, citizens could afford to delay without suffering too costly a reprisal. But not today! With tax bills far higher than those of a decade ago, promptness is inseparable from necessity.

The millions now filing tax returns and those paying taxes indirectly, know the limit has been virtually reached.

BOOTS, BOOTS, BOOTS!

• THE WORLD THIS WEEK

BLITZKRIEG IN LOUISIANA

America has its blitzkriegs, too. In a one-day lightning attack the people of Louisiana fired several hundred thousand ballots and wrecked the once all-powerful machine of politics, and patronage, and pilferage built by Huey Long. Louisiana's voters must have enjoyed the devastating thoroughness of their blitzkrieg by ballot. Out went Governor Earl Long, standard-bearer of the machine. To defeat went his slate of candidates for the offices of lieutenant-governor, superintendent of public education. Out nor, attorney general and superwent nearly all the old members of the rubber stamp Legislature which provided the Kingfish, and the machine that lived after him, with their main source of power. Now the shouting, cheering and parading of an exciting and picturesque contest are over. It is time for serious business. Having elected Sam Houston Jones as governor to wipe out a corrupt political machine, it is up to the citizens of Louisiana to follow through and give him their whole-hearted support and cooperation.

KEEP THE PEACE AND THE TRADE

Are there serious leaks in Britain's blockade against Germany? U. S. Commerce department figures, released a few days ago, would indicate that there are—decidedly! Since war began, exports of raw materials from this country to Germany's five neutral neighbor countries have been soaring. From last September through this January, Italy imported $34,008,000 worth of products from this country, as compared with $20,735,000 for that same period a year earlier. Norway's purchases climbed from $8,874,000 to $21,688,000. From $28,876,000 Sweeden's purchases increased to $48,136,000; the Netherlands from $37,141,000 to $54,479,000; and Switzerland, from $5,189,000 to $13,671,000. It is noteworthy that Italy's imports from us last month were double those of a year ago. Norway's three times as large, and Switzerland's nearly four times. Most of the raw materials imported by these countries could readily be used for war purposes. Since the few countries who managed to stay neutral in the last war profited greatly from trade with belligerents, it is likely Germany's five neighbor states are repeating the lesson they learned then "Keep the peace—and keep trading."

"WAR GUILT"

Colonel Lindbergh will add no points to his popularity-rating among those who see the present war in Europe as a struggle between Black and White, between democracy and tyranny, or between civilization and barbarism. Nevertheless, there is justification for his belief, stated last week, that what is taking place across the Atlantic is simply another struggle for material gain by the Western nations, "the old story in a modern world—the right of conquest against the right of possession." The persecution, enslavement and suppression of freedom that have occurred under Hitler's regime have tended to create the impression that the Allies are fighting against dictatorship and barbarism. But were Germany an aggressive young democracy, bent on becoming master of the continent, she would still be assailed by the "have" nations, who felt their power, prestige, and possessions threatened. And such struggles for power among nations will doubtless continue until nations abandon their illusions of a "conquerion destiny" and learn to cooperate with each other freely and amicably.

BIG INCOME, BIGGER OUTGO

The State Controller's Office has submitted to the people of California a "read 'em and weep" item. During the 1937-38 biennium California had by far the largest income in its entire history—$512,492,692. But its outgo was just as record-breaking In fact, it exceeded income by $20,000,000. As with a prodigal son on a spending spree, a large expense account is no guarantee of thrift. It's only further temptation!

SING, YOU SPEEDSTERS!

Adding to America's greatest safety slogan—"Safety First"—a whole brace of slogans, Rev. L. C. Miller of Manitou, Colo., last week offered to the nation's reckless motorist the following spiritual aid. Let the speeding driver, he advised, softly sing the following hymns as the speedometer begins its upward climb: At 25 miles an hour, "I'm But a Stranger Here"; at 45 miles, "Nearer My God to Thee"; at 55 miles, "I'm Nearing the Port and Will Soon Be At Home"; at 65 miles, "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There"; at 75 miles, "Lord, I'm Coming Home". And we conclude with a last farewell, "May He Rest in Peace!"

• LIBRARY BOOK NOTES

(Courtesy Vernon Branch Public Library, 4504 So. Central)

Among the new books received during the past few weeks at the Vernon Branch Library is the outstanding story "No Arms, No Armour" by Robert Henriques. This January choice of the Literary Guild is the winning book in the All-Nations Prize Novel Contest, and it is well worthy of that important distinction. "No Arms, No Armour" tells the story of Tubby Windrush, an upper class English youth who has developed his body into a marvelous speciment of manhood, but who has allowed his mind to remain idle. When his girl refused to marry him until he made himself the sort of person with whom she could live for the rest of her life, and when his brother army officers began pricking the balloon of his ego, Tubby started to think for the first time. The process of his mental growth reached full flower during army service in the African desert, where he learned to see through the glamorous traditions of army life down to the cold system that operated to keep men merely cogs in the machine. The reader will find himself growing and developing with Tubby as he becomes an adult, thinking, "human."

"No More Gas", the sage of the Tuttles of Tahiti, takes that famous writing team of Nordhoff and Hall into less troubled waters than those they have been wont to sail with their stories of the Bounty mutineers. This is the story of a New England family on a South Sea Island, living happy, carefree lives in spite of civilization. In Tahiti the Tuttles lived in shades of past grandeur. Their New England forbear had married a native and his descendants had reverted completely to the native type, all that remained to them of New England being astrange Victorian house and the Tuttle name. "No More Gas" is an amusing well told tale of a tribe which inevitably reminds the reader of the delightful family in "You Can't Take it With You."

In "Freedom and Culture" America's most eminent philosopher, John Dewey, considers the freedom of individuals in its relation to the development of culture, and reviews the fundamental social principles which are threatened today by the rise of the totalitarian states.

"Turn On the Heat" by A. A. Fair is another corking good mystery story about mammoth Bertha Cool, that unscrupulous widow who runs a detective agency, and her diminutive assistant, Donald Lam. Some of the fascinating people you will meet are Marion Dunton, a brown-eyed girl who is curious about a Mrs. Lintig; the respectable Mr. Smith, also wanting to meet Mrs. Lintig, Evaline Harris, night club singer and many others.

Looking Back

By ROBERT S. ABBOTT, condensed from a reprint in the Chicago Defender, Mar. 3, 1940, of a public message, written by the late Robert S. Abbott on May 4, 1935 when his paper observed its 30th anniversary.

"Thirty long years have passed since I began publication of my paper—The Chicago Defender. It was a very inauspicious beginning, for the small room in which I slept was, at the same time, office, composing room and parlor combined.

"I was editor, publisher, printer and newsboy; going out in the snow, slush and mud; selling the paper to a reluctant, doubting public. My friends made fun of me; they ridiculed me and laughed at me. For, they thought it was foolish of me to anticipate success in a field in which so many men before me had failed.

"I entered the field of journalism with a determination to take the Negro newspaper out of the Soap-Wrapper class; to give the people a paper which they would not be ashamed to read on the street cars. I built up the Defender, not only by printing all the news, but also by clinging to the idea that success could be achieved by recording contemporary documents and public utterances, and, by contending for social justice, political rights and industrial equity. They told me that it could not be done, I exploded the theory that our people would not support adequately a Negro paper, or any Negro business that was national in scope. They said that I could not own a commercial press; that the financial returned would be too scant at any event to permit extended operation. But today I own two commercial presses; the circulation of the Defender prior to the depression was over a quarter of a million. Though the coffers of my firm have been somewhat depleted by unscrpulous persons, I cannot say that the people have not paid me, paid me well for service rendered.

"While the nerves of other news agencies were fed the opiate that only local issues are of consequence, I began beating upon the tom-tom of racial consciousness as a means of mobilizing our national interests. I pleaded ardently for the national and civic rights of the people. I fought, singlehandedly, both local and national governments whenever they tolerated an invasion upon our Constitutional rights. Coming as I did from humble origin, I could not and I would not cut loose from the aims and needs of the people.

"Throughout my journalistic career I have tried to remain apathetic to subterranean political entanglements, except where and when the best interests of the Race could be served. I have avoided the acrimonious practices of yellow journalism. I have initiated drives for legislative reforms, battered down regional or sectional segregation, censured members of the Race who would auction off our social and political rights and condemned Nordism, Ku Klux Klanism and all who would pervert the masses by making the blacks the sick men of American democracy.

"One of my greatest wishes is to live to see the day when the Race would change its political faith and vote for the party that will carry you courteously the mandates of the people and uphold fearlessly our Constitutional Rights. In this I have won a distinct victory. No longer will our political identity be determined by racial classification and no longer will any one man carry all of our votes in his vestpocket.

"These are the things that I have contended for and obtained at the cost of personal sacrifices, against cross-current of opposition and intrigue from without and betrayal of trust from within. I have been abused, criticized and robbed by Peter and Paul, but in spite of it all, my spirit is still undaunted. Looking neither to the right nor to the left, I shall go forward and onward with the task to which I have consecrated 30 years of my life and to which my remaining deeds are dedicated."

Youth Asks America A Question

By PAUL BREWER

Day after day we roam the streets looking for work—Any kind of work that will quench that awful pain in our stomachs that is unmistakeably hunger. Day after day we must listen to officials and the public in general, proclaiming allegiance to America and the flag that represents it. We must listen to America tell the world what a great democratic country this is —A great body of people who uphold the doctrines of peace, liberty, and justice to its people.

America, the country whom other nations may always call upon in time of distress, must now listen to us, the youth of today We, who know that if again war should threaten to black-out this so-called democratic country, we would be called upon to protect these people who have shown no mercy, and turned deaf ears to our hungry pleas of help. If again the demonstration of 1917 must be carried out, does America think we, who have seen so many lean years, will again go gladly and blindly into it?

I, who at 19 years of age have had burdens too heavy thrust upon my shoulders, speak not for myself alone but for so many thousands of job hunting Negro boys Boys who have not been given a chance. We are constantly blocked and cheated by the very men who fought with our black brothers for "Democracy". We are not allowed the chance to govern our own people. We ask America—Are we to forever roam with no place to lay our weary heads?

Is this misery and hunger to forever dog our footsteps? Must we always be upon the pretended mercy of the people? May we not have the chance to win back the pride, that pride that every youth should possess? How can we, the youth of today, the men of tomorrow, show the world we can be honest and honorable men if we are constantly pushed back? What will you have us do to be granted that chance?

In 1917 thousands of Negro boys paid for our liberty, justice and equality with the supreme gift of mankind—their lives. They died for a cause they could not fully understand. America did not hesitate to recruit and gladly accept Negroes for the war in 1918, but how she does hesitate to give us a job above that of a bootblack. We can only draw one conclusion from that. We are good enough to die on the battle field for American Democracy, but not good enough to live like human beings. Will we again be told to go and meet the same bloody fate that felled so many Negro boys in 1917-18?

Those boys left heartbroken parents, wives, and sweethearts with the despondent promise "I'll be back." But many of them could not keep that promise. They died on a bloodstained battle field for a cause that did not benefit us.

We know that there's no glory in war. No more glory in it than in the sight of our uncertain future. We are always given a chance to die on the battle field of war and death. When will be given the chance to live on the battle field of life?

America asks us "Why do you turn to crime and cause society to spend unnecessary money to apprehend you"? We ask, "Have you ever been hungry? Have you ever had the door of opportunity slammed in your face when it's keeper sees that your skin is black"?

We do not like crime, nor do we have any respect for criminals. But be our skin black, brown, or white, we must eat. We have shown the world that if not hampered we can go to the height of the world of professions, sports, music, etc.

It may be 50 or 100 years before we are given a chance but can we survive in our unequal fight for liberty, justice, and equality? Or must we perish from the face of the earth?

Until one thinks of all the hardships we must suffer the constant humiliation at the hands of the overwhelming majority, let him stop and feel just a little ashamed after he bursts forth with "This is a Democratic Country."

Oh no it isn't.

"Race": The Last Great Superstition

By WILLIAM PICKENS

Last September a friend, who is a laboratory expert in the University of Hawaii, at Honolulu, sent me the following, quoted from "The Pigments and Color of Living Human Skin", by E. A. Edwards, American Journal of Anatomy, July 15, 1939, page 1:

"Our studies confirm the idea that the colored races owe their characteristic colors only to variations in the amount of melanin (pigment) present. No pigments other then those found in the whites are encountered in the dark races and the general plan of the pigment distribution is identical in the two groups."

And to the quotation my friend added, what ought to be a sufficient commentary: "So What?"

In spite of that brief and complete commentary, I want to add a few words: It means that color is no important differential in human races", that so far as science is concerned, there is but one human race, with its individually varying colorations. The color stuff is in little sacs just under the transparent skin, and in all the varying color groups, white, yellow, red, brown, and black, it differs only in quantity, but never in kind or in chemistry. The only difference between white men and black men, is that the black man has more of something. Sometimes one is born, as a freak, without any pigment at all, and he is an albino; and albinos are born in blackest Africa as well as in Europe,—and African and European albinos are both equally pale and ugly. Sometimes a black, or highly pigmented person loses the power to continue to produce pigment, and "turns white." Pigment, like skin and hair, must be continually reproduced in order to remain.—And notice that word: that the "pigment distribution is identical". That means that "all races" whatever their general pigment quantities, have it distributed relatively alike over the body: most of it in place like the scrotum, the knee caps elbow joints, etc.; and more of it when they subject themselves to the sun than when they live more in the shade.

There have been many superstitions like this superstition of "race": witchcraft, sorcery, devilry, spirits, and other misapplications of the "supernatural". Men once explained the movement of the river by assigning it a "soul"; but now we know that Old Man River just runs, naturally, downhill by the pull of gravitation and its own fluidity. Once when a person had a fit or "spell", they knew that he had a cavorting devil in him, and they tried piously to beat and kick the devil out of him. But now we know that such a one is sick, nervously sick, and we give him care and hospitalization.

Naturally there grew up the ideaof inferior and superior, and you can notice that those who had the societal advantage at any given time in history, were always the "superiors": six thousand years ago black-skinned woolly-haired Egyptians were superior to every other people in the world,—in their own opinion and perhaps in the opinions of the "inferiors". Thence the easy rationalization: that if there is a difference or a variation of any sort between the supposedly superior and the supposedly inferior, the difference must show the superiority of the superior: if the inferior can outrun or out-box the superior, it is because the said inferior is more "ahimal-like"—that is, because he is inferior. If the inferior is darker, it is german to his inferiority, in this rationalization. Of course, if the strong were dark and the weak light, at any given time, it would prove that the lack of sufficient pigment was the sum of weaknesses. If Negroes in this age

By Caldwell Jones

"HARLEM", IS A NAME which conjures up many magic visions to those of us whose lot it is to dwell in smaller cities: visions of glittering cock-tail-lounges, The MIMO, The COTTON CLUB; of sleek-haired frenzied musicians dishing out "Hot Numbers" of chic, chrome-brown, fur-coated women, wining and wooing in the richly upholstered booths of swanky night clubs. In short, Harlem—to us small-towners, is The Magnet of the Negro world.

However, there is another side to "Harlem" of which many of us know very little and hear less. It is a sad and sordid picture which—once put together by the assembling of cold, butal facts—astounds one.

Very few of us realize that the 300,000 Negroes in Harlem (according to statistics gathered in 1939 are packed within a radius of the Three Square Miles, and that nearly 50 per cents of them are on Relief. Or that in one square block, bounded by 142nd and 143rd streets, and Lenox and Seventh Avenues, Four thousand Seven Hundred Negro lives. 80 percent of whom are on Relief. That in this particular block cellars are partitioned off with brown paper and rented out for as high as $40.00 per month. Or that 90 percent of Harlem's shops, buildings and business are Run and Owned by whites who give little or no employment to Negroes. Eight-five times out of a hundred, when a Harlem cash register rings, the finger on the key is white.

Prudence urges me to pause here and state emphatically that the fact that figures herein above quoted are not the figments of creations of my mind. A mere Laundryman would indeed be brash to indulge in such flattering statements about his eBtters in the Big City. No, these facts and figures were compiled and published by "Mr. Charlie" in one of he country's most expensive magazines. So if any Harlemites read these lines and feel like suing somebody, wade into Fortune works", for they have bales of dough.

Wherefore, and why this holding up to the light, this exposing of the Darker side of our Negro Mecca? Only this: that unsavory though it may be, the impact to our sensibilities may cause us to Stop, and THINK.

To ponder seriously, WHY.

All of man's progress has been achieved by the focusing of Thought upon particular problems. World history proves beyond doubt that whenever Man, white of black, can think hard enough and long enough about any One problem, sooner or later he solves it, whatever it might be.

The conditions which prevail in Harlem are present in all cities where Negroes congregate to a greater or less degree. A recent survey of conditions in Chicago revealed that approximately 115,000 Negroes, 57 per cent, living on the Southside, were unemployed; and that of this number about 75,000 are on direct relief.

Various reasons are readily given for this appalling situation. Prejudice, discriminatory tactics, artful restrictions drawn by Labor Unions, Race hatred fostered by employers and employees, and so on endlessly. But granted that these allegations are true, are we going to let ourselves Drown in this Economic sea because of them?

The SUREST aid in the world for a drowning man, is that aid which he can render himself by striking out, working his own arms and legs, however feebly. And that is what we will have to DO, for if the statistics herein quoted are true, we must either learn to CREATE employment for ourselves or else DROWN. In order to Create employment we MUST have Capital, and it can be amassed in only ONE way: by thrift, by forming the habit of saving SOMETHING out of whatever our earnings may be, whether meagre or large. This process may be slow, drab, colorless and unexciting, but it is the ONLY way out.

Celebrate First Anniversary of Rev., Mrs. T. G. Lomax

The Second Baptist church of Long Beach, California, has just closed a series of services celebrating the first anniversary of its pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Thurston G. Lomax. The following churches participated inthe services: First Baptist, Long Beach (white); Grant AME Chapel, Long Beach; First Baptist, Los Angeles; Metropolitan, Pasadena; Pleasant Hill, Los Angeles; Zion Hill, Los Angeles.

The services were concluded with a formal banquet on Thursday night, Feb. 29. The banquet was an outstanding affair, graced with the presence of many notables, including both the Mayor and the Vice Mayor, together with several members of the city council and leading pastors of the city of Long Beach. The principal address was given by the Rev. J. L. Caston, pastor of the Trinity Baptist church, Los Angeles. The church presented its pastor and wife with many useful gifts including a purse of money and an expensive typewriter.

During the year of service rendered this church by its present pastor much has been accomplished. Nearly one hundred members have been added to the church roll; the debt has been reduced 65%; the parsonage has been completely renovated and refurnished at a cost of four hundred dollars; a gospel choir of thirty voices has been organized; an Orgatron electric organ has been installed and many other noticeable improvements made. There is within the church a fine spirit of "working together with God." We feel with such an attitude the ensuing year will see many more accomplishments for God here in Long Beach.

The anniversary committee wishes to thank all who cooperated in these services honoring their pastor and wife. Those on the committee were: Mrs. Nona Miles, Mrs. C. M. Craig, Mrs. K. Howard, Mr. Nat. Kirkpatrick, Mr. Joseph Cohn, Mr. R. B. White, with the assistance of Mrs. C. C. Robinson and Mrs. Amanda Gray.

At Lincoln Memorial Congregational church, Vernon and Hooper avenues, Rev. E. E. Lightner, minister, will give the third in his Lenten series on: "Some Essentials in Christian Living," at 11:00 a. m. Sunday, speaking at that time on: "Love to One's Neighbor," special music was rendered by the choir under the direction of Mrs. C. D Frederick.

At 7:30 p. m., guests will be the Alabama Club which will render the program postponed from last Sunday on account of the rain. Mrs. Faustina Johneon, president, will preside and many prominent former citizens of Alabama will appear on the program.

"The relation of European wars to the finishing of the gospel" will be the subject of the picture sermon by Elder P. G. Rodgers Sunday night at eight at the Adventist church, 40th place and Wadsworth avenue. A collection of screen pictures will be used to explain the 7th chapter of the book of Revelation from which the topic is taken. Sabbath (Saturday) school session at 9:25 a. m. and at 11 a. m., the first service of the Young People's spring week of prayer will be conducted.

Services at Phillips Temple CME church last Sunday were highly spiritual. Rev. Lane C. Cleaves preached and A. A. Peters sang. The communion was impressively given to the throng of people in attendance at both morning and evening services.

This coming Sunday the pastor will hold an afternoon service under the heading of a "Trip Through the Books of the Bible." At the evening worship, an "Ensemble of Quartettes, Trios and Choirs" will be presented. This service will have the Morning Glory, St. Paul's Senior, Los Angeles Male, Zion Girls, Phillips Temple Male and the Cornerstone Quartettes, the Silver Bell Trio and the Gold Trio of Watts, the famous Johnny Copps and his Hawaiians, assisted by the Phillips Temple Gospel Choir.

Sunday at the morning hour of Wesley Methodist church, 8th and San Julian streets, the pastor, Rev. E. W. Rakestraw, will close his series of sermons, "He Shall Be Like A Tree". These sermons relate to the Great Fruit Rally in which we are engaged, that culminates on Tuesday evening, March 12th. Much interest and enthusiasm have been manifested in this rally and the prospects are great success. At the eveninb hour Rev. Rakestraw will also speak and his subject will be "Non Conformity."

Come worship with us, we assure you an enlightened mind, and a strange warming of heart.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong." These words from the Book of Daniel are the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Man" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

The Lesson-Sermon includes also these verses about Jesus from John: "Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. . . . My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand. I and my Father are one."

Among the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, are the statements: "Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage." "Man is never God, but spiritual man, made in God's likeness, reflects God."

Earnest Whitman, actor, will sing at the 11 o'clock service of 8th and Towne AME church Sunday. Rev. H. M. Collins, pastor will deliver the message, "The Message Of The Sky".

The 11 o'clock service was fittingly observed at First AME church of Pasadena last Sunday. Several visitors were present, among them: William S. Green of St. Louis, Mrs. Roberta Waldon of Fort Wayne, Indiana Samuel P. Culmer of Chicago Winthrop Wilson of Detroit, and Mrs. Ethel Prioleau and daughter of Los Angeles.

The subject was "When Men Are Cheap". A special service was held at 3 p. m. by the Women's Mite Missionary Society. At 7:45 the senior choir assisted in the rendition of "Walk in Jerusalem Just Like John", this was a continuation of the theme, "Heart Songs Of A Race".

Next Sunday the subject for 11 o'clock sermon, delivered by Rev. J. A. Dames, will be "Were You There?" At the evening service, Sunday School night will be observed, the congregation will be divided into 29 Sunday School classes, John R. Wright is the Superintendent of the Night Sunday School.

Life is not so short but that there is always time for courtesy.—Emerson.

Mansfield Collins, who will become a Bishop at the next General Conference of the AME church, to be held in Detroit, in May, combined with the superb musical renditions of the choir, under the direction of the justly celebrated George Garner, make your church going an indispensable factor in your life each week. Youthful West Pico Branch Manager Scores Triumph

Well, there's not much more to be said about the Central Avenue West Pico Furniture store. Briefly, it came, it was seen, it conquered.

Youthful Juan Ray, Negro manager of the store in complete charge of Eastside operations, has scored a rare business triumph. The commercial world has long since forgotten the myth of "overnight success." It was held that lengthy operation in a community was requisite for steady, profitable patronage. For the first year, at least, the fledgling store should resign itself to bookkeeping in red ink. Object of a store manager in a new neighborhood was to keep down losses as much as possible. You see, a businessman doesn't just walk into a community, and bang, become a success—a sensation.

But Mr. Juan Ray with his 25th and Central Avenue branch of the West Pico Furniture Company has kicked the rules right in the middle of where it hurts. With only a residence on the Eastside of a few brief months, his branch store has become a furniture-purchasing mecca of the district; a success and a sensation. Of course, it is not likely that the Rule Book will ever forgive him. But it is possible that Mr. Ray will be consoled by the extreme appreciation of West Pico executives and Eastside bargain hunters. Yes, it is just possible.

Knoxville Citizens Lose Civic Battle With Council

KNOXVILLE, Mar. 7. (ANP)—At a recent meeting of the city council here a number of leading colored citizens headed by the Rev. D. Albert Jackson made a vigorous plea before that body for certain civic improvements in sanitary conditions in general in sections of the city where Negroes reside.

The delegation's spokesman also asked for Negro policemen on beats; Negro firemen at the East Knoxville station; Negro nurses and interns at General hospital ;appointment of a Negro on the Knoxville Housing authority; better sanitation in the stockyards and more recreational facilities, such as parks, playgrounds, swimming pools, etc.

The delegation emphasized their protest to the actions of those in authority in removing colored policemen from their former beats, which are now covered by white policemen in scout cars as well as other sections of the city, while the Negro patrolmen are assigned to the patrol wagon which they drive, and serve as turnkey at the jail.

City Manager W. W. Mynatt is reported to have said that "No provision has been made for carrying out the plans proposed by the colored delegation, and appropriations for the safety and welfare departments as well as hospitals for the 1940 budget are about the same as last year."

For decades, there was no weapon with which to fight this ever increasing regimentation of black residents. Civil liberty protests through the courts failed repeatedly. The one great crying need was for an institution of sufficient financial backing to fight giant corporations with their own weapons: dollars and cents. With the Liberty Building-Loan Association, the dream was realized.

After full investigation by federal auditors, it was recently opined that this financial institution is one of the most secure in America. Above, dear readers, is the magic telephone formula which will bring to your doorstep at any time all the merchandise of a modern, up-to-date drug store.

Yes, Dr. Benton has returned to the old trading post at 48th and Central Ave. Bentons' drug store has been a trailblazer over the years and today is in a position to render customers the finest service in its history. Completely restocked and remodelled, the "dream drug store," according to observers, can be matched by no other local concern.

Dr. Benton's famous medicinal creations, led by Beneseptol, are smashing records in sales here. Recommended by physicians, nationally recognized, these preparations have won the wholehearted support of the community.

BERKELEY MAN IS CIO LOCAL PREXY

BERKELEY, Mar. 7—L. Z. Howard was elected president of Local CIO Union No. 1705 in the recent elections held here. The CIO branch which Howard heads has jurisdiction throughout Alameda county, has between six and 700 members in 15 factories. Only four per cent of the total number is colored.

The Benton motorcycle and truck corps are familiar in the life and times of Central Avenue. Homemakers KNOW that a call to AD-7177 will bring them immediate delivery of their drug needs. Promptness, courtesy and efficiency have become standard bywords at Benton's. With recognition as one of the outstanding of all Negro drug concerns operating today in America, the future is indeed pleasant for the store at 48th and Central.

Concerning all the expansion and recognition which the store has found recently, Dr. Benton offers only a brief and typical statement: "We'll never get too big or too new to render old-fashioned SERVICE. That single business principle, SERVICE, has brought us a long way; we think it's a pretty good travelling partner."

thoroughly educated, the gentleman in action, rose to the unchallenged claim of national fatherhood by the courage of his convictions—the absolute certainty that independence was a requisite of self-respect.

"Both men were Americans of the highest order. They gave their lives to the establishment and preservation of the principles in which they believed. To the citizens of our Nation they brought the faith that comes with a belief in liberty, equality, justice, and brotherhood.

"We live today in an hour when vicious power seeks once more to dominate world affairs. It is an age when millions of men and women have determined to sacrifice the ideals of humanity in favor of a glorification of brutality. Nazi Germany and Fascist Japan have deified the bomb and excommunicated the Book. Communist Russia has forsaken theory and adopted terror. In tiny Finland and helpless Ethiopia, wars, publicized and unpublicized, are raging on six fronts.

"War is not even regarded as requiring apology. It is accepted and championed by arrogant forces for the first time in generations as an 'ennobling' institution. The spectacle horrifies men who believe in the future of humanity. Men who look upon truth, kindness, justice, goodness as the aims of civilization must band together today as never before in contemporary life.

"Nothing is more necessary in these troubled days than a restatement of American fundamentals. We in these United States pledge ourselves to the brotherhood of man. We believe in democracy because we regard all men and women, white and black, brown and yellow, whatever may be their place of origin, as the common children of one great Father. We cherish the ideals of equality of opportunity, equality of rights, because we reject the false doctrines of 'racism,' the 'superman,' the 'pure strain.' For us the individual men and women who make up the whole of human life enjoy each a personal claim to membership in the great family of mankind which defies every effort to brand some as 'inferior' or to hail others as 'superior'.

"George Washington and Abraham Lincoln understood these concepts. Lincoln loved to quote the great words of the Great Teacher:

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thyself.

"This was brotherhood. This was true democracy . . . "

Parents of Berry Brothers Split Up

Ananias J. W. Berry was granted a divorce from his wife, Redna Berry, by Superior Judge Thomas C. Gould late yesterday afternoon.

The contested divorce brought twenty-five years of married life of the couple to an end.

Internationally known through their three sons, who are song and dance entertainers, the pair were well acquainted locally.

Thomas L. Griffith, jr., attorney, represented Berry. In response to questions asked by Atty. Griffith regarding the earnings of his three sons, Berry told Judge Gould that the income was from $500 to $1000 per week. He has been their manager for the past twenty years and has travelled abroad extensively during that time.

Grounds of divorce were cruelty.

CORPS OF POLICE REPORT CLUES, BUT NO TRACE OF GIRL, NOR ABDUCTOR

Officers Stumble Up on Vacant House, Recently Occupied, Which Spurs Search

Dorothy Lee Gordon, 9-year old kidnap victim, was missing for the 8th day yesterday. At press time last night, a corps of police, working day and night on the case, had found no trace of the girl nor her abductor. They reported possession, however, of several clues.

Hurrying home from Easter practice at the Cornerstone Baptist church, Tuesday, Mar. 5, Dorothy was abducted by a white man, believed by police to be a sex fiend, in the vicinity of 16th and Hooper avenue. Sole witness to the kidnaping was Dorothy's playmate, Christina Pollard, 7, of 1435 E. 18th street.

Contradictory stories of the abduction, told by Christina and her mother, caused police to confine the child in Juvenile Hall last Friday, to remove her from her mother's influence. Investigating officers termed Mrs. Pollard irresponsible after she changed her story of the kidnaping. The crime was reported first to Mrs. Pollard when shortly after five o'clock on Mar. 5, her daughter came home, crying that Dorothy had "gone away with a white man."

CHANGES STORY

Police said that Mrs. Pollard told her husband last Sunday that Dorothy was picked up from their porch, not from the street. Mrs. Pollard was taken to Newton street for questioning after she told police that a man had come to her home Wednesday, Mar. 6, and said that Dorothy had been found with her hands cut off. The woman's husband advised officers to disregard the statement and said his wife had a "great imagination."

The Eastside was thrown into a panic on Friday and Saturday when rumors got about of a discovery of the dismembered body of the kidnaped child. Hurried telephone calls to authorities unequivocally denied these rumors, however not before the EAGLE office had been deluged with anxious phone calls.

Most outstanding clue turned up by detectives to date was the discovery last Friday of a hideout in a vacant house at 1985 E. 16th street. Officers A. C. Clark and K. E. Boies reported they discovered the house while cruising the district looking for vacant premises, a routine detail of the search.

Someone had been staying on the premise, the detectives concluded, and had apparently left in a hurry. They found several articles of clothing, some of

The case of little Dorothy Gordon who was kidnaped by a fiend over a week ago is a heart-rending object lesson for parents of the community. Contrary to general order, the part of this week's Sidewalk you are now reading is in twelve point (large) type. I feel that what is said here is of sufficient importance to require such attention.

My message is simply this, parents, impress upon your children, boys and girls, that they must never make friends with adults unknown to their families or outside the sphere of store clerks and school teachers with whom the average child normally comes in contact. Moreover, stress the fact that they must not accept offers of automobile rides with any adult outside the family circle. The importance of this home training may save a child--possibly your child--the fate of little Dorothy Gordon.

In many cases, parents who are consistently active in church, civic or fraternal duties have neglected their first and most sacred obligation: proper instruction of children and young people in their homes.

No matter where or in what society he may be, the well trained child stands out. Adequate home training is not an impossibility; it does demand concerted effort. There is no form of community or religious service which transcends these simple duties of the home. I am sure that your pastor or fraternal leader would be the first to agree with me on this point. In this day of dependence upon government for social and economic uplift, we have tended to shunt the responsibility of child raising to the school system. This cannot and will not work. Ask any school teacher. The finest school instruction possible must be augmented by adequate home training, if a child is to develop properly.

I have always thought of childhood as the "white paper" period of life. It is a very

"Crusading for Christ," a special service, will be held everyday next week, beginning Monday, with services twice daily. Announcement of the unique religious worship was made today by Rev. Clayton D. Ala. Board Hit By NAACP

Guilt of Boys Restated By Ala. Board

Mercy Refused to Five Defendants Still in Prison

A bitterly eloquent telegram from the national offices of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, received this week by the EAGLE, condemned an astonishing decision by the Board of Pardon and Parole of Alabama for refusing mercy to five Scottsboro defendants still in prison.

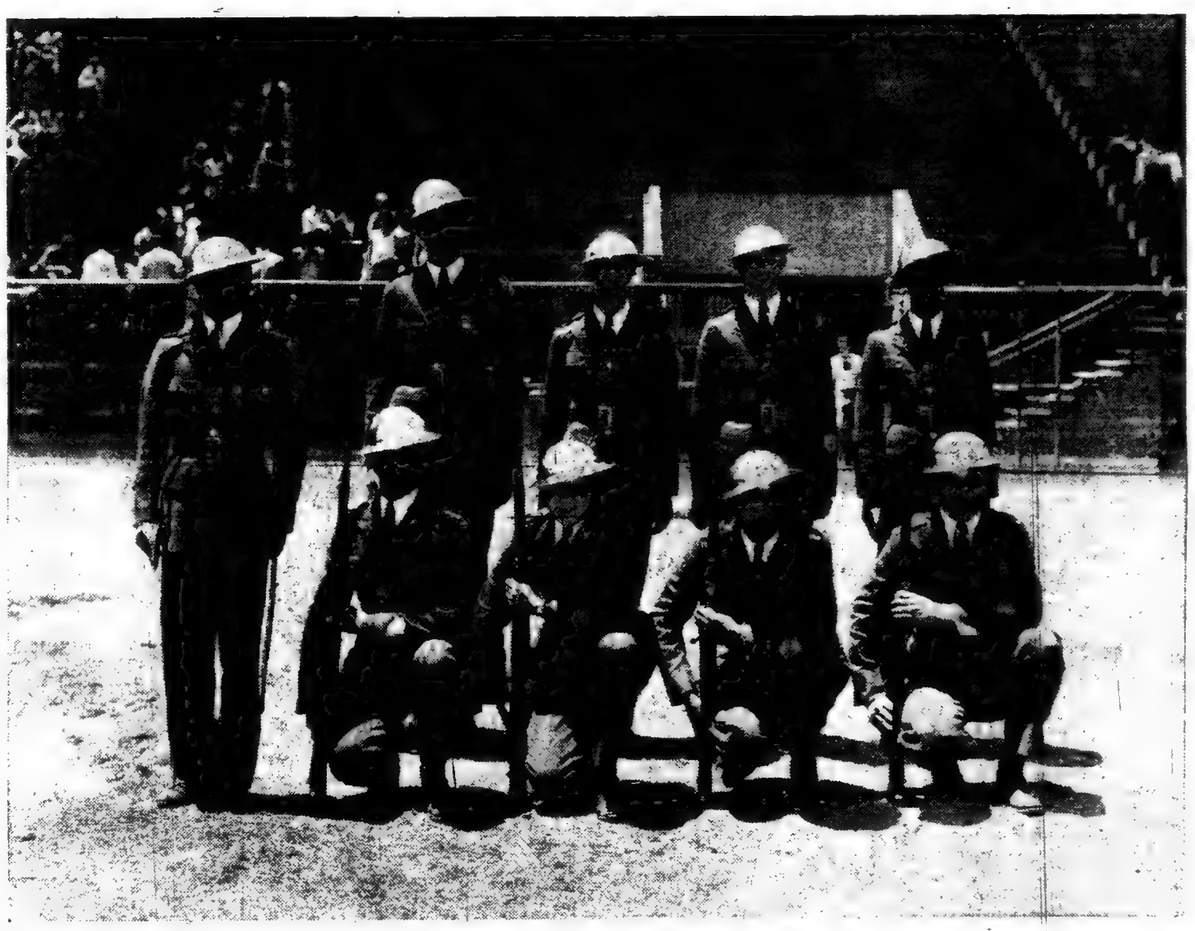
The Board decision not only refused pardon or parole, but reinstated the guilt of the boys. It had been generally conceded, even in the South, that the youths were innocent of a rape charge held against them nine years ago.

One of the famous and controversial cases in the history of American jurisprudence, the Scottsboro 'crime' has held national spotlight for nearly a decade. Four of the youths have already been released.

Sentiment of Negro citizens throughout the nation is tersely voiced by the NAACP telegram, signed by Arthur B. Spingarn, president. It reads:

"The Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is profoundly shocked at the refusal of the Board of Pardon and Parole of Alabama to release the five Scottsboro defendants. Even more are we shocked at the careless statement alleging the guilt of the defendants. This is utterly incomprehensible in view of the fact that four of the defendants convicted on precisely the same evidence were released in 1937 and the Supreme Court of the United States has twice reversed the decision of the Alabama courts and Judge Horton, of the Alabama circuit court, set aside one verdict as being contrary to the evidence on the basis of what seemed to the judge to be the incontrovertible physical proof that there had been no rape of the two plaintiffs at the time alleged.

The refusal to release the defendants, coming almost on the ninth anniversary of the commencement of the case, disheartens all Americans who had been led to believe Alabama would do the just and decent thing.



Alabama has in the past bitterly resented so-called "outside interference." For the past several years, however, a distinguished group of Alabama citizens have been supporting the plea of the Scottsboro Defense Committee for the release of the Scottsboro defendants into the custody of the committee. And led by the committee negotiations during the past year have been carried on almost entirely by distinguished Alabamians. The recent action of the Pardon and Parole Board is therefore doubly serious, since it constitutes such a complete repudiation of

'Dad, someday I'll do that!' said young Arnett Hartsfield in 1932 when he watched a drill team perform at a benefit in Shrine auditorium. A few years later his ambition was realized, and he is seen above (extreme right, standing) as a member of the team which hoisted Stars and Stripes before many Coliseum football games. This week, Hartsfield smashed Southern California precedent when he became first Negro student ever to be appointed to the advanced course in military science at UCLA. Also in the above photo is Therone Bush (second from right, kneeling) 1936 Manual Arts graduate as cadet captain.

Special Officer Out on Bail; Victim in General

Thomas Cobbs, 9701 Pace street, was free on bail today.

Cobbs, a special officer at the Elks' building, had been incarcerated this week in the shooting early last Sunday morning of Charles Jones, 33-year old laborer, in front of the lodge building, 4016 S. Central.

According to Newton Street officers R. C. Washington and E. C. McGruder, the shooting occurred as a result of an argument which began in the cocktail lounge of the building.

About 2 a. m. last Sunday morning, Jones attempted to enter the lounge but was told that it was closing time. Enraged, he assertedly pulled a knife on Cobbs who was called to the door to quell the disturbance.

Cobbs, according to the officers, ejected Jones from the building after disarming him, and returned to the cocktail lounge. After the lounge was closed, the special officer was met in front of the building, according to police reports, by Jones who is alleged to have had another knife in his hand.

When Jones allegedly threatened Cobbs the latter pulled his gun and fired, the bullet striking Jones in the left hip. The latter staggered across Central and fell on the sidewalk of Santa Barbara avenue.

Walter Edwards, 1187 E. 55th street, was arrested by officers Washington and McGruder, and charged with being drunk and interfering with their investigation following the shooting.

Jones, who assertedly told police he "didn't do anything," was taken to Georgia Street Receiving hospital and transferred to General hospital with a bullet in his abdomen.

NAMING OF HARTSFIELD FOR UCLA MILITARY COURSE STEP FORWARD

Turned Down 4 Times Previously, Youth Appointed to Advanced Course Vacancy

Appointment of Arnett Hartsfield, 2069 W. 29th street, to the advanced course in military science made history at UCLA this week. No Negro student has ever been appointed to the course previously.

Despite superior qualifications, Hartsfield had been turned down by the Advanced Course Board when he applied four times during past semesters. He was appointed Friday to fill a vacancy.

It was pointed out that Hartsfield's late entry into the course had been protested last Thursday by the dean of the College of Letters and Science. Col. Severson of the military department assertedly urged the special permission, saying he would regard it "a special favor to the military department".

After a semester of training in theory and tactics, Hartsfield will go to a non-segregatory army camp. If he passes, he will command a plattoon of ROTC students next term, becoming the first colored officer in UCLA history.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

In an exclusive statement to an EAGLE reporter, Hartsfield said, "I wish to express my deepest gratitude to the California Eagle, the many civic and community organizations, along with private persons, who have shown an interest in this matter".

A graduate of Manual Arts High school, Hartsfield studied military science there, leaving the institution a captain under Major Wilson, in 1936. Another Negro student, Therone Busch, graduated at the same time with equal rank. The two boys were third and fourth among colored students to graduate as officers from the high school. Honor of first and second is held by Willy and Herman Busch, brothers of Therone.

At Manual, Hartsfield held the successive ranks of corporal, plattoon sergeant, first lieutenant and cadet captain. Besides holding these ranks, he won the distinction of being rated the best corporal in the battalion while he had that rank, served for two semesters on the fancy drill team and was active in the Non-Commissioned Officers Club. On his record of completion of the junior basic course in 1936 he was given the rating of excellent in both character and conduct.

When Hartsfield enrolled at UCLA in 1937, he was personally invited to join "Pershing Rifles", a national honorary military society, and transferred into this company. He became guidon bearer in his first term with "Pershing Rifles", as well as attaining the rank of corporal at the end of the semester. He applied for admission to the advanced course.

Ace Salesman Tries Suicide; Called 'Chiseler'

Assertedly afraid and despondent because his "name had been mentioned in newspapers as a "chiseler", Eddie Pruitt, ace typewriter salesman, living at 880 E. 49th place, was in Georgia Street Receiving hospital this week after attempting to take his own life.

Employed by Remington-Rand, Pruitt told Newton Street officers E. E. Swanson and W. I. Dissinger, investigators, that he had been receiving aid from the county while working with the typewriter company.

His wife corroborated his statement and said he was afraid of being prosecuted.

Late Monday night, Pruitt told Wiley Irving, of 892 E. 49th place, he had taken poison and to call the ambulance and fire department as the house he is renting was on fire.

The salesman said he drank whiskey, a glass of ale, and "Rough on Rats," a poison, which he purchased from a drug store at Vernon and Central, as a chaser.

Pruitt denied he set the house on fire, but stated he had been smoking at the time he took the poison.

White Man Accused in Sex Orgy

Must Answer to 4 Charges; 1 Carries Penalty of Death

A sensational wave of sex crimes climaxed this week with news from Pasadena that Roy Venoy McGaha, white, 2243 N. Fair Oaks avenue, was arraigned in justice court Friday for a bestial attack upon a Negro woman, Katherine Berry, 25, 426 S. Oak Hill.

The crime has been called 'most revolting in Pasadena history.'

Mrs. Berry is visiting here with her aunt. She is a New Yorker.

Charges carrying the death penalty, McGaha was accused of—

1. Kidnapping for the purpose of robbery.
2. Robbery.
3. Assault with intent to commit rape.
4. Violation of Section 288a of the Penal Code (unnatural crime).

At the request of Detectives Ed Ewing and Doug Downey who investigated the case, Deputy District Attorney Orville Emerson issued the four complaints against McGaha late Thursday afternoon.

The investigation that was to lead Ewing and Downey through a maze of almost unbelievable cruelty started when, in answer to a telephone call at 10:40 o'clock Wednesday night, they found the young Negro woman cringing behind a safe in a service station at Glenarm street and Fair Oaks avenue.

Bloody, bruised and badly frightened, she told them a story of horror.

CALLS HIS 'WIFE'

Early in the evening, she said, she met a white man at a market near California street and Lake avenue. He asked her to telephone his wife, explaining that he was in bad with his mother-in-law.

In the parking lot, he forced her into his car.

As they began riding, he continually threatened her life. In South Pasadena, he stopped at a theater and unsuccessfully attempted to cash a check.

The theater manager and employees later told Ewing and Downey that while McGaha was there, they noticed a young Negro woman sitting in a car parked in front of the theater.

TRIES ESCAPE

As her captor headed for the deserted hills south of South Pasadena, Mrs. Berry said that she jumped from the car and tried to escape.

The man stopped the car,

JEFFERSON HI STUDENT WALKS OFF WITH HONORS IN ORATORY

Carl Yaeger Wins 3rd Annual Lions Club Speaking Contest; Will Represent City

Carl Yaeger, young Jefferson High School student, walked away with honors Friday at the Biltmore hotel in the Third Annual Lions Club Speaking Contest as he brilliantly compared democracy and totalitarianism.

Awarded a gold medal and the honor of representing the city in the zone competition at Maywood, Mar. 26, Yaeger was one of four contestants, outstanding undergraduate orators of the city's high schools. Harry Howell, assistant superintendent of schools, and former State Senator Frank Weller, presented the awards.

Parts of Yaeger's address quoted by the Los Angeles Times include:

"The dictatorships are conceived by made-to-order philosophers, nurtured and terrorized by bogus scientists, their privileges restricted by subservient courts and their information of world affairs bound by a dictated press . . . Democracy advances under self-reliant criticism, is enriched by unfettered scientific research; the rights of citizens are protected by independent courts and the progress of the times is reflected in the freedom of the press. . .

"On the one side nothing but obeisance of body, soul and mind to the will of an infallible master—on the other, freedom to think, to believe or disbelieve; freedom to speak, to choose, to will."

MORE CONTESTS

This ontest will be followed by regional and district competitions and a final elimination at San Jose in June to select an interstate finalist from California and Nevada.

Second-place winner of a silver medal yesterday was Arthur Castillo of Manual Arts who spoke of un-American youth as "equally as dangerous to democracy as the fighting of a war."

Jeree Gieser and Kay Kelley, representing Belmont and Polytechnic High schools respectively, were given bronze medals for their addresses on the contest topic: "Over Here and Over There."

Yaeger is a member of the Jefferson senior class. The son of Dr. C. E. Yaeger, formerly of New ork, since he started elementary school, the youth has attended over 20 different schools six of of them high schools.

About two years ago he started singing and has developed a splendid baritone voice. He has sung in 20 states and over the local radio stations.

Amount of Home Cleaning Told in Gas Survey

Someone in the average home every year has the job of washing 32,000 square feet of window glass, scrubbing five miles of floors, cleaning and drying an acre of dishes, and laundering 16,000 lineal feet of clothes.

The above prodigious amount of cleaning is but a portion of that required in the home as revealed by a recent survey conducted by the Southern California Gas company.

Investigators found that in homes where hot water was used generously in all cleaning tasks, the time involved was reduced by as much as 60 percent as compared with homes in which cold water was used, the report stated.

Home owners can assure themselves of a continuous supply of hot water by taking advantage of the special campaign in progress on 'failure proof' hot water tanks.

These new tanks are being offered for a limited time at substantial price reductions. They are on display at merchant plumbers, dealers and gas company offices.

MISS MELONEE TEMPLE

. . . youthful proprietor of dress shop.

Miss Melonee Temple, the energetic young art student of UCLA, who is proving that one of our youth if she is willing to work, can build a business; is as delighted as a child with the array of beautiful new dresses that have finally arrived at her Western avenue shop.

"They are all so pretty that I want every one of them myself," she exclaimed. "Even the 48's and 52's are youthful and interesting styles. The person who chooses one of the these charming dresses for Easter will make a happy choice indeed. And the dainty slips featured for the next two weeks for only one dollar, will be a joy not only for Easter, but right through the coming summer as well."

Yes, a dollar for the slips and $1.00 to $3.95 for positively stunning dresses (a few dressy models higher priced). Every number, regardless of cost, is carefully selected and interestingly styled.

You can't be sure that you have given your Easter Budget a chance until you have paid a visit to the Hazel Temple Dress Shop, 3625 S. Western avenue. Hose, brassieres, step-ins, and anklets in all sizes and colors. Uniforms, $1.00 to $2.95.

Kappas Scalped by Oakland Y

Pandemonium broke loose in Patriotic Hall last Sat. P. X., when a light fast Oakland Y five administered unto the honorable and mighty Kappas a 35-18 lesson in the sport of basketball . . . It is rumored that a few of the fraternity quintet have colds due to the various drafts created by the Bay City lads, who repeatedly took the casaba and went by the locals as if they had a case of rigormortis . . . However, the exception to the aforementioned was an alleged sepia movie star (who would go well with eggs), who, after being forced to leave the players' bench proceeded to the grandstand and attempted to con the college lads out of their gelt with high pressure methods.

Women, Girls Learn Merit of "Build-Up"

A woman's periodical distress from headaches, nervousness, irritability, cramp-like pain may be due to this fault: functional dysmenorrhea brought on by an undernourished condition!

There's convincing proof of this in the way so many women and girls are helped by CARDUI. Because it usually stimulates appetite and the flow of gastric juice; so aids digestion; helps to build up physical resistance to periodic distress for many users.

Others, who take it a few days before and during "the time," have found CARDUI helps ease their periodic distress. Used 50 years.

Golden West Bridge Ass'n Notes

By ELLIS L. VEIL

Our second official tournament will be held Saturday night at the regular meeting place, 1503 E. 22nd street. This is a rating play and winners will receive master point certificates from the secretary of the American Bridge association, A. R. Curiel of New York City.

First to be awarded certificates in this vicinity are: Katherine Potter, Carrie Strider, J. D. Dunn and A. C. Morgan. Our hats are off to them for superb playing.

The G. W. B. A. lost one of its most diligent workers by the death of Capt. A. Morse a few days ago in the Government Hospital of El Paso, Texas. His efforts to promote scientific bridge throughout the country will be long remembered.

Mrs. Louise Roan and Dr. A. L. Wallace, well known to all local bridge players, were added to the executive board of the G. W. B. A.

President Ray Marshall and this columnist attended a radio quiz, conducted by Ray Noll, Tom Stoddard and Robert Lee Johnson. An audience of 600 in the Ambassador theatre was unable to stump the nation's three outstanding radio instructors of contract bridge. Finally it took Hal Pemberton, the West's number one player, to come forth with this question:

Last week's hand was bid to five clubs by Mmes Holmes and Denton. The bidding, two clubs by West; two no trumps by East; three spades by South; four diamonds by East; five clubs by West. She should have bid five diamonds. If you are the optimistic type, you could bid six diamonds. I wonder why so many players will not give up 100 honors. The following hand was played at duplicate: five to the eight East and West player reached the correct contract; two overbid the hand and one underbid the hand. How would you bid it? West dealer, neither side vulnerable:

H 10XX	H HJX
D AX	D K10XX
C XXXX	C HKQJ

If you hold 10 spades, headed by the KQ8, and the singleton aces of hearts, diamonds and clubs, what would you do? Six spades, said Johnson, four no trumps, said Stoddard two spades said Noli. They were all wrong. Have you the answer? If so, let me have it.

Phys-Art-Lit-Mor Club Holds Some Interesting Meets

The Phys-Art-Lit-Mor club has had some very interesting meetings this club year, a spokesman for the club stated this week. Mrs. Marian Willingham, chairman of Art, led the study of "The Negro in Art" from the Greek and Roman periods down to the present. Negroes have made definite contributions to the fine arts, through sculpture, painting, dramatics and music, she found.

Miss Ferrol Bobo, chairman of Literature, will end her study of that subject tomorrow. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Hardimon, 768 E. 52nd place. Mrs. L. L. Robinson will be co-hostess.

Under Miss Bobo's guidance the club has received valuable information on the beginning of drama through the Middle Ages down to the present. The ladies have responded and each has contributed. Mrs. Vertner Gordon will be the next chairman on Moral Philosophy.

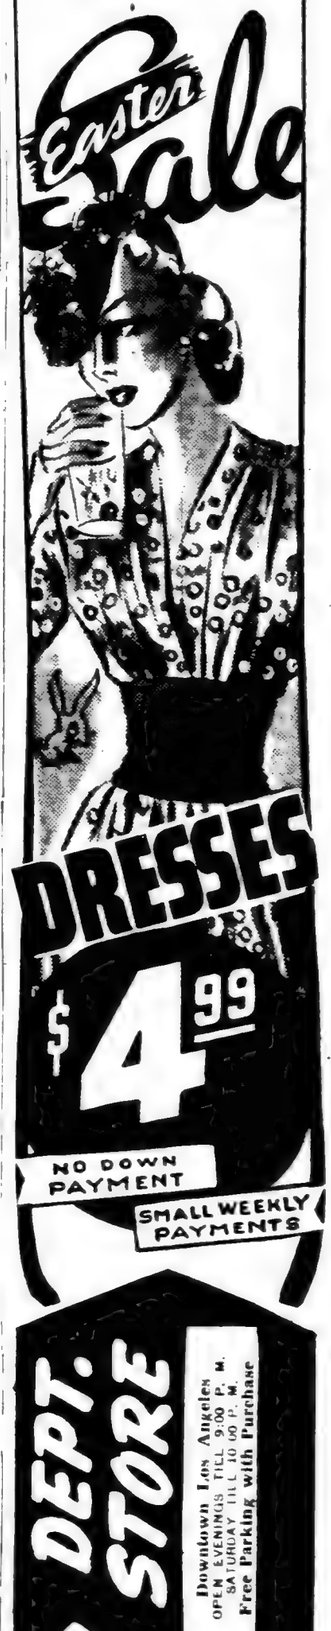
TESTED RECIPE
By Frances Lee Barton

HERE is a recipe for a dessert that may be made any morning from ingredients always on hand. Set it aside to cool and serve it either at noon or at night — or at the bridge luncheon if you wish. Best of all, it is easy to make, very easy on the pocketbook, and particularly delicious:

Canned Grapefruit Tapioca



4 tablespoons quick - cooking tapioca; 2½ cups fruit juice and water; ½ cup sugar; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 cup canned grapefruit; 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Combine tapioca, fruit juice and water, sugar, and salt in saucepan and mix well. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. (Mixture will be thin, do not overcook.) Add fruit and lemon juice. Cool, stirring occasionally — mixture thickens as it cools. Chill. Serves 6 to 8.

"GUARD AGAINST OLD-AGE APPEARANCE"
Everyone should try to PRESERVE THE PLEASING EXPRESSION of YOUTH as long as possible. The mere fact that we must wear dental plates is no reason why we should consider it a handicap, as GREAT CARE IS TAKEN BY DENTISTS TO RETAIN THAT YOUTHFUL EXPRESSION in making plates. LIGHT WEIGHT MATERIALS such as TRANSPARENT PLATE MATERIAL are used to fashion a plate that will FILL OUT THE CHEEKS—yet NOT FEEL BULKY. Many cases of LINES IN THE FACE, SUNKEN CHEEKS and HAGGARD EXPRESSION are largely DUE TO LOOSE FITTING DENTAL PLATES. THE COST IS REASONABLE TO HAVE THIS CORRECTED. DO IT NOW!

REASONABLE PRICES
DR. BEAUCHAMP says: "My REASONABLE PRICES and easy, LIBERAL CREDIT enable you to have dental attention RIGHT NOW. A COMPLETE DENTAL SERVICE is available to the smallest wage earner. MY SERVICES INCLUDE ALL BRANCHES OF DENTAL WORK FROM FILLINGS TO ALL TYPES of DENTAL PLATES.

ne of the city's leading cafes, which grosses weekly around $1000.

Leon Motts is one of the partners in the Riley and Brown agency, largest real estate firm on the Southside, which also deals in loans. Motts reportedly has made large personal loans to other Negro business men who were refused consideration at the banks and would have been forced to close shop had it not been for Motts' aid.

The two biggest colored drug stores in Chicago are owned by Henry Young. Called the Service Drug Stores, they do a yearly business of around $165,000 and are valued at $30,000. They have more than 30 employes.

Julian Black has a real estate firm and has bought up considerable property for both himself and Joe Louis. Much of Black's investment has been in neighborhoods bordering the Negro sections where restrictive covenants are in force to prevent Negro expansion from the overcrowded areas. He has brought this issue to the fore and has enabled Negroes to move into sections previously restricted to whites.

Because of these large investments in legitimate Negro businesses and the resulting jobs provided, as well as the aid given other colored businessmen, Southsiders are inclined to be less critical of the policy wheel operators than are Negro residents of other communities where the game flourishes under white control.

Paige Urges U. S. Aid to Nation's Sharecroppers

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—Judge Myles A. Paige, the first and only Negro to occupy the post of Justice of the Court of Special Sessions of the City of New York speaking on a National Sharecroppers Week program over a local radio station Tuesday afternoon of last week, urged federal aid to the nation's sharecroppers.

Declaring that "More than half the Negroes in America are southern sharecroppers," Judge Paige stated that " in the past six years over half a million sharecropper families have been tractored off the land." He described the conditions of the 17,500,000 persons, Negro and white persons who live in rural slums as "the most degrading in America."

Since 1915, he had been head porter, with 12 men under him. Heating and cooling machinery is his responsibility. He's an understanding "boss," himself. He has had shower baths installed for his men.

Someone reminded Hendricks that he might easily retire on a pension. But Hendricks laughed and said he'd hold on to his temporary job. There's a reason behind this. Hendricks' presence safeguards the jobs of the 12 men, who work under him. Most of the banks have entrusted their custodian work to a company which standardizes and syndicates the job and hires all white. But as long as Hendricks is around, there's little likelihood of the Farmers-Merchants taking to such new-fangled ideas.

There's a Mrs. Hendricks too. The couple live at 418 E. 32nd street, and are active in the religious life of the community. Mrs. Estelle Hendricks is best known as "Mother," to many of the city's young people, whom she works with as charter member of the Wadsworth Seventh Day Adventist church.

Woman Claims Self Defense in Murder

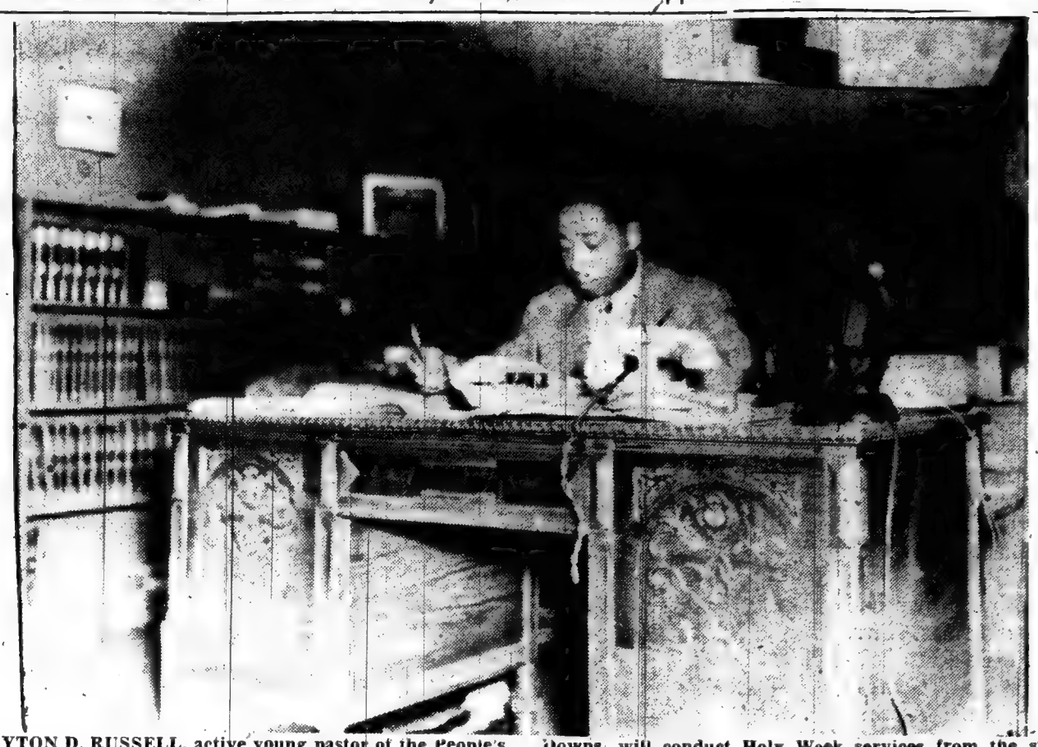
Katherine Irving, former Jefferson student, entered a plea of not guilty to murder charges when she was arraigned before Superior Judge Frank C. Swain Monday morning.

The trial was set for April 12 before Superior Judge Clarence L. Kincaid in Dept. 45 of the Superior Court. The woman is accused of having fatally wounded Andrew Dixon, her alleged paramour, on Feb. 13 at 885 E Santa Barbara, after an alleged quarrel between the pair.

The woman claims that she acted in self-defense and will urge this plea at the time of trial, according to defense attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr.

Man, Woman Held on Dope Charges

Marie Richards and Richard Dudley were in the county jail today awaiting preliminary hearing on charges of having violated the State Narcotic Act.



According to police officers, the pair was arrested Mar. 11 after the woman had allegedly made a sale of marijuana at her home. While she was being placed under arrest, Dudley appeared at the door of the woman's home with 21 marijuana cigarettes and was immediately placed under arrest for possession.

Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., will represent both defendants when they appear for preliminary hearing on Mar. 21, before Municipal Judge Wilbur C. Curtis.

And Herb Jeffries will no doubt fall in on the boys on the avenoo and knock 'em for a loop with his Fifth Ave. tailoring. Wonder if Bea Ellis, who is Duke's new heart, will come along? Bea is one of the reasons why we always liked to eye the Cotton Club shows, she's an eye-filler . . Deanie Larry is in the Cotton Club line-up back there, too . . . The boys on these many radio shows of hot waxes, etc. will probably run a fever getting Duke to sit in on all of their programs. And Jack the Bellboy--still, I don't know about him. Vegetable Laxative Makes Happy Friends

Here's a laxative that usually acts thoroughly as harsher ones but is a gentle persuader for intestines when used this way: A quarter to a half-teaspoonful of spicy, aromatic BLACK-DRAUGHT on your tongue tonight; a drink of water. There's usually time for a good night's rest; with a gentle, thorough action next morning relieving constipation's headaches, biliousness, sour stomach, bad breath.

BLACK-DRAUGHT is a splendid combination of vegetable ingredients, chief of which is an "intestinal tonic-laxative" that helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. It's economical. 24 to 40 doses: 25c.

Sir Knights and Ladies and their friends were served a dinner that made one wish for anniversaries oftener than once a year. With Sir John Allen acting as toastmaster, there was happy response from the gathered Knights. Some of the responses took the nature of reminiscences, citing the weathering of the depression period and loss by fire; others in a more happy vein complimenting the present progress and looking forward to a promising future. It was a gay party and marked another milestone in the trek of this fine company of Knights. The Lodge held a short session just before the dinner—long enough to induct into the mysteries of the rank of page, Gilmore Tell. ABOUT TIME

Now that Hattie McDaniel has received an "Oscar" for the best supporting performance of any actor or actress in 1939, we are reading that Hollywood is finally waking up.

According to the newspapers the motion picture industry is finally realizing that art recognizes no boundaries—either of creed, race or color.

All of which is very fine and as it should be. We will be only too glad to watch further evidences of the fact that Hollywood has begun to recognize its responsibility to ALL of the people.

A LITTLE TALE

This item might well be captioned "Police Efficiency vs. Public Neglect".

With rumors of all sorts flying thick and fast since the alleged kidnaping of 9½-year old Dorothy Gordon comes the following revelation from police records:

The little girl was last seen about 5 p. m. Mar. 5. A "Missing Person" report was filed at 8:35 p. m. Five minutes later a teletype from Newton Street division went out all over the city.

Between the time the girl was last seen and the time a report of her disappearance was made, three hours and 35 minutes had elapsed — time enough for the suspected kidnaper to utilize the advantage of darkness.

All of which brings to our mind a conference with Chief of Police Arthur C. Hohmann we attended last summer.

The chief at that time urged the necessity of more diligent cooperation on the part of the public with local law enforcement bodies.

The import of his words of wisdom are increasingly apparent now.

NEGRO EXPOSITION

An American Negro Exposition is slated to be held in Chicago from July 4 thru Sept. 2.

The State of Illinois has already appropriated $75,000 toward defraying the cost. Government agencies are cooperating fully, with federal departments planning their exhibits to show their relationship with Negro life and activities.

The exposition, thru murals, diagrams and exhibits, will trace the Negro's story from his first mass landing at Jamestown in 1619 thru the Revolutionary war and emancipation, dressing his achievements and contributions to the nation from Reconstruction to the present day.

To be held in the Coliseum, more than 2,000,000 persons are expected to see the Independence Day to Labor Day spectacle. Exhibitions are being prepared for religion, dress, stage, literature, music, science, industry and all phases of Negro life.

Illinois Congresman Arthur W. Mitchell has introduced a bill asking for an additional federal appropriation of $75,000 which, reportedly, is favored in both the House and Senate.

From here, this American Negro Exposition could not be staged at a more opportune time. It will undoubtedly serve to advance the cause of the Negro on all fronts.

ABBY BITS:

"The Policies and Practices of Negro Colleges in Placing their Graduates" is a subject being discussed in the 14th annual session of the National Association of Collegiate Deans and Registrars at Langston U. . . . From the nation's capital: Strong sentiment is being developed to retain the Negro camps (CCC) because of the value first to the communities they serve and second, to the Negro youths themselves" . . . Paul R. Williams, the architect, leaves the City of Angels Mar. 29 for New Orleans, Tuskegee and New York City. It will be his first trip thru the South. He's slated to conduct the fourth annual Homemaking Institute of Dillard university in the Mardi Gras city and will take a day off on his way to Manhattan to visit Booker T. Washington's famous school . . . Carmelita White, recently promoted to supervisor in the social service set-up. Her parents are three years away from observing their golden wedding anniversary.

The council of bishops of the AME church will take up, at the quadrennial conference in May in Detroit, a proposal to create a permanent exhibit of Negro life in paintings, sculpture and other media. It appears that because a larger number of college-bred men are on the bench of bishops much may be expected as a result of their appreciation of things aesthetic . . .

A Sense of Values: The front page of a Chicago daily, Thursday, Feb. 29, a date memorable because of the death of Robert S. Abbott, editor of The Chicago Defender, carried a story on the rape of a white woman in suburban Chicago by a Negro —but not one line on Abbott's death . . . Afterthought: If newspaper folk knew how Negro women resent being called "Negress" they would refrain from using the offensive word . . . The "Sermon Nobody Likes", as announced by a local minister for his Sunday subject, turned out to be a sermon on money . . .

PROMINENT PHYSICIANS SEEK TO REDUCE CHILD-BIRTH DEATH RATE

Over 600 Attend 2nd Annual Community Health Meeting at Second Baptist Here

More than 600 people attended the second annual Community Health Meeting at Second Baptist Church, Sunday, and heard four nationally known physicians speak on "What Medical Science Has Accomplished for Your Protection."

"No one, not even the high-salaried movie stars you have out here, can make a home a fit place to have a baby," Dr. C. Leon Wilson, Chicago, said. "It is fashionable now to have your babies in a hospital and we hope to make it even more fashionable.

"Somewhere between 12 and 20 thousand mothers die in childbirth each year" he declared. "More mothers of our race die than mothers of other groups."

He urged women to go to their physicians as soon as they suspect pregnancy. Such early attention will greatly reduce the death rate among mothers, he said.

"One of the greatest advances that has been made in maternal health during the last 25 years is that such meetings as this, where we can call a spade a spade, are now possible," Dr. Wilson said.

Dr. Nolan A. Owens, Washington, D. C., said that of every 1,000 live births 66 babies die.

DISEASE UN-NECESSARY

"Three important factors must be remembered if we are to properly care for our children," he said. They are: (1) Immunization; the protection of children against such diseases as small pox, diptheria, whooping cough, etc.; (2) health supervision of the well child, including attention to the nutritional and emotional needs of the child; (3) early recognition of disturbances and early isolation in order to prevent spread of diseases.

"With 100 per cent cooperation of all parts of the population, syphilis can become as rare in another generation as it now is in the Scandinavian countries," Dr. Oma H. Price, New York, declared. He outlined the development of methods of treatment of syphilis and pointed out that when a case is found, the source must be sought.

Tuberculosis does not come from a cold, influenza or pneumonia," Dr. W. Roderick Brown, Pittsburgh, said. "Tuberculosis is not inherited. It is caused by a germ and it hits all age groups. It is not true that you are safe from tuberculosis after the age of 40.

"The only way to find early tuberculosis is through the tuberculin testing and X-raying of large groups of people whether they are sick or not," he said. "If we wait until we feel sick, the tuberculosis is no longer early."

Norman O. Houston, Chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Committee of the East Area Health Program, presided at the meeting. The visiting physicians were introduced by Dr. Warner Wright.

Addresses of welcome were given by James G. Stone, representing the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Asosciation; Fred M. Roberts, representing the community, and Dr. H. H. Towles, representing the Southern California Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Association.

The invocation was given by Rev. C. A. Cooper, assistant pastor of the First AME church, and the benediction by Rev. Thomas L. Griffith, pastor of the Second Baptist church.

Music was provided by the Gilbert Allen Singers, Dr. H. A. McPherson, and Miss Celestine Shambrey. Mrs. Luvenia Nash, accompanied Dr. McPherson.

'Home Training' Need of Youth, Women Say

Women's Division of the Elks' Civil Liberties unit met in a rousing session Monday evening.

The new body has already conducted militant investigations into asserted civil liberty violations within the community. One of the first organizations to act in demanding adequate police cooperation in the disappearance of Dorothy Gordon, the brief history of the women's body has been one of continuous activity.

Quick response came from the ladies as news was heralded that Negro young people misbehaved Sunday at a Shrine auditorium "Swingeree." Parent instruction was called "only solution" for such a problem by the women. They held that only competent home training could salvage "old-fashiined manners" for a generation "born ot discord and brought up on chaos."

New Accounts Flood Liberty, Blodgett Reports

"I am gratified to find the local community rocognizing the Liberty Building and Loan Association as a first class banking institution. New accounts have flooded up within recent months."

Thus spoke L. M. Blodgett, guiding genius of the Liberty Building and Loan Association, this week.

It has been pointed out frequently that the Liberty Building-Loan is a fully authorized, governmentally guaranteed banking institution. Citizens' savings accounts are as safe in the Liberty Building-Loan vault as they would be in the great gold depositories recently constructed by Uncle Sam.

Because the Liberty Building-Loan is a community organization, many thinking Eastsiders have turned to it for their banking needs. They know that the capital will STAY IN THEIR OWN BACK YARD.

Japanese Commissioner Addresses Race Relations

With the theme, "I refuse to take for myself, that which, on the same terms, I would not concede to the last forgotten man, woman or child of the human race," the California Race Relations Society joined hands with the Utopian Society of America at a dinner meeting at headquarters, 1919 S. Western avenue, last Thursday, Feb. 29. Atty. Hugh E. MacBeth, as chairman and founder of the movement, presided.

Commissioner Sci Fujii, member of the California Race Relations Commission and Editor of the Japan-California Daily News, in a stirring address said, "Sixty per cent of the population of the Hawaiian Islands is Japanese. Not a single Japanese has done anything to overthrow the United States Government in Hawaii, yet Japanese are not allowed to become citizens. Many things in America appear un-American, many things they do are un-American. America believes in freedom. One million English subjects in India fought with England in the World War thought they would get freedom. Did they? IS IT FAIR? asks Mahatma Ghandi. Mankind can have peace but must go on a 50-50 basis. The open door policy must be respected on the American continent as well as in the rest of the world. There is only one God for all peoples, regardless of race. We must do things on an equal basis and be fair to each other. Finally," said the Commissioner, "I am always proud to come to these meetings for here, I see no racial discrimination, no prejudice—only a spirit of harmony, peace and understanding."

MOTHER OF INDICTED JONES BOYS NAMED IN PARALLEL CIVIL ACTION

Picturesque Brothers' Wheel Has Daily "Take" Between $10,000 and $15,000

CHICAGO, Mar. 14. (ANP)—The multi-million dollar policy empire built from daily nickel and dime bets of Chicago's southsiders seemed about to topple this week with the three Jones brothers, reputed owners of the city's largest and most lucrative wheel, charged in federal indictments with evading more than $1,000,000 in income taxes.

Along with the indictments, Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, filed a parallel civil action in the form of a lien, which names Mrs. Harriett Jones, mother of the brothers, as a possible transferee, as well as the three men. Many of the holdings of the brothers are reported to be in the mother's name. The civil lien covers two more years than the additional indictments, swelling the total tax deficiencies to $2,000,000.

The brothers are sons of the Rev. Edward P. Jones, now deceased, former president of the National Baptist convention, unincorporated. They came from Mississippi with their father and mother a good many years ago and settled in neighboring Evanston.

Named in each of the indictments with the Jones brothers is Thomas R. Gilson, white, a former deputy collector of internal revenue, accused of aiding them in evading their taxes.

Close on the heels of this action, came rumors that white gambling interests are planning to move in and grab the lottery racket which, in the past, has been controlled mainly by Negroes.

Edward P. Jones, eldest of the brothers, familiarly known as "King of the Policy Racket," is charged with owing the government $803,650.33 for the years 1933 through 1938. McKissack must answer for the sum of $123,497.77 for the same period of time, and George is indicted for evading taxes amounting to $93,306.49 for five years, 1933 through 1937.

The Jones brothers' policy wheel at 4711 S. Michigan avenue, which had a daily "take" between $10,000 and $15,000, according to District Attorney William J. Campbell accepts bets ranging from one cent upward. Three drawings taken every 24 hours are said to be anxiously awaited by 60,000 cash customers.

PICTURESQUE CHARACTERS

The brothers, who reside in sumptuous apartments across the street from their busy wheel, for many years have been Bronzeville's most picturesque characters. Edward, said seldom to wear the same suit twice, for a number of seasons has rented a villa at Cannes, Frances, for himself and wife, Lydia, and their children. They have traveled extensively.

McKissack also widely traveled, has earned the title of the southside's most interesting playboy. Leaving most of the business dealings to his two brothers, he is a familiar figure in Chicago's night spots. He is the husband of the former Jean Starr, well known on the stage before her marriage.

George, most retiring of the trio, spends much time in one of the country estates owned by the group. He is married to the former Pauline McDowell, daughter of a Chicago physician.

Lavish parties by the Jones brothers, bids to which are angled for by Chicago socialites, take place in the boys' luxurious apartments on Michigan avenue, which boast a game room, a silver and white modernistic dining room and a bathroom reported to have cost $7000. A uniformed maid ushers guests in and the chauffeur doubles as butler on these occasions.

Linked with the brothers is Clifford H. Tavernier, attorney, who represents the policy runners in Racket court. Tavernier is said to be allied with Bill Skidmore, white, Public Gambler No. 1, also indicted by the grand jury.

LUNCEFORD KNOWS MUSICAL SLANGUAGE

In sepia swing circles, according to maestro Jimmy Lunceford, when you hear the reference to a "God Box," it means a pipe organ. A few other definitions include: The "sweet stick," a trumpet; the "agony box," a clarinet; the "dog house," a bass fiddle and the "choke stick" stands for a saxophone.

Mr. and Mrs. Earlie L. Edwards announce the engagement of their daughter, Earline Louise, to Lawrence Grayson Farrow, son of Mrs. Bettye Hudson. The marriage will take place June 2.

Earl Hines Is Son of A Band Leader

NEW YORK, Mar. 14. (C)—Earl Hines and his Orchestra are on tour and the king of the ivories, after a successful engagement at the Harlem Apollo Theatre, will make appearances in leading cities. The engagements will carry Hines, the band and unit as far west as California.

Hines, who is known in and out of the band world as "Father" Hines is the son of a band leader. His father had a band many years ago in Pittsburgh.

Earl's mother was an accomplished pianists. A brother and sister are also pianists and band leaders. "Father" Hines sang in a choir in Duquesne, Penn., where he was born. He studied the trumpet, his father's instrument; took piano lessons from his mother, and worked odd hours while going to school.

An apprentice barber, then a tailor's assistant, and later when his father retired as a bandleader and opened a restaurant, an assistant, Hines kept at his music. A friend of a night club owner, in McKeesport, Pa., heard him play the piano one night at a community house and engaged him to play at the nitery.

He attracted so much attention that in a short time he was appearing in a Pittsburgh nite club. Contrary to belief, Hines did not become famous in Chicago but on the Pantages circuit with Carroll Dickerson's Orchestra which toured the U. S. After two years at the Sunset with now famous trumpet player, Louis Armstrong, in New Orleans, Earl spent a year playing with Jimmy Noone. He came to New York to make QRS piano rolls--and, while here received a wire from Ed Fox who wanted him to organize and open the Grand Terrace cafe. The "king of the ivories" is also an accomplished composer and arranger.
